

TO THE EFFICACY AND PERMANENCY OF YOUR UNION, A GOVERNMENT FOR THE WHOLE IS INDISPENSABLE.—Washington.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 16, 1863.

The Rev. Mr. Starr will preach at the M. E. Church, at 11 o'clock, to-morrow.

CAPT. KELLY.—This gentleman passed through our town on Thursday evening last, on a visit to his home at Vancouver. A pleasant journey to the gallant and accomplished soldier. During the temporary absence of the Captain, Lieut. White will be commandant of the post.

UNION CONVENTION.—The Union men of Washington Territory without distinction of party, have called a Convention, to meet at Vancouver, on the 25th of this month, to nominate a candidate to represent that Territory as Delegate in Congress.

APPOINTMENTS.—The Statesman says that James Kilgore has been appointed Colonel of the 1st Regiment, 1st Brigade of Oregon Militia. Wm. W. Fowler is appointed Lieut. Colonel of the same regiment. All right. James L. Carry is appointed 2d Lieutenant in the Oregon Cavalry.

IDAHO.—The following is the western boundary of New Territory of Idaho: From the North east corner of Oregon, along the channel of Snake river to its intersection with Clear-water, thence on the 117th parallel of longitude to the Columbia, then with the Columbia to the northern boundary.

FIRST TRAIN.—The first pack train of this season from Crescent City arrived in our town on Thursday of this week, bringing a supply of new goods for Max Muller, also a few for Ryan, Morgan & Co. Give these gentlemen a call. You will find Mr. Muller's new advertisement in another column.

COLONEL MANNING left Fort Walla Walla for Fort Lapwai, with three companies of cavalry, on the 4th. There are two companies at the latter fort. All are expected to be present at the Nez Peres council, on the 10th. After the council is over the Colonel will proceed with a portion of his command to Fort Boise.

SALES.—On the 10th, all of the buildings in our large block in Salem was burnt down. Loss estimated at $50,000. The Portland Times gives the following as the list of the buildings destroyed, Union Hotel, with all its furniture, Palmers Saloon, Taylor shop, McLeod's saddle shop, Barber shop, Boot & shoe store, John Brynes Saloon, valued at $5,000, S. Brynes store and dwelling house, Fishers crockery store, and several buildings, back of these. The property thus destroyed would have purchased a large number of fire engines. The Capital city has no engine.

GREENBACKS.—A drunken packer, by the name of Jacob Laucensen, brought some freight to this office, on Thursday last. He had no bill of the freight, but claimed that it weighed 100 lbs (it did not weigh eighty). The Editor and proprietor was absent, and no money on hand. Under these circumstances, as the man wanted six dollars, we offered him the same in greenbacks, and told him he could take the same, and when the proprietor returned, if the freight was all right, we would pay him the difference in coin, or he could wait for the whole amount until the proprietor came, just as he pleased. He took the same and said nothing until he left the office. It was no debt of ours, and we were under no obligations to pay it. We had no coin on hand, and under the circumstances put ourselves to no trouble to get any.

RAILROAD MEETING.—We have received the proceedings of the Railroad meeting held in this town last evening, but have not space to publish the same. It will appear in our next.

ACCIDENT.—The Times says one or two full loaded freight cars on the Cascade railroad, on the Washington side, was precipitated into the river, a few days since, at the upper end of the road.

MORAL OF THE ARMY.—When Hooker took command of the army, it was on the verge of disintegration. Candid and honest soldiers have told me that ten days more would have told the fatal story of the final falling to pieces of the famous Army of the Potomac. Eighty-five thousand men were absent without leave when Hooker took command; now there are but seventeen hundred and seventy one in that category, which does not always make up a lot of desertions, of course, as those whose furloughs have expired without their return are included in the number. General Hooker found a disorganized and dispirited mob of soldiers, and he has raised us from that the most magnificent and glorious army which was ever upon this continent—brave, healthy, well-fed and clothed, confident and reliant, discreet and calm, well armed and provided with everything, consolidated by a noble confidence and admiration for their commander.—Correspondent of Sac. Union, Washington, April 25th.

TERRIBLE CALAMITY.—The Marysville Appeal of April 15th has the following: We learn from Whitney, who drives the stage from Lincoln to Marysville, that a young lady, fifteen years of age, whose parents about two miles and a half from Grass Valley, was killed day before yesterday afternoon, in the following frightful manner: The girl (whose name we could not learn) was visiting at an uncle's near Lincoln, and went out for a horse-back ride on the afternoon in question, in company with a small boy, her cousin. The road ran where a fence had been, and the horse, stepping into an old post hole, threw the girl, her hoops catching on the horn of the saddle. The animal ran a mile and a half, the girl's head a portion of the way hitting against the fence, alongside of which he ran, crushing it in a horrible manner. Her neck and all her limbs were broken, and when her corpse was found she could hardly be recognized as the same person who a few moments before was so beautiful and so full of life.

