

THE SENTINEL

SATURDAY, - - OCTOBER 25, 1873.

NEW ADVENTISTS.—For several successive evenings during the past week our citizens have been entertained by the preachings and teachings of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Reed, traveling joint lecturers in the doctrines of New Adventism, whose principal discourses are theorizings upon the second coming of Christ and the millennium. They strive to demonstrate their theory by the use of maps and charts, intended to illustrate the prophecies of Daniel and the visions recorded in the Book of Revelations, supported by random extracts from other prophecies of the Old Testament and the sayings of Christ. An acceptance of the soundness of their theory would easily enable one, by their skillfully contrived interpretation, to believe the doctrine to the end, and their cunningly devised explanation of Daniel's interpretation of Nebuchadnezzar's dream would effectually set at rest all speculations in regard to that otherwise puzzling vision. By the same process they throw full light upon the stunning visions of the author of Revelations. But to be convincing the demonstration of a theory must be clear in detail and definite as to result, and as they fix upon no terminal date, leaving listeners to do that for themselves, we think that fact alone destroys their scheme, as also any chances of our being "one of the last of our race." Our attendance made very small inroad upon our fund of skepticism. As they charge nothing for their lectures they thus turn the edge of the main weapon of criticism. Theirs is truly a work of charity, so far as they are concerned, yet we cannot help believing that their efforts are more calculated to fill mad-houses than to eradicate sin or sustain the truths of the Gospel. Their lectures were delivered in the court house, to fair sized and attentive audiences, and were interesting, if for no other reason than their novelty, though they may have failed to carry conviction to any.

PERSONAL.—During the past week a number of our citizens, taking advantage of the dull season of the year, have undertaken pilgrimages eastward and to the father land. Among them was one of our principal merchants, Mr. Isaac Sachs, of the firm of Sachs Bros., who, after an absence of twelve years, goes on a visit to the home and scenes of his childhood in that far-off and much Germanized land, Bavaria. We were the grateful recipients of his parting testimonial of regard in the shape of a bottle of choice wine, in which all hands drank to his good health and wished him a safe and pleasant journey there and back. He will be absent for several months.

Also that well known and highly respected citizen, Maj. Jas. T. Glenn, who, in company with his family, goes to spend a season in visiting relatives and friends in Missouri and other of the more eastern States, as also a tour of general observation and recreation. With the Major's numerous friends in this county we join in wishing himself and family a pleasant trip and safe return. They will probably be absent several months.

On last Saturday's stage there also departed that old hero of Southern Oregon and whole-souled old gentleman, Gen. John E. Ross, who, for the first time in many years, has gone east of the Rocky Mountains. He contemplates a general tour of the States on this parallel of latitude, and during his absence of several months will pay a visit to the National Capital. We all wish him a pleasant journey and safe return.

A DEAD THING.—Now we've got the dearest thing out on wood thieves, and we don't expect a patent on it, either. We haven't any wood for them to steal. Even our ax fails to excite on pidity, it having a gap in it as broad as the "bloody chasm." But we might split wood with it if our subscribers would bring us some to split. What's the good of plenty to eat if you can't keep warm enough to taste it?

OREGON CHESTNUTS.—That the chestnut tree will fruitfully thrive in this region has been fully demonstrated this season by Mr. Jaquett, a nurseryman near Ashland in this county, who has laid on our table a chestnut burr, containing good sized, fully matured nuts. The burr was taken from a 4-year old tree grown by him in his nursery. He has a large number of trees of suitable age for transplanting, of which he will give full account in the SENTINEL in a short time.

From Goose Lake.

A. Tenbrook, Esq., arrived in this place on Tuesday last from Goose Lake, coming by wagon. He left there on the 14th. He brought in the election returns from that portion of the county, and reports the trip a little cool, but on the whole an ordinarily pleasant one, the roads being in very good condition and no snow having yet fallen. Everything is again quiet and prosperous in that region, though for a while things looked a little squally in Goose Lake Valley, and all the contiguous valleys where settlements had been formed, and during the latter portion of the Indian difficulties citizens had in many places fortified and prepared for defense. But the danger has all passed and the settlers were all busy in preparations for Winter when he left.

