

"TO THE EFFICACY AND PERMANENCY OF YOUR UNION, A GOVERNMENT FOR THE WHOLE IS INDISPENSABLE."—Washington.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 6, 1863.

Religious Notice.—Rev. Mr. Starr will preach at the M. E. Church, to-morrow at 11 o'clock, P. M.

Mr. John McLaughlin, of the New State Saloon, has returned from a trip to the Northern mines, and been heartily welcomed home by many friends.

New Goods.—Ryan, Morgan & Co. have received an immense supply of new goods. Now is the time to get your money back.

Lively Times.—Jacksonville is full of people. A large number of freight teams have arrived, and are constantly arriving from Crescent City, and the whole country is about to see the races.

Personal.—Mr. Jack Starlings, publisher of the Yreka Union, and Mr. A. Noltner, of the Eugene Review, have honored us with a visit. They are hale, hearty and handsome, and are enjoying the races hugely.

Straw Berries.—Mr. L. J. Hull, of Jacksonville, has laid us under everlasting obligations by a large supply of very fine straw berries. They were of the variety known as "British Queen." One measured five inches in circumference. May peace and prosperity ever attend him.

gone North.—In obedience to an order from headquarters, Lieut. Hand started from this place on Wednesday last, with his squad of recruits, to report at Vancouver. The Lieutenant will probably be assigned to duty as 2d Lieut in Captain Noble's company.

Canyon Road.—The Canyon Road Company have let a contract for re-grading and other wise improving a portion of the Canyon road, and work upon it has already commenced. It is hoped that by fall a tolerably good toll road will be had through the Canyon.

Lately.—Since writing the above, we learn from Lieut. Underwood that an order had been received at Camp Baker this morning, for Lieut. Hand to report himself at that camp. A special messenger has been sent with the order, and it is probable that in a day or two the Lieut. will return. The first order came from Governor Gibbs; the latter from Gen. Wright.

Apologetic.—We are sure our patrons will pardon us for the want of the usual amount of reading and editorial matter in this number, when they take into consideration that exciting races were on hand; that one of our compositors has been sick, and that the editor and publisher has a felon on his right thumb, which wholly incapacitates him for business.

The Rev. T. H. Pearne's address to the young men of this place, on Wednesday evening last, was a clear, logical and eloquent exposition of the text "Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things which are God's." The address was full of loyalty and patriotism, breathed in a spirit of devotion to the Government, founded on religious obligations.

The Little Savior.—On yesterday, a small child of Mrs. Bushy, during the temporary absence of its mother, fell into a wash tub full of water. A little girl, by the name of Louisa Smith, only four or five years old, saw the helpless, drowning condition of the baby, ran for its mother and got her there in time to save her darling's life. It required great efforts to resuscitate the rescued one.

THE YANKEE AT THE COURT BALL.—A worthy citizen of Boston was desirous of being present at a royal ball, but lacked the costume. Military uniform, or court dress was then, as now, indispensable; and it was late to get either. His more fortunate friends, "in full rig," took leave of him at his lodgings, with many expressions of regret that he could not accompany them. No sooner were they out of the house than he determined that he would at any rate try the experiment. Within an hour he made his appearance at the door of the Thirone Rooms at Versailles, arrayed in all the glory of his blue coat, white vest and nankin trousers. Here the horrified master of ceremonies stopped him, and, pointing to his nankins, endeavored, by word and sign, to convince him that his dress was not come il faut, and he must retire. "Dress! dress!" said the traveler; "not pass! not enter! Why, it is the same dress I always wear in the General Court at Boston!"

No sooner were the words uttered than the door flew open, and the obsequious valet, "hooping and booping," preceded him, and announcing in a loud voice, "Monsieur le General Court de Boston!" to the infinite amazement of his American friends, and the great delight of the new made General.

