

Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, - AUGUST 12, 1863.

The News.—Under the "Telegraph" head will be found Atlantic dates to the full list. The news is of character and guififying character, but not exciting. Great and glorious news may be expected soon.

The Journal of the 5th. says Mr. J. E. Strong, is in Yreka, waiting the expected arrival of wires for the Oregon Telegraph line. The work of stretching the wire northward through Oregon will soon commence. Success to the line and its enterprising builders.

The National Circuit.—The large pavilion of the National Circuit was crowded to overflowing last evening. The large assemblage heartily enjoyed themselves, and all departed well pleased with the entertainment. Our Turn Verions were all there, taking pains to resemble gymnastic and freak-like feats.

ARMY.—Mr. Robert Wesley this week gave us the largest and sweetest watermelon we have tasted this season.

God Day Judge.—We take it all back: the same generous gentleman has just presented us with a number of notes, that callous all our eyes, and cause our souls to fondly smile with delirious anticipations.

We published in this issue a communication from the trenchant pen of an esteemed citizen of Jackson county, now residing at Blount City, I. T., over the signature of "Walla Walla." It contains items of general news and matter of local importance to this community.

DENTISTRY.—Dr. Hearn is located in the office on Union street, Jacksonville, nearly opposite the new Turn Verion hall, where he can be found any time within the coming two weeks, and not after. If your teeth are decaying, go at once to Dr. Hearn and have them attended to scientifically, or in his absence you may be compelled to treat your aching jaws to the merciless operations of a traveling quack.

On Monday last, while the train of the National Circuit were descending Skiyon mountain, the four horses attached to one of the wagons became unmanageable, broke from the wagon, and started down the mountain, resulting in the killing of the best horse and quite serious injury of the white team. For circus, Oregon presents "magnificent distances" and "hard roads to travel."

Wagon Road Meeting.—We call the especial attention of the stockholders of the R. R. V. & J. D. Wagon Road, and all other interested persons, to the advertisement of this paper. All are called to meet at the Court House on Saturday afternoon next, to consider business of the first importance to the enterprise. Let there be a general rally and a united and determined effort that the road shall be completed without delay. Read what "Walla Walla" says on this subject in another column.

FREIGHT Train from Jacksonville to Boise Mines via the New Wagon Road. —Mr. H. Bloom has contracted for and will load a train of forty pack mules, to start for Boise mines over the new road, on the 25th of this month, positively. This is a fine opportunity for those desiring to go to those mines to do so in company with this train. There will be seven men with the train, and it is likely that not less than twenty adventurous miners will join them.

But Two Parties.

Under the caption of "correct," the Evening Register, which claims to be the "Democratic" organ for Oregon, publishes the following expression from the Chicago Tribune:

"The professed Democrat who has his eyes set on a Democratic Administration, is not a Democrat, but, in fact, an Abolitionist or the most radical, violent and destructive kind."

Just so. The man who is in favor of sustaining the Government in its efforts to put down the rebellion of the Southern "Democracy," and entering the lists everywhere, is certainly acting in violation of his principles, if he sustains and labors to strengthen the self-styled "Democratic" party of the present day. By calling himself a "Democrat" and serving the party who have stolen the livery of Democracy to give the traitors in, he gives his influence and vote towards placing men in power who are opposed to the preservation of the Union and the enforcement of the laws, when it requires "exercise" to preserve the one and enforce the other.

There are now but two parties, call them by whatever name you will—Patriots and Traitors, Unionists and Copperheads, Abolitionists and Democrats. The Federal armies, and those who sustain them, are Patriots, Unionists and "Abolitionists," the opposing armies, and those that encourage and sustain them, are Traitors, Copperheads and "Democrats." — Choose ye whom ye will serve—your Government and Liberty, or J. E. Davis and Slavery.

Views.
In virtue without a name: Vice is so;
The property by what it is should go,
Not by the title.

KEEP IT NEAR THE POINT.—We find the following quotation going the rounds of the Copperhead papers, and attributed to Daniel Webster.

"If the infernal fanatics and abolitionists ever get the power in their hands, they will reverse the Constitution, set the Supreme Court at defiance, change and make laws to suit themselves, lay violent hands on those who differ with them in their opinions, or dare question their infallibility, and finally bankrupt the country and deluge it with blood."

Now, the fact is, Daniel Webster, the "Great Exponent of the Constitution," never made use of any such expression. The whole language of the quotation is unmistakably that of a modern pro-Democrat. In proof of what we say, we will quote from a speech delivered by the "Great Exponent" at Buffalo, N. Y., May 22d, 1851.—one of the latest he ever made:

"If the South wish any concession from me, they won't get it—nor a hair's breadth of it. If they come to my house for it, they will not find it. I concede nothing. * * * No matter what may be said at the Syracuse Convention, or any other assemblage of insane persons, I never would consent that there should be one foot of Slave Territory beyond what the old Thirteen States had at the time of the formation of the Union. Never, never! The man can't show his face to me, and prove that I ever departed from that doctrine. He would snarl away, or slink away, or hire a mercenary Heep, that he might say, what a mercenary apostate from Liberty Daniel Webster has become. He knows himself to be a hypocrite and falsifier. * * * All that I now say is, that, with the blessing of God, I will not wane or hesitate, before the country or the world, consent to be numbered among those who introduced new slave powers into the Union. I will do all in my power to prevent it."

