

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

For Representative, JOSEPH G. WILSON, of Wasco County. For Governor, JOEL PALMER, of Yamhill County. For Secretary of State, JAMES ELKINS, of Lane County. For Treasurer, M. HIRSCH, of Marion County. For State Printer, H. R. KINCAID, of Lane County. FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT. For Prosecuting Attorney, E. B. WATSON, of Jackson County.

The Issue Made Up.

The platform adopted by the Republican convention, held at Portland, on the 7th inst., makes a square issue with the Democracy of this State on the proposition to repudiate the national debt. The position taken by the convention, on this subject is just what we all anticipated and desired. Democracy was zealous, but not wise in promulgating its repudiation doctrine. Carried away by the strong and fervid convictions of the "bed rocks," its delegates were oblivious to all without the convention walls. The newspaper organs, and orators of the party, caught the spirit of their State convention, and before prudence could dictate a different course, stripped the 8th resolution of the platform of all doubts on its construction, and gave it a determinate meaning. The unanimity among the spokesmen and organs of the party on the interpretation of the term "equitable adjustment" is indeed surprising. It is repudiation simply, and has been acknowledged so to be by the authoritative voice of the party. The Republican platform, on the other hand, denounces "all form of repudiation as a national crime." Here is the vital part of the issue made up between the two great political parties, in our State, for the coming canvass. Thanks to the bold but impolitic zeal of the "bed rocks" all obstructions are removed, and the plain and simple question is presented to the people of Oregon, "will you, or will you not, at the coming June election, uphold by your votes, the honor and credit of your country?"

It is not pretended by the advocates of repudiation that the government was not perfectly well aware at the time of entering into these contracts, that it was making a great sacrifice by selling its obligations at such a discount, but there was no other alternative. It was struggling for existence, and it rightly deemed that life, in government or man is higher than any mere pecuniary consideration. It entered into these obligations honestly, intending to fulfill them; not only the purchasers of these obligations, but the whole civilized world, felt the utmost assurance that the letter and spirit of the contract would be fully complied with, if our government should survive its fierce conflict with the rebellion. This was their only ground of apprehension. Every nation in the world had, at some time or other, in its history, sold its paper at a discount, for money, and the idea of setting aside the terms of the contract for this reason, had never been formidable enough to merit attention. European statesmen would have scoffed at the suggestion, that the Americans, so punctilious in matters affecting their private honor, could ever seriously consider a proposition, so fatal to their national credit, as repudiation.

Thus as confidence in the ability of the government to sustain itself spread abroad, its bonds rose in the market, until their real, approximated to their nominal value, and they passed rapidly from hand to hand, not only throughout our own but into foreign countries. It was from a growing and strengthening belief in our ability to pay our debts, and unbounded confidence in our national integrity, that our bonds rose in the market and circulated rapidly through the countless labyrinths of exchange, into the hands where they are found to-day. If there was, originally, an insufficient price paid for these bonds, the present holders, in a vast majority of cases, have paid their full equivalent, and the only real equitable adjustment possible is the one proposed by the Republican party—a full payment, according to the intention and meaning of the contract. Common honesty prompts us to it, and the enlightened sentiment of the world stands ready to condemn us if we act otherwise.

Our State Ticket.

The nominations for State officers by the recent Republican State Convention, held at Portland, ought to be universally acceptable to Republicans. They are, without an exception, men of talent, character, and energy. "Joe" Wilson is too well known throughout the State to need any introduction to the public. A fine scholar, and a brilliant lawyer, an orator and a wit, we predict he will make the canvass uncomforably warm for Slater.

Gen. Palmer is another suitable nomination. With sterling good sense, and sound integrity, and thoroughly conversant with the interests and resources of the State, and the character of the people, we esteem his nomination one of the wisest acts of the convention. James Elkins and Meyer Hirsch, the nominees for Secretary of State and State Treasurer are both men of fair reputation and suitable qualifications for the positions to which they aspire. We believe the ticket will give general satisfaction with their party and the public generally, and we look forward to the result with hope and confidence.

Letter from E. F. Dowell.

WASHINGTON, D. C. } April 5, 1870. }

THE LEGAL TENDER DECISION. Of the Supreme Court of the United States is to be again reviewed by that legal body. Last week, Attorney General Hoar, in the cases of Latham vs. The United States, and Denning vs. The United States, moved the Court that the cases be again heard by the Court, on the ground that at the time the decision was made the Supreme Court consisted of only seven judges, and there was only one majority in favor of the decision, and now the Court consists of nine judges.

The decision, which was published some time ago, held that all debts and contracts made, previous to February 1862, should be paid in gold. It was delivered by Chief Justice Chase, and Associate Justices Nelson, Clifford, and Fields concurred in his decision. Associate Justices Miller, Davis, and Swayne dissented from the opinion. Since this decision was made Judges Strong and Bradley have been added to the bench. After hearing the argument of counsel on both sides, and after taking the matter under advisement for several days, on Friday it was ordered by the Court that these cases be set down for hearing on all the questions involved in the record on the second Monday in April. Chief Justice Chase, Associate Justices Nelson, Clifford, and Field dissented from the majority.

