Jacksonville.

Week after week, we have written of, and discoursed on our beautiful valley, with its fertile acres and varied resources. We will now say something for the chief town of Sonthern Oregon. We do not boast that Jacksonville is the prettiest town on the Pacific Coast, nor do we claim that it contains more intelligence than any other town in Oregon ; but we do insist that it is the liveliest and most flourishing burg between Marysville and Portland. For the information of those abroad, and for future reference by our own people, we will give some idea of the amount and description of business that makes it the commercial centre of the valley. The population of Jacksonville is not definitely known, no census having been taken with a view to ascertain the fact ; it is variously estimated at from six to eight hundred, and as there are three hundred and fitty votes in the precinct, the population will probably fall little short of the latter figure. Located here, are six stores or general merchandising establishments, which will average a business of $60,-000 each per annum; two hotels and one restaurant; three retail groceries and fancy stores; one hardware and tin manufacturing establishment; two in coming over Humboldt bar Friday jewelers; two meat markets; three morning, 8th inst., on her way up livery stables; one drug store; seven shipped a heavy sea, which damaged saloons; two breweries; three black- her upper works very much, and also smith shops; one banking house; two one of her wheel-houses, and killed one printing offices; one photograph gal- sailor-struck in the breast with a lery; one tailor shop; three boot and barrel-did not learn his name. FOR THEIR LAGER .- The Record says "the Germans stood by the nation in time of war, but stand for their lager and their right to spend the Sabbath as they please in time of peace." Their privilege to do so is undo abted. They have a perfect right to "pursue happiness " just as they please, provided they do not infringe on the rights of others. The public amusements of this class of our citizens contribute to national happiness, and wise rulers should encourage rather than oppose innocent recreation to its fullest extent on the part of the people.

Rosenung, Ogn., Nov. 1st, 1867. The celebrated case of Susan Benett vs. Sanford Bennett, for the care and custody of their two infant children, which came so near involving this community in civil war about a year ago, has recently been decided by Judge Deady in the U. S. District Court, in favor of plaintiff. One of the children died of whooping cough about two months ago.

Seale's wite gave him some Hamburg tea to Justice Lawrence, and was held to drink, and a tew minutes afterwards he was a dead man! A bottle that mony was not overly strong against contained prussic acid was found in the privy of her residence. In the room of Swaney, was found a bill for prussic acid purchased in this city. Upon being questioned, Swaney acknowl edged to having purchased prussic acid in Stockton, but said he intended to take it himself, but upon further questioning, could not tell what disease he desired it for, and said he had dropped the bottle, but upon being taken to the place he mentioned, no bottle could be found. A short time since, the wife of Swaney died suddenly, about ten days after child-birth, when she was considered in no dauger, and grave suspicious are entertained regarding her death. An improper intimacy between Swaney and Mrs. Scale has long been suspected in Mariposa. It is now the intention to examine the body of Mrs. Swaney, to ascertain the cause of her

FIELDS OF DOCK .- The root of the yellow dock, so troublesome to farmers, is an effectual alt sative and a most valuable medicine. In the neighborhood of Lowell, Doct. J. C. Aver & Co. have planted fields of it, where they raise many tons at a crop. It is grown like the carrot or beet, in drills, and its quality or properties have been much by cultivation. It is one of the ingredients in AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, and, we are informed, the extraordinary virtnes of this preparation are largethe Philadelphia Press, favoring him by due to the extract of this root that for President, and declaring his Radi- it contains. The Sarsaparilla root, used by this firm, is grown on plantations of their own, in Honduras, to secure na article of superior and wholly reliable quality. One of the reasons for the universally acknowled superiority of their medicines, may be seen in the watchful care that is used in preparing them. - Vermont Statesman. NEW INVESTION .- Dr. F. G. Hearn and Dr Wm. Bisbee, have invented a new spring hook and bolt, which is the neatest thing we have yet seen. It will hook a gate or door so as to render it impossible to be opened from the outside, and the spring of the hook is so arranged as to allow sufficient room for shrinkage. They have applied for a patent and expect the papers in a few days, when they intend manufacturing them extensively. For steamboats, railroad cars, houses, stores, gates etc., they are superior to anything now in use, and will undoubtedly be in great demand when offered to the public .- Freka Journal. Hors .- John Shirley, at Vernon, Sutter county, Cal., has gathered and marketed 700 lbs. of hops this year's planting of 800 roots. On the Sacramento river, some of the more enterprising farmers are engaging in the same business. Nothing promises a greater percentage, in the agricultural line, says the Sutter Sentinel, than hop raising; and the market is always good and extensive. Hops grow wild and luxuriant in our bottom lands, which is sufficient guarantee to farmers that when planted and cultivated, the yield will be abundant .- Yreka U.ion.
