

THE OREGON SENTINEL.

SATURDAY MORNING, Oct. 15, 1870.

Oregon Legislative Juggling on Railroads.

The thimble tricks and somersaults of the Oregon Democracy and the Oregon Democratic legislature on railroads beat experienced gamblers on the notorious and infamous tricks of thimble rig, faro, monte, and forty-eight.

On the night prior to the election of Senator Kelly, the Democracy, in caucus, required Col. Kelly to pledge himself solemnly, in writing, to use all possible efforts to secure a line of railroad, connecting with the Oregon and California railroad in Rogue River valley, from the North Bend of Humboldt, and to resist strenuously all Congressional aid to the Oregon Branch Pacific railroad known as the Pengra route, until the Oregon and California railroad be completed, or its completion placed beyond a question.

The next day the Legislative Assembly endorsed the pledges made by Senator Kelly by passing Hon. Fay's resolution which instructs our Senators and Representative in Congress to use all possible efforts and influence in the passage through Congress of the bill giving aid to the road from Humboldt to Rogue River valley. This resolution passed both Houses almost unanimously, only Mr. Dorris and Mr. Whiteaker, in the House, voting against it.

On the same day, in the House, they voted down Mr. Whiteaker's substitute for Mr. Fay's resolution, which favored the Pengra route. On the 30th Sept. the House again took up the Whiteaker resolution and passed it; Messrs. Dunbar, Davenport, O'Regan and Starkweather being the only members who voted against it.

Now you see the little joker and now you don't!

This Whiteaker resolution is in these words:

Resolved, By the House, the Senate concurring, that in addition to the lines of railroad already projected and in course of construction in this State, the general interests of the country demand that there should be constructed a railroad leading from McMinnville the terminus of a branch of the Portland and Astoria R. R., thence running southerly up the Willamette valley on the west side of the Willamette river to a point at or near Eugene City, thence continuing in a southerly direction on the route known as the "Middle Fork route" toward forming a junction with the C. P. R. R., at some point in the basin of the Humboldt in the State of Nevada.

Resolved, That our Senators in Congress be instructed, and our Representative requested, to use all due diligence and every honorable means to secure a land grant of like amount heretofore granted to other roads in this State, and also the right of way through the public lands of the United States wherever the said road passes the same, for the purpose of securing an early completion of said road.

It caps the climax of legislative juggling, trickery, inconsistency, and dishonesty.

Col. Kelly's pledge and both resolutions are all in full force and unrepented. Senator Kelly is to use all his ability to oppose the Pengra route. The balance of our Senators and our Representative are "to use all possible efforts and influence in aid of the passage through Congress of the Oregon Branch Pacific railroad bill with Williams' amendment." Then, by Mr. Holzclaw's resolution they are to give it to the Jacksonville and Humboldt company, and by Whiteaker's resolution to the Pengra route, up the "Middle Fork of the Willamette." We will publish all these resolutions, next week, together, so the people can see at a glance what a set of ignoramuses we have in the Oregon legislature.

This Whiteaker resolution will practically defeat all that was previously done in favor of the Rogue River route, for the reason that when any member of Congress goes before the Committee of the House with the memorial in favor of the Rogue River route, Pengra or some friend of the Middle Fork route will appear with his in favor of the Eugene City programme. How can the Committee then determine what is the will of the people or what is the will of the legislature; one memorial is as good as another, and it will be claimed that Senator Williams was defeated on this issue. Williams favored the line of road through this county, prior to the election; the Oregon Herald and the leading Democrats opposed it; and the Democrats carried every Southern county interested in the Rogue River route.

Any man of common sense knows that grants for both routes cannot be obtained. It will be hard work for all our members, of both Houses, to get a grant for either. The legislative proceedings, as it now stands, will embarrass the proceedings of getting a grant for any route to the Humboldt. We call upon the friends of Southern Oregon to reconsider and annul the Whiteaker resolution, so as to give our Senators and our Representative a chance to get a grant; so we may have a railroad, not only to San Francisco, but direct communication to the Humboldt.

Rev. Weninger on Oregon Governors.

In a recent work, published by Rev. Father Weninger, entitled Catholicity, Protestantism, and Infallibility, and circulated here somewhat extensively, on next to the last page, Protestants are admonished to follow the pious example of the eminent lawyer, Mr. Burnette, who, the author says, was formerly Governor of Oregon. This man, it is stated by the author, on examining for himself became convinced of the truth of Catholicism and joined the Catholics.

There is only one difficulty in the way of circulating this beautiful story and its highly beneficial results, and that is that no man by the name of Burnette ever did govern Oregon.

