

EMERSON'S PATENT PERFORATED CIRCULAR AND LONG SAWS... REQUIRE NO CUMMING... AMERICAN SAW COMPANY

MANUFACTURERS OF EMERSON'S PATENT Movable-Tooth and Perforated Circular Saws

FRANCO-AMERICAN HOTEL AND RESTAURANT, OPPOSITE THE Odd Fellow's Hall,

Jacksonville, Oregon. Travelers and resident boarders will find MADAME D' ROBOAM'S BEDS AND BEDDING

Placed in first class order, and in every way superior to any in this section, and surpassed by any in the State.

HER ROOMS ARE NEWLY FURNISHED. And a plentiful supply of the best of every thing the market affords will be obtained for

HER TABLE. No trouble will be spared to deserve the patronage of the traveling as well as the permanent community.

Jacksonville, March 31, 1868. SPECIAL NOTICES.

STAR OF THE UNION CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

TRY THEM! TRY THEM! TRY THEM! TRY THEM!

Millamette University: DEPARTMENT OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY.

SESSION for 1868-9 will commence on the 4th day of November, and continue four months.

At reduced prices for cash. Ten per cent. discount will be made on all kinds of work where cash is paid.

To Foundrymen AND BLACKSMITHS. Cumberland and Lehigh COAL and PIG IRON

1,000 Tons, To Store and Agent, for sale by J. B. DOYLE, 415 and 416 Pacific St., San Francisco.

SOLDIER'S BOUNTIES. I HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE U. S. Treasury drafts for the bounty of the following named gentlemen:

George W. Ashley, Charles S. Baird, C. C. Bally, Charles E. Chappell, Garrett Crockett, James M. Hoxie, Wm. A. Hamilton, Joseph Moran, David A. Taylor and James Weaver.

These gentlemen will please call and get their pay. B. F. DOWELL, Jacksonville, Sept. 1st, 1868.

Oregon Sentinel.

VOL. XIII.

JACKSONVILLE, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1868.

NO. 43

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Peter Britt,
Photographic Artist,
JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.
Ambrotypes, Photographs, Cartes de Visite
DONE IN THE FINEST STYLE OF ART.
Pictures Reduced OR ENLARGED TO LIFE SIZE.

DR. A. B. OVERBECK,
Physician & Surgeon,
JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.
Office at his residence, in the Old Overbeck Hospital, on Oregon Street.

DR. E. H. GREENMAN,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
OFFICE--Corner of California and Fifth Streets, Jacksonville, Ogn.

He will practice in Jackson and adjacent counties, and attend promptly to professional calls.

DR. A. B. OVERBECK'S BATH ROOMS,
In the Overbeck Hospital,
WARM, COLD & SHOWER BATHS,
SUNDAYS AND WEDNESDAYS.

F. GRUBE, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON,
OFFICE removed to California Street, South side.
Jacksonville, Dec. 21st, 1867.

DR. LEWIS GANUNG,
PHYSICIAN & SURGEON AND Obstetrician.

WILL attend to any who may require his services. Office at B. F. Dowell's office, on the East side 3d Street, Jacksonville, nov21f

DOWELL & WATSON,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
Jacksonville, Oregon.

Warren Lodge No. 10, A. F. & A. M. Hold their regular communications on the Wednesday Evening of preceding the full moon, in JACKSONVILLE, on the corner of California and Oregon streets. A. MARTIN, W. M. Secy.

Notice. THE books and accounts of the SENTINEL are in the hands of Mr. E. B. Watson. Those indebted will please call and pay their accounts. E. B. DOWELL.

Teams Wanted for Camp Warner. ON and after the first day of October, 1868, the undersigned have determined to sell for cash exclusively--except upon special contract. Those indebted to the firm must positively pay up, as all accounts will be closed October 1st. GLENN DRUM & CO. sep14f

BOOT AND SHOE MAKERS. NOTICE. Having disposed of our Factory, we are now prepared to give our whole attention to our Leather and Finding business. On hand, direct from France, Calif & Kip, Domestic Leather, Boot Legs, etc. JOHN G. HUN, L. FAYNE, JOHN BRAY, New York, Paris, San Francisco. Address, HEIN & BRAY, San Francisco, 416 Battery Street.

