DISPOSITION OF VOLUNTEERS.

Under date of Fort Vancouver, W. T., May 13th, 1865, B. F. Dowell writes as follows:

General McDowell has ordered a military post to be established in Paradise Valley, on the road from Fort Churchill and Reese River to the Owyhee country; also another camp in the upper part of Surprise Valley or southern part of Goose Lake Valley, in the vicinity of the roads from Chico via Susanville and Surprise Valley, and from Red Bluffs via Fort Crook to the Owyhee. This camp is designed as a temporary depot for two companies of the 2d California cavalry, which are now moving on those roads for the protection of the overland travel from California and Oregon to the Owyhee mines.

Col. R. F. Maury has ordered the companies of Captains Small and Williams to Camp Watson, on the road from the Dalles to Canyon City, in Grant county. He has also ordered Captain Kelly's company from Fort Klamath, to establish a camp for the Summer and Fall near Silver Lake, which lake is seventy-five or eighty miles east of Fort Klamath, near the road leading up Rogue River to Canyon City. Captains Small, Williams and Kelly are directed to keep their companies constantly scouring the country along the roads from Fort Klamath to Owyhee, and from Fort Klamath to Canyon City, and from Canyon City to the Dalles, on the Columbia river.

Gen. Wright having ordered two companies from California to Goose Lake, to protect the travel in the direction of the Owyhee, left Capt. Kelly's company free to be ordered into the unoccupied country between the head waters of the Willamette and Canyon City and Fort Klamath.

The volunteers now at Canyon City and Camp Baker will be immediately consolidated and mustered into the United States service. Col. Maury will then either order them up Rogue River, in the valleys and mountains east of Diamond Peak, or up the middle Fork of the Willamette, in the direction of Canyon City; but Col. Maury has no control of these volunteers until they are mustered into the service of the United States.

Captain Kelly, with a portion of his command, is expected to be in the vicinity of Diamond Peak in the latter part of June. Captain Small will be on the headwaters of the Deschutes river, the latter part of this month or the first of next.

All of Oregon east of the Cascade mountains will be traversed this season. As many as six or seven different parties will be employed in it during the entire Summer and a part of next fall. Col. Maury's intention and desire is, to furnish every possible protection and inducement to those desiring to develop and settle that portion of the State. A well established communication through that portion of our State, to the mines in Idaho, is of vital importance to Northern California, Southern and Central Oregon. The public and travelers, generally, may rest assured that Col. Maury will do all in his power to give the traveling and mining portion of the community ample protection.

Private McCarty, formerly of the Washington Territory Infantry, but who recently enlisted in the Oregon Cavalry, on the receipt of the news of the assassination of the President, said he was glad of it; that the deed and the man ought to have died long ago. He was tried here yesterday by a court martial, found guilty and sentenced to be dismissed from the service of the United States and placed in solitary confinement for ten years.

AGRICULTURE OF JACKSON COUNTY.

During the uproar and tumult of war, we are too apt to forget that great foundation-stone to a nation's grandeur—agriculture, and more especially, is it the great corner-stone of our country and its free institutions. From the farm come our most illustrious Presidents, Statesmen and Generals. The fact warns us at no time to lose sight of the great starting point of our greatness and prosperity.

Taking all these things into consideration, we are warned to turn aside from the great issues of war and politics and pay some attention to the agricultural resources of our valley. The principle grains grown in this valley, are wheat, oats and barley, which grow here in great luxuriance, and repay the farmer with a large amount of grain. It is feared, however, that the crops this season will not be as good as usual, in consequence of the drouth, the past spring; though the rain which we had last week has done much good. In some parts of the valley there was a large amount of water fell.

The outlets to this valley which have been and are still being opened to the Owyhee country, will warrant the farmers of this valley in more exclusively turning their attention to farming. By referring to another column, it will be seen that Southern Oregon is being remembered by Col. Maury; and as a consequence, we may look for better times.

Nor is grain raising our only source of agricultural wealth, for fruits of all kinds, such as apples, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, etc., grow in as great profusion as they do in the Willamette valley, which has as a sobriquet, "the land of rosy cheeked girls and red apples." Grapes grow better here than in any other part of the State.

In the productions of vegetables this valley is second to none. Vegetables of all kinds are raised here with great profit.