He says the emigration has not been near so large as they had anticipated, the war having deterred many from going there who had written to their friends last Fall that they intended to come this season. There is nothing now in that whole region to cause alarm.

Having but a weekly horseback mail the residents of that country are somewhat troubled with monotony during the Winter months, but they expect soon to be of sufficient numerical importance to attract the attention of other localities and to induce the Department to grant them better mail facilities.

Good crops have rewarded the husbandmen and abundance of all that the country produces in vouchsafed the settler. They are still compelled to rely upon Jacksonville and other older and better markets for their groceries and luxuries. The establishment of the proposed military post in the north end of the Valley it is thought will be of great benefit to that whole section by increasing their future security and turning them an increased market for many of their products. Mr. Tenbrook started on his return yesterday.

FOR IDENTIFICATION.—Some time ago one of the San Francisco papers gave an account of the remains of an unknown person being found somewhere near Linkville. Simply the skeleton remained, from which the lower jaw has been forwarded to Dr. Jackson, of this place, to assist in discovering, if possible, to whom it belonged. The teeth were perfect in the jaw, but have been so long exposed to the elements that some of the front teeth have fallen out and the enamel of the remainder has shelled off to some extent. The first molar on the left side is filled in the crown cavity, or top of the tooth, with gold; the second molar has two of the cavities filled with gold in the same manner, and an amalgam filling on the outer or buccal side, while the third molar has two gold fillings in the crown cavity. As dentists usually keep a descriptive record of their work it is possible this jaw may lead to an identification. A gun, knife and pipe were found with the remains, and can be seen at the Postoffice in this place.

A SPITEFUL CELESTIAL.—One of our Hebrew citizens tells a joke on himself which illustrates the aptness of "John" to pick up and apply taunting phrases, when of a mind to do so. After much trouble he had compelled "John" to call and settle. The irate Celestial suppressed his indignation until he reached the door, when he turned and spitefully exclaimed: "You think you heap d—n smart! Oh yes; you belly plenty good man—you! You killee Melicau man's God—you! Me heap sabb you." And then he strutted bravely away.

JEWELRY, TOYS, ETC.—John Neuber has just received important additions to his stock of jewelry, watches, etc., and a fine lot of elegant toys and trinkets for the little folks when the holidays come. He is also agent for the Florence and Grover & Baker sewing machines, and has just received a supply of these instruments for sale. Go and see his latest improved Florence, which is now admitted to be ahead of all other machines in every respect and is handsome enough for any parlor.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev. P. C. Hetzler, Agent of the American Bible Society, will preach in the M. E. Church to-morrow forenoon, at 11 o'clock. A meeting in behalf of the Bible Society will be held at the same place, in the evening.

AND AGAIN.—There came a "Rapping, tapping, knocking at our office door," the other day, and Mr. Rapp stepped in and deposited a generous measure of elegant pears upon our floor. Nothing more.

Removal of the Modocs.

We clip the following, concerning the removal of the Modocs, from the Portland Bulletin's correspondence, the writer of which visited the Indian encampment made the second day at Capt. Farris' ranch, two miles south of the Reservation:

I went into the circle and inspected these people closely. It was interesting to take a new view of these braves who filled a hundred graves, and, provided by nature with an almost impenetrable fortress, made the most determined resistance recorded in the history of the American Continent. But to-morrow, that field of volcanic rock, with its caves where the sun never shines, and its chimneys nearly a thousand feet high, where once a sea of lava seethed and billowed, will pass from their sight forevermore. Hocks Jim, the individual who conceived the hellish scheme of murdering the citizens of Tule Lake, and afterwards actually took eight of their lives with his own hand, and who also assisted in the Peace Commission murder, was here with others who would very appropriately have ornamented two unused ropes we saw dangling between Sconchin, John and Black Jim on the 3d instant.