ABRAHAM'S SWORD.—European journals publish the following curious story: A strange discovery has just been made by Major Pappazola, of Bucharest—the sword which belonged to Abraham. The blade has on one side the following words traced in Hebrew characters: "Present from Gessur to Abesalon, son of David Jehu." On the same side is engraved the image of the hexagonal seal of David, and on the other some characters, the meaning of which has not been yet explained. On the corresponding place to those of the Hebrew characters, and on the opposite side of the blade are these words engraved in gold: "This sword is Jerusalem." This sword had a handle in gold, representing at the upper part a warrior's head, covered with a helmet, and joined by a chain to a dragon's head which formed the hilt. The old monk, possessor of this weapon, procured it from a Janissary, into whose hands it fell during the disturbances at Constantinople in 1807. In a moment of distress he sold the handle and the scabbard which was, he says, made of a kind of serpent's skin, and mounted in gold. The ancient origin of the blade is proved by a manufacturer's mark traced in Semitic characters.

PLEASED EVERYBODY.—The following sentiments contain the ring of the true metal: "Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge his enemies by trying to please everybody! If such an individual ever succeeded, we should like to know it. Not that we believe in a man's going through the world trying to find beams to knock his head against; disputing every man's opinion, elbowing and crowding all who differ from him. That again is another extreme. Other people have a right to their opinion—so have you; don't fall into the error of supposing they respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the color of theirs. Wear your own colors spite of wind or weather, storm or sunshine. It costs the vacillating and irresolute ten times the trouble to wind and shuffle, that it does honest, manly independence to stand its ground. Take what time you please to make up your mind, having once made it up, stick to it like a bar to a chestnut."

EMBALMED BODIES.—Some time since, in clearing out the ruins of an old chapel in Warwickshire, England, several lead coffins were examined, containing the embalmed bodies of the Countesses and St. Johns, which were buried more than two hundred years ago. The coffin which contained the body of Lady Aubrey Leigh, buried in 1640, was opened, and the body found to be perfectly embalmed, and in entire preservation, her flesh quite plump, as if she were alive, her face very beautiful, her hand exceedingly small, and not wasted. She was dressed in fine linen, trimmed all over with old point lace, and two rows of lace were laid flat across her forehead. She looked exactly as if she were lying asleep, and seemed not more than sixteen years old; her beauty was very great.

UNPARALLELED.—At a charivari of a newly married couple recently in Olympia, W. T., an old man who participated in the affair, lost one of his legs. The serenading party were very anxious to get hold of the person of the bridegroom in order to make him "stand treat," and in doing this the front door of the building was partly opened, when this old man thrust his leg in to keep it open. Those inside becoming exasperated at the conduct of the party without, pushed the door hard against the intruding limb and held it fast, while one of the number procured a saw and actually sawed the man's leg off just below the knee! The agony of the poor man was not very excruciating, however, as the leg he lost was a wooden one.—Oregonian.

There are two sorts of police—the detective and defective. "Loyalty" will appear next week.—Statesman. It is about time something of the kind should appear in the Statesman. Better late than never. No News.—We have received no telegraphic dispatches in the last two days.

A WORLD OF PEACE.—There is a world where no storms intrude—a haven of safety against the tempests of life—a little world of joy and love, of innocence and tranquility. Suspensions are not there, nor jealousies, nor falsehood with her double-tongue, nor the venom of slander. Peace embraeth it without spread wings. Plenty broodeth there. When a man entereth it, he forgets his sorrows, cares and disappointments; he openeth his heart to confidence, and to pleasure not mingled with remorse. This world is the home of a virtuous and amiable woman.

A correspondent from Washington City April 27th, writing to the Dallas Journal, says that "Capt. John Mullin, late in charge of the Walla Walla and Fort Benton Military Road, has been appointed Commissioner in the City of New York for the Walla Walla and Pacific Railroad Company, with a capital of $6,000,000." What does this mean! By the by, the captain is to be married to-morrow in Baltimore, Md., to Miss Williamson of that city.

When a person is very ill, he says "God has afflicted me;" but if he feels very happy, and very well, how rarely does he say "God has made me happy." How prone we are to think, God is at our heels, but not at our heels; how prone to think God is in all that is dark, sepulchral and gloomy, but not in the midst of all that is bright, giving it greater brightness, and in all that is joyful, adding to its intensity and its purity.

