D. M. C. GAULT, . . . . . EDITOR.
 SATURDAY MORNING, June 27, 1868.

The Dramatic Chronicle has been "sassed" by the spiritual "organ," and goes after the editor with a bunch of nettles in its peculiarly soothing way. It suggests that his ghostship is entirely too coarse and tangible, and not sufficiently ethereal for the discharge of his spiritual duties, besides being a blockhead. The old-fashioned "spirits" didn't "used" to frequent cellars, gorge themselves with "Russian Caviar" and Bologna sausage, washed down with sour beer. They were dignified chaps, with a sulphury smell that talked hifalutin, and didn't "sass" people.

TICKLING THE NIGGERS.—Brick has commenced tickling the colored gentlemen of the South into the ranks of the "white man's" party. He remarks that most of the Southern negroes "are more refined than the Radicals in Congress." How sweet they smell since they have commenced voting the Democratic ticket in Georgia and South Carolina! All we have to say is, that any unfortunate darkey less refined than "Brick," is only fit to start a dunghill with.

NO FOURTH.—The fellow that runs the Albany (Oregon) Democrat is not so patriotic as he was before the election. He says "the Fourth of July is not of much force anyway—let 'er rip." He is one of the chaps who thinks the mantle of Washington has fallen on Jeff's shoulders, and that Lee is fully entitled to the garment that was divided under the Cross of Calvary. Could the "Fourth" have occurred before the June election, he would have sung another song.

THE DEMOCRACY are evidently looking ahead. Since their Governor in California got on the spree with the Chinamen, that sagacious old party have started a whisky distillery at Shanghai in China. What a position to maintain before leaving his native shore. The fact leaves no doubt of the intention of the Democratic party to make voters of the Chinese as soon as the race is sufficiently demoralized.

RAPPING.—Since Mrs. Stowe passed through here, rapping has become quite common. We heard of a "rapist" who tapped lightly on a door the other evening, and the spirit within enquired, "Is that you, Sam?" A few evenings ago, a "spirit" weighing about one hundred and seventy pounds was seen leaving the same premises, followed by a couple of shots from a revolver.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Examiner says: "The Web Foot State has covered herself with glory." Sorry we can't say as much for the "Tar Head" State. At the last election she got her garments bedraggled in the filth of Democracy, that only the showers of next November can cleanse.

THE Enterprise thinks the negro equality question is all a humbug. How can that be, when the Democrats of South Carolina have just decided that Beverly Nash, the black Demosthenes, is as good as any other Democrat, by electing him to the State Senate?

WE learn from a religious exchange that the "Devil" is going to hold a camp meeting shortly. Oregon would be an excellent field for him, as it now has quite a democratic majority.

PROGRESSIVE.—To keep up with the demands of the age, an enterprising barber in San Francisco brushes hair with machinery.

BOHEMIA MINES.—A saddle train leaves Oakland every week for the "Bohemia" quartz mines in Douglas county.

DR. O. P. H. Plummer, of Albany, has been appointed to the Chair of Chemistry in the Medical Department of the Willamette University.

THE President has given no intimation that the resignation of Secretary McCullough would be acceptable.

WM. M. Evarts was nominated by the President on the 22d as Attorney General.

SURBATT has been released on $20,000 bail.

Wanted.

Fifty thousand people! Men, women, and children,—the muscle,—the bone and sinew of the country,—are wanted to come and share the thousands and thousands of Oregon acres that lie idle without an owner, and to be had for the asking. Yes, an hundred thousand are wanted, and there is room for them all. We want them to come and till the richest wheat land in the world, and enrich themselves by helping to fill the World's granaries. They are wanted to delve beneath our mountains for the veins and pockets of gold and silver, to hew down our forests, to mine our coal, to build our cities, and to spread the civilization of the age. They are wanted to leave the rigorous climates of many of the States east of the Rocky mountains, and help us to enjoy one where flowers blossom from April to December. Millions are working elsewhere for bare subsistence, striving from one end of the year to the other, battling against the elements, struggling for bare existence amid climatic disadvantages, asking cold, barren or exhausted soil to yield when it cannot. One quarter of the labor and thrift of the Eastern farmers applied in this climate to the fruitful soil of Oregon, would soon insure wealth and independence. We want population. Europe is crowded. There is room for them here. Many of the Atlantic States are overflowing with unrewarded labor; let it come to the far West, where the rich grain laughs in the world's golden sunset, and hunger and cold and starvation are strange words; and where homes large enough to support and enrich any family, can be had for the taking.

