THE OREGON SENTINEL

A Toast to the Vice Admiral.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Now gallant friends and shipmates all,
Since half our battle's won,
A broad-side for our Admiral!
Load every crystal gun!
Stand ready till I give the word—
You won't have time to fire—
And when that glorious name is heard,
Then let the main deck fire!

How foremost sinks the rebel craft,
Our eyes not sadly turn
And see the pirates huddling aft
To drop their raft astern;
Soon o'er the sea worm's destined prey
The lifted wave shall close—
So perish from the face of day
All freedom's banded foes!

But ah! what splendors fire the sky,
What glories greet the morn,
The storm-tossed banner streams on high,
Its heavenly hues new-born!
Its red fresh died in heroes blood,
Its peaceful white more pure,
To float unstained o'er field and flood,
While earth and seas endure.

All shapes that feel the living blast,
Must glide from mortal view—
Back roll the billows of the past
Behind the present's blue—
Fast, fast are lessening in the light
The names of high renown—
Van Tromp's proud bosom pales from sight,
Old Benbow's hull half-down!

Scarce one tall frigate walks the sea
Or skirts the sailor shores
Of all that bore to victory
Our stout old commodores;
Hull, Bainbridge, Porter—where are they?
The wavering billows roll
Still bright in memory's sunset ray—
God rest each gallant soul!

A brighter name must dim their light
With more than noon-tide ray—
The Viking of the River Fight,
The conqueror of the Bay!
Shape not to him the marble form,
Let never bronze be cast,
Inlave him through the battle storm
Lashed to the flagstaff's mast.

Now then, your brandishe, shipmates all,
With grape well hauled down!
May garlands filled with sunshine fall
To gild his silvered crown!
I pray the name that fits him best—
Aye, better than his own—
The Sea King of the sovereign West,
Who made his mast a throne!

GEN. WILSON TO GEN. GRANT.—GEN. WILSON, in his recent letter to GEN. GRANT, said about emancipation:

"I undergo daily rejoice at the fact and am reconciled to many of the worst calamities of the war, because I am now convinced that the war was a special providence of God, unavailable by the nations at other extreme, to tear loose from me a black skin from which we could never have been separated by any other means than those of fire and blood, sword and sacrifice."

For saying the same thing, we have been charged by Copperheads, papers as being a blasphemer.—Appeal.

GENERAL CONNOR'S FIGHTS.—The Camp Douglas Vidette, published at Salt Lake, has the following:

Major General Dodge, in a private telegram from Denver, September 26th, to a gentleman friend now visiting this city (A. D. Richardson), alludes to General Connor's fights on Powder river, and pronounces them "the most brilliant in the history of Indian warfare."

INTERESTING TO SCRIPT SPECULATORS.—The following from the United States Internal Revenue office at Washington explains itself:

TREASURY DEPT., INTERNAL REVENUE, }
WASHINGTON, September 2, 1865. }

SIR: In reply to your letter of July 23d, that a person who makes a business of buying county warrants at a discount upon their par value, to sell again or hold until they mature, and then collect from the county the full face of the warrants with interests thereon, is to be considered a broker, and should procure license as such. Very respectfully,

D. C. WHITMAN, for Commissioner.

To N. M. Orr, Assessor Third District, Stockton, California.

DUTIES CONCERNING TRAVELLING AGENTS.—Mr Thos. Fraser, United States Assessor of Internal Revenue for this district, furnishes us with the following decision concerning traveling agents.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE, }
Washington, Aug. 18th, 1865. }

Assessors and collectors are hereby informed that all persons traveling about the country as the agents of manufactures and dealers, seeking orders for goods in original or unbroken packages, are regarded as commercial brokers within the meaning of the law, and as such must procure licenses. Those acting as the agents of one person or firm exclusively are also liable as above.

Licenses to this class of persons should be made out so as to show the place of business of the license, if he have one; but if not, his residence should be stated.

Licenses thus filled out should be recognized by revenue officers in all parts of the country.

WILLIAM ORTON, Commissioner.

DR. FRANKLIN said: "A good kick outdoors is better than all the rich uncles in the world."
