ENSIGN JACKMAN'S DOG.

Ensign Jackman was an old Vermont farmer. He had a good dog, that for some reason bore half of his owner's name, being plain Jack; and it would be no reflection on the old man's sense if we should say the creature knew half as much as he did.

While this had been happening, Jack had been off careering about the woods, hunting up hares and starting up partridges; and having a most delightful time; but now when the ensign whistled for him, he came bounding back to the sled, saw what had happened, and started for home with his speed of a race horse.

Mother Jackman saw him coming down the road, and he seemed to her to be flying. His lameness did not hinder him then. He cleared the ground like a deer running for his life.

Jack had evidently gone through with some process of reasoning which brought him to the conclusion that it was a case in which a woman could not help, not even his own mistress.

He burst on into the presence of the shoemaker, pulled at his shirt-sleeves, and ran to the door, whining. The man pulled on his coat and followed.

Men came out along the road until there was quite a party on the way, some in sleighs and some on foot.

Jack led the way. There stood the patient oxen in their tracks; they had not advanced so much as one of their feet in all the time. And there lay the ensign, quite insensible now, just where he had fallen.

A MONSTER SHIP.

The second largest iron steamer next to the Great Eastern has just left a Pennsylvania shipyard, within a month or so from the launch of her consort, the City of Pekin.

The two ships have come from her mines and workshops, so to speak, seem likely to be the beginning of a new era in the art of ship building.

S. having failed to supply sufficient forage; or because the riders were discharged and separated from their horses, and ordered to do duty on foot at stations detached from their horses; or when the officers in immediate command ordered the horses turned out to graze in the woods, prairies or commons, because the U. CERTIFICATES OF NON-INDEBTEDNESS. No discharged commissioned officer can obtain the arrears of pay due him at his discharge without a certificate that he is not indebted to the United States, and such certificate will not be issued until all his accounts for Ordnance and Quartermasters' stores, and other property for which he may have been accountable, are settled in the proper offices, and certificates of such settlements, or of his non-accountability, procured.

I also prosecute claims for Arrears of Pay and Pensions, Prize Money, Commutation of Ration while prisoners of war, Indemnity for Lost Clothing, Restoration of Suspended Pensions, Duplicate Land Warