The first Democratic legislature which this State has suffered for "101 these many years" adjourned on Wednesday, the 26th of October last.

Its assembling was observed with a good deal of interest by the people of this State and Coast, and its conduct has been closely scrutinized throughout the entire session—and now the inquiry is pertinent "what has the legislature done for Oregon?"

It was expected that there would be sharp legislation on the Chinese hobby and Gov. Grover's inaugural brought the subject freshly and forcibly to the minds of the legislators at the opening of the session. But what has been the result?

A Democratic legislature has demonstrated itself either powerless or unwilling to grapple with this important subject!

Amis' "Cue Bill," and Fay's "Bill to tax unnaturalized foreigners" were both vain and illusive efforts to meet the expectations of constituents raised in the canvass preceding the last June election and were lost in a legislature overwhelmingly Democratic in all its branches.

J. Hendershot's burlesque bill on the same subject, which we published last week, shows into what disreputable quarters the prejudice against the Chinese, so zealously and successfully stimulated just before the June election, has fallen. Hendershot is a Democrat of the most ultra style, but he knows that the Chinaman is a dead issue hereafter, and in taking leave of him politically he feels like having a little fun over it. His levity has, no doubt, disgusted the seriously-minded Amis, who has taken the matter very much to heart, but it is apparent, nevertheless, that Hendershot's bill is the Democratic benediction on the whole controversy about Chinese immigration to this State.

The same fate has befallen Gov. Grover's suggestions in regard to the Constitutional amendments. The amendments and the Chinaman are in the same position they occupied when the legislature first convened, and the people cannot but see now that these questions which were so much discussed during election times were mere bogbears.

A Republican legislature could not have done less. A great deal of the session, in both Houses, was taken up in ousting Republican members from seats to which they had been fairly elected, contrary to both law and evidence, and with an almost utter disregard for the rights of the Republican minority. New offices have been created and salaries increased in open violation of pledges of retrenchment and economy in the administration of our State government. The city of Portland went Republican at the last election, and in order to put her again under Democratic dominion, which she had voluntarily thrown off, the power to elect a Board of Police Commissioners, Police Judge, etc., was taken from her citizens and the power to appoint given to Gov. Grover.

The 500,000 acres of land granted to the State for internal improvements, and by the State Constitution appropriated to the common school fund—an appropriation entirely satisfactory to ninety-nine hundredths of the people of the State—has been opened for speculation and a subsidy of $200,000 already granted out of it for the construction of a canal and lock at the Oregon City Falls.

The vast majority of the people all over the State, who have a direct interest in our common schools, and who, probably, may never derive a cent's advantage from this canal and locks cannot look on this transaction in any other light than a sacrifice of the interests of the many for the benefit of the favored few, who are interested in the subsidy. And when it is further considered that at the time when this enormous subsidy was pending, the P. T. Company were offering to construct a canal and locks on the opposite side of the river, and give good bonds for its speedy and specific performance, equally beneficial for the State at large for $125,000—$75,000 less than the former—while no such security for its performance was given or required of the former company; they can but regard the affair as a fraud and swindle on the people at large.

Although there might have been doubts about the constitutionality of applying this fund to the maintenance of common schools without the consent of Congress, still it would have been an easy matter to have left it alone until Congress would give that consent, which it would undoubtedly have done on the representation that the people of the State so wished.

But the door is opened now, and widely too, and speculation will exhaust this fund, which might, if directed into the common school fund, as the Constitution of our State provides, have proved of incalculable benefit. On the whole, we are glad the legislature has adjourned, and hope it will continue so for the longest period allowed by law. It is worse than useless to pay for legislation that does not help but injures.

Late Telegrams.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The King telegraphs to the Queen this morning, that Bazaine and Metz capitulated, 150,000 prisoners, including 20,000 sick and wounded. The garrison laid down their arms this evening. (Signed) WILLIAM.