Bogus Charley I saw bent down wrapping his ankle with old pieces of cloth to shield it from the galling of the heavy shackles. This is a tall, pleasant looking young warrior; who was, according to the dying statements of Boston Charley and Captain Jack, the person who proposed the Peace Commission massacre, and who afterwards by his genteel manners and smooth tongue disarmed Gen. Canby and Dr. Thomas of any suspicions of foul play, and they went with him on the fatal Good Friday to the place decided on for the murder. He said to me, as the wagon containing him and Long Jim, Shacknasty Jim, Steamboat Frank, Hooks Jim and nine others rolled away, "Good-bye. Maybe I never see you again." Maybe not, but I guess I can become reconciled to his absence after a while. Mary and Lizzie, Capt. Jack's sister and wife, had their hair closely cut and their faces painted with pitch and charcoal, and kept their blankets about their faces. Mary had Jack's little girl hugged close to her bosom, and was last evening sitting on a rock in the cold north wind embroidering a pair of moccasins for the pet of the departed Chief.

The orders of the officer in charge require the greatest care to prevent the escape of Hooks Jim, Shacknasty, Bogus, Steamboat Frank, or "the sousts," as they are called, from their aid to Gen. Davis last Spring in hunting Captain Jack. This order may indicate that the Government has some pretty severe punishment in store of these men on their arrival in Wyoming.

A few days ago John Bady, a semi-civilized Pute, was killed near Yainax by a Summer Lake Snake named Che-che-da. Bady has the reputation of having introduced into the Reservation two years ago the bloody gospel called the "Smo-hulla Religion," and he has fallen a victim to a lawlessness perhaps born of his own teaching. Che-che-da is a brother to one of the Indians, In-che-waw-can, killed by whites last Spring, and it seems that revenge for killing his brother prompted this last affair. His chief, Cheek toot, says that John Bady, when he left Yainax early last Spring, circulated the report among the whites, all along from Yainax to Camp Bidwell, that the Snakes were about to take the war path. This excited the whites and made them very suspicious of the few Indians who had spent the Winter in Summer Lake Valley. This suspicion terminated in the killing of Che-che-da's brother, and he thirsted for the blood of the disciple of Smo-hulla. Much care and caution will have to be observed in visiting the murderer with the "white man's law." The Reservation Indians are much excited about this affair, and fear, as it took place on their soil, that O-che-o, the Pute chief, may hold them accountable for the spilling of John Bady's blood. Mr. Dyar and Mr. Harer are now at Yainax to investigate the affair.

The Yreka Union of the 17th says the Modoc train reached a camp within five miles of them on that day. Scar-faced Charley has been made chief and was at liberty, while all the others were chained together in couples. There were 155 all told, 42 being able-bodied men. They were guarded in a space of 60 feet square, and no one was permitted to talk to them, although many acquaintances visited them from Yreka. One Modoc joined the cavalcade on the way and three are yet in the Lava Bed.

HOME AGAIN.—On Saturday last the Rev. Father Blanchet returned from his trip east, after an absence of several months, during which time he had visited twenty-one States and the Canada. He expresses himself very much pleased with his trip, and returns in good health and spirits, to meet hearty welcome from his parishioners and his numerous friends among all denominations and classes.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.—Divine services will be held at the Catholic Church by the Rev. Father Demers to-morrow (Sunday) at the usual hour.

Natural Decay—Protect the System.

The human body is a machine, and therefore cannot endure forever; but, like a watch or sewing machine, it will last much longer if properly regulated and duly repaired, than if no pains were taken to keep it in order. The great object of every one who desires a long and healthy life should be to put his body in a condition to resist the life-threatening influences by which we are all more or less surrounded; and no infrequent and corrective at present known so effectually answers this purpose as the vitalizing elixir which, under the unpretending name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, has been for more than twenty years the standard tonic of America. In crowded cities, where the atmosphere is contaminated with effluvia imperceptible from large populations; in marshy regions, where the soggy soil reeks with miasma; on the prairies and in the forests, where every fall the air is tainted with exhalations from rotting weeds and grasses, or decomposing leaves—in short, in every locality where malaria exists, this powerful vegetable antidote is urgently needed. Fever and ague, bilious fevers, dysentery, congestion of the liver, jaundice, rheumatism, and all diseases which are generated by infected air, impure water, or sudden changes of temperature, may be averted by strengthening and regulating the system in advance with Hostetter's Bitters. Autumn is always a season of peril, especially to weak, susceptible organizations. Even the more vigorous are apt to be in some measure depressed by the humid atmosphere, loaded with deleterious gases produced by vegetable decay. The fall is a period of the year when the renovation and regulation of the living machine is peculiarly important, and the Bitters should therefore be taken daily at this critical season.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR FELLOW TOWNSMAN.—The following tribute was paid to our fellow townsman, J. H. Stinson, by the annual meeting of the Agassiz Institute, held at Central Hall, in the City of Sacramento, California, a short time since:

"Rev. J. H. C. Borte, Corresponding Secretary, presented a resolution of encouragement to J. H. Stinson, of Jacksonville, Oregon, who has discovered a new science. It was passed unanimously."

As the Agassiz Institute is incorporated and composed of scientific men alone, the resolution is highly complimentary to Mr. Stinson. We are informed by him that this discovery will soon be made known to the world.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.—On the 18th instant Mr. James D. Appleton, who resided near Grant's Pass, in this county, came to his death by an accident, near Smith river, not far from Crescent City. He was engaged in freighting, and while thus occupied fell from his wagon-seat, the wagon wheels passing over and crushing him to death almost instantly. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his loss, besides numerous friends in this county, who sincerely regret his tragic fate and deeply sympathize with the bereaved family.

COUNTY HOSPITAL.—Dr. Danforth, to whom has been awarded the contract of keeping the county hospital, is engaged in putting up quite extensive additions to the building now occupied for that purpose, and intends making it complete and comfortable. There are few patients now in the hospital, and the Doctor will spare no pains in the effort to properly care for them, as also any others who may fall to his charge.

SALE OF JACKSON COUNTY STOCK.—W. C. Myer, of Jackson county, has sold four yearling colts of his Percheron stock: Sconchin, to Joseph Sawyer, of Yamhill, for $400; Capt. Jack, to Thom. Cooper, of Yamhill, for $400; Bird, to J. C. Cozier, of Hebe, for $400; and Frederick William, to Isaac Wagner, of Salem, for $300.

PROFITABLE LAMBS.—Cameron & Goodwyn, of Linkville, in this county, sold eight lambs at the State Fair for $100 each. They also took the first premium on three entries of Leicester sheep. Probably they have the finest flock of Australian Leicesters in the State.

A PRESENT.—Mr. Henry C. Dreer, Seedsman and Florist of Philadelphia, has the thanks of the SENTINEL for a generous package of bulbs and garden seeds of choicest varieties, presented to Mrs. Dowell. Being entirely unexpected the gift is the more highly prized.

GAME.—All kinds of game, from a jack-rabbit to a grizzly, seems unusually abundant about here for the season of the year. We haven't heard of any Nimrods tackling a grizzly yet, but we see considerable of the smaller game on the street—deers, and such like.

AGENTS WANTED.—NEW BOOKS.—A. L. Bancroft & Co., the principal publishing firm of San Francisco, advertise in this issue for agents to sell new and popular works just issued by them. Read their card, under head of "Wanted, Agents."

READ IT.—Major Glenn gives notice of importance among the new advertisements. Read it.

MARRIED.

On Sunday, Oct. 19, 1873, at the Baptist Church on Wagner Creek, Jackson county, by Elder Joseph Ritter, B. F. Momoax and Miss Mary E. Baker, all of Jackson county, Oregon.

Accompanying the above notice came the compliments of the newly wedded pair in the shape of a beautiful cake of most excellent quality. The happy couple will please accept our kindest regards.

DIED.

At Shingle Camp, in this county, on Sunday, October 19th, 1873, of general debility, M. A. ELDER, aged about 60 years.

Deceased was an old and well-known resident of this place, but was latterly stopping at Linkville. Feeling his end approaching, he attempted to return to Jacksonville, but the fatigue of the journey was too great for him to bear, and placing his effects in the hands of a friend he laid down and died at the time and place above stated. He is not known to have any relatives living on this coast.

In Jacksonville, on Wednesday morning, October 22, 1873, LYDIA L. BREKMAN, youngest daughter of C. C. and J. E. Beckman, aged 5 years, 11 months and 6 days.