DON'T ADVERTISE.—Don't—it is very foolish and expensive. Those who do are continually being annoyed by persons asking to look at goods, besides being put to the trouble of renewing their stock during the year. Those who don't certainly have the advantage; they save money, which enables them to sell cheaper, but sell so little that they are obliged to get an exorbitant profit. They are not annoyed by inquisitive people desiring to examine their goods, and have the pleasure of always having a full stock on hand. Sometimes their stock comes out, but they don't want to sell, and grindstones don't spoil, and their old clothing comes in fashion about every twenty years; so they always have a full store and feel rich. Therefore, don't advertise—it is so foolish.

HEAVY RAIN.—On Monday, this valley was visited with the heaviest rain that has ever been known to fall in this region during the Summer. It was no summer shower, but a good old-fashioned rain, coming down in torrents for eight or nine hours, and saturating the earth completely. Had it fallen two weeks earlier, the benefit to our crops would have been immense; but it came just in time to do no good except to very late grain, and much harm to early grain and new mown hay. Taken altogether, the present has been the most extraordinary season ever experienced by our farmers, notwithstanding which, a full crop will be realized.

FROM THE COAST.—We are obliged to R. Dugan, Esq., of Crescent City, for the following: "On the 15th inst. the boiler of the steam saw mill at Trinidad exploded, killing a man named Tupper and wounding two others. The mill was completely wrecked, and it will require a considerable sum to put it in running order again. About the same date three men—names not learned—were drowned in Humboldt Bay, by the upsetting of a boat while on a sailing excursion.

CENTRAL PACIFIC.—A telegram from Strong's Canyon, eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada, announces that at twenty minutes past 8 o'clock last evening, the last spike was driven into the last tie to close up the gap in railway communication between California and Nevada. For six miles east of the Summit tunnel the snow had hitherto prevented the laying of the connecting rails. The Central Pacific Railroad is now in running order from Sacramento to Reno, a distance of 154 miles.

CONTRACT AWARDED.—We learn that the Fort Klamath grain contract has been awarded to R. J. Ladd, of Portland, and Jacob Ish of this valley. The figures are not made public.

A NEW theatrical paper called "Figaro" has made its appearance in San Francisco. It is devoted to theatrical matters, and circulated gratuitously.

Railroad Matters.

Heretofore we have given our unequivocal support to the railroad scheme that is projected in Washington to connect Portland in this State with the great overland route. The most substantial reason yet offered, has been the immense additional aid that would be given to the "Oregon Central" by a consolidation with a company having a government subsidy of thirteen millions of dollars. This is the main reason why we desire the passage of the bill, but there are others equally as weighty and worthy of consideration.

The proposed route seems to be a source of considerable local and petty jealousy, and our only regret is that every editor and every farmer cannot have a road run right by his door, and a special train always at his command, at the present expensive rate of construction. Those who furnish the capital necessary to build railroads, look to the future as well as to the present. They naturally inquire into the resources of the country through which their projected line is to run. They calculate the number of square miles their road will drain without the danger of competition. Railroads are built more with a view to the future command of the trade of States than to the present accommodation of insignificant localities. It is for this reason that the bill in question has so many friends in Congress.

When it is considered, that lying between the Cascade range to the east of this and Umpqua valleys, and the Blue mountains, there is a territory equal in area to two such States as Connecticut, or nine such as Rhode Island, and capable of supporting a population certainly equal to the former, it is not surprising that a railroad through it is looked on with favor. It is idle to say that this region is not a valuable one. The altitude is much less than that of the Great Salt Lake valley. Its climate is much less severe than that of nearly every State north of the fortieth parallel, east of the Rocky mountains. Its soil is richer than that of any of the New England States, and the luxuriance of its wild grasses and clover leaves no doubt that it only requires tilling to make it the wheat field of the Pacific.

Emigration is crowding westward if valleys like that of Sprague river, Chewacan and Link river will not attract it. It seems as if Nature intended the mining population of scorched and barren Nevada and Idaho to draw their supplies, flour, bacon and timber,—from this region; and the time is approaching when they will do so.