We think as soon farmers are convinced that they have a vast market opened up for them, they will take hold of farming with a determination to raise a large surplus.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

KLAMATH LODGE, No. 41, I. O. O. F.

Brothers, your committee, to whom was referred the subject of an expression in regard to the death of our late brother P. G. Theodore S. Pomeroy, would most respectfully report the following.

WHEREAS: It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst, by death, on the 14th day of May, 1865, our well-beloved brother, P. G. T. S. Pomeroy, an honored member of this lodge. Therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of brother Pomeroy our community has lost a good and upright citizen, his family a true and devoted husband and father, and this lodge one of its most zealous and faithful members.

Resolved, That we will cherish with affection the memory of our departed brother, trusting that he has been admitted to the Celestial Lodge above, where Friendship Love and Truth ever abide.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved widow and children of our deceased brother, and hereby tender to them our heartfelt sympathy in their affliction.

Resolved, That as a token of our sorrow, the charter of this lodge be draped in mourning, and that the officers and members of this lodge will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the Secretary furnish a copy of these resolutions to the widow and mother of our lamented brother, and that he also forward the New Age and OREGON SENTINEL each a copy for publication.

JOHN P. HAYNES, W. A. HAMILTON, Committee. HENRY ORMAN, Jr. Attest, HENRY ORMAN, Jr., Secretary. Crescent City, May 18th, 1865.

U. S. SEVEN THIRTY LOAN.—We wish to call the attention of the public to a mistake which occurred last week in our notice of this popular loan. Instead of "these bonds cannot be located by State, county, or city," it should have read, "these bonds cannot be taxed by State, county, or city." Thus $10,000 invested in any other way, would be taxed, whereas, if it is invested in the U. S. 7-30 loan, it is exempt from taxation. We further call attention to the addendum in this issue. The third series of this loan is offered for sale now, consisting of $230,000,000.

The most significant thing is that Government reserves the privilege of paying six per cent. in gold instead of 7-30 currency. The history of the world has yet to bring forth a parallel of a loan that was as well received or as eagerly sought after as this one. It is emphatically a loan of the people. All who have fifty or a hundred dollars can invest as well as those having thousands.

ARRIVALS.—Col. Drew and Captain Stewart, of the 3d Artillery, arrived last Sunday evening, from San Francisco. Capt. Stewart is on special duty, inspecting posts. He has gone to Fort Klamath; from thence he will go to Fort Crook. Col. Drew accompanies him.

Captain Sprague and company took up the line of march for Fort Klamath, on Wednesday last. A portion of his company will be stationed at the Fort, and the remainder pressed out on the plains to the vicinity of Silver Lake.

Private McCarty, formerly of the Washington Territory Infantry, but who recently enlisted in the Oregon Cavalry, on the receipt of the news of the assassination of the President, said he was glad of it; that the deed and the man ought to have died long ago. He was tried here yesterday by a court martial, found guilty and sentenced to be dismissed from the service of the United States and placed in solitary confinement for ten years.

Each on the feet courts of these copper-head sympathizers with assassins.

EXECUTION OF BEALE AND BAKER.

[From the Oregon Statesman.] Not being able to attend the execution of the Delaney murderers in person, we are indebted to a friend for the following account of it:

The prisoners were escorted to the scaffold by the Marion Rifles. An immense throng was present to witness the terrible scene. The prisoners, with escort, arrived at the gallows about 11:30 a. m. Beale went up the stairway to the platform without assistance, and with a firm step. Baker was apparently enfeebled, and mentally suffering. Both were dressed in full black suits, with black gloves, white stockings and cloth gaiters. Beale was cool and prepared. Baker seemed much depressed and showed much penitence. Rev. Father Goes attended Beale; Revs. O. Dickinson and A. P. Waller, Baker. Rev. Waller addressed the crowd, warning them earnestly against crime. Father Goes next spoke briefly and to the same effect. Baker then arose and said:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: Look at me, a poor miserable man on the gallows to suffer, and take warning by me. Oh, keep out of bad company, and believe in your God. I advise you all to pray. God is good and merciful. He can save you. If I had never gone into bad company I would not be here now to die. I am soon to go into eternity, to appear before my God. Pray for me, friends. I forgive all in this world. I have no more to say. Farewell, friends, farewell."