This puts us in mind of a description we heard given in the Atlantic States, in 1850, by a man who claimed to have seen the extensive mining operations of this Coast. Having stated this, he was asked to give a description of Rocky Mountain scenery, a buffalo chase, &c., when he replied, "I never saw them." He was then asked for a description of a storm on the ocean, whales, porpoises, &c., when he again replied, "I never saw them." "What," said his interrogator, "did you not go by land?" To which he answered, "no, sir!" "Then did you go by water?" "No, sir!" "How, on earth! did you get there?" To which he replied, "I went in imagination! and mine was a most singular case throughout. Having established myself at the base of a great mountain, I conceived the great idea of getting one big chunk or nothing, and to carry out this idea commenced at once by digging into the side of the mighty pile. My wife came out daily, and sat knitting and watching my work; pieces of a half ounce, half a pound, and even more, fell by the blows of my pick, unheeded. My wife suggested that I had better pick them up; but I replied, no, I shall never depart from my cherished idea, a chunk or nothing! At last, discouraged, I was about to give it up in despair, when I saw the very thing I had been seeking for so long. It was fully half exposed. In perfect ecstasy I dropped my pick, and clapping my hands furiously, exclaimed—Sally, I've got it! I've got it! When my wife, turning over in bed, hit me in the side with her elbow, exclaiming, "got what, John?" and the reply was, "the night mare!"

Thus, we fear, Infallibility itself, when it gets Mr. Burnette, Governor of Oregon, into the high elysian fields will take him there in "imagination," and at his journey's end he will wake up and find himself with the "night mare."

GOVERNOR BURNETTE.—Rev. Father Weninger in his book on Catholicity, Protestantism, and Infallibility, states that Judge Burnette was formerly Governor of Oregon. This is a mistake. He was once Governor of California, but never Governor of Oregon. The following are the names of all the Governors of Oregon:

Osborn Russel and P. G. Stewart, Executive Committee, from 1843 to 1846.
George Abernethy, from 1846 to 1849.
Joseph Lane, from 1849 to 1850.
J. P. Ganes, from 1850 to 1854.
Joseph W. Davis, in 1854.
George L. Curry, from 1854 to 1858.
John Whiteaker, from 1858 to 1862.
A. C. Gibbs, from 1862 to 1866.
George L. Woods, from 1866 to 1870.
L. F. Grover, the present incumbent, whose term expires Sept., 1874.

Good News.

We learn, by telegraph, that the recent elections, in several of the Eastern States, have gone Republican. In Ohio large Republican gains, throughout the State, are reported. Nebraska and Iowa are Republican by large majorities; Indiana also, but said to be very close; Pennsylvania, doubtful.

GEN. ROBERT E. LEE, died at Lexington, Va., on the 12th inst., of congestion of the brain.

Late Telegrams.

VERSAILLES, Oct. 7, via Berlin.—The Fourth Prussian cavalry are scouring the country towards Lorve. They drove fifteen hundred Mobles out of Montford. Nothing important has transpired before Paris yesterday or today. During the entire siege of Strasbourg, the Germans lost nine hundred killed and wounded, including one hundred and thirteen officers. The besieging force is now moving towards Paris. It is asserted there is complete underground communication to Paris and Tours from Cologne. Independence Belge intimates that Prussians are alarmed at the approach of winter, and disposed to press the siege of Paris. Eternal has been completely evacuated by the Prussians. Dispatch from Banove, Department of the Loire, says the enemy is evacuating the country beyond Tours, and are falling back on Etampes.

LONDON, October 7th.—Masonic Fraternity of England have contributed seventy thousand pounds sterling for relief of families of German soldiers. The great gun for fort de Ivory on south side of Paris is nearly ready to be placed in position. Its range is eight kilometers, and it requires thirty-five kilograms of powder for each discharge. Prince Bonaparte has arrived in London. Prussian guns nearly all in position before Paris and bombardment will be commenced from all batteries simultaneously the moment arrangements are perfected.

Dispatches to Times indicate trouble in Paris. Demands are making for confiscation of property of all who left Paris, for benefit of national defenders. The question of food begins to be serious, and riots are feared. The club men are urging the people on saying the provisions belong to the people, and that Paris had no right to take them there. There has been a few night encounters of organized hands of people. Barnsides is in Paris. He declares the fortifications formidable. Washburne's residence is barricaded and undermined. All Americans will leave the city when he goes. A balloon company offers to take people out of the city for 2,000 francs per head. Prussians opened cannonade on northern forts of Metz.

TOKYO, October 10th.—The Government is beginning to prepare the public through the press for the cession of French territory to Germany. Heavy guns have been brought to bear on Pilsburg. Bombardment is soon to be opened. Heroic sorties are incessant at Metz. The Prussian command has given orders for increased vigilance. The foreign ambassadors at Tours are negotiating for quarters in Bordeaux, in view of contemplated removal of the government. Prince Frederick Charles is ill with typhus fever, and has been obliged to leave the army. He is now at Ferrieres.

KLAMATH COUNTY.—Mr. Burnett, on the 8th inst., introduced a bill to create and organize the county of Klamath, to be bounded thus: From the forty-second degree of north latitude, where it is crossed by the one hundred and twentieth degree meridian; thence north to the forty-third degree; thence west to the line of Douglas county; thence south west to the summit of the Cascade mountains; thence southerly to the forty-second degree, and thence east to beginning.

