

THE OREGON SENTINEL.

FOR THE PRESIDENCY IN 1868,
CLYDE S. GRANT.
OF THE UNITED STATES.
"Wall does, thou good and faithful servant..."

FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY,
SCHUYLER COLPAK.
OF INDIANA.
For Presidential Electors:

O. JACOBS, of Jackson.
WILSON BOWLBY, of Washington.
A. B. MEACHAM, of Union.

SATURDAY MORNING, Sept. 5, 1868.

Humboldt and Oregon Branch Railroad.

At the expense of being considered insane on the subject of railroads, we recur to the subject once more. There is but one more argument that we will use to show the immense importance of immediate and decisive action.

That argument is the fact that the Klamath Lake region has been proved to be a good grain producing one, and before long the farmers there will supply the only market that we have for our surplus—Fort Klamath. Should the farmers of this valley lose that market for their grain, we would like to ask them when they will find another with the present means of transportation in which they can successfully compete?

Fort Klamath Correspondence.

We have received the following interesting note from Captain McGregor, commander at Fort Klamath, under date of Sept. 1st:

I have just returned, after being absent just six weeks. The Indians are played out; it was impossible to get the least show of a fight out of them. After traveling through the Goose Lake country, I joined the expedition under General Crook, consisting of companies A, H and I, 1st cavalry, and company C, 9th infantry. All the Snakes and Pitt River's have come in, and I do not believe there is a hostile Indian from the Sacramento to the Columbia.

The Goose Lake valley is the finest I have seen in Oregon, with plenty of grass, wood and water. It is just 100 miles from this post to where you strike the valley, over a splendid road at this season, but which I think would be soft for wagons up to the month of June. Settlers were beginning to take up ranches when I left. It is twelve miles from the upper end of the valley to Camp Warner; the road runs to the foot of the mountain, over which the military have partly built a road.

Republican Groundswell—Vermont 30,000 Union majority!

MONTPELIER, Vt., 2d Sept.
The election resulted in the success of the Republican State ticket by a large and increased majority over last year. The election of three Congressmen by heavy majorities, the choice of State Senate unanimously Republican, and House nearly so. Returns indicate a Republican of 27,000 for Governor. Good judges place it as high as 30,000. The vote is the heaviest polled since 1840.

REJOICING IN SAN FRANCISCO.—An immense meeting was held in Platt's Hall in San Francisco on Tuesday evening, in honor of the glorious Union victory in Vermont. It was estimated that there were over three thousand present, crowding the Hall to its utmost capacity. Hon. Henry Edgerton spoke for two hours and a quarter. His speech was pronounced the most comprehensive and logical review of the political situation, as well as the most eloquent delivered during the campaign.

TALKING about groundswells, the Union majority in Vermont has exceeded about twelve thousand since last year. It is a tolerable fair indication that Seymour and Blair will be licked badly!

The American Watch Factory at Waltham, Mass.

That which brings labor and capital together both the laborer and the capitalist. Even in Great Britain, where capital acts but too often like a huge tyrant, and labor is its slave, as in the collieries and great manufactories political economists have still observed this as a fundamental principle. How much more, then, must such an institution as the Waltham Watch Factory be regarded as a blessing to the community. Here the most perfect of all machinery, backed by an abundant capital, that suffers nothing to remain imperfect for want of means to rectify it, and the most experienced and skillful labor, at wages of from $1.75 to $7 and $8 per day, are combined in the production of watches all registered so as to run in most perfect time, like chronometers. So perfect are they that if any part whatever is broken or injured, a new piece can at once be supplied. There are now three of these companies in the United States, but this one at Waltham is the oldest, and for the last nine or ten years has been a source of prosperity to the proprietors, and still more obviously so to the seven hundred persons employed in the various departments. The watches thus produced are so superior in uniformity to any that are or can be made by hand, that the time will soon come when we shall cease to import all but the very cheapest and commonest sort made, perhaps for show and sale, but not for use. Already there is a considerable demand for them abroad, notwithstanding their high price, and we hope the day may not be far distant when our city may be able to boast that this manufacture is carried on in addition to all the others in which we now excel.

The building forms three sides of a square. It is light, airy, wholesome, and beautifully clean and well finished in ever one of its twenty-five distinct apartments. Water is on every floor, and in almost every room, for drinking (as well as fifty fire extinguishers) as a precaution against fire. The building is heated by steam, and in all its appointments nearly perfect.

All those employed exhibited a degree of neatness, respectability, and refinement such as is scarcely to be found elsewhere. The main-springs are, we believe, mainly bought in Philadelphia, and the wire for hair-springs is brought on the reel from Europe; but, except these, everything, including the finest steel tools and machinery, are made on the premises. One complicated machine, for cutting one piece of the hard steel, works in three distinct ways, and cost over a thousand dollars, though invented by one of the workmen in the establishment. The steel screws used on some parts of these watches are so fine that to the naked eye, the thread is invisible. These are sometimes sold separately to watchmakers. It takes three hundred thousand of them to make a pound, and the iron, which may at first have been worth two three cents, is thus converted into a value of 4,000. Such is the beauty, perfection, and value of skilled manufacture. The preparation of the jewels for these watches forms of itself a most interesting department. At first they used to be imported from Europe, where they were made by hand; but now they are all cut, shaped, polished and drilled in the establishment and by machinery, far more exactly and uniformly than any made elsewhere in the whole world. The sapphire and the beryl are used where the hardest and best stones are required. These are first cut with a wheel of tin, into which diamond dust has been forced by the superior hardness of the best steel. This cuts up the stone as marbles is sawn. Then chipped round like the old flint arrow-heads of the Indians, further revolutions, with the aid of diamond dust and proper machinery, hollow out a little cup, and polish the whole of one uniform, exact size. To bore with the point of a diamond the pivots may run smooth and frictionless, is the work which the delicate fingers of only two or three of the girls establishment, guided by the jeweler's glass, can with all the aid of machinery accomplish with sufficient exactness. Even then the most accurate tests and measures for every hole are used, and every thousandth part of an inch is carefully noted against the number of each watch, in case they should ever want replacing. Twenty thousand of these jewels per month are sometimes used. Brass wheels and steel eggs have all to be cut with a perfection of accuracy which nothing but machinery such as this, and the most skilled and practiced workers can insure. Most of the finest work seems to be done by females, each devoting her whole time to one process. A single part of the watch will often involve from twenty to seventy of these processes. When it is all done, and tempered and polished the parts are put together, made to run, and regulated. After this it is all taken to pieces and the brass is all gold-washed by the electroting process, and then put together again. But so accurately do all the parts and screws fit, that this last work of putting together seems hardly to take five minutes.—[Public Ledger.