A country editor denounces these afflictions upon him who neglects to pay the printer.—May 24th nightmares trot quarter races over his stomach every night. His his-boots leak, his gun hang fire, and his fishing-lines break. May a troop of printers' devils, lean, lank, and hungry, eat his heels each day, and a regiment of cats catwalk under his window each night. May the famine-stricken ghost of an editor's baby haunt his slumbers, and hiss "Murder" in his dreaming ears. In short, may his daughter marry a one-eyed editor, and his business go to ruin and be go to—the Legislature.

A SHARP RESOLVE.—The following is reported as a fact: A Louisville Union lady, a few days ago, called upon a scorching friend, and felt compelled to listen to her tirade. On rising to leave she noticed and raised a portrait of General George Washington, whereupon the she rebel remarked, "I intend to get five portraits of Jeff. Davis and Beauregard, and hang on each side of that. 'Do,' said Union; 'we read in the Bible that our Saviour was hung between two thieves.'"

CONSCRIPTION.—Marshalls have been appointed in Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, and, we suppose, Washington Territory, to enroll the militia, preparatory to a draft, if it shall become necessary. Every able-bodied man between the ages of eighteen and forty-five is subject to military duty. These are divided into two classes: young and unmarried compose the first—the old and married the second. The first class is to be exhausted before the second can be called upon. Those who have declared their intentions to become citizens, and those who have voted, whether citizens or aliens are subject to the Conscription. It becomes the interest of the sympathizers to encourage volunteering.

GRAND RONDE VALLEY.—J. Wagner, formerly of Phoenix, in this county, now a resident of Grand Ronde Valley, writing to us under date of April 1, says that there was no snow that laid on the ground over four days in the eastern portion of said valley, during last winter, and that the grass, at the date of his letter, was large and fine. Over eight hundred pack mules wintered in the valley last winter and three times as many other animals. From his description of the valley we would call it Hunters Paradise. He narates his exploits in killing Moose, Deer, Elk, Bear, Cougar, Mountain Sheep, Antelope, Ducks, Geese, Cranes, Prairie Chickens, Pheasants, etc. We want to go to that country.

THE LETTER DOES NOT AFFECT ME, AT ALL; NEITHER DOES IT INJURIOUSLY AFFECT ITS AUTHOR. IT CONTAINS A FRIENDLY STATEMENT OF THE FEELINGS OF A SENSITIVE AND HONORABLE MAN WOUNDED BY THE DETRACTIONS OF HIS ENEMIES. IT ASKS ME, AS EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL, TO VINDICATE THE RIGHT LIBERTY OF THE PRESS, AND TO POINT OUT ITS FEARFUL DEMORALIZATION. BUT WHO WANTS HIS PRIVATE LETTERS PUBLISHED? A MAN DEVOID OF EVERY FEELING OF SOCIAL DUTY, AND WANTING IN EVERY SENTIMENT OF HONOR, IS A FIT PERSON TO PUBLISH THE PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE OF ANOTHER, DISHONORABLY OBTAINED, AND TO MAKE SAVAGE COMMENTS UPON THE DEVELOPMENT OF FEELINGS AND SENTIMENTS, TO WHICH HIS PAST CAREER SHOWS HIM TO BE A PERFECT STRANGER.

I shall recur to this subject again. O. JACONS. Jacksonville, May 14, 1863.

AN IMPUDENT RESOL.—A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer, writing from Charleston, ventures to say: Allow me to suggest for the seal of the Confederate States, the following: In the foreground a male, plough and negro driver, whip in hand, in the background a cavalry soldier, with hunting shirt, slouched hat and heavy boots, sabre drawn, horse rampant.

FOR THE OLD MINES.—A considerable number of miners from Boise have passed through this city during the week, on their way to the old mines of Oro Fino, Elk city, Florence, Salmon River and Warren's. They generally report the Boise mines good; but think they are now largely overdone, and prefer, for themselves, the chances of securing a "sure thing" in the old diggings in preference to prospecting for new claims around Boise. Some of them report that in spite of the fact that the Boise mines are universally conceded to be no longer, a large emigration may be expected from there, through this place, within the next few weeks, en route to the upper country.—Walla Walla Statesman, May 20.

CONCERN.—For the benefit of those who hobble through the world under the affliction of corns, we publish the following, which is said to be a thorough cure: A little white bread soaked in vinegar, applied to the corn night and morning, will remove it in a short time. I have tried it, and four applications cured my corns.

