

Semi-Weekly Sentinel.

A correspondent of the Portland Times, writing from Bannock City, in the Boise mines, Idaho Territory, tells the following story:

A terrible fight between a mountain ammiss and a grizzly bear was witnessed by a small party of mountaineers a short time since, on the road leading from here to Lewiston. The party had stopped to camp for the night, when suddenly wild and terrific screaming and fearful sounds burst upon their ears, indicating a deadly combat between two forest monsters. The scene of action was near, but out of sight. The party was silent listeners during the desperate conflict, the sound of which struck terror to the stoutest-hearted mountaineer. Finally the sound died away—the conflict was ended. An hour of silence elapsed, and the party ventured slowly and cautiously towards the spot from whence those doleful sounds had emanated. As they neared the spot, the victorious ammiss passed before them into the jungle. On coming to the place of the deadly struggle, they found dead and bleeding a large she bear, that would weigh probably 800 or 1,000 pounds; and near was her cub, half-grown, that would have weighed 400 or 500 pounds. The grizzly was bitten through and through the neck, and fearful gashes were inflicted on the body, laying bare the ribs and shoulder-blades surpassing the effects of repeated strokes from a heavy cutlass or bowie-knife. It seems that the ammiss desired to make a meal of the cub, to which the she bear objected, hence the fight ensued; and it was such a fight as mortal men scarcely ever witness, and none but bears and lions participate in. The mountain ammiss is an animal half way between an African lion and a Bengal tiger. It is described by a mountaineer as follows: "His form is much like the lion, being very heavy before and light behind, with a perfect lion's tail, but lacking the mane, though the hair forward on the neck was longer than on the rest of the body; has a round ear, dark streaks around the eyes and up and down the face, also running down the legs. The body is some darker in color than that of the lion, and free from stripes. His foot is a lion's paw. This beast of prey has lately been discovered in these mountains, and the ammiss is a wonderful animal—no doubt the king of beasts in the forests of Idaho. When his angry voice is heard, the beasts of the forest crouchingly seek their hiding places."

It might be amiss for readers to believe all the above story.

MURDER WILL OUT—AND SO WILL TREASON.—Judge Goodwin, while at Shasta, came into possession of a quantity of letters written by certain officials of this State in 1860, which show that there was an organized attempt on the part of the secessionists of this State to force California out of the Union and set up a Pacific Republic. Mr. Goodwin read a letter, over the signature of Charles R. Street, then Port Warden of San Francisco, now editor of the acknowledged organ of the Secession Democracy of this State, the Marysville Express, which letter was written to Henry C. Street, then Postmaster of Shasta and editor of the Shasta Herald, which letter showed that there existed in this State an organization having for its object the plunging of California into the gulf of secession. Connected with this scheme were the two members of Congress from California, Cactus Burch and Scott; and in its secrets were Milton S. Latham, Downey, Weller, Bigler, Tod Robinson, and the whole batch of Confederates, now leaders and candidates for high positions in the State, all more or less implicated. The correspondence will no doubt be published, unless the Government sees fit to use the letters in evidence against the plotters of disunion and rebellion in this State.—Red Bluff Independent.

THE UNION PARTY.—The Secesh-Copperhead press harp away at what they term the "Republican party," ignoring the name of "Union," and insisting that all Union men of whatever antecedents are "Black Republicans"—thinking, we suppose, that the latter appellation carries an odium which may make a vote or two for their peace party. These editors are mistaken, and are not up with the times. When the South made war on the Union as it was, and the Constitution as it was, too, the great mass of the people became invulnerable to political epithets. It is quite plain to the people who are for the Union without the "ifs" and the "buts," and it makes, therefore, no difference whether Peace Democrats style them Republicans, bogus Democrats, or Abolitionists. The Union men are those who stand by their country in its peril, instead of throwing obstacles in the way of the active prosecution of the war, and inciting mob violence upon the officers of the Administration.—Sac Bee.

A SUBSTITUTE REFUSED.—The Hartford (Conn.) Times tells the following incident: "The draft gives rise to some novel incidents, of which we give an example: A man, who shall be nameless, was drafted. His wife was sorely distressed at the bare idea of parting, and was vainly endeavoring to invent some excuse for getting him exempted, when a knock was heard at the door. On opening her door she found rather a rough looking chap, who accosted her thus: "Madam, I hear your husband has been drafted."

"Yes, sir," she replied, "he has; but goodness knows how I am to spare him." "Well, ma'am, I've come to offer my services as a substitute for him." "A what?" asked the now excited lady. "I wish to take his place," answered the man. "You—you take the place of my husband, you vagabond! I'll teach you how to insult a poor lone woman in distress, you mean, dirty wretch," cried the prospective widow, accompanying her remark with a discharge of water at the head of the astonished substitute, who fled hastily down the stairs just in time to escape the pail, which followed the water. The last heard of him he was flying into a recruiting office on Asylum street, where he thought of enlisting as a private rather than venture again to offer his services as a "substitute," which he now believes to be a more trying and delicate a relation than that of Artemus Ward's "episodes."

To the Afflicted.
Of all diseases, the first great cause—
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

SUFFER NOT WHEN A CURE IS GUARANTEED in all Secret Diseases. Self-abuse, nervous debility, syphilis in all its stages, strictures, gleet, gravel, diabetes, diseases of the kidneys and bladder, mercurial rheumatism, scrofula, pains in the bones and ankles, diseases of the lungs, throat, nose and eyes, ulcers upon the body or limbs, cancer, dropsy, epileptic fits, St. Vitus' dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs, such as nervous trembling, loss of memory, loss of power, general weakness, dimness of vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, loss of sight, wakefulness, dyspepsia, liver diseases, eruptions upon the face, pain in the back and head, female irregularities, and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant and without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury and lead. During twenty years' practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians; which warrant me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a perfect and speedy cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of the cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer on to an untimely grave. But, when the disease and treatment not cause death, especially, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions, and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon their offspring a brief career of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

SELF-ABUSE is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims, through a few years of suffering, to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wracked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence, I assure the unfortunate victim of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and, with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patient can be restored to robust and vigorous health. Irregularities, and all diseases of males and females are treated on principles established by twenty years practice, and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines, with full directions, sent to any part of the State, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territories, by public mail, free of charge, and accompanied by letter, business correspondence strictly confidential. Address,
L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco.
The Doctor offers free consultation, and asks no remuneration unless he effects a cure. je20th
