peared to like these betterin' he did the lively tunes, and sot down as close up to 'em as he could while they sung.

"At last the gals coaxed Jim Blowhard to sing 'Old Hundred.' You know what an old tearin' base voice Jim has. When he commenced, the dog seemed to get dreadfully interested. He panted his nose right up at the ceiling, and every time Jim came to the low notes he'd sarter howl."

"Who? Jim?" "No, blast you, the dog. Blowhard he sung away for awhile, and jest then he turned round and kinder bit his hind legs."

"Gosh a mighty! Blowhard?" "No, you all-fired fool you, the dog, of course. Then sez I to the old woman, 'Nancy Jane, sez I, 'you jest bet your boots that dog's got somethin' in his head.' And Nancy Jane sez she, 'You git out—I shant do it.' Jest then the dog picked up somethin' in his mouth and bolted out of the room quicker'n a streak. I didn't pay much attention to it, and nobody else noticed it."

"When Blowhard finished, all the gals crowded round him and commenced flatterin' on him, when suddenly we all heard a noise. It was the loudest mixed up noise ever anybody heard. Everybody was scart nearly to death. Six of the gals fainted away into Blowhard's arms all at once. They wor hangin' on to him from all sides, like string beans onto a pole. Blowhard sot still for a minnit or two, but it was more huggin' than he could stand, and he wilted right off his seat onto the floor and tried to crawl under the sofa. Before he got more'n his head and shoulders under, the gals all came to and caught him by the feet and tried to pull him out. Blowhard he hung onto the sofa-legs and belchered murder; and the gals screeched, and some on 'em ran around the room nineteen times in a minnit before they could find anything else to faint onto."

"I picked up a candle and rushed out into the back yard, with two or three of the spunkiest men, and what do you think that ar intellectual dog was doin'? He'd got a music-book spread out before him, and he was a beatin' time with his tail on a tin pan, and a howlin' 'Old Hundred' like all possessed."

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS. Statistics compiled from the Treasury Department show that the total amount of exports from the United States, at a gold valuation, including specie and bullion, during the last fiscal year, ending June 30, was $352,616,000, and increase over the previous year of $18,141,390.

THE ADMINISTRATION. It is now believed by many, who have good facilities for forming a correct opinion, that the administration is inclined to preserve a strict neutrality in the Presidential campaign. It is said that the course pursued in the departments in this city, and in the various navy-yards throughout the country, clearly indicates that this will be the policy.

TO BOYS.—Horace Mann talked to boys in this way: You are made to be kind, generous and magnanimous. If there's a boy in school who has a club-foot, don't let him know that you ever saw it. If there's a boy in school with ragged clothes, don't talk of rags in his presence. If there's a lame boy in school, assign him some place in the play which does not require much running. If there's a dull one, help him to get his lessons.

WHAT IS THE WORST KIND OF HUSBANDRY? When a man in clover marries a woman in weeds.

Letter From Washington. WASHINGTON, AUGUST 12, 1868. THE PRESIDENCY.

The leading Democratic organs concede that the Republicans will carry Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont and West Virginia, with an electoral vote of 123.

They claim Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin, with a vote of 171. This calculation gives them a majority of 48, but it includes Wisconsin, Ohio, Missouri, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, all as sure to go Republican as Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, or Nebraska, which they give us in their calculation.

It also includes New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Nevada, in which the chances are in favor of Grant and Colfax, and California, Oregon, Arkansas, and Georgia, in which the chances are at least even. If the Copperheads fail to carry Indiana and Ohio, and are successful in every other State which they claim, including Oregon, California, Nevada, Missouri, Arkansas, Georgia, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, and Connecticut, still they are beaten on their own figures. And if they even fail to carry Pennsylvania, and are successful in Indiana and Ohio, and all the other States named, then they are defeated by their own calculation. But there is scarcely room for a doubt that Grant and Colfax will carry all the States conceded to them in the above calculation, and, of those claimed by the Democrats, at least five namely: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Missouri, with a fair prospect of Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Arkansas, and nearly all the other States. The only States certain for Seymour and Blair are Kentucky, Maryland, and perhaps Delaware. Out of 294 votes it is hardly possible that Seymour and Blair can get over 50.

