

FOR THE PRESIDENCY IN 1868.

ULYSSES S. GRANT.

OF THE UNITED STATES.

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant." The people here reward for patriot-punishment for traitors.

FOR THE VICE PRESIDENCY.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

OF INDIANA.

WILSON BOWLBY, of Washington. A. B. MEACHAM, of Union.

SATURDAY MORNING, Oct. 31, 1868.

Smoking To-day.

Senator Williams is to address the people here to-day, on the pending issues of the campaign. We hope that the Honorable Senator will have a good audience to hear his vindication of his official conduct.

THE RALLY.—Do not forget that Monday evening next, is the time set for the great Union demonstration. To the public we will announce in this place that the most energetic and satisfactory measures have been taken by the Central Union Committee, and all that is now needed to make the affair a complete success is an early and general turnout on Monday evening.

ENORMOUS.—The Oregon Herald (Democratic) declares in its issue of August 28th that it will discover on the third of next month that the people accept that interpretation and have had quite enough of revolution and the Blair family.

A CHALLENGE.—A Democratic friend who has lost some money in Pennsylvania and Ohio, but who intends not to vote for Grant, offers to bet $1,000 to $5,000 that Seymour and Blair will carry the Five Points, the Dry Tortugas, every State Prison, a majority of the Insane Asylums, every precinct in Hell and receive the majority of the votes of Oregon Legislators.

GEN. JAMES of the Courier hears an article: "Sic itur ad astra." He does not favor us with a translation, but probably means that his party is to "go up" and "see stars."

You are right Mr. Greenman, the translation is correct. The Democrats saw a good many stars on the 13th, but on Tuesday they will Seymour, and then see him no more forever.

POOR "RINUS."—The Legislature having busted without passing any appropriation bill, leaves poor members in a sorry plight. J. B. Whitcomb and Sleepy Tom, of this county, are rich men, and able to pay their tax; but poor Louden is obliged to "hoof" it home—hope his feet won't get blistered.

ADJOURNED.—The Legislature has adjourned to the 4th day of next March. We presume that the selection of that day is intended as a set-off to the inauguration of Grant and Colfax; and the solons of "Web-foot" will probably pass some terrible resolutions about that time.

The Legislature is cutting down the taxes with a vengeance. A resolution was offered and passed to pay the Chief and Assistant Clerks of each House $3 per day extra. "We'll cut down these radical taxes."

FOR THE EAST.—Our friend Captain E. B. Sprague started from Fort Klamath with his family for the Atlantic States. Good luck and prosperity attend him.

The Final Appeal.

On Tuesday next the people of the United States will be called upon to discharge a duty, due to themselves and to their posterity. The issues to be decided are not of an ordinary kind. The decision of the people at the ballot box on Tuesday not only involves the character of the next four years' administration of the Government, but disposes of or reopens the questions that have so seriously agitated the country since the cessation of hostilities.

On the other hand if the Republican candidates are elected the country will have peace and rest. The Governments of the reconstructed States will be recognized as valid, and the recognition will imply the power and determination to sustain them.

We need not say what the result of Tuesday's election will be. It is plain! Four States have just declared that their electoral vote will be given to Grant and Colfax, and have shown, in the language of the latter, "that only those who love the flag shall rule the country."

Shall we have Tax Country?

In a few days the people of this great Republic will be called upon to decide at the ballot-box whether the control of the Government shall be given into the hands of rebels and of those who sympathized with them. The election of Seymour and Blair will show such a determination. In the Southern States all Democrats are rebels and all rebels support the Democratic ticket.

TO THE LADIES.—There is a general desire that the ladies should come and hear Senator Williams to-day. We hope they will consider this notice as an invitation and lend their presence.

"Sleepy Tom"

Several of the members of the Legislature from this county have received distinguished notice from us. The gentleman from Ashland, who has well earned the title of "Sleepy Tom," received honorable notice. His course on the School tax bill met our approbation, and we gave him hasty credit. Since that time "Tom" has gone back on the bill—voted straight against it and it becomes necessary to review the situation.

"Let us have peace,"—C. S. Grant. "Those who love the flag shall rule the country,"—Schuyler Colfax.

The above Christian and noble sentiments are from the lips of the Republican candidates for the two highest offices in the country. Who that loves his country and desires its prosperity, will not earnestly endorse the first appeal?

The first are the generous and unselfish words of a brave and noble man—the second convey an idea of the broadest and grandest patriotism, that knows no birth place—no North, no South, but only demands love and loyalty to the flag as the qualifications of an American citizen.

Children of the "Fatherland," men of foreign birth—Americans, who wish peace and prosperity and perpetuity of the only asylum of the oppressed on the face of the earth—ponder well before you go to the polls and vote against the men who utter these cheering and noble words.

They stand at the head of a party, pledged that no human being shall endure bondage beneath the light of Columbia's stars. They are acknowledged champions of peace and liberty. Remember that your freedom is the world's freedom, and believe that a ballot dropped in the box against them is another rivet in the manacles that a false and treacherous Democracy would place upon our wrists.