Beale said: "Brethren, Ladies and Gentlemen: I am here to die, and you will all excuse me. If I don't speak as I would like to, for I never have been accustomed to public speaking. I am here to suffer death for my crimes. I am more guilty than my companion here. He did most of the transactions, but I got him into it, and planned the whole thing. I am the most guilty and would like to take the whole punishment on my own hands, and let him go clear. And for that old man that was sent out of the world so quick that he could not prepare, I wish that if he has gone to hell for his sin, and I go to heaven, that he would take my place in heaven and I take his in hell." [He then spoke briefly on the evils of bad company, and said: "I have always been a fanatic, and never believed in this Book [holding out a Bible] until within a few days back. Now I believe in it, and believe all can be saved by it; that God will save us if we do right. I wish to read you a Psalm from this book." [He then read the 98th Psalm. The prisoner's voice was clear and very calm. After reading the Psalm, he again addressed all present against evil company, and to read the Bible, and added: "I have now no further use for this Book in the world; it has done me a great deal of good; I have no further use for it—farewell!"

At this he threw the book over into the crowd. With a few words more he concluded, and then turning to the sheriff remarked: "Well I am ready, as far as I am concerned," and resumed his seat. Neither of the prisoners made any allusion to the facts connected with the murder or robbery, or to the amount of money found or taken by them. Beale, by a single remark, barely intimated that he had told all in his confession. Baker spoke in subdued, penitential tones, and was much agitated. Beale's voice and manner indicated that he had thoroughly braced himself to the occasion, and was cool and composed. Rev. Dickinson read the 55th Psalm and then prayed—the prisoners kneeling. Baker shed tears, and for a moment was convulsed with emotion, but soon recovered himself, and sat patient and listless. Beale was unconcerned. After prayer, Revs. Waller, and Dickinson bade adieu to the prisoners and left the scaffold. Father Goes stayed with Beale to the last. Beale pressed the crucifix. At Beale's request, the Priest stated to the crowd that Mrs. Beale knew nothing of her husband's crime at the time, and was entirely innocent of wrong in everything connected with the crime.

The sheriff and assistants then fastened the legs of the two men with black tape on the ankles, moved the chairs on the drop, led the prisoners to them—when seated—placed on their heads the black caps. Beale rose and embraced the sheriff, and then resumed his seat, keeping crucifix to his breast, and the Priest whispering consolation. The caps were then drawn over their heads, the nooses affixed, both stood up, chairs taken away, all ready, trap-sprung, and George P. Beale and George Baker were launched into eternity.

Baker's shoulders barely moved, then motionless. Beale never made a motion. They hung twenty-one minutes, and were then pronounced dead by Dr. McAfee, and cut down.

The rope cut Beale's throat, severing jugular vein. The bodies were given to relatives.

We last week received about two dozen packages of tobacco seed from Hon. Geo. H. Williams, United States Senator, for distribution, consisting of the "Pure Havana Tobacco Seed" and "Connecticut Seed-leaf Tobacco" varieties. It is said the Seed will keep good until next season. Persons desiring a package, can obtain it at this office.

Phoenix Miller Rose, the man who robbed Sutton, has been bound over to make his appearance in Court.

BY OVERLAND TELEGRAPH.

[REPORTED EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE SENTINEL.]

Washington, 22d.—President Johnson, in granting a respite to the Indiana conspirators, said it was only carrying out President Lincoln's purpose, and must not be taken as a precedent.

The Herald's special says the new amnesty proclamation will not apply to all who did not avail themselves of President Lincoln's, and will be more strict in its provisions.

Cincinnati, 22d.—The published correspondence between Brownlow and the officials of the Chattanooga railroad, shows that the rolling stock of the road as far as Augusta is in good repair, including 25 locomotives. The road to Atlanta will be completed about June 1st.

An Indianapolis dispatch says about 20 Indiana regiments will be mustered out within two weeks.

New York, 22d.—The Post's special says the prisoners on trial for the conspiracy have summoned about two hundred witnesses. The Commercial's special says a number of important witnesses for the prosecution arrived last night. The expectation that the trial would be terminated this week will scarcely be realized. The defense will be formidable. E. v. J. Johnson will chiefly occupy himself with rebutting evidence to the testimony implicating Jeff Davis and the Richmond letters. It is believed that the capture of the rebel archives will furnish much information about the conspiracy.

