Valedictory.

With this issue my connection with the SENTINEL expires. It, during my elected, some of the papers of this career, I have given offense to any it has been without malice and from a despot in a single heart, or awakened a the 15th amendment and prove that it single kindly emotion, I am compensated. If any think the editorial pro- Chinese; because Senators Williams fession is a bed of thornless roses, let and Corbett used their most strenuous them try it. For the present I take efforts to shape it so that Chinese or leave of journalism. I tear no censure any other pagans could not become for my course, nor do I ask any praise. To allay curiosity, I will state that my retirement is voluntary, the most friendly and confidential relations existing between the publisher and myself, and my reasons for so doing do not concern the public. Thanking the press for its honestly. It is said that he is a dema amenities, and my friends for their gogue who has worked entirely for selkindly and cheering encouragement, I fish ends. The acknowledged author bid you all good bye.

Grain Prospects.

The demand for wheat in this valley at the present time is not very brisk. Farmers are holding at seventy-five cents per bushel, and we understand that the millers have purchased some at that figure. Even if the sale were ready, this rate is not renumerative. To be in proportion with the wages of labor and other cost of production in this locality, farmers should have at least one dollar for every burkel of wheat they raise, and it seems strange that they will continue to sow and reap, year after year, at ruinous rates. Our farmers see in the prospective building of a railroad through this valley a market for grain, but they miscalculate. The companies that build the road are allowed until 1875 to finish it, and it is reasonable to presume, that, as we are about mid-way, we will derive little benefit from it until it is completed. This then, gives no encouragement for the production of grain, and it would seem shrewd in us to pay more attention to the raising of beet, which is easy of transportation and always in demand. The complaints that grain is dull, are not confined to this locality. In northern Oregon there is little sale for it at fitty cents, and in California there is a very light demand. It farmers would act on these hints for one season, they could command a fair price for their grain, and not be continually depending on a glutted market.

"A New Deal."

Well," remarked an old line Democrat a few days ago, as he stepped into our office, "what are you Repubs going to do next spring." We answered that it was too soon to say yet, and asked "Well," replied he, " the people are beginning to enquire whether they or the professional politicians are going to run the 'machine', they have made up their minds for a new and square deal, or turn will subject the property to an inthey will break the game up in a row. "Top stocks," continued he, "wont win, clubs have been trump long played out. As far as my observation tor's receipt for the government tax, goes, the people are going to seek for deceney and sobriety for their next ticket, and if we cannot find it in the Democratic party we will have to look to the other for it-that's all."

Dregon Abroad.

We give the following extract from a letter of Capt. Sprague, from Sunbury, Ohio, to Mr. Langell, of this place, which shows how little Oregon is known abroad. "Oregon only wants to be known to be appreciated. Numbers of intelligent people think it a cold desert, some do not even know that it is a State, nor where it is. It would pay the State to appropriate money to send a good lecturer torough the Eastern States. Hundreds of thousands are going to Kansas, Colorado, and other Western places, many of whom would go to Oregon if they were properly instructed. The papers are filled with California, since the road was finished. all visitors are in raptures over it, yet Oregon is the best of the two. People will crowd around me to hear me talk about Oregon, and many have expressed a desire to go there. Stick to it-you will be sorry if you ever leave it."

Tun Willamette Farmer has an able article on coal mining, and calls for the establishment of a Mining Bureau and more protection for miners.

Hon. Geo. H. Williams. It is quite amusing to observe the spasms into which the democratic press of Oregon is thrown at the bare mention of again electing this gentleman to the U. S. senate. In their nervous excitement, lest he s'iould be re-State get into very ludicrous positions. First they attack him as a friend of the sire to discharge a public duty consci- I5th amendment and in favor of Chientiously. If I have touched a soft nese suffrage. Next they denounce confers the right to naturalization on citizens and setting the question entirely at rest. Thus we prove by the mouths of his enemies that their most serious charges against him is false and that as far as Chinese suffrage is con cerned, he represented his constituency of the most important reconstruction acts; the cheerful acquisence of the South in their provisions, and the satisfied tone of the Southern press prove his wisdom and sagneity and mark him as a statesman. It is said he has done nothing for Oregon. Those who say so do not speak truth. Mr Williams has done more for the prosperity of this State than any Democrat could have done, or any Democrat can do. The Custom House at Portland, and the Mint at the Dalles, both in brocess of erection, bear witness that he has worked successfully. The ample appropriations for our land and boundary surveys and the Indian service in Oregon, give the lie to his accusers. His own prominence, such as is rarely reached by a "demagogue," has given an importance to Oregon perhaps beyond her deserts and her people will commit an act of egregious folly if they dispense with his services now. The traducers and enemies of this man may have the satisfaction of seeing his place filled by another; but they will never pull him down from the proud eminence he has achieved; as the statesman who was first to solve the problems entailed by the rebellion and make anarchy and disorder subservient to peace and jus-

It is also important to parties purchasing property belonging to the estate of a deceased person, of whom enough, and packed conventions are the purchase is made, to have the collecas the government has a lien upon such property for all taxes due. We are informed that this matter has been neglected to a considerable extent in Oregon and we deem it our duty to call attention to it; so that innocent parties may not suffer.

Perriton .- A petition for the pardon of Collins, who was sentenced to the Penitentiary from this county in 1864 for life, is being circulated here and generally signed. #### Extra Session of the Legislature.

The State Journal says: "The Oregon Legislature came very near convening on the appointed day - the 20th. Wilson's circus being in Salem that day the few members present at the Capitol desired seeing the African "lions" perform in order that they might be better qualified to lionize themselves when they got the machine to running. Col. Chapman, Col. White and Senator Stout were all the members in attendance, and it is said they held a caucus and adjourned till September 1st, 1870. The Statesman says the result of the caucus is the following: "For State Secretary in 1870, on the Democratic ticket, Col. W. L. White; for U. S. Senator in 1870, Lansing Stout; for Congress next spring, W. W. Chapman." The reason why this body did not come together and pass resolutions had passed beyond its reach long ago. s probably because Gilfry was not presout in the Umpqua. This legislature should have met, by all means. There again. is great danger of a comet shaking the earth in a short time, and something ought to be done immediately. Giltry ought to be sent for, and Cox ought to draw his bets and come to duty. Who would have believed that this faithful body, after denouncing the Republicans for resigning and leaving their posts, would have scattered and for aken their constituents in this perilous hour? A comet about to strike the earth, and any number of Chinamen liable to arrive on this coast at any did very damage before they were time! Isn't it high time something checked. It is decidedly wrong to was done?
