

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President in 1872, ULYSSES S. GRANT.

For Vice President, HENRY WILSON.

For Presidential Electors, W. D. HARE, of Washington County, A. B. MEACHAM, of Umatilla County, J. F. GAZELY, of Douglas County.

Assassins at Heart Greeley's support comes almost entirely from those who begrudge him his existence. If, before the breaking out of the late rebellion, Greeley had been caught in any one of the Southern States which he now claims will support him for the Presidency, he would have been swung to the nearest tree, as the great promoter and constant agitator of the ill-will that existed between the North and South.

That same ill feeling and bad temper that existed then towards Greeley exists to-day in the heart of every sympathizer with the South, intensified by the pangs of poverty and the loss of dear friends. They look upon Mr. Greeley as one of the chief agitators in goading the North on to subjugate and humiliate the South. They look upon him as one who conspired their ruin and brought devastation and misery to their door. With these feelings at heart can any honest Democrat support Greeley with feelings of goodwill? No; they make no such pretensions, but all admit that he is a very bitter pill, and the more indiscreet are already asserting, "D—n him! we will vote for him; there may something happen him if elected." This is the way that Greeley is "enthusiastically" supported. He is thus supported by men who would be much more enthusiastic over his death, if elected, than they are now over the prospect of his election.

If there should such a sad calamity befall the nation as the election of Mr. Greeley, which is hardly possible, and as the Democrats believe, Gratz Brown can be Johnsonized, Greeley, through the warm affection of his Southern friends, will be promoted to a higher seat than the Presidential chair before he serves his time out. This higher promotion is what they mean when they say "D—n him, there may something happen him if elected."

Gerritt Smith says: "Common sense argues that his (Grant's) having been a good President once is a strong reason why he should be President twice." Thus did common sense argue when it re-elected Washington, the first savior of his country. Thus did it argue when it re-elected Lincoln, the second savior of his country. And thus does it now argue, when it is about to re-elect Grant, the third savior of his country.—Statesman.

LIST OF PATENTS.—The following patents were issued from the U. S. Patent Office to citizens of Oregon, week ending June 1, 1872, reported for the SENTINEL by Alexander & Mason, solicitors of Patents, 605 Seventh St., Washington, D. C.: Moss Holder—Geo. Fleidner, Portland. Combined Harvester and Thresher—J. A. Lobbins, Bethel. Sawing Machine.—Jos. Smith, Woodburn.

It is stated that thirty of the best European engravers are employed in New York in manufacturing counterfeit plates of European bank notes. Fifty persons travel between New York and Europe, carrying over counterfeit bills to the Old World, and as many more act as agents in the larger cities of Europe for the circulation of spurious currency.

CHANGED NAME, BUT NOT RELIGION. The West Side has changed its name, and will hereafter be known as the Yamhill Reporter. It remains loyal.

NEW DRESS.—The Salem Statesman comes to us printed on new type. It has always come filled with fresh news and entertaining selected matter, and is a valued exchange.

NOTABLE DEATH.—Mrs. Mathews, mother of Vice President Collax, died at South Bend, Ind., Aug. 11th, at the age of 67.

POLITICAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LAWSON TO ENGLE. SALEM, August 4, 1872.

DEAR INGLES: I send you proceeding of Liberal Republicans in forming a club. One of our great objects is to protect the interests of the State, and show a front in the shape of a strong party to assist you and other Republican Representatives in obtaining just and correct legislation for the State. We want to save the swamp lands of the State and obtain a Capitol Appropriation, &c.

It is not improbable that you may hold the casting vote of U. S. Senator also. There are many good Republicans in the State who greatly prefer that Holladay should not dictate the man. We look to you as an honest, firm and intelligent Representative, to keep out of the clutches of party, and not suffer yourself to be shackled by anybody, any man or any party, so that at any time and all times you can do that which is best for the State. If our name or our party power is anything, we intend to use it to sustain good men in good measures. We heard your declarations on the stump last Spring, and believing them is why we write you. A few firm and honest men can do a great deal to obtain justice for the State.

In listing our names as Liberal Republicans and Greeley men, we do not proclaim war upon Gen. Grant, or forget his gallant service to our common country. We only post ourselves as vigilant sentinels on the outposts of measures. A vigilant and strong opposition ensures purity and earnestness in the party in power, and helps to keep the State right. That is my position, if I know myself. Please reply. Truly yours, G. W. LAWSON, Sec.