CHRISTIAN MESSENGER.—We have received the first number of a paper named as above. It is a very credible gotten up sheet, typographically; and, if the promises made in its salutatory are fulfilled, will make a valuable addition to the religious press of this State. Published by T. F. Campbell, Monmouth, Oregon, at $2 per annum.

PERSONAL.—H. K. Hanna, the Prosecuting Attorney for this District, has been in town for several days this week on business connected with his office. Mr. Hanna is a pleasant and affable gentleman, and we are glad to see him in our midst.

ERROR.—We stated, last week, that the House memorial asking aid for the Pengra McMinnville route had been concurred in by both Houses. This was a mistake. It had not passed the Senate.

DESTRUCTIVE FLOOD.—From late telegrams we learn that a recent flood in the Shenandoah valley has been very destructive to life and property. The river at Front Royal rose twenty-five feet in four hours, sweeping away all the mills in the valley but two for a distance of thirty miles. At Harpers Ferry forty-six persons were drowned and a large number in other places. In Albemarle county fifty mills were swept away and fourteen lives lost. Barns, tobacco houses, cattle and hogs, were destroyed in vast numbers.

GREAT REDUCTION OF PRICES.—Mr. John Miller will hereafter sell at the following reduced prices: Saddles, from $10—50; Saddle Trees, $4—8; Farm and Team Harness, $25—50; Collars, $2.50—4.50; Riding Bridles, $1.50—10; Halters, from $1.25—2.25; Black Snake Whips, $1—2.25; Buggy Whips, $1—2.25; Bridle Bits, 25 cts. to $3.50; and all other articles will be sold at proportionate low prices. All work done at reduced rates.

Home Questions for the Sickly and Debilitated.

Is it worth while to endure penal torture after every meal, when indigestion can be immediately relieved and permanently cured by so agreeable a remedy as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS?

Does it pay to be compelled by debility and languor to abandon active business, when brain, nerve and muscle can be braced up, and the whole system restored to a healthy condition, by a course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS? Why approach the dinner-table daily with a positive disgust for all that is savory and delicious, when a vigorous appetite for even the plainest fare is created by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it wise to live in this bright world as if it were a dungeon, gloomy, discontented and miserable, when the worst case of hypochondria can be cured in a week by such a pleasant and wholesome exhilarant as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Can it be possible that any person of bilious habit will run the risk of remittent fever or bilious colic, when he can tone and regulate the great secretory organ with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Is it not a species of moral insanity for any miner or planter in the interior, or any traveler or sojourner on the plains, to be without the best known antidote to the effects of poisoned air and impure water, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

Considering the harassing and depressing nature of the functional derangements to which woman is subject, is it not astonishing that any invalid of the feeble sex should hesitate to seek the certain relief afforded in such cases, by the genial operation of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS?

These are questions of deeper interest than any of the political dogmas of the day, and those whom they concern are invited to give them something more than a passing thought.

A Family Medicine.
We call the special attention of our readers to the advertisement of that favorite home remedy, FERRY'S PAIN KILLER. It has been before the public over THIRTY YEARS, and probably has a wider and better reputation than any other proprietary medicine of the present day. At this period there are but few unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore, wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands to-day, unrivalled by all the great catalogues of Family Medicines. It is sufficient evidence of its virtues as a standard medicine, to know that it is now used in all parts of the world and that its sale is constantly increasing. No curative agent has had such widespread sale or given such universal satisfaction. It is a purely vegetable compound, and perfectly safe, even in unskillful hands.

AMONGST Atlantic cables, steam navigation and those progressions of science and art that mark the nineteenth century, not the least useful are Dr. Ayer's medicines. They take rank among the benefactions of mankind, from the rapidity and certainty with which they cure. Try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL on a cough and it is gone. What skin diseases or impurities of the blood withstand AYER'S SASSAPARILLA? AYER'S PILLS are the perfection of a purgative—every family should have them, as almost every family does. Not a trifle to be thankful for are good medicines, and the knowledge how to use them for protection from disease. These Dr. Ayer's preparations and publications furnish, and we do not hesitate to commend them.—St. Louis Leader.

Monday, October 31st, 1870.

Unexpected interferences have operated to make this delay necessary to accomplish the result of freeing the Library from debt, without recourse to other privileges granted by act of the Legislature, passed February 19, 1870.

This is positively the only postponement that will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at 8 o'clock, A. M., and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday, the 28th day of October, 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers, on the 29th day of October, 1870, in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any disposition thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn, will not affect the number or amount of gifts.

They will be as heretofore advertised, to wit: six hundred and twenty-eight gifts, amounting in all to $500,000, gold.

Ticket holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of gifts, which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers, on the 1st of November, 1870.

Delivery of gifts will commence November 24, 1870, at the office, No. 313 California street, to all parties presenting tickets to which gifts have been awarded. A gift awarded to non-residents will be held to their order and for their account.
