

Sympathy for Prussia and France.

The Republicans sympathize with Prussia, and the Democrats, generally, with France. The Republicans, in their State platforms, have endorsed Prussia, while Democratic conventions have denounced Prussia and applauded France.

The party which sympathizes with France is the party of Washington, Jefferson, Wright, and Douglass. The party which sympathizes with Prussia is the party of the rafflesplitting Lincoln, the horse-thief Brown, the Beast Butler, the renegade Logan, and the pedantic Sumner, the Fourierite and free-lover, the imbecile Banks, the miscellaneous...

We acknowledge that we have deeply sympathized with Prussia from the commencement of the war, because France commenced the war without any just cause or provocation. She stands convicted before the civilized world of commencing the war for the personal glory of Napoleon and the political power and influence of France at the expense of the peace and happiness of Europe.

Both of the Napoleon dynasties have been ambitious and aggressive. Prussia suffered severely by the ambition of Napoleon I. in 1806 and 1811. France, under the leadership of Napoleon I, marched her armies over Prussia roughshod. The French, like the prophesy of Samuel to the Israelites who desired a king, appointed captains over thousands and captains over fifties of the Prussians. They frequently murdered their men and made cooks of their women. Napoleon I took their fields and their vineyards, even the best of them, and gave them to his soldiers. The eastern shore of the Rhine was drenched with pure German blood at the hands of the French. Men still live in Brunswick, Hesse, and other States which formed Jerome's Kingdom of Westphalia, who witnessed the tyranny and barbarity of the French rulers. It is now but just and right that the Germans should ask indemnity for the past and security for the future.

We sympathize with Prussia because Napoleon III was not satisfied with making war in Europe and with European conquests, but he took advantage of our rebellion, and tried to subjugate Mexico and to place a foreign prince on the Mexican throne to rule over our neighbors.

The arrogance, pride, and aggressive spirit of the French and Napoleon are intolerable. We wish to see Napoleon dethroned forever. We wish to see the war and aggressive spirit of the French people humbled. Let Germany get adequate indemnity for the past and security for the future from France and it will be a long time before France will declare war again without cause or provocation. This will alternately be beneficial to France and for the good, peace and happiness of the civilized world.

FEMALE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.—The School Superintendent of San Francisco is urged to appoint a woman as Assistant School Superintendent. The S. F. Chronicle advocates this measure, and give the following as the reason why the male teachers object to it:

"The male teachers of San Francisco generally object to an Argus-eyed female Superintendent. The reason is obvious: They are somewhat married, and are 'superintended' enough at home. School hours are holidays to them."

FINANCIAL REPORT.—Amount in U. S. Treasury, Oct. 1st: coin, $90,061,461 59; currency, $32,088,005 20. Debt, less the amount in the Treasury, $2,346,913,642 28. Reduction of debt, since August 1st: $13,463,325 59; and since March 1, 1870, $82,407,325 76.

An altercation occurred, on the streets in Salem, on Sept. 29th, between James O'Meara, editor of the Portland Bulletin, and T. Patterson, State Printer. Pistols were drawn, but friends interposed and saved, perhaps, the loss of life.

Legislative. AMIS, the Lane county legislator, is not overly disposed to get things up in "right shape." Amis wanted to appeal from a decision of the Speaker: Mr. Amis—If the Speaker will indulge me I will take an appeal in order to test the question. The Speaker—If the gentleman will send his proposition in the right time of the House. I will not...

Mr. Amis—Well, I will not take up the time of the House. I will not... The party which sympathizes with France is the party of Washington, Jefferson, Wright, and Douglass. The party which sympathizes with Prussia is the party of the rafflesplitting Lincoln, the horse-thief Brown, the Beast Butler, the renegade Logan, and the pedantic Sumner, the Fourierite and free-lover, the imbecile Banks, the miscellaneous...

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A destructive fire occurred at Wm. Bybee's place, about 1/4 mile south of town, last night. His barn and stable, all one building, were discovered to be on fire, about 12 o'clock, m., but it was then too late to save anything. The fire had run all over the hay, with which the barn was filled, before it burst out, and the horses in the adjoining stalls were already dying from the heat, and beyond help. A large barn, 100 tons of excellent hay, 3 horses, harness, &c., were destroyed. Loss, over $3,000. It is fully believed to have been the work of an incendiary. Marshal Seaman, on his way to the fire, being the first to hear the alarm from the farm hands who slept within a 100 yards of the barn, met "Tom" Brown, returning from the direction of the fire towards town, and immediately arrested him on suspicion. He will probably be examined to-day.

Late Telegrams.

MUNDELSEHEIM, September 28.—The surrender of Strasbourg was signed at two o'clock this morning; 451 officers and 17,000 men laid down their arms at eight o'clock. The place will be occupied by the besiegers.

BERLIN, September 30.—Midnight.—Official dispatches just received from King William's headquarters, dated to-day, give the particulars of an engagement which began this morning. The German sixth corps, which occupied an advance and had entrenched themselves there, early this morning were attacked by the French in heavy force, who thought to effect a surprise. Considerable difficulty was experienced in meeting the desperate charges of the enemy, owing to the suddenness of the attack. The lines of the Prussians were, however, soon formed, and a fearful combat ensued. The fighting was hard to hand over the entrenchments, filling the pits with the slain. The French were repulsed, which was followed by the wildest confusion, and they finally retreated, leaving large numbers of dead and wounded on our hands.