NEW TO-DAY. A CARD. In the corrupt and malignant developments of an human nature we occasionally witness an act so devoid of every lingering sense of honor, and so directly in conflict with every right conception of social and moral duty, that it at once stamps it another as a coward and a villain. What think you of the man who will outter your office and steal your private correspondence? What think you of the editor who, by his publication of the same, gives rise to the presumption that he was an accessory before the fact? We naturally come to the conclusion, announced by the former employers of such a public instructor, that he was a "slippery gentleman," too slippery indeed to be bound by contracts. I could see a harmony and consistency in the conduct of such a person in selling the piano of his wife, in order that he might demonstrate the aptness of the phrase that so completely describes his character, that of a "clean shirred hummer." I never would expect such a man to pay his debts, and would naturally suppose that he would illustrate his chivalry by receiving the missiles of his foeman in the rear. It would not be inconsistent with the character of such a personage to have a leaden medal fixed in his "seat of honor," as a memento of his prowess, and as a perpetual token of his chivalrous sense of honor!

SOME TIME AGO, WHILE I WAS EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL, THERE WAS TAKEN FROM MY DRAWER A BUNDLE OF PRIVATE LETTERS, AS WELL AS OTHER PROPERTY. I HAVE TRACED ONE OF THESE TO THIS PLACE IN SALEM; KNOW WHO HAD IT THERE, AND IT HAS FINALLY MADE ITS APPEARANCE IN A PAPER EDITED BY THE Hon. James O'Meara. I know of its history in this town, and await the sitting of the Grand Jury to make some other interesting developments, if I can obtain the evidence promised me.

JAMES O'MEARA IS THE PROPER MAN TO PUBLISH SUCH A LETTER. MR. BUSH MIGHT BE MEAN ENOUGH TO TAKE COPIES OF THE SAME, AND TO INTERROGATIVELY DECLARE THAT I SENT IT TO HIM, KNOWING, AT THE SAME TIME THAT BY SO DECLARING HE WAS TELLING AN INFAMOUS FALSHOOD. BUT IT TAKES A MAN WHO HAS RISEN IN REGULAR GRADATIONS FROM THE USEFUL AND HONORABLE OCCUPATION OF PIG INSTRUCTOR, TO THAT OF AN EDITOR OF A SECESSION SYMPATHIZING SHEET, TO BE SUFFICIENTLY WANTING IN EVERY SENSE OF HONOR TO PUBLISH THE SAME.

THE LETTER DOES NOT AFFECT ME, AT ALL; NEITHER DOES IT INJURIOUSLY AFFECT ITS AUTHOR. IT CONTAINS A FRIENDLY STATEMENT OF THE FEELINGS OF A SENSITIVE AND HONORABLE MAN WOUNDED BY THE DETRACTIONS OF HIS ENEMIES. IT ASKS ME, AS EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL, TO VINDICATE THE RIGHT LIBERTY OF THE PRESS, AND TO POINT OUT ITS FEARFUL DEMORALIZATION. BUT WHO WANTS HIS PRIVATE LETTERS PUBLISHED? A MAN DEVOID OF EVERY FEELING OF SOCIAL DUTY, AND WANTING IN EVERY SENTIMENT OF HONOR, IS A FIT PERSON TO PUBLISH THE PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE OF ANOTHER, DISHONORABLY OBTAINED, AND TO MAKE SAVAGE COMMENTS UPON THE DEVELOPMENT OF FEELINGS AND SENTIMENTS, TO WHICH HIS PAST CAREER SHOWS HIM TO BE A PERFECT STRANGER.

I shall recur to this subject again. O. JACONS. Jacksonville, May 14, 1863.

The Clugage Land Title. THE Government having finally confirmed the title of James Clugage to the land claimed by him under the Donation Act, and issued a Patent therefor, embracing nearly all the lots in the town of Jacksonville, this notice is made to all those residing on lots who have not yet obtained any title from Mr. Clugage, that he will enforce his claim. Those desiring a good title, one which will save all lawsuits hereafter, may obtain the same, at such prices, and upon such terms as may be agreed upon, by calling upon the undersigned. Towns of all those who have no title are requested to make arrangements to pay the rent to Mr. Clugage. I have prepared a map of that part of the town lying within the Clugage claim, showing the lots to which there are good titles, the persons to whom the titles were made, so that those desiring can examine the same for themselves.

J. GASTON, Attorney for Clugage, May 15, 1863. [may16-4]

STRAYED OR STOLEN from the ranch of the undersigned, located near Jacksonville, on the 26th of April, a Black American Mare, about 9 years old, branded H.