Aside from topographical reasons, the great importance of this region of country and the certainty of its early development and occupation, are convincing and substantial arguments why it should be traversed by a branch of the Pacific railroad. There is a large area of productive land in Northern California that has not entered into this calculation, that will be equally benefitted by the construction of this road; and this, together with the fact that it will impel and necessitate the construction of a road through the Sacramento and Pitt river valleys, has procured it the friendly aid of the whole California delegation. Its passage is only a question of time, and we have the best authority for saying that it will be the very first projected road to receive aid from the Government.

BAD BOYS.—There is a company of about a dozen boys in this town that always make it a point to attend all public gatherings except church, where they lose no opportunity of making a noise and a disturbance. They use the lowest obscenity and most disgusting profanity, and that, too, in the presence of ladies; nor can anybody rebuke them without being insulted. We have been requested to name these young fellows—a thing that will be done if we ever have to recur to this subject again, for forbearance has ceased to be a virtue.

LABOR REWARDED.—Fox, Patty & Co., who were running a tunnel in the hill facing Allens gulch, in Josephine County, send us word that they have struck the channel and with it rich pay, there being a very large bed of gravel which prospect three bits to the pan.

GOOD WORK.—The splendid planer of Howard & Smith is turning out planed lumber at a fearful rate. On flooring, it performs the work of ten men.

HEALTHY.—The doctors are complaining that there is nothing to do. We like to see everybody busy, but must make an exception in favor of Doctors.

CHANCE FOR A BURGAIN.—Notice Will's advertisement in today's issue.

LETTER FROM B. F. DOWELL.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
 June 1st, 1868.

THE STREWING THE GRAVES OF UNION SOLDIERS.

On Saturday last, at Arlington Heights, near this city, were of the most solemn and imposing character. The crowd was variously estimated from three to five thousand persons.

The decoration of the graves of deceased relatives and friends has been a custom in many countries from time "whereof the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." It is therefore appropriate, surely those who laid down their lives in the defence of their country should have some tribute paid to their memories. The commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, General John A. Logan, some time ago issued an order to decorate the graves of their comrades. The first paragraph is in these words:

"The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers, or otherwise decorating, the graves of comrades who died in defence of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observance no form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will, in their own way, arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit."

Long before one o'clock,—the time designated for the commencement of the exercises,—the old mansion house of General Lee was crowded. Among the number were: General Grant and family, Maj. Gen. Hancock and staff, Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard, Gen. Logan, and various members of Congress.

Hon. James A. Garland, of Ohio, delivered an appropriate oration. He reviewed the causes which brought the bones of fifteen thousand men to rest on these heights. He eloquently pictured the great impulse which led them to condense life into an hour, and to crown that hour by joyfully welcoming death.

A little flag with the thirteen stripes and thirty-three stars was planted on each grave, and nearly all were strewn with flowers. Nearest the old mansion house of the rebel Lee, are the officers and 2,111 unknown soldiers. There is a granite monument erected over the grave of those unknown soldiers, and the ceremonies around it were truly solemn. The music of organ boys and girls sang a mournful song, and then nearly covered the monument with flowers. Some of them were beautifully made in the shape of hearts and the cross. After this they repaired to the general grave yard, and wagon loads of flowers were strewn over the graves of our gallant dead.

As I roamed through the grave yard on two beautiful white sign boards I read:

"Through all Rebellion's horrors,
 Bright shines our nation's fame,
 Our gallant soldiers perishing,
 Have won a deathless name."

The hopes, the fears, the blood, the tears,
 That mark'd the bitter strife,
 Are now all crowned by victory
 That sav'd the Nation's life."

The Dramatic Chronicle makes the following pertinent enquiry:

"Why is it that the Call has such an antipathy to the 'Grand Army'? Why is it that it calls Grant a 'liar'? Why is it that it thinks all soldiers who fought for the Union are reprobates and 'drunks' who line the Presidio road with 'stagnant' water? Why is it that the Call never loses a chance to slur any of the great men who aided either in the council or the field, in putting down the rebellion? Why is it that this paper praises rebels, and vilifies loyal men? Why is it that this mean-spirited and unprincipled organ sympathizes with the persecutors of Negroes and Chinamen, and wants to have a bounty of $20 offered for the scalps of Indians, 'with the ears attached'? We suppose it is because the Call is more destitute of anything like a humane or generous impulse, is more devoid of patriotism or magnanimity, is more base, selfish, sordid and contemptible, than any paper that ever succeeded in gaining a foothold in a civilized community. That is the only answer to these queries that we can furnish. If any one else can do better, let him try."