EL DORADO, S. E. Cor. Cal. & Ogn. Sts, Jacksonville, O.

S. M. FARREN.

ATTENTION FARMERS! Gang Plows. I HAVE purchased the patent right of Jackson and Josephine counties, for the celebrated Piel GANG PLOW, and am now prepared to fill orders, and will guarantee that this plow will do better work with less power, and give more satisfaction than any yet offered to the farmers of southern Oregon. Plows warranted in every respect, and all kinds of blacksmithing done at ten per cent. discount for cash. oct19nd P. DONEGAN.

Dissolution of Partnership. THE partnership heretofore existing between E. H. and Wm. C. Greenman is dissolved this day. The accounts of Dr. Greenman have been disposed of to W. C. Greenman, and an immediate settlement is required. E. H. GREENMAN, W. C. GREENMAN. Aug 6th, 1868.

THE OREGON SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED

Every Saturday Morning by

B. F. DOWELL,

OFFICE, CORNER 'C' & THIRD STREETS.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

For one year, in advance, four dollars; if not paid within the first six months of the year, five dollars; if not paid until the expiration of the year, six dollars.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING:

One square (10 lines or less), first insertion, three dollars; each subsequent insertion, one dollar. A discount of fifty per cent. will be made to those who advertise by the year. Legal Tenders received at current rates.

Faded Leaves

A blushing rose she gave to me, With words of praise and love; I thought she never false could be-- That she would constant prove. Alas! the rose she gave to me Did fade quite soon and die; I found the lovely thing to be, Like her a withering lie.

Letter From Washington.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, Monday, October 19th, 1868.

THE OCTOBER STATE ELECTIONS.

The sounds of rejoicing over the great Republican victory attained in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska, last Tuesday have hardly died away. The Democrats have lost all hope of success, and virtually give up the contest. They concede that their defeat in November is not only inevitable, but that it will be complete and overwhelming. The World and the National Intelligencer have called upon Seymour and Blair to withdraw and give place to more available candidates. Many of the leaders of the party take the same view of the situation boldly declaring that the Tammany ticket is already badly beaten, and that unless some masterly stroke of policy can be devised to retrieve the fortunes of Democracy, the party will pass out of existence before the close of the Republican Administration. But the majority of the leaders say it is too late to put new candidates in the field now, and they give up the contest in despair.

DEMOCRATIC MURDERS AND OUTRAGES.

The Blair letter is bearing fruit in the South almost daily. Since its publication hundreds of Union men have been assassinated, and the rebels have been in a state of open rebellion in many parts of the South. They dispersed the Courts and County officers in Arkansas, drove the Union men to the woods, and killed scores of innocent people; they besieged a United States fort in Texas; killed and wounded over fifty Union men and women in one day at Corvallis, committed wholesale slaughter at Opelousas; and have carried on a war of extermination all over the South. Last Saturday night they assassinated the Sheriff and Parish Judge of St. Mary's Parish, at Franklin, Louisiana. The day before they captured a steamboat loaded with Government stores, a few miles below Memphis, and destroyed 3,340 muskets, being shipped to Arkansas.

PENSIONS.

The Commissioner of Pensions is preparing an estimate of the amount to be appropriated by Congress at the coming session for his bureau for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1870. He estimates that he will need $23,672,928, a decrease from the amount asked for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1869. The whole amount of money paid for pensions from the foundation of the Government until June 30th, 1868, has been $161,948,252 19. The 30th of June last there were 169,643 names on the pension rolls, divided as follows: Army invalids 74,782; widows and others included in army pensions, 92,243; Navy invalids, 1,175; widows and others included in navy pensions, 1,443.

