Gen. Wheaton, co-operated with by the Oregon Volunteers, tought the disastrous battle of the lava-beds, on the 17th of last January, the country was at PRICES to SUIT THE TIMES. ton was sharply criticized and hastily judged. Journalists and others who thought it necessary to offer some explanation of the expected result, did so by accusing the officer in command of hasty and, inconsiderate conduct-of selecting a loggy datigr the attack, and of pushing his men to useless slaughter. Gen. Wheaton was superseded, although the reasons assigned for the change had no reference to his management of the Modoc campaign, yet it was so misunderstood that it could not but damage the gallant officer in the good epinion of the public. Gen. Gillem was assigned to the command be-cause he was Gen. Wheaton's senior in rank, and the war having assumed such proportions and so many men from California having been concentrated, the senior officer was assigned Strings, the best in market. to their command in obedience to the well-known rule that obtains in such A Large asrortment of matters. The public, however, gener-erally judge by the results, and his supersedure, under the circumstances, was most humiliating to Gen. Wheaton and his friends. Gen. Wheaton has been completely vindicated by what has since occurred. General Gillem's Great assortment of Cigars, Pipes & Tobacco, all its material features precisely the same as that of the affair of January other kinds. 17th. The plan of attack simultaneously upon the east and west, was the same. The maneuver to form a connection between Green's left and Masou's right, so as to cut the Modocs off from water, was precisely what was before attempted between Green's left ment of SILK & COTTON THREAD and Mason's right.

Gen. Wheaton proposed to conduct his second movement by camping in the lava-beds-to enclose the Modocs' position with troops provided with rations-to dislodge the Indians from their fastnesses by the use of mortars, and to make the engagement a matter of days instead of hours, it necessary. The mortars used by General Gillem were ordered before the change in commanders was made. These facts, and the result of Gen. Gillem's move, deserve to be recalled and placed to the credit of Gen. Wheaton. His critics have long since been silenced; let them now be rebuked.

izens is blessed, or otherwise, with a very stubborn wife. In his case, he finds that when a woman will, she will, won't, she won't, and that's an end of it. This peculiarity of disposition in his wife is no secret among his associates, and one meeting him the other day, asked:

Well, do you know why you are like a donkey ?"

"Like a donkey!" echoed W——, opening his eyes wide. "No, I don't."
"Do you give it up?"
"I do."

"Because your better half is stub-bornness itself."

"That's not bad. Ha! ha! I'll give that to my wife when I go home."

"Mrs. W——," he asked, as he sat down to supper, "do you know why I am like a donkey?" He waited a moment, expecting his wife to give it up; but she didn't. She looked at him somewhat commiseratingly as she answered:

Prospectus for 1873-Sixth Year THE ALDINE

An illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the isandsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Teste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while is ued with all the reg-THE ALDINE, while is used with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary publications. It is an elegant misrellaty of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Elthough each succeeding number afords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of The Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheanother publications may claim superior cheap-ness, as bompared with rivals of a similar class The Aldine is a unique and original con-ception—alone and unapproached—also lately without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot dupli-cate the quantity of line paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then there are the chromos, be-sides!

Art Department. Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when The Aldine assum d its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more them doubled during the past year; proving that the American pablic appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of ART. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the almost to develon and improve the work. thus demonstrated, have exerted them-elves to the utmost to develop and improve the work; and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even our most sangune patrons. The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America. In addition. The Aidine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the nighest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs, or con-greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs, or copies of any kind.

The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child sketches, appropriete to the four sensons; these plates appearing in the issue for January, April July and October, would be alone worth the brice of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To messes such a valuable entition of the art

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world, at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country; but, as the usefulness and attrac-tions of The Aidlne can be enhanced in proportion to the numerical increase of its sup-porters, the publishers propole to make "assur-ance doubly sure," by the following unparal-lelled offer of Premium Chromos for 1873.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE, who pays in advance for the year ISG, will receive, without additional charge; a pain of beautiful oil chromos, after 3, 3, 160, the sminent English painter. The pictures, entitled 'The Village Belle, and 'Crossing the Moot, are 1820 inches—are printed from 25 different pletes, requiring 25 impressions and this to perfect each picture. The same Chromos are sold for 500 per pair in the act stores. As it is the determination of its conductors to keep THE ALDINE out of the reach of competition is every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly should nay that can be offered by other periodicals. Every suffscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples farnished the agent or the monay will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this gade, free to the onder hers to a five dollar periodical, will mark in epich in the history of Art; and, considering the unprecedented cheapuses of the price for THE ALDINE itself, the marvet falls diffusion of a maracter certification of these best acquainted with the achievements of inventive gentles and improved mechanical applicatives, (for illustrations of these certums see November 1886 of THE ALDINE.) Premium Chromos for 1873.