There! ye "mercenary Heeps," does not that language place Daniel Webster with "the infernal fanatics and abolitionists," who, you say, seek to "override the Constitution, etc."?

How destitute of principle the party or men must be who thus seek to rob the illustrious dead of their glorious fame! But it is in perfect keeping with the vandalism of their Southern partisans, who made wine-cups and parlor ornaments of Yankee bones. A person is almost forced to the conclusion that, when a man consents to become a Secessionist, there is no conceivable crime or meanness of which he would not be guilty. — Let no such men be trusted."

To the question: "What is the weight of one million in gold?" "The weight of one million dollars United States currency in gold is 53,750 Troy ounces. This makes 4,470 pounds or nearly two tons and a quarter, reckoning 2,000 pounds to each ton."

The Surgeon General at Washington received five barrels of lint from the American Consul at Mannheim, Germany. The lint was scraped and used among our wounded in the hospital.

WELLER'S EPITAPH.—J. B. Weller said in his Potluma speech:

"And if, in the providence of God, it should be my destiny to terminate my days in a dungeon, I ask kind friends (for I trust I will leave some behind) to take a simple slab to my memory, and inscribe these words upon it:

"Here lies the body of an American who forfeited his liberty and died in prison, for refusing to aid in slaughtering nine million men, women and children, of his own blood, in order to give freedom to four millions of the African race."

The Republic comments as follows:

Now this epitaph goes too far even for the privilege of poetic license. One-half of the "nine millions of people" spoken of as being of his "own blood" are Africans, and we can't think that the ex-Governor is justified in claiming any relationship whatever with them. Would not the epitaph be nearer the truth if written as follows:

"Here lies the body of an unwavering Democrat, who passed his whole life in upholding slavery and hunting slaves, and who in the latter part thereof tried his skill to get himself arrested for treason, so that he might become a martyr, and only failed in doing so, because Gen. Wright would not notice him. He was always willing to give up his own liberties, if slavery could be strengthened. Having outlived any chance for office, he died unregretted."

FLOYD, THE GUN SYRAPH.—"The First Year of the War." The southern history, written by Pollard, of Richmond, says on page 67:

"It had been supposed that the Southern people, poor in manufactures as they were, and in the midst of preparation for the night contest that was to ensue, would find themselves but illly prepared with arms to contend with an enemy rich in means and munitions of war. This disadvantage had been provided against by the timely aid of one man. Mr. Floyd, of Virginia, then Secretary of War under Mr. Buchanan's administration, had by a single order, effected the transfer of 115,000 improved muskets and rifles from the Springfield Armory and Waterville arsenal to different arsenals in the South."

Yet there are thousands of "Peace Democrats" who would swear that Floyd never stole a gun, or anything else.

MORE ARBITRARY ARRESTS.—When a large body of the prisoners taken in Missouri by Gen. Grant were sent East to be exchanged the guard having them in charge were, at several points, annoyed by Democrats, who were quite demonstrative in expressing their sympathy for their unfortunate Southern brethren. At Pittsburgh a squad of the secessionists and themselves pertinaciously offensive. They agreed with the South as to the character of the war, and as to the objects for which it is being prosecuted by the United States Government. They declared it was an "Abolition war"—got up to free the negroes. The blue jackets became deeply incensed, and suddenly pitched into the Democrats, huddled four of them into the cars at the point of the bayonet, and took them along, treating with derision their vehement protestations that they were good citizens of Pennsylvania, and had never belonged to the Confederate army. — [Cincinnati Commercial.]

NATIONAL PECULIARITIES.—On seeing a man drowning, a Froelichian would lose so much time in vomiting, and darting hither and thither, that the poor fellow would sink to rise no more, before receiving Johnny Caspary's assistance; a German would stand wrapped in his characteristic transcendentalism, debating with himself whether the man meant self-destruction, and if so, whether he hadn't a perfect right to commit suicide, if he chose; stately and reserved John Bull would wait to be introduced to the gentleman before offering him aid; whilst young America or Ireland, coat and boots off, would leap into the stream and drag the unfortunate to the shore, in the first place, to fight or drink with him afterwards, just as the resuscitated might elect.

A DILEMMA.—A Washington dispatch says that Judge Wylie, sitting in the District Court as a Court of Admiralty, is at a loss what to do with a large amount of so-called Confederate money, included in property brought before him for condemnation. He says that to condemn it would be to recognize it as property; to sell it would be to give it circulation, and to destroy it would be giving aid and comfort to the enemy by relieving him of his liabilities.

Among the leading Generals of the Federal army who are Roman Catholics may be mentioned Rosecrans, Gilmore, Stone-man, Newton, Foster, Stone, and Sweeney. — Monitor.

And every one of them denounces slavery, which you uphold, and defends the Administration, which you assail.

Gold was at a premium of 41½ per cent. in London from November, 1812, to March, 1813, five months, strictly counted—and the suspension of specie payments lasted from 1793 till 1818—just a quarter of a century. So don't make any faces at us, Johnny!

We should think that Humphrey Marshall would have to march slow. He looks as though it would be a heavy task to fetch up his rear. — Patriot.