BLAIR TO THE FENIANS.—In the summer of 1866, Frank P. Blair, now Democratic candidate for Vice-President, made a speech at St. Louis in response to a serenade by a Fenian procession. He spoke as follows:
"GENTLEMEN: I am with you, heart and soul, and heartily say, 'God bless the Finnegans.' [A voice—'Fenians, General!'] I know what I am talking about, and I say Finnegans. [Laughter and confusion.] And I say that I hope to see the cause flourish and prosper, and shall bless the day when Ireland is governed by Irishmen. In accomplishing this laudable undertaking, I will do all I can to assist you. I will place myself, it needs be, at your head, march with you to Staten Island, oversee your embarkation, will stand on the most elevated bluff of the coast, and as you raise the green emblem over the Stars and Stripes, while your steamers under full headway are turning their bows to the east, I will say good-by, God bless you, and may you be successful in your undertaking. May you lift the British lion out of his boots, and wrest from his grasp the emerald gem of the sea; but whether or not you shall succeed in this endeavor, may you each and all remain in Ireland or elsewhere, and never again set foot upon these shores! You are wanted there, and we can get along without you."

Poor Brick.

Pomeroy, the oracle of Democracy, seems to have had a relapse since he made the spasmodic attempt at truth that brought the following remarks from him, regarding the New York Convention:

"Over $100,000 were paid out to buy delegates away from Pendleton between the 1st and 4th of July," and that "it is now as we write, as if he has been for some months, and will ever be in the future, a warfare between the shifty, corrupt, reckless, dishonest, money using, political tricksters of New York, and the young Democracy of the great West."

Poor Brick! But a few days elapse and he eats dirt thusly.

"While the action of the New York Convention was not in all respects such as the positive Democracy labored for and demanded, the general results were of an encouraging character. Upon the one great essential element of our party, its true inspiration and the source of its wondrous vitality and power—PRINCIPLE—the triumph was glorious and complete."

EDITOR SENTINEL: Having lately accompanied the expedition from this place on the scout through the hostile Indian country, it may be interesting to some of your readers to know that all the unsettled country east and south from here is entirely clear of Indians, and that it is considered perfectly safe for settlers in Goose Lake, Chewaucan and Pitt River valleys. Several persons have already settled in Goose Lake Valley, and I heard of many who are coming in this Fall. I have not time to write a description of all the new country on the Pacific Coast. I saw wheat and barley growing along the roads, where the seed had been scattered from wagons, and all of it was well headed, and the straw large and tall; grass is abundant everywhere.

The Indians have all come in and made peace. Not a hostile Indian was seen on the trip, and although the most thorough search was made, but two tracks were seen. Persons wishing to go to Goose Lake to settle need have no fears on account of Indians; in my opinion they are as safe there as in Rogue River valley.

LIVELY PARTY.—Don Platt, an Ohio Republican, recently declared the Democratic party dead. He now discovers it marvelously lively, or as he says:
"AS the sun breeds maggots in a dead dog, the sun of our republicanism seems to have called up from the bogs and fens and swamps all the vile things that crawl and hiss and fatten on the public weal. There never was a period in the history of this or any other people that foul corruption so poisoned humanity."
It is very mean of Don, we acknowledge, to compare Democrats to such impure things, but perhaps Ohio Copperheads are a different breed of Snakes from those of Oregon!

AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.

PROOF OF THEIR SUPERIORITY.
Pennsylvania Railroad Co.
OFFICE OF THE GEN. SUPERINTENDENT.
ALTOONA, PA., Dec. 15, 1867.

GENTLEMEN: The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this Railroad for several years by our engine-men to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some THREE HUNDRED of THEM CARRIED ON OUR LINE, and we consider them GOOD AND RELIABLE TIMEKEEPERS. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying YOUR WATCHES GIVE US LESS TROUBLE, and have worn and do wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation, but as a class they never kept time so correctly, nor have they done us good service as yours.

In these statements, I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years.

EDWARD WILLIAMS, Gen. Superintendent, American Watch Company, Waltham.

N. Y. CENTRAL RAILROAD.

LOCOMOTIVE DEPT., WESTERN DIVISION.
ROCHESTER, Dec. 24, 1868.
GENTLEMEN: I have no hesitation in saying that I believe that the great majority of locomotive engineers have formed by experience that WALTHAM WATCHES are the most satisfactory of any for their uses. They run with the greatest accuracy and steadiness, notwithstanding the rough riding of an engine, and as I have never known one to wear out, they must be durable. I hope to see the time when railway companies will generally adopt your watches, and furnish them to all engineers and conductors. In my opinion it would greatly tend to promote regularity and safety. Yours respectfully,

CHARLES WILSON, G. Chief Engineer, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, American Watch Company, Waltham.