ENGLE TO LAWSON. BELPASSI, Aug. 8, 1872.

HON. G. W. LAWSON—Sir: Yours of the 4th instant has been received and contents considered. Your advice to keep out of corrupt party cliques is very good, and I think that I shall act accordingly; at least so far as to keep out of so-called Greeley organizations. It might be proper for me to say that, while I am a Republican I do not hold that everything the Republicans may do is right; but I propose to use what ability and influence I may possess, in the endeavor to remedy what evils there may be without going outside of the Republican organization. Permit me to say that while I do not assume to sit in judgment on your actions, I cannot help but think that you are acting a little inconsistent in joining the Greeley party. You say that you do not proclaim war upon Gen. Grant, nor forget his gallant services to our common country. If your joining a party which is at war with Gen. Grant, with the Republican party, with the best interests of the country, and with all the great measures that have cost the country so much blood and treasure, is not proclaiming war upon Gen. Grant, then, sir, I do not know how you could go about proclaiming war against the Republican candidate for President. For I maintain that every organization gotten up in opposition to the nominees of the Republican party at Philadelphia, whatever name you may call it, whether Greeley, Liberal Republican, Reform, Dolly Varden, or what not, is a move to play into the hands of the old rebel Democratic party; and until I am convinced to the contrary, I shall treat all these side shows as enemies to the Republican party and to the best interests of our common country. Again, you are yourself inconsistent, in that you propose to hold me to my declarations in the campaign of last Spring, while you assume the right to bolt any or all the nominees of the Republican party. You said at Howell's Prairie, last Spring, that if Gen. Grant were nominated at Philadelphia you would vote for him. Now, sir, I do not think you are the proper person to hold me accountable for anything I may have said, while you deliberately go back on your own declarations. If you wish to hold anybody to any past declarations, a decent regard for consistency would suggest that you stick to your own, and especially to the one above alluded to.

Yours, Respectfully, JOSEPH ENGLE. P. S.—The soft soap part of your letter I will not reply to, as it came two months and a day too late.

BEECHER'S OPINION OF GRANT.—Beecher is a close observer of men, and seldom is in error in his opinion of character. His opinion has weight with the people, and is second to none in influencing the great body of the Church. The Christian Union reports him to have said the following about President Grant: "In all truly civilized nations the avoidance of personal display, and the exhibition of manly simplicity and directness of character are highly honored. No American President was ever so absolutely unpretentious, so civil and modest in his manner, as is General Grant."

CHANGED HANDS AND FALLEN.—The Dallas Republican has changed hands and now comes to us under the title of Liberal Republican. That means Democracy, according to Greeley's Dictionary. All such issues are only campaign sheets, and necessarily short-lived in this instance.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

New York, August 12.—A special from Geneva says the Tribunal of Arbitration required argument on these points: First, due diligence as to principles of law; second, what was the value of the commissions held by the Confederate cruisers, and how far did they entail responsibility upon England when they entered her ports; third, how far did the coaling of cruisers in English ports make England responsible for their acts. These points have been elaborately argued by Sir Roundell Palmer and Messrs. Everts, Cushing and Waite. The fact of the Tribunal's analysis of cases, as is seen in these points, is a strongly favorable indication.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 1.—The funeral of Juarez was an imposing spectacle. The corpse was interred in the Pantheon. The street and houses were draped in mourning; the procession bore numberless emblems of Grief. Fully 70,000 spectators lined the streets through which it passed. Nearly all the foreigners in the capital were present at the ceremonies, as well as all the public officers and foreign diplomats. Addresses were made by minister Nelson, on behalf of the Diplomatic Corps, and Senor Virgil, for the editorial fraternity of Mexico. The death of Juarez is very generally regretted.

The Apollo Hall Democracy of New York City, headed by Senator O'Brien, an organization which represents many thousands of voters, Tammany recently sent an invitation to them to join in the Greeley movement. The invitation was declined. The Executive Committee of Apollo Hall numbers two hundred and ten members. They say it is evident that Tammany is working for Greeley in hope of recovering its lost power. Every one of the thieves of the Ring is hallooing for him Apollo Hall doesn't respond.

A M. George, 103 years old, committed suicide at Rockford, Ill., a few days ago. He had probably despaired of ever dying the natural way.