Tribune special says General Coffier the commander of garrison at Metz informed Bazaine he could not give the army any more provisions, and that he must shift for himself. Bazaine ordered his troops to stop firing on Prussians, and allowed his men to desert by the dozen or two. All were captured by Prussians but large groups were refused on the eve of 24th. Bazaine convinced Gen. Coffier that an outbreak which he proposed to make that night towards Gravelotte would be useless bloodshed and too large a price to pay for a few days resistance. Bazaine sent a message to Prince Charles intimating he was ready to capitulate. A meeting was had between Prince Charles and Gen. Changarnier which latter came away much disturbed.

The points to be settled were fixed for another meeting. Next day matters were so far advanced that the 22d corps was immediately ordered to march to Paris. Other troops were concentrated near Metz to prevent desertion en masse. The army of Prince Frederick Charles consisted of 160,000 men. The Duke of Aosta has accepted the candidacy of the Spanish throne.

BRUNNEN, Oct. 28.—King William has communicated to General Falkenstein his desire for the removal of all obstacles in the way of independent voting. He orders him to release prisoners held for violating such laws.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The capitulation of Metz was not signed until Thursday night. The city will be occupied by the Germans to-morrow. The whole number of prisoners now represented, is 173,000 including three marshals and 6,000 officers. One hundred guns were fired in Berlin in honor of the event.

TOURS, Oct. 28.—Nothing from Paris to-day. Thiers left Paris to-day.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—A dispatch says the capitulation of Metz is in conformity with understanding with King of Prussia and contemplates speedy peace. Heavy rifle firing heard in direction of Paris to-day. Garibaldi says he first sympathized with Germany because she sought to overthrow Napoleon but now he is with France, because she has made herself a republic.

Telegram describing scene around Metz at the time of surrender, says frightful storm had raged for several days all over north of France. Entire country was under water and everything was literally drowned out. Advices from various departments in east, confirm reports of retreat of Prussians. Garibaldi still acting on offensive. He will continue attack so successfully begun. Nothing official yet received from the army of the Loire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Herald's cable attributes the surrender of Metz to starvation, and gives account of events preceding. Times' special says Bazaine was very popular with his army. Women and children were dying at fearful rate in Metz previous to surrender. Marshal Leboif is a prisoner, and says he prefers going to Germany and refuses to accept a parole.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The States of Northern and Southern Germany are said to agree to name King William, Emperor. Spoils of surrender at Metz include 3,000 guns, forty millions of French war funds, and twenty millions French civil government funds.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—The two sons of King William have been honored with title of field marshals.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—It is estimated that the Germans have taken up to the present day, 320,000 French prisoners. Herald's correspondent has interviewed Bismark, who says position of Prussia is never changed from first. Compelled to draw the sword in the first place, she will not sheath it until she is safe against future cruel assaults of the ambition and insults of other unprincipled neighbors. The blood, treasure and suffering it costs for past victories convince Germany that there can be no hope for security without reclaiming those territories wrenched from her for purpose of conquest. Prussia desires peace, but only a peace that will give full security for the future. She is willing to treat with Ex-Emperor or provisional government, but an armistice is useless, unless it leads to peace.

opinions said to have been expressed by him are unauthorized. Time not come for him to speak.

TOURS, Oct. 31.—Bourbaki issued proclamation to his army.

VERSAILLES, Oct. 31.—On receipt of news of capitulation of Metz, great enthusiasm prevailed among soldiers.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Germans continue the siege of Palsburg. They are holding a solemn religious service to-day around Paris. Bombardment commences to-morrow. King has announced his intention to bombard immediately as the immense number of prisoners taken would be more mercifully dealt with by forcing an entry with Paris. Small pox reported at Amiens. Great indignation exists at Tours on account of surrender of Metz. Special correspondent with Garibaldi says he risks too much and was nearly taken prisoner yesterday. Reported that Gambetta was not pleased with ovation given Garibaldi at Tours, and latter offered to return to Italy.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—It is reported that an attempt was made to assassinate King Wilhelm, yesterday, but he was unharmed. A General near him was wounded.

