But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with nat-ease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of linear cosmetics, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's inimitable coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a Road to the Northern Mines.

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 24th.

Ed. Sentinel: As the citizens of Jackson and Josephine counties, in Oregon, and the people of Del Norte county, Cal., have not to my knowledge seen the report of the Jacksonville Pack Trail or Road Expedition, the conclusion in my mind is, that it was a failure. But why, I am not able to state. Probably owing to the severity of last winter and the lateness of last spring, and the route taken by the expedition. But is that a sufficient reason why the people of the above named counties should be shut out from the market of the northern and eastern mines? I think not.
All that is necessary to be done, is to get up a train of twelve or fifteen wagons, with five or six yoke of oxen to each, together with a requisite number of hands, and a proper supply of picks, shovels and axes, and then strike out by way of Klamath Lake, bearing a few degrees eastward, and they will soon reach the gold fields.
It will not require over a month and a half, or two months at most, to make the trip.
Once made successfully, and a market will be opened for all the surplus products of this valley. Flour, at Canyon City, is worth twenty dollars per one hundred pounds; beef, on foot, six cents; bacon, forty cents; and for small marketing, such as butter, cheese, etc., whatever you choose to ask.
The distance to Canyon City cannot be more than 250 or 300 miles by the route proposed. That distance can be made with ox teams in three weeks, after the road is open. Every farmer feels the importance of a better and larger market for farm products. If there is not something done in the right direction, the people of these counties will rust out, or what is worse, rot out. [Can't see it in that light, Ed. Sen.]
Now is the time to strike. Let us not wait until the people of Salt Lake or the Willamette open up roads and monopolize the market. Be wide awake to your interests, and you have it in your power to make this valley one of the finest and most desirable spots on the coast. TEAMSTER.

We have been requested to state in this connection, that Mr. James Kilgore offers to furnish loads of flour to any person furnishing teams and two hands to each team, and take for his pay half the profit of the load after it arrives in the mines. this is certainly a liberal offer.

HERE IS ANOTHER FROM A FARMER.— Ho, for the John Day, Powder River and Boise mines! Now is the time to agitate the getting up a train of ox teams, loaded with flour, bacon, etc., for the mines above named. How many enterprising farmers in this valley will fit out from one to three ox teams, to go by way of the lakes, Lost River, etc., to start some time in April?
A number of loaded wagons passed over this route last spring. What has been done can be done again. If the northern mines are about to prove a permanent thing, now is the time for the farmers of Southern Oregon to strike for a market for all their surplus products. If they do not look out for themselves, no one will do it for them. The millers are vastly interested in this enterprise, and will, no doubt, do their share. All classes are to a great extent interested, but the farmer and miller more especially. Let us hear from some of the large farmers on this important subject. FARMER.

A jewel of a damsel, residing in New Haven, Conn., has furnished under the signature of "Nona," a few stanzas to the Courier, expressing the outgushing desire of her blessed little innocent heart. The following is a sample. Hear the darling:
"With the blessings I have my wants are but three,
Most simple and definite, nothing that's wild;
I ask for no more than is needful to me—A husband to love me, with cottage and child!"

Lewiston Correspondence.

LEWISTON, W. T., Jan. 7th, 1863.

Ed. Sentinel:—The holidays passed by with the usual celebrations of a frontier town. There were the usual number of hot-sals and slung-shots going; which, during the ups and downs of three days stay in this place, gave an outsider like myself a good opportunity to form queer ideas of the quality of liquors and fluids kept for barter on this strictly temperate Reservations. I observed that while some drank and became extatic, others drank freely of the same beverage and became dejected; that what "raised up the bowed down" would also bow down the raised up. I was particularly interested in reading the labels on the different barrels, kegs, etc., from which these exhilarating draughts came. I can only remember the following:
"Old Bourbon Vinegar," "Old Tom Kerneco," "Licquette Coal Oil," and "United Proprietors Pickles." I could readily account for the strange effects produced by these very salacious articles when I remember the phraseology of the "Indian Intercourse Act," which expressly prohibits the introduction in this country of any article that will make drunk come. The weather is still delightful. But very little snow has fallen here this winter; and the cold is not so intense as it was two months ago.
Persons are passing to and from the mines all the time, who report less than two feet of snow in the mountain trails.

I hear some talk of Warren's Digging, to the east and southward from Florence; but the greatest excitement is toward the Boise mines. A good number have gone there from these parts, and all the reports from there are favorable. But my own conviction on excitements is that they are "played out" in this upper country. Many persons predict a large rush of miners to Boise and these parts in the spring; but I think miners are sufficiently educated in the history of lumbags, by this time, to not follow the old phantom so blindly as in times past. That there are rich claims in all the new districts lately discovered up here, is certainly true; there are such in Jackson and Josephine counties. It is the worst folly imaginable for a few thousand intelligent men to pick up and rush off a thousand miles into the mountains just to see a score of miners working in rich claims; they can see as much nearer home. This is a good country enough; only don't rush things. There are already people enough here to develop the country as fast as the nature of things will admit. There are even more here than can make an honest living. If you have a surplus of "tough cusses," send them up here, and we will reform and then hang them. Very respectfully, W. H. A.

A LADY'S SENTIMENT.—As long ago as 1856, an American lady, Mrs. Sarah T.
Bolton, who was then residing at Genoa, Switzerland, wrote some lines of a highly patriotic character, of which the following were the first two verses:

Dissolve the Union! Let the blush of shame Hide with its crimson glow the cheek of him Who dares avow the traitorous aim.
'Tis not the wise, the good, the true, who speak
Words of such fearful import, but the weak, Drunk with fanaticism's poisonous wine, Madly seek to hold their saturnalia at the shrine

That noble souls have held, and still must hold, divine.

Dissolve the Union! Madmen, would ye rend The glorious motto from our country's crest?
Would ye despoil the stars and stripes that lend Home, food, protection to the world's oppressed?

Have ye no reverence for the high bequest That our immortal sires bestowed on us?
Has sin defaced the image God impressed On your humanity, that ye can smile To see the lurid flames of Freedom's funeral pile?

The ship Peruvian arrived at San Francisco, Jan. 6th, 170 days from Boston, with 1,000 pounds of gunpowder, 1,000 shells, 4 cannons, and 33 boxes of ordnance stores, for the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Why has the sea arms? In order that he may hug the mermaids, to be sure.