THE PRESIDENT'S ORDER.

The President has issued an order citing certain acts of Congress and clauses of the Constitution, with a view it is supposed, of encouraging the people of the unreconstructed States of Virginia, Mississippi, and Texas to disregard the electoral college bill and

Keep it Before the People.

That the Republican party has reduced the national debt over five hundred millions of dollars since the close of the war account.

That the Republican party have lightened the burden of taxation more than two hundred millions of dollars since the close of the war.

That the Republican party has reduced the rate of taxation about one-half what it was during the war.

That the Republican party saved the Union from the result of Democratic treason.

That the Republican party is the only party pledged to the support of all rights for all--the poor as well as the rich, the ignorant as well as the learned.

That the Democratic party, through open and covert rebellion, has cost the country over three thousand millions of dollars and the annual interest thereon.

That Democratic rebels took the lives of three hundred thousand of the bravest patriots the world has ever known. That Democratic rebels crippled for life three hundred thousand as pure patriots as the world has ever known.

That the Democratic party gave to the North a million weeping widows and mourning orphans, our friends, our neighbors and relatives.

That the Republican party will restore peace and prosperity to the country.

How Robinson became Owner of a Pine Stump.

Not many years since Farmer Jones and Neighbor Smith became joint owners of a field of grass. Farm hands were scarce that season, and Jones and Smith having a great deal of work to perform just then determined to engage the services of one Robinson to cut the grass and make the hay. Accordingly, Robinson was engaged to do the work stated, with the stipulation that he should have one-third of the hay for making the whole quantity. Robinson (no doubt in high glee) commenced to make the hay. Now, in truth he was not to be trusted with other men's property, being noted for his "shaving" propensities, which he evinced on this auspicious occasion. A thought occurred to him that by a trick, well managed, he could secure a larger amount of hay than his employers dreamt of. No sooner had this thought entered his mind than sought to put it into execution. The hay was all made and ready to go into the three respective stacks. Robinson noted the situation of a huge pine stump as the site of the stacks, and accordingly it was thereon built. Before the three stacks had been completed, and before each party had chosen his own stack according to previous agreement, Messrs. Jones and Smith became aware of the prospective "well," and in order to remunerate Robinson for his trouble of putting the stack where he did, determined to let him have the said stack and pine stump rather than he should lose anything by such an ingenious ruse. The hour of retribution was fast dawning, for Robinson, oblivious of Messrs. Jones and Smith's knowledge of the immovable stump, was silently, and with beating heart, watching the approach of the latter party to select their respective stack. Farmer Smith and Neighbor Jones arrived simultaneously on the field, and pointing at their respective chosen stacks, each exclaimed, almost in the same breath, "I'll take this one!" leaving our friend Robinson the undisputed owner of the discarded stack, under which was the pine stump!

"Have you heard anything about me, gals?"

"What a nice dance we are having! Have you heard anybody say anything about me, Sarah?"

"La, yes! Sam Jones says he never seen you look so handsome, as you do to-night. Have you heard anybody say anything about me?"

"About you? why, sartin. I heard John Smith tell Pete Lee that you was the prettiest dressed girl in the room."

Whereupon the dear things chuckled, fixed up a little more, and made off toward the ball room. They had hardly reached the door, when our half conscious friend raised himself upon his elbow, and quite intelligibly inquired:

"Have you heard anything about me, gals?"

DISCOVERY OF A CAVE AT HILLSDALE.

WYOMING. Some soldiers stationed at Bushnell, 53 miles east of Cheyenne, have discovered a cave of huge dimensions, but as yet unexplored. Petrified fossils of mastodons and other animals unknown to the inhabitants of these later centuries, are among the wonders found thereabouts, and all that prevented our "boys in blue" from making further investigations was the discovery of the track of an immense "snake." From their description of his snakeship, he must be two or three hundred and fifty feet long, and the aperture to the cave, which is about the size of a barn door, is worn smooth by making his way in and out of the cave. One of the mammoth bones spoken of can be seen, in a petrified state, at Mr. Egberts' office, opposite the passenger depot, in this city. Cheyenne Ledger.

