Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

Friday Night's Dispatch.

New York, April 29th.—Steering dull at 164 1/2 165, gold closed quiet at 50 1/2. Simon Draper has resigned the Provost Marshal Generalship of New York. Col. Nugent succeeds him, his jurisdiction will be over the 1st Congressional District.

The sister of the Atlanta Ga., Confederacy, was arrested here on his way from Canada. A large amount of gold was found in his possession. It appears that he don't desire to return to Dixie and will be probably released.

Port Royal advices state that our troops were being conveyed to Folly Coles and Kiawah Island and North Edisto is also occupied a considerable force of troops. Five of the monitors are at North Edisto. The Ironsides remains off Charleston. The monitors have been filled with shot and shell.

In every Department the utmost activity prevails.

Later advices intimate that the second attack will be made on Charleston, on the 3d of May, when the Spring tides occur. The troops are suffering from warm weather.

Washington, April 29th.—An East Tennessee letter says that the rebel troops there were driven out by 5,000 Federal troops. A great portion of the people in that region remained loyal and were still tyrannically oppressed.

The Washington Intelligencer, of Tuesday, announces that Gen. Hooker commenced a forward movement on Monday. Heavy masses of artillery and other troops were crossing the Rappahannock at sunrise. The Tribune says that the 7th and 11th corps, and the cavalry corps took the lead.

St. Louis, April 29th.—A correspondent of the Democrat with Van Denvers command says about 10 o'clock Sunday night, a rebel regiment under Newton the advance guard of Marmaduke's army was surprised about three miles west of Jackson, while cooking supplies and loitering around camp fires. Two small howitzers loaded with musket balls were hauled by hand to within 30 yards of them and discharged. Killing and wounding a large number. At the same time the First Iowa cavalry charged them, not a man escaped, all who were not killed or wounded were taken. The enemy's camp equipments and several thousand dollars worth of stolen property was captured. Early next morning Van Denvers advance saw the main body of the enemy in retreat, and immediately followed, keeping up a continuous artillery fire on their rear. At 2 o'clock P. M. McNeil joined Van Denver and the combined force followed in pursuit. It is hardly possible the enemy can escape with their boats.

Marmaduke's command left Palatten, Ark. on the 25th, to occupy Pilot Knob and Cape Girardeau, as basis of operations for Gen. Price's campaign.

Caro, April 29th.—By way of Memphis we have news of the capture of Tusculum, Ala. The place was held by the rebel Chalmers, whose forces have been very troublesome lately in the vicinity of the Tennessee river. Last Thursday Gen. Dodge attacked him and a fight ensued. Chalmers was compelled to give way. Federal loss stated at 100. Rebel loss not given. Dodge is in possession of Tusculum and rebel communication by that route is cut off.

New York, April 29th.—The steamer Edinburgh from Liverpool with dates to the 15th has arrived. The head Constable in Liverpool has received instructions from the Government, and is employing detectives to obtain information relative to suspicious persons and watch the movements of leading rebels, so says the Times. In an engagement near Sawolk the Russians lost two hundred men and seven cannon.

New York, April 30th.—The steamer Sheeldrake, from Havana 23d, has Vera Cruz dates to the 13th, per French war steamer, which state that Puebla is completely surrounded, and the attack was to commence on the 37th of March. The Penitentiary was carried by assault on the 31st of March.

Fort Javier was also taken on the 31st of March, after entering the city, the French fought through the first barricades of the two principal street leading to the Plaza and Cathedral, both of which are fortified. The soldiers then entered the houses, aided by the sappers and miners, and passed from one house to another. On the 3d of April they had cut their way through, within 100 metres of the Plaza. Up to that date the French loss was from 500 to 600 killed and wounded. It is estimated that the force in the city is 25,000. The bridge over the Rio Prieta, is held by the French, thus preventing Comfort with 1,200 of reinforcements from crossing.