Perhaps it is because the Editor keeps his soul in a "peanut" shell!

REPORTED.—The Committee appointed to view and measure the proposed Roseburg and Coos Bay wagon road have made a report thereon. They represent the route as favorable and make the distance to tide water about sixty miles.

THE Dramatic Chronicle remarks that "we take defeat with a stiff upper lip." It may add with a stiff backbone, also.

FLOUR WANTED.—Lieut. Small advertises to-day for 53,477 pounds of flour for Fort Klamath. Here is an opportunity for some one to get rich.

ROSEBURG, OGN., June 23d, 1868.

A committee appointed, to survey and locate the Coos Bay Wagon Road have completed their work, and report the distance about 60 miles from this place to available navigation. The committee were favorably impressed with the general character of the country through which the road passes.

A grand celebration will be had at Oakland on the coming fourth. The people of that part of the county will spare no pains to render the occasion a pleasant one.

A few arrivals from Bohemia, report the snow too deep there for mining, consequently there is not much done yet towards developing the richness of the mines in that region.

COME.

SHIPLEY.—Born in Jacksonville, June 21st, to the wife of T. H. B. Shipley, a daughter.

FIXED TO STAY.

VOGAN—GRAHAM—Married, in Yreka, on the 23d inst., by Rev. Robt. McCullough, Mr. Jas. H. Vogan, of Rough and Ready, to Miss Mary Jane Graham of the same place.

Although a telegraphic expert, the lightning of a pretty pair of eyes was too much for Jim. May the connection never be broken, and the now happy fellow never find himself in a state of tension again; and if ever obliged to fight it out on that line, may he always win.

GONE.

HOFFMAN—Died, in Portland, on Thursday morning, June 18th, Miss Elizabeth Hoffman, in the eightieth year of her age, a native of Baltimore, Maryland.

The deceased formerly resided in this place with her brother, Mr. Wm. Hoffman, where she has many relatives and acquaintances.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

Dyspepsia, with its symptoms, Headache, Heartburn, Feverish Lips, Bad Breath, Bloating, Constipation, &c., can be cured by using PLANTATION BITTERS. This is the most successful tonic of the age. Young middle-aged and old, are delighted with its effects. The first trial always has a marked good effect. No change of diet is necessary. Eat all you wish, of the best and most nutritious food. It is the greatest cure ever known for an overworked and distressed stomach, which it relieves in a few moments. It cures the most obstinate cases of indigestion, and is the most popular medicine in the world. We are not afraid to show what it is composed of.

PHYSICIANS ARE COMPELLED TO RECOMMEND IT. CALHOUN BARK has been celebrated for over two hundred years, and was sold during the reign of Louis XVI, King of France, for the enormous price of its own weight in silver. It is remarkable for Dyspepsia, Fever, Weakness, Constipation, &c.

CASSELL'S BARK.—For Diarrhoea, Colic, and diseases of the stomach and bowels.

DANIELSON.—For Inflammation of the Lungs and Dropsical Affections.

CHAMOMILE FLOWERS.—For enfeebled digestion.

LOVER'S FLOWERS.—Aromatic, stimulant and tonic—highly invigorating in nervous debility.

WIGWAG.—For Rheumatism, Rheumatism, &c.

ARISE.—An aromatic carminative, for flatulency, gas, colic and milk; much used by mothers nursing.

Also, clove-balm, orange, curaway, coriander, sassafras, &c.

S.T-1860-X.

Another wonderful ingredient, of Spanish origin, imparting beauty to the complexion, and brilliancy to the mind, is yet unknown to the commerce of the world, and we withhold its name for the present.

With this recipe before the community, and evidence of effects meeting them on all sides, the success of Dr. DRAKE'S stands upon the rock unshakable, and every family has some cause of suffering which the PLANTATION BITTERS will alleviate and cure.