THE CRITTENDEN COMPROMISE.—Edward Everett's assertion in his Union speech, that the Crittenden compromise of 1861 was a blunder, and would not have prevented the rebellion, disturbs all the Copperheads, big and little, from Boston via Washington to Cincinnati and Chicago. They don't think so much of Everett as they did.

That was a very pretty conceit of a romantic husband and father whose name was Rose, and who named his daughter "Wild," so that she grew up under the appellation of "Wild Rose." But the romance of the name was sadly spoiled in a few years, for she married a man by the name of "Bill."

A lady having accidentally broken her smelling bottle, her husband, who was very petulant, said to her: "I declare, my dear, everything that belongs to you is more or less broken." "True," replied the lady; "even you are a little cracked."

Gen. Pillow advises for the head of Hon. Emerson Etheridge. It is certain that there is not a man in this wide country that so much needs a head as this name Gen. Pillow.

Can a man who has been fined by the magistrate again and again be considered a refined man?

When at sea you look out for breakers; but on a railroad the breakers look out for you.

Suspicion is a counterfeit of truth, as well as falsehood.

Notice. MILLER'S CONVENTION!

At a meeting of the millers of Rogue River Valley, held at Phoenix, Oregon, May 27th, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas: The low price to which flour has come, and the high price of flour sacks, compels us to resort to some means whereby we can get something like an equivalent for the use of our mills and the expense of running the same, and to sustain the prices of wheat and flour. Therefore,

Resolved, 1st, That we will not exchange flour for wheat with any person or persons, either directly or indirectly, except to the farmer who produces his own wheat, and that only to the extent of his family use, put up in his grain sacks, without brands.

Resolved, 2d, That we will not in any way buy wheat in payment for flour; that the entire flour trade belongs legitimately to the Millers, and that we will hold exclusive control of the same.

Resolved, 3d, That traders and merchants choosing to deal in flour, by paying the miller money for his flour, enables him to pay the farmer the money for his wheat, whereby the trade will be kept in its legitimate channel.

Resolved, 4th, That we will strictly adhere to the foregoing resolutions, and persons not wheat growers are notified that they cannot exchange wheat for flour upon any conditions whatever; that by buying the flour of us, instead of buying the wheat of the farmers, it will enable us to buy the wheat ourselves.

Resolved, 5th, That these resolutions shall hold good for one year from this date.

Resolved, 6th, That these resolutions be published in the OREGON SENTINEL, for one month.

Signed, WM. J. ALLEN, WAGNER & McCALL, E. S. FOUFRAY, A. F. FARNHAM.

THIS is to certify that we have this day rented to Wagner & McCall, Wm. J. Allen, and E. S. Foudray, the Butte Creek Mills, for the term of one year. Signed, JOHN McDANIEL, LOSKIN McDANIEL. May 27, 1863.

The Clugage Land Title.

THE Government having finally confirmed the title of James Clugage to the land claimed by him, under the Donation Act, and issued a Patent therefor, embracing nearly all the lots in the town of Jacksonville, this notice is made to all those residing on lots who have not yet obtained any title from Mr. Clugage, that he will enforce his claim. Those desiring a good title, one which will save all lawsuits hereafter, may obtain the same, at such prices and upon such terms as may be agreed upon, by calling upon the undersigned. Tenants of all those who have no title are requested to make arrangements to pay the rent to Mr. Clugage. I have prepared a map of that part of the town lying within the Clugage claim, showing the lots to which there are good titles, the persons to whom the titles were made, so that those desiring can examine the same for themselves. J. GASTON, Attorney for Clugage. May 15, 1863. [may16-63]

A CARD.

The partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, is hereby dissolved by mutual consent. The notes, book accounts and unfinished business of the firm of Reed & Gaston have been transferred to Mr. Gaston, who will remain in the office and continue the business. The claims and notes of J. H. Reed's accumulated before the introduction of Mr. Gaston into the late firm, remain in Mr. Reed's possession. J. H. REED & J. GASTON. Jacksonville, June 3, 1863. j'ne3
