SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 21, 1865

- List of Agents for the Oregon Sentinel, including E. F. Russell, J. P. Fisher, J. J. Knowlton, etc.

A Survey of the Field.

Under this head the Reporter, this week, gave its patrons a genuine dish of Malice...

It appears that he has just discovered that the McClellan party is not the Democratic party...

The men who most impressed themselves upon Northern character were the "Paritan fathers," Ben. Franklin, Hamilton, and the Adams family...

After thus completely annihilating the President, the North, the Puritans generally, and finding that he had a little more venom left, he concluded to give the Democratic party a squib...

The Chicago Convention was notoriously managed by old "Jim Guthrie" of Kentucky, who has two or three millions invested in paying railroad stock in that State...

The anti-war Democracy supported him, notwithstanding his Maryland record. They sacrificed feeling, hoping if he was not the deliverer, he might prove to be deliverer's precursor...

As near as we can sum up, his arguments go to show that Republicans are Puritans, and that Puritans are moneybags; that the McClellan party is not the Democratic party...

Barly Sold.—The Washington Democrat, a paper started at Olympia, either laboring under some kind of hallucination, or being very anxious to pay the editor of the Reporter an honored compliment...

We see it stated that Pat. Malone is again astride the editorial tripod in Oregon; this time an editor of the Jacksonville Sentinel...

A NEW CALL.—Gov. Gibbs, by order of Maj. Gen. Irwin McDowell, has issued a call for filling up the regiment of cavalry.

From our Special Correspondent Canyonville, Oregon.

FARLEY VS. THOMAS—DEFINITION OF A BUMMER.

Our usual quiet town has been very lively during the past week, on account of a celebrated law suit between two of our honest citizens—D. E. Farley against Andrew Thomas...

The Circuit Court of Josephine County referred it to Mr. L. L. Williams, our County Clerk, to take evidence and report to the next term. The referee commenced on Monday, the 9th, and finished on Friday following...

Witness—There are two or three kinds of bummers: 1st, a liquor bummer; 2d, a board bummer; 3d, a gal bummer.

[No definition is given of a gal bummer, but the reader may infer his meaning from his definition of the other two.]

Dowell to Witness—Well well! What kind of a bummer did Mr. Thomas think you were?

Witness—I don't know what kind of a bummer Mr. Thomas took me to be, but I think his girls took me to be a gal bummer.

Dowell—Ah! then what kind of a bummer did Mr. Thomas, you and the girls take Farley to be?

Witness—I don't know what they took him to be. Mr. Farley was there about a year and eight months, and I thought he was trying to be a gal bummer, but it appears he turned out to be scarcely a board bummer.

Dowell—What relation have you since become to the defendant?

Witness—I married his daughter. There was a houseful of witnesses and spectators, and these questions and answers were applauded by the whole congregation...

This place has been noted for bummers. At present, the gal bummer is the most numerous. It is a very healthy place for them. It is a great pity that Mr. Dowell did not get a true definition of a gal bummer.

A Legend of the Present.—Holy writ tells us of ten virgins, who went out to meet a certain bridegroom, but after going some distance, it was found that five of them, being exceedingly foolish, had neglected to take a sufficient supply of oil...

Mr. Daniel Delany, Sr., on the day above mentioned, was called out of his house in the night, shot down dead upon the porch by two men who were masked, and his horse searched throughout and robbed of about six thousand dollars in gold...

Dowell to witness, Mr. Patchen—You have used the word bummer several times in your examination in chief, what do you mean by the word bummer?

Chadwick—Take Webster; take Webster!

Dowell—No, I'll take Charley; he knows more about a bummer than Webster.