Fortress Monroe, April 28th.—The propper Commerce arrived this morning from Suffolk, having run by three heavy batteries on Nansemond river under a heavy fire. Fortunately she was not disabled. The boat was riddled by sharpshooters who lined the banks of the river for nine miles.

It is understood that the rebel force has disappeared from the front of Williamsburg.

San Francisco, 30th.—News received via Acapulco, and published in to-day's Bulletin mentions that the French suffered a terrible defeat on April 7th, and were driven out of Puebla at the point of the bayonet.

San Francisco, April 28th.—On the 28th the steamer Ada Hancock blew up near San Pedro, while going out to the Steamer Senator, killing and wounding nearly all on board, some sixty or seventy in number, among whom were a number of ladies.

A BEAUTIFUL REFLECTION.

—Balwer eloquently says: "I cannot believe that earth is man's abiding place. It cannot be that our life is cast up by the ocean of eternity to float a moment upon its waves, and then sink into nothingness! Else, why is it that the glorious aspirations, which leap like angels from the temple of our heart, are forever wandering about unsatisfied? Why that the rainbow and clouds come over us with a beauty that is not of earth, and then pass off and leave us to muse upon their favored loveliness? Why is it that the stars who hold their festival around the midnight throne, are set above the grasp of our limited faculties, mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And, finally, why is it that bright forms of human beauty are presented to our view, and then taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of our affections to flow in Alpine torrents upon our hearts? We are born for a higher destiny than that of earth; there is a realm where the rainbow never fades—where the stars will be spread before us like islands that slumber on the ocean—and where the beings that pass before us like shadows, will stay in our presence forever."

HOW THE CONFEDERATES DO.

—The following from the San Antonio (Texas) Herald, shows how the Confederates view this question of tolerating treason, and the way they serve those whom they denominate traitors:

"They (the Union men) are known, and will be remembered. Their numbers were small at first, and they are becoming every day less. In the mountains near Fort Clark and along the Rio Grande, their bones are bleaching in the sun, and in the counties of Wise and Denton, their bodies are suspended by scores on black jacks. They were warned in time to leave the country; and, choosing to remain and rely for protection on the enemy with whom our Government is at war, they must expect to take the consequences of their choice. No Government, in time of war, will tolerate treason; and no man who is a traitor at heart should expect favors from the people of a Government with which he has no sympathy, and in the overthrow of which he would rejoice."

"ONLY A SOLDIER'S BLANKET."

—When the gallant Sir Ralph Abercromby was mortally wounded in the battle of Aboukir, he was carried in a litter on board the Foodroyant. To ease his pain a soldier's blanket was placed under his head, from which he experienced great relief. He asked what it was. "It's only a soldier's blanket," was the answer. "If those blankets is it?" he asked half lifting himself up. "Only one of the men's." "I wish to know the name of the man whose blanket this is," insisted the dying commander. "It is Duncan Roy's, of the Forty-second," Sir Ralph, answered his attendant. "Then see that Duncan Roy gets his blanket this very night," said the brave man, not forgetting in his last agonies the welfare and comfort of another, however humble.

GENERAL JACKSON'S STATUE AT NEW ORLEANS.

—An exchange says that the inscription originally intended for General Jackson's statue at New Orleans, was the brave old hero's memorable words: "The Union—it must and shall be preserved." Until the capture of New Orleans by the Federals, the secessionists refused to permit the motto to be cut on the pedestal; but General Butler caused the words to be cut into the stone, and the statue is at length finished. Good for old Butler! He has more sense, and more of Jackson within him than the Davis Confederacy all put together.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

—Judge Shattuck decided in the Circuit Court for Columbia county that county commissioners' courts county not adjourn over the time set for their sessions by law.—Oregonian.

HEIMSTREET'S

Inimitable Hair Restorative.
IT IS NOT A DYE.

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's inimitable coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates the dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original hair-coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of D. S. BARKER, Proprietor, New York.
