Work for the Hour.

Take the whole country together, or our own State as a sample of it. inquire from township to township, from neighborhood to neighborhood, and this general proposition holds good, that two thirds of those who take their politics from regularly reading one or more newspapers vote on the right side, while those who pick up what little they know of public affairs in bar-rooms and kindred haunts of sensuality vote the other way. Scratinize closely almost any township which is pretty equally divided in politics, and, you will perceive the same general truth-that two-thirds of the voters who regularly take and read a newspaper vote with the Unionists, while two-thirds of the households wherein no newspaper is taken give their votes to the Sham Democracy. The young men who are esteemed studious, widely informed, extensive and habitual readers, are mainly on the right side; while those who read little or nothing, and the little mainly in grog-shops, are usually Copperheads.

If it were a part of the common law of this country that at least one newspaper should be taken in every family, or at least as uniformly as the children are sent to school, it would not be possible to elect a Va'landigham or Horatio Seymour to a great public trust. Such men in office are with popular ignorance and vice. Just as the Rebellion could not have been possible had the Southern masses been educated and accustomed to read, so it would be found so damaging and futile as to be in effect impossible to maintain the position which the Democratic party now holds with regard to slavery and the War for the Union were the people universally well in formed with regard to public affairs.

We are just opening the most momen tous year in our country's history. Within that year, is is highly probable that the Slaveholders' Rebellion will somehow collapse, and the authority of the Federal Government over the revolted States be practically reasserted. Within that year. we shall decide whether slavery shall or shall not survive the more immediate arrest of the deadly, parrieidal blow it aimed at the heart of the Republic. Within that year, a President will be chosen for four ensuing years, who must love and cherish supremely either Liberty or Slavery-who will be the generous, admiring compatriot or at heart the foe of those who have so nobly opposed their breasts to the shock of Rebel assault on our Union-who will utterly abhor or dexterously play with the ides of a repudiation of our National debt -who will, in short, continue and complete the work of National salvation from slaveplaything of the conspirators by w rain of the Republic was plotted and all but accomplished.

The work of preparation for the eventful canvass of 1864 properly commences now. Throughout the ensuing three months, the industrious classes have more leisure than at other sensons. Now is the time to form or to invigorate habits of reading with reference to public affairs. Now is the time to persuade every farmer. mechanic, teamster, or day-laborer, to take at least one good newspaper, and make himself better acquainted with the daily progress of public affairs. Now is the time to sow brondenst the seeds which shall ripen for the harvest of next Novemsubject. Many more will pay the trifle that a cheap weekly costs if each is solicited to do so by a friend in whom he has confidence. And, if there be any who can't pay for such a paper, they ought to be supplied by their more fortunate neighbors and townsmen without charge. Yes, even though it be a widow's family of boys who are not to vote these eight years, they should thus be supplied, with a view to their qualification for the weighty trust of electors at that distant day.

Unionists of every State, County, City, Township, and Neighborhood! we entreat your immediate and co-operative action with a view to supplying every famliy now destitute with some good public journal for the ensuing year! Get every one to subscribe and pay who can be persuaded to do so; but, if there be others, have them supplied somehow. Let not the year 1864 open upon you with this duty still in abeyance. Let County and Township organizations aid the work so far as possible; but let not the New Year dawn upon us till, all over the loyal Stares, every lamily that can be persuaded to take and read one is provided with some good Union journal for the whole of that year !- N. #### Copperhead Editors.

The American Flag, of Sonora, Cal., gives the Copperhead editors of California a merited scoring. It is so truthfully applicable to " Democratic" editors of Oregon, that, for their benefit, we transfer it to our columns. Copperheads generally should secure a copy of the pen picture for their