STATISTICS COMPILLED FROM THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT show that the total amount of exports from the United States, at a gold valuation, including specie and bullion, during the last fiscal year, ending June 30, was $352,616,000, and increase over the previous year of $18,141,390. The total amount of imports, gold standard, including bullion and specie, was $349,903,819, a decrease since the previous year of $11,215,777. The customs duties received and paid into the Treasury was $163,287,925—fifty per cent. of the value of the dutiable imports.

IT IS NOW BELIEVED BY MANY, who have good facilities for forming a correct opinion, that the administration is inclined to preserve a strict neutrality in the Presidential campaign. It is said that the course pursued in the departments in this city, and in the various navy-yards throughout the country, clearly indicates that this will be the policy. No doubt Mr. Johnson is disgusted at the nomination of Seymour and Blair, dislikes the platform, and is very much out of humor because he did not receive the nomination, but, nevertheless, I do not place much reliance on the statements that he will remain neutral. After fretting and sulking awhile over his defeat he will be very likely to come out for the rebels, and use all his influence in their favor, as he has done since he has betrayed the party that placed him in power. Of the members of the Cabinet, it is reported that Evarts and Schofield are outspoken in their support of Grant and Colfax, while Seward and Randall express intense disgust of the New York nominations, but abstain from talking much about it. McCulloch and Browning are open in their support for Seymour and Blair, and Welles is put down as doubtful, or what is more probable, asleep.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR'S CHANCES are beginning to be understood. He will get all but the Republican party and the floating vote.

REBEL OUTRAGES. Governor Warmoth, of Louisiana, has called upon the President for troops to suppress the murders and outrages constantly being committed by the rebels. He says 150 murders have been committed in Louisiana during the last six weeks by the rebels and Ku-Klux Klans, and that nothing short of military power will preserve order and prevent indiscriminate murder and outrage. Johnson is not inclined to interfere in behalf of the Unionists of the South, though he would not be slow to do so, if those calling for aid were rebels. The communication of Gov. Warmoth has been referred to the Secretary of War.

INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION—PACIFIC RAILROADS. An International Commercial Convention was in session at Portland, Maine, last week, the object being to reciprocity treaty between the United States and the British Provinces, and to advocate the construction of a Northern Pacific Railroad across the Continent. They passed resolutions in favor of a reciprocity treaty, and also resolutions calling for Government aid for two additional lines of railroad across the Continent, in addition to the Union and Central Pacific, one on a line parallel to the North, and one on a line parallel to the South. The Convention was composed of about 200 delegates, including the leading capitalists and business men of the country. Senator Corbett was in attendance, and made a speech before the Convention, in the course of which he took ground in favor of the speedy construction of the various lines of railway across the Continent—especially the Northern Pacific—and gave a very favorable account of the natural resources, and advantages of Oregon, pronouncing it one of the finest States in the Union.

THE SABBATH.—The longer I live the more highly do I estimate the importance of a proper observance of the Christian Sabbath, and the more grateful do I feel toward those who take pains to impress a sense of its importance on the community. The Lord's day is the day on which the Gospel is preached; it is the day of public worship throughout the Christian world, and, although we live in a reading age, and in a reading community, yet the preaching of the Gospel is the form in which human agency has been and is still the most efficaciously employed for the spiritual improvement of men. That the poor had the Gospel preached to them, was an evidence of His mission which the Author of Christianity Himself proclaimed, and to the public worship of the Deity, and the preaching of the Gospel, the observance of the Sabbath is obviously essential.—Daniel Webster.

LET A YOUNG MAN OBSERVE CAREFULLY a young lady's deportment at home before he asks her to become his wife. Is she kind and industrious; does she seek to lighten the cares of a weary mother; and do the younger brothers and sisters run to her with confidence and affection in all their little troubles and sorrows. Then, no doubt, she is a prize worth seeking. But if the opposite is true, then beware about trusting her with your house and happiness. "A man must ask his wife's leave whether he shall thrive or not," and a household with an indolent woman at the head, never can be a happy or prosperous one.—Country Gentlemen.

TO BOYS.—Horace Mann talked to boys in this way: You are made to be kind, generous and magnanimous. If there's a boy in school who has a club-foot, don't let him know that you ever saw it. If there's a boy in school with ragged clothes, don't talk of rags in his presence. If there's a lame boy in school, assign him some place in the play which does not require much running. If there's a dull one, help him to get his lessons.