The Prussian army has been engaged the entire day in the bombardment of Soissons. The result has been terrible. All the buildings in the suburbs are in flames. The late Prefect of Laon has been convicted by Court-martial, of complicity in the late disastrous explosion at that place, and condemned to death.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 30.—The Journal, of this city, official organ, emphatically denies the report of the Russian purchase of new ironclad steamers from the United States, and formally denies the stories of the concentration of the Russian troops on the Turkish frontier and the recall of General Ignatieff, Russian Ambassador at Constantinople. The Journal adds that the Russian policy is one of peace and justice.

BERLIN, October 1.—Accounts from Prussian sources report that there was severe fighting in the streets of Paris on Saturday and Sunday last. The combatants were bodies of armed citizens and soldiers. It is considered as highly probable that the cause of these disturbances was the postponement of the election of members for the constituent Assembly, which had been fixed for October 10th.

Chancellor Delbruck, in an official report to the Prussian Government, announces that, contrary to the newspaper reports that his negotiations with the Governments of Bavaria, Wurtemberg and other South German States, have terminated in a failure, his mission thus far has been notably successful. He states that he has concluded very satisfactory preliminary discussions for the establishment of the North and Southern German Bunds. He finds a cheerful willingness to treat upon the basis of terms honorable alike to all. A communication from the Prussian Government itself is awaited before commencing the real negotiations.

LONDON, October 1.—Advices from Peking render it certain that the Chinese Government will not render reparations to the French for the massacre at Tientsin, but that they will refuse to arrange for indemnification. The Chinese have not complied with the French terms, but are arming and assembling in the north.

O. B. P. R. Co.—The officers of this company are: five Directors, Jesse Applegate, James T. Glenn, J. C. Tolman, J. N. T. Miner, H. Klippel; President, Hon. Jesse Applegate; Secretary, Henry Klippel. The above list shows the character of the men who constitute the company. In this connection it may be of interest to know that the resolution introduced into the State Senate by Mr. Fay, instructing our Senators and requesting our Representative to use all their influence with Congress to have the above company designated as the company to receive the subsidy provided by the Williams amendment, has passed both Houses of our Legislature, and is now a joint resolution to that effect. An amendment to the resolution having for its object the extension of the bill for a branch railroad into this valley, so as to extend its line on to Eugene City, after passing through this valley, was offered in the House and concurred in by the Senate, where the bill originated.

IMMIGRATION.—Another forerunner of the immigration that is to fill our State came to us yesterday in the arrival of Mr. William Bond, of Erie county, Pa., who has come on here to purchase forty thousand acres of Oregon lands, upon which about fifty regular old sturdy Dutch Pennsylvania farmers, with their families, intend to settle. This is a great and good evidence of the progress of the State. Mr. William Davidson, the well known real estate agent, deserves credit for having induced these good people to immigrate to this point, as he had sent his circulars and papers, with information of this State, to them, long ago. Not only that, but he has been in constant communication with numerous other parties in that State. We welcome Mr. Bond, and hope that sufficient inducements will be held out to him and those he represents, and that we may gain so desirable a class of farmers. There is ample room for them all, and the State needs them.—Daily Bulletin.

Home Questions for the Sickly and debilitated.

Is it worth while to endure penal torture after every meal, when indigestion can be immediately relieved and permanently cured by so agreeable a remedy as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS?

Does it pay to be compelled by debility and languor to abandon active business, when brain, nerve and muscle can be braced up, and the whole system restored to a healthy condition, by a course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Why approach the dinner-table daily with a positive disgust for all that is savory and delicious, when a vigorous appetite for even the plainest fare is created by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it wise to live in this bright world as if it were a dungeon, gloomy, discontented and miserable, when the worst case of hypochondria can be cured in a week by such a pleasant and wholesome exhilarant as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Can it be possible that any person of bilious habit will run the risk of remittent fever or bilious colic, when he can tone and regulate the great secretory organ with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it not a species of moral insanity for any miner or planter in the interior, or any traveler or sojourner on the plains, to be without the best known antidote to the effects of poisoned air and impure water, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Considering the harassing and depressing nature of the functional derangements to which woman is subject, is it not astonishing that any invalid of the feeble sex should hesitate to seek the certain relief afforded in such cases, by the genial operation of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

These are questions of deeper interest than any of the political dogmas of the day, and those whom they concern are invited to give them something more than a passing thought.

A Family Medicine. We call the special attention of our readers to the advertisement of that favorite home remedy, Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER. It has been before the public over THIRTY YEARS, and probably has a wider and better reputation than any other proprietary medicine of the present day. At this period there are but few unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore, wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands to-day, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines. It is sufficient evidence of its virtue as a standard medicine, to know that it is now used in all parts of the world and that its sale is constantly increasing. No curative agent has had such widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction. It is a purely vegetable compound, and perfectly safe, even in unskillful hands. Locum.
