THE OREGON SENTINE

General Gantt's Advice to Copperhends.

Gen. Gantt of Arkansus addressed large Union meeting at Harrisburg (Penrivaria), January 15th. In the course of his speech he gave the following good counel to grumblers and Copperheads : I hear men in the North denouncing the Secessionists with apparent bitterness, and they say, exterminate them but save the negro. They might as well say of a man bitten by a mad deg, Kill the man, but for God's ake spare the dog! [Laughter.] We in Arkansas are going to kill the dog and try can trace much of what is good and pleasto save the man. Kentuckians say there ant in my heterogeneous compound to my are two parties, destructives and conservaown companionship with this glorious rivties. He believed the destructives were er .- Washington Irxing. the Secessionists and their unwilling aiders; but these latter called themselves conservatires, forsooth ! We in Arkansas are going to vote for whoever you nominate as an unconditional Union candidate for President. [Cheers.] I say to those conservatires that the only way you can stay this desolation and bloodshed is to say to the South, Yield the Government, then we will withdraw our armies. But no! the conservatives have not the time nor the men, neighbors shedding their blood in defense By your present conduct in murmuring and stranger. I expect nothing from you. I want nothing from the Government ; but I tell you truly that the robellion is looking unxiously upon the course of the socalled conservatives, and would like to spur them on, for they expect it will bring delay and finally victory to them. I want my suff-ring people relieved, but I want the old Government to embrace the whole territory, as of old. [Cheers.] My friends in the South have denounced me because I am telling the truth about them; but I tell you I never met more consummate Secessionists than these Northern conservatives. Would the South abuse me it I was not telling the truth about them? I have been among the rebels, and I know that your conservatism is aiding the South. For once I appeal to you. Leave party and go for your country ; nominate an uncondition, al Union man and elect him. That is what the Union men of the South want. The rebels are waiting for the inauguration of a new President, and they want you conservatives to succeed. Then will be their time for success. The hardest blow ever struck the rebellion was the emancipation proclamation, enforced by Union bayonets. As to compromise, he said, would it not be wise for the Southerners, after going out, to come back to the President and sny : We are willing to come back and join ter.] But that is all stuff. Jeff. Davis skint entirely!" and the leaders won't do that. The people are willing to return. The bitterest Secession ladies daily marry bandsome Union soldiers. I was afraid my wife would leave me when I determined to support the Union, but, when I told her, she said it FRANK BAKER. was the noblest act I had ever done.

THE PRESIDENT .- The Washington Chronicle came out lately in a double leaded Importers and Dealers leader, understood to be by J. W. Forney, advocating the re nomination of President Lincoln. The following are its most sig- FOREIGN & DOMESTIC nificant sentences : "The Republicans believe in him, for he was their party choice The loyal Democrats believe in him, for he Carnets, Oilcloths, Mattings, has been kind and considerate to them, and has always, in the most magnificent manner, recognized their devotion to country. TRUMPING FOR RECRUITS .- Gen Soule at Denver City, in his poster advertising for a few more recruits, gets off the following, Rend it:

"Pilgrims Support-$302-Poor Old Thing." "Old Sweetness" for your Rip roaring Bull-Whackers and fatigued Miners who are loyal to your country, and would like to put in a few days service before the close of the war. "That's what's they say. > THE LIFE OF JAMES BUCHANAN .- At the Auction rooms of Ford & Levett; Central Row, last evening, a number of books were " put up." among them one that is usually sold for a dollar and a half, which drew out the following :

It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, evenafter the disease has buffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant and without olor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury and beissan. During twenty years' practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have reacued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians: which warrant me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a perfect and speedy cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of the cases falling into the human family.