Goose Lake Country.

We take the following letter from the Corvallis Gazette:

Mr. Editor:--As a friend, I would advise every young man who has no land, to go to some of those valleys in the south-eastern corner of Oregon and get them a farm. It is as good soil and fine grass land as there is in the world. It has many advantages over any country I ever saw. Water is abundant and handy. The whole country abounds in springs and small streams of pure water. Some of the land has sage brush on it and of course is not valuable. The hills are well timbered and are easy of access. The timber is mostly pine; in some places there is plenty of cedar and some spruce. There are plenty of mill privileges, with the best of water-power, in the large forests of excellent timber. I should have stated before, there can any amount of hay be cut on any of the small streams, so that a person could keep stock through the winter with but little labor. From the best information I could get from the Indians, and judging from appearances, there is not much more snow or cold weather in the Goose Lake, than in the Willamette valley. Drew's valley is some colder, and I think Sprague's valley is also. This is the first valley, of importance, that we strike in going out. It is from three to seven miles wide and perhaps sixty miles long. Drew's valley is next and is about two miles wide and twenty long. We then come to Goose Lake Valley; it is about eighteen miles wide, but as to length, I cannot say--but it is a long valley--some of which is in California, but I suppose they would not object to Webster settling there. The road leading to this glorious country, is very good for a mountain road. The Military road company deserve credit for the road they have made across the Cascades. I have crossed in three different places, but none will compare with the Middle Fork route. A good span of horses will draw fifteen or twenty hundred over this road. The camps are generally good for wood and water, and of convenient distance. Now, young men, cut yourself loose from ma's apron-string, and like your father's have done, go on the frontier, get you a ranch, and grow rich in stock. Eugene City, Oct. 21, 1868.

J. T. JEWETT.

The Harpers employ over a hundred women.

Victor Hugo predicts a revolution in France if Napoleon lives two years longer.

An author has an easy time in the world; when he gets out of money all he has to do is to write for more.

There is two directly opposite reasons why a man sometimes cannot get credit; one reason is because he is not known, and the other because he is

If you and your sweetheart vote upon the marriage question, you for it and she against it, don't flatter yourself as to its being a tie.

A Western editor, in a response to a subscriber who grumbles that his morning paper is tolerably damp, says "that it is because there is so much dew on it."

"Have I not offered you every advantage? said a dotting father to his son. "Oh, yes," replied the youth; "but I could not think of taking advantage of my father."

The Catholics are laboring among the freedmen in Baltimore; in their schools and churches white and black sit together; the priests openly declare the doctrine that "God makes no distinction, and the Church cannot."

An old picture represents a king sitting in state, with the label, "I govern all;" a bishop with a legend, "I pray for all;" a soldier with a motto, "I fight for all;" and a farmer drawing forth reluctantly a purse, with the inscription, "I pay for all."

"Doctor exclaimed a waggish Son of Temperance to a well known doctor, who was passing out of the Post Office: "How long will it take hanging to produce death?" "Twenty, or at most thirty minutes," replied the doctor, pausing; "but why do you ask?" Oh because last night I saw a man hanging for two mortal hours, and he isn't dead yet." "You did," exclaimed the doctor emphatically, "I haven't heard a word of this yet. Where did the man hang?" "He was hanging around an ale-shop on Pearl street," replied the wag. The doctor gave utterance to something that sounded very much like a blasphemous expression and passed on.

People who are resolved always to please, at all events, frequently overshoot the mark. A lady of this sort, going to a friend's house one morning, ran to the cradle as soon as she came in to see the fine "boy." Unfortunately the cat was occupying the baby's place; but before she could discover her mistake, she exclaimed, with uplifted eyes and hands, "Oh, what a sweet child--the very picture of its father!"