New York, 22d.—A special to the Express says the President is very indignant at the conduct of the Cuban officials respecting the rebel ram Stonewall. A dispatch in regard to the matter has been sent to Madrid.

Post's special says Sheridan goes to Texas with orders to destroy the rebel forces that still persist in holding out.

North Carolina delegates have had a satisfactory interview with the President, who is understood to adhere strictly to the total abolition of slavery, as a condition of the restoration of the civil powers to the State.

Gen. Sheridan and staff, who arrived in the city today, left this evening for Cincinnati on their way to the Southwest. Sheridan will immediately assume control of the troops of the Southwest, together with such additional cavalry forces as the exigencies of the service may require.

It is understood that Gen. Curtis and Merrill will join Sheridan in the West.

The Herald says Gen. Sickles was officially received, on April 5th, by the President of Columbia, as special envoy to that Republic from the United States. Addresses were made by Gen. Sickles and the President, in which the most friendly feelings of each Government were expressed for the other.

St. Louis, 22d.—Department headquarters has received a dispatch from Fort Scott, Kansas, announcing the surrender of all guerrillas and lawbreakers of Southwest Missouri and Northwest Arkansas.

Washington, 22d.—The President has issued a proclamation opening all the Southern ports, except those of Texas, to foreign commerce, on and after July first, and declaring that foreign vessels attempting to trade illegally will be treated as pirates.

THE SHOOTING OF SHERIFF MADDOCK.—We take the following from a letter dated Umatilla, May 16th:

"Special express which arrived in town this morning, says that Frank Maddock, Sheriff of this county, and one Hart, were shot last Sunday evening, at Express ranch, in trying to arrest two horse thieves. Maddock probably killed. They killed one of the thieves."

The Umatilla Advertiser gives the following additional particulars of this affair.

The Sheriff and a gentleman named Hart, who had volunteered to assist in making the arrest, came upon the thieves—Henry Vaughn and one Burns, who were rolled in their blankets—just beyond Express ranch, and, without thinking to capture them without much trouble, were not guarded in their movements. Sheriff Maddock received a shot which struck him at one side and near the lower part of the nose, the ball passing through the head. Hart was shot through the body, and is thought cannot recover. Burns was wounded, and made his escape but was pursued and soon taken. Sheriff Maddock was in a delirious condition, but strong hopes were expressed as to his recovery. Hart has a family at Walla Walla, and a messenger sent to apprise his family of his situation, gave the foregoing particulars to a passenger on the stage.

We were wrongly informed concerning the flag presentation having taken place at Phoenix on Friday, the 19th. It took place here on Wednesday last. Captain Sprague marched his company through town and put them through a variety of maneuvers, before a large and admiring crowd of ladies and gentlemen, which showed a degree of training that reflects credit upon the officers commanding the company. The speeches by Mr. Lougel and Captain Sprague were short but timely, and were listened to with marked attention by those present. The flag was a nice one, worthy of so fine a company, and the boys gave it and its donor—Madame De Roboam—three cheers.

The Farewell Military Ball at Phoenix on the 19th, was a success. They had a good ball, a good supper and a good company to enjoy it, and last, though not least, Berry and Brown were there with their best music, and all know it is good.

Died.

At Fort Dalles, Oregon, May 17th, 1865, First Sergeant, J. C. Dupuy, of "D" Company, 1st Oregon Cavalry, aged 27 years. Sergeant Dupuy was born in Monroe county, New York. He enlisted in his company and regiment in Jackson county Oregon, on the 2d day of December, 1861, and had been constantly on duty up to the time of his death. When the late Lieut. Watson was promoted, he succeeded him as First Sergeant, and re-enlisted as a veteran volunteer, February 20, 1864. He was a good soldier, and a faithful and efficient non-commissioned officer. His company, with others, had left this post in the morning, under Lieut. Charles Hubart, en route to Fort Boise. On the evening of the same day he was thrown from, and killed by his horse at Fort Dalles, and died a few hours afterwards. His remains were sent back to this post today, and will be buried with military honors to-morrow, by the side of others of his regiment, who have gone before him. F. B. WARR, 1st Lieut. and Adj. Gen. Ft. Vancouver, W. T., May 18th, 1865.