STANLEY'S VARIETY TROUPE.—Jacksonville and vicinity are already indebted to Stanley's Troupe for two nights rare entertainment. For comic and amusing exhibition on the stage, and for good minstrelsy, they have no rivals in the State.

Breaking Up of the Legislature.

On Monday last, the quorum in the Lower House of the Legislature was broken by the resignation of all the Republican members but one. Their reason for this extraordinary conduct is not yet known, and it is said that they will issue an address setting forth the cause of stopping legislation, and preventing an appropriation for the current expenses of the Government.

In our opinion the action of the Republican members was unwise. It was revolutionary, and scarcely any course on the part of the Democratic majority would seem to justify it. It was not enough that the majority had acted unwisely. It was not a sufficient cause that Democratic folly had made the legislature the laughing stock of the State.

For two days business was at a standstill and on Wednesday evening the House extricated itself by adjourning until the 4th day of March, next. The people are awaiting an explanation of this singular course on the part of the succeeding members, and it is to be hoped that their reasons will be satisfactory.

The Lost River Road.

During the present summer a county road was surveyed and located from the "Hill" in to Lost River. The cost was probably not less than $500, and no parties are benefited by the tax levied to get it up.

We have no objection whatever to the outlay of money for roads or other public improvements, but unless some steps are taken to finish this one the expenditure will have been an act of folly. We have always argued and still argue that communication with the Klamath basin is a public necessity to the people of this valley.

A road from here to the Klamath basin would not only facilitate communication with Fort Klamath, but would open Sprague River and Goose Lake Valleys, and in a very short time the trade of that section will be of immense importance to us. We are unable to approximate the cost of building a road to Link River, but are assured by competent judges that it will be very light. The only difficulty is over the mountain between Emigrant creek and the waters of Klamath, a distance of only a few miles.

Legislative items.

The following Legislative items from the Salem correspondence of the Oregonian, will be of interest to our readers:

THE IRON CLAD CHINA BILL.

In the Senate, this morning, Miller of Jackson, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported back the iron-clad China tax bill, without any amendment. He said that he was in favor of the bill and of the amendment he offered yesterday; but rather than risk the failure of the bill by attaching the amendment, he had reported the bill without it.

THE FOUR MILL SCHOOL TAX.

The bill to authorize the levy of a four mill school tax for the support of free schools, was hurried through the House against the opposition of a majority of the Democratic members, and when it came into the Senate, was attacked by Stout, Huston, Cochran and Trevitt. It was ably supported by Messrs. Cornelius and Herman, but the anti-free school men were too many for the friends of liberal education and the bill was lost.

Mr. Crawford, voted against it, and thus put themselves on record as opposed to a free school system. Cochran exhibited his need of information by saying that he did not believe the numerous petitioners for the law had any knowledge of the fact that there is now in the State Treasury $240,000 of school fund to be distributed among the counties whenever the school superintendents should wake up and send in their reports as required by law!

Gen. Ingalls and Gen. Grant.

It appears that Gen. Rufus Ingalls has been made acquainted with the fact that his name has been handed around very freely in Oregon as an authority to support the calumnious attacks of the Copperheads on Gen. Grant. The following telegraphic dispatch effectually disposes of what the editor of the Herald and other persons have been saying on this subject:

RUFUS INGALLS.

On the 24th of last month the Herald published an article in which the names of Nesmith, Doofittle, Blair and Ingalls were used to prove that General Grant was a treacherous man, a victim of his inordinate love of intoxicating drinks and utterly unworthy in his moral character.

On the 30th of January last the editor of the Herald spoke of having seen a private letter from an intimate personal friend of Gen. Grant, in which the opinion was positively expressed that Grant would not consent to become a candidate for President. "The letter says"—we quote from the Herald—"that recent events have fully convinced all of Grant's immediate military friends that he could not be elected if nominated, and their unanimous advice to him will be not to be a candidate."

A speech made by Frank Blair some time since, in response to a certain statement at St. Louis has been resurrected, and is also working mischief to the ticket on which his name appears. You probably have seen it before, but it is worth reproducing. He said: "GENTLEMEN—I am with you heart and soul, and heartily say, 'God bless the Finnegans.'"

Frank Blair and the Finnegans.

"GENTLEMEN—I am with you heart and soul, and heartily say, 'God bless the Finnegans.' (A voice—'Finnegan, about, and I say Finnegans, (Laughter and confusion.)' And I say that I hope to see the cause flourish and prosper, and shall bless the day when Ireland is governed by Irishmen.

LEGISLATIVE.

The Legislative Assembly has covered itself with notoriety, whether it has attained any degree of glory or not. The pay of the Assembly, by Constitutional limit, expired at the period of forty days—last Friday.

S.T-1860-X.

An all-wonderful ingredient, of Spanish origin, imparting beauty to the complexion, and increasing the vitality of the system, is contained in this medicine. It is not unknown to the commoner of the world, and we would like to see the present. With its restorative and invigorating qualities, it is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system, and is especially adapted to the treatment of all diseases of the blood, and is a most valuable remedy for all ailments of the system, and is especially adapted to the treatment of all diseases of the blood.
