Our dispatches show that General Logan has declined to accept the proposed appointment as Minister Pleninotestiaev to the Juarez Government of Muxico, and that Lewis A. Campbell has been appointed in his place by the President This proves conclusively that our Government is determined not to acknowledge the Maximillian monarchy, and that Mexico may yet be a free and independent Republic The Monroe Dectrine, which found a place in our columns just prior to Christmas, is the true policy of the American people, and we take pleasure in assuring our readers that it is the policy likely to be vinilicated and carried out according to its spirit and letter in Mexico, in a peaceful and quiet manner. The general scattment at Washlogion appears to be that France will soldiers and withdraw them from Mexico. and leave Maximillian to sook aid from Austria, or return, like the prodigal son. to the House of Hamburg, and ask their forgiveness.

Mr. Seward deserves great credit for the adroitness with which he has managed this question from the beginning. He has always asserted our rights, and in this matter proclaimed in substance the Monroe Doctrine to the Government of France. This is plainly shown by a short letter of Mr. Dayton's to Mr. Seward, which is in these

Paris, April 22d, 1864. Sin: I visited M. Dronyn de L'huya yes terday at the Department of Foreign Affairs. The first woods be additioned to per un enteriog the room were. "Do you bring us peace or do you bring us was?" I asked him to what he referred, and he said he referred more immediately to those resolutions recently passed by Congress in reference to the invasion of Mexico by the French, and the establishment of Maximillian on the throne of that country. I said France had a right to infer that we were about to make war against her on account that they embodied nothing more than had constantly been held out to the French Government from the beginning. That I had aiways represented to the Government here that any action upon their part intertering with the form of government in Mexico would be looked upon with dissatisfaction by the people of our country, and they could not expect us to be in haste to acknowledge a monarchical Government. built upon the foundation of a Republic which was our next neighbor. That I had reason to believe that you had held the same language to the French Minister in the United States. This allegation he did not seem to deny, but obviously received the resolutions in question as a serious step upon our part; and I am told that the leading secess onlists here build largely on these resolutions, as a means of foment ing ill-feeling between this country and some others and ourselves. Mr. Mason and his secretary have gone to Brussels to confer with Mr. Dudley Mann, who is their commissioner at that place. Mr. Slidelf, it is said, was to have gone to America, although he has not yet got off.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM L. DAYTON. Mr. Mason, Mr. Mann, Mr. Slidell, and the whole Southern Confederacy, tried to bring about a war between the United States and France; but they were all completely outwitted by the segucious management of Mr. Seward, until the rebellion has been crushed. Napoleon would not have dared to have occupied Mexico, if there had not been a rebellion in the United States. Now the war here has closed. he knows there is no chance for Maximillian, and he will withdraw his soldiers in peace and leave Maximillian to follow.

Nothing could be more disasterous now to the United States than to permit a hereditary Emperor to be forced upon the people of Mexico. Of the various forms of Government, an hereditary Monarchy on the borders of the United States is the most ridiculous. Is it possible to relate without an indignant smile that, on the father's decease, the property of Mexico, like that of a flock of Mexican sheep or a few days has been all that could be wished.

herd of cattle, is to descend to his infant son, as yet naknown to mankind or himself; and here, on American soil, that the bravest mariner and the wisest statesman, relinquishing their natural rights to an empire, approach the royal cradle of Maximillian with bended knees, and make protestations of everlasting fealty. Satire and declamation may paint these obvins topics in the most dazzling colors, but our more serious thoughts will respect a useful prejudice, that permits the people of Mexico to choose their own rulers; and we shall not only cheerfully acquiesce, but we will rejoice in any step our government may take to compell Muximillian and the French troops to evacuate Mexico.

The anniversary of St. John's Day, again having recurred, was observed by the Masonic Fraternity of Roseburg in gala style, and in a spirit characteristic of this time-honored body. No expense was spaced to make the ceremonies of Instaliation as grand as they were imposing. Pursuant to invitation of the Fraternity of Laurel Lodge, the Hop. THE MAIL FROM PORTLAND TO POREST GROVE-APPOINTMENTS RECOMMENDED. Washington, Nov. 18, 1865.

EDITOR OREGONIAN I write to request, through your paper, these persons who propose to bid for the mail route from Portland, by the way of Hillsboro and Forest Grove to Lafayette. to accompany their bid for the route as advertised, with a bid for a semi-weekly service on the same route, going to Centerville in Washington county. I think a somi weekly service on said route, with the establishment of a new Postoffice at Centerville, can be procured. Meanwhile, I would ask the present contractor to write me what further compensation he would require to perform the above named additional service until the new letting takes effect on the 1st, of next July.

Since my arrival here, up to within the last two weeks, the rule of the War Department has been inflexible, not to make any appointments to the regular army from the volunteer force of the country. That rule has now been changed as to first and second Lieutenants, and I have recommended Messrs. Catley, Waymire and Hopkins, for appointments. Yours truly,