"LITTLE LYDIA," as she was familiarly called, was the joy of her parents and the pet of her brother and sister. Her uncommon intelligence and childish grace readily won for her the regard and affection of all her playmates and acquaintances, young and old. The Angel of Death in his flight stooped to pluck the brightest jewel from the family group and has placed it to shine forevermore in the domain of Heaven.

REMAINS OF GEN. RAWLINS.—A Washington telegram, October 8th, says this:

The remains of General Rawlins, which, since his untimely death, have been lying in the vault at the Congressional Cemetery, were to-day consigned to a grave in that ground. The President, General Sherman, General Babcock, Mr. Rawlins, a brother, and several friends were present. The condition in which this gallant soldier's remains have been left so long is certainly a scandal. It was stated to-day that the fees of burial have been, up to date, unpaid, and that pending the event of to-day, he has had practically only a place in the vault by the goodwill of those controlling; yet there was about $35,000 raised for Mrs. Rawlins, who has since remarried.

ALLEN AND COBURN, THE FIGHTERS.—A St. Louis dispatch, October 13th, gives this intelligence:

Tom Allen, the pugilist, in reply to a newspaper paragraph that certain men would back Joe Coburn against him, publishes a card, in which he says he will cover any sum from $1,000 to $10,000 as soon as it may be put up by Coburn and his friends in any respectable hands, and that he will fight Coburn half-way between St. Louis and New York, or in Canada, at from ten weeks to three months' notice. Allen closes his card by saying: "I have been after Coburn ever since I came to this country, and this is the twentieth time I have challenged him."

COMPLIMENT TO SENATOR MORTON.—The telegraph says that on the 17th instant in the Constitutional Convention then in session at Philadelphia, ex United States Senator Banks' speech, referring to the course of Senator Morton of Indiana, upon the proposed amendments as to the manner of selecting Presidential electors, said Senator Morton deserved the thanks of the Nation for his course in that regard. The substance of the Senator's proposition will be found on the outside of this issue of the SENTINEL.

INSURRECTION ON THE Isthmus.—An insurrection has broken out on the Isthmus of Panama, between rival factions of the Government of Columbia, which seriously threatens the security of travel on that route. The Government troops stationed on the railroad line had joined the rebels at last accounts, and Admiral Almy of the United States Navy had ordered a detachment of U. S. Marines to ride on the trains for their protection.

When applied with Dr. Pierce's National Doucile and accompanied with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is constitutional treatment, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy produces perfect cures of the worst cases of Catarrh and Ozena of many years' standing. This thorough course of medication constitutes the only scientific, rational, safe and successful manner of treating this odious disease that has ever been offered to the afflicted. The instrument and two medicines sold for $2 by all the Druggists.

Fevers seldom make an attack without giving warning, and may often be thrown off by soaking the feet in warm water, wrapping up warm in bed, and taking two or three of Parsons' Purgative Pills.

A Missionary, just returned, says he regards Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as beyond all price, and efficacious beyond any other medicine. It is adapted to a great variety of special cases, and is the best pain curer in the world.

SAILED.—Hon. J. H. Mitchell sailed from Portland for San Francisco on the steamer of last Saturday. We presume he has gone on his way to Washington. The name of H. W. Scott, of the Bulletin, also appears in the list of passengers.

Geo. F. TRAIN.—A dispatch of Oct. 18, from New York, says: "George Francis Train, who arrived only last week from Europe, having become disgusted with the country, politics and people, sailed away again to-day—leaving, he says, forever." And it is sincerely to be hoped that the "learned fool" is acting with candor, for once, as his leaving this country will certainly be for "his country's good."

COOL.—The evenings about here, but not more so than the manner in which the Oregonian gobbled Gen. Wheaton's response to Judge Prim, comments and all.

KU KLUX SENTENCES.—A State Court in Georgia has lately sentenced two members of the Ku-Klux—one of them, strangely enough, a black man—to be executed for whipping a negro to death. This is, we believe, the first instance where the civil authorities of a Southern State have awarded a just punishment to Ku-Klux outlaws, and it is to be hoped that the effect will be to put an end to the operations of this organization in that locality.

NEW TO-DAY.