TOURS, Nov. 3.—News from Paris says that Fleurens raised a mob and led it to the City Hall; the ministry were imprisoned, several houses burned, the ministry was finally released from the mob by the national guards.

Gen. Trochu has proclaimed an acceptance of armistice. An armistice of 25 days will be allowed to hold elections.

Thanksgiving Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The following proclamation was issued by the President to-day:

WHEREAS, It behooves a people sensible of their dependence on the Almighty publicly and collectively to acknowledge their gratitude for His favor and mercies, and humbly beseech for their continuance; WHEREAS, The people of the United States during the year about to end have especial cause to be thankful for the general prosperity, abundance, and exemption from pestilence, foreign war and civil strife; now, therefore, be it known that I, U. S. Grant, President of the United States, concurring in many similar recommendations of the Chief Magistrates of States, do hereby recommend to all citizens to meet in their respective places of worship on Thursday, the 24th day of November next, there to give thanks for the bounty of God during the year about to close, and to supplicate for a continuance thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed, in the city of Washington, in the year of our Lord 1870, and of the independence of the United States the 85th.

U. S. GRANT, President. HAMILTON FISH, Sec'y of State.

Small-Pox (so-called). OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH, SALEM, Oct. 31st, 1870.

In order to satisfy the minds of some who may still fear that we have cases of small-pox in our midst, the city has employed the same physicians to examine and report upon the character and progress of the disease. They state that nothing has been found to induce them to change their minds, but that additional facts have been ascertained, as well as the appearance of the present state of the eruption to confirm them in their previously expressed opinion, and they further state that in their belief there is not, nor has been, any case of small pox in the community this season. The type or chicken-pox is, in some cases, severe, and in others as mild as ordinary attacks, and no more contagious than usual. Those that are brought in contact can, by using proper precaution, avoid danger of taking the infection.

The Board of Health will keep watch over any cases that may occur, and officially make those fraught with danger known. That they do their duty to the public, it would be well for physicians or individuals to report immediately cases of a suspicious nature, that they may be examined.

L. S. SCOTT, Mayor. L. S. SKIFF, Chairman Board of Health. Statesman, November 1st.

The tax levy in Wasco county is 3 1/2 per cent. That comes of being so very "Democratic."

Exuberant Health

Is a blessing vouchsafed to few. Even those who have been favored by nature with strong constitutions and vigorous frames are apt to neglect the precautions necessary to preserve these precious endowments. Indeed, as a rule, the more healthy and robust a man is, the more liberties he is inclined to take with his own physique. It is some consolation to the naturally weak and feeble to know that they can be so invigorated and built up, by a proper use of the means which science has placed at their disposal, as to have a much better chance of long life and exemptions from disease and pain, than the most athletic of their fellows who are foolish enough to suppose themselves invulnerable, and act accordingly.

It is not too much to say that more than half the people of the civilized world need an occasional tonic, to enable them to support the strain upon their bodies and minds, which the fast life of this restless age occasions. In fact, a pure wholesome, unexciting tonic is the grand desideratum of the busy millions, and they have the article in HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. It is a STAMINAL MEDICINE, i. e. it imparts permanent strength to weak systems and invigorates delicate constitutions. Its reputation and its sales have steadily increased. Competitive preparations have been introduced ad libitum, and, as far as the public is concerned, ad nauseum, in the hope of rivaling it; but they have all either perished in the attempt, or been left far in the rear. It has been the GREAT MEDICAL SUCCESS OF THE PRESENT CENTURY, and it is quite certain that no proprietary medicine in this country is as widely known, or as generally used.

Ten lightning presses, running incessantly (Sundays excepted), the whole year through, barely supply the demand for the Illustrated Almanac, in which the nature and uses of the preparation are set forth, the circulation now being over five millions a year.