It is supposed by many, that the former decision will be reversed, and that there will be five Judges in favor of the legality of the principles of the legal tender act, and four will sustain their former decision.

CONFISCATION.

In the case of Bigelow vs. DeForrest, on Saturday, the Supreme Court of the United States held that confiscation, under the act of 1862, only affected the property proceeded against during the life of the owner engaged in the rebellion.

PERSONAL.

Col. Yerger has voluntarily returned to prison. Gov. Alcorn, in a proclamation for his arrest, thus graphically describes him:

"The above-named Edward M. Yerger is about six feet high, weighs about 175 pounds, is muscular in appearance, but not stoutly built; is of a handsome person; has dark brown curly hair, nearly black; mustache and goatee slightly gray, but colored black; has gray eyes; is vehement and somewhat impressive in conversation; excessively vain; indulges freely in profanity; and is about 43 years of age."

Mr. Gaston, and B. J. Pengra, of Springfield, Oregon, are in this city, looking after the interest of the Humboldt and Portland railroad company, and Judge Olney is nursing the Portland and Astoria railroad interest.

H. R. Kincaid is still here, writing for his paper, and clerking in the Secretary of State's office.

Gen. John A. Logan is the chairman of the military committee of the House. He dispatched the cadetship frauds in double quick time, to the dismay of the guilty; but to the entire satisfaction of the American people. He is a relative of Hon. David Logan, of Portland, Oregon. He is an able debater, and one of the rising statesmen of America.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.

On Thursday last, two colored men voted at Perth Amboy, New Jersey, on the adoption of the new charter. This was the same day the Secretary of State issued his proclamation on the subject. Republicans claim these were the first votes under the 15th amendment of the Constitution. The eye of the nation is not on Adjutant General Thomas, but on "New Jersey."

On Saturday one hundred guns were fired, at noon, here, to testify the gratification of the colored people of the United States, at the ratification of the 15th amendment to the Constitution. The salute was fired under the auspices of the National Executive Committee. Let the echo be that slaves are not only free in name but free in fact, all over these United States.

The mail route from Corvallis to Portland, Oregon, has been ordered to be a daily line, at the request of Senator Williams, by the Post Master General. The contract has been awarded to George W. Bethers. His bid to carry the mails from Corvallis by Hillsboro, Forest Grove, &c., three times a week, was $3,900. The Post Master General doubles this service, and doubles the price, and accepted Mr. Bethers' bid on these conditions.

GERMAN REPUBLICANS.—Mr. Solomon, Governor of Washington Territory, telegraphs that he leaves Chicago, for the Pacific, with 600 German Republicans. All of them intend to make Washington or Oregon their permanent home.

A TELEGRAM, dated Albany, On., April 24th, says: "Mrs. C. M. Sawtell, of Salem, lectured last night to people of this place, on woman rights. The Republican county convention met here to-day, and nominated the following ticket: State Senators, E. E. Wheeler and Hiram Smith; Representatives, H. M. Brown, J. P. Combs, M. C. George, Wm. R. Kirk, A. D. Recard; County Judge, Thos. G. Taylor; Clerk, J. R. Montheith; Treasurer, D. Andrews; Commissioners, A. Hannon, J. Wassol.

THE LADY JURORS.—Grace Greenwood comes to the defence of the Wyoming lady jurors, who were out four days while deciding a case of life and death. She may truthfully and heroically exclaim:

"I approve their consistency and honor their pluck, and I don't believe they looked any more 'pale and weary,' after four days of such 'hardships,' than many a shop-girl or schoolmistress looks after standing six days in the week at her post of duty—than many a poor sewing girl, book folder, or type-setter looks, after months of incessant labor at half pay—than many a delicate wife and mother looks, after sitting up night after night with a sick child.

FEMALE EMPLOYMENT.—The Parisian dry goods employers decline hiring the female element, on the ground that shopping is done nearly entirely by females, who prefer to purchase of males, as women have little confidence in women, and that an adroit salesman can pass off upon women the worst merchandise where woman would fail. This is an assertion which the woman's rights folks ought not to allow to go forth uncontradicted.

A FAMILY MEDICINE.

THE PAIN KILLER is a purely vegetable compound; and while it is a most efficient remedy for pain, it is a perfectly safe medicine, even in the most unskillful hands. For Summer complaint, or any other form of bowel disease in children or adults, it is an almost certain cure, and has, without doubt, been more successful in curing the various kinds of Cholera, than any other known remedy, or the most skillful physicians. In India, Africa and China, where this dreadful disease is more or less prevalent, the PAIN KILLER is considered by the natives, as well as European residents in those climates, a sure cure.

We have long known the high character of THE PAIN KILLER, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they are more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness.—Chr. Press. Imprint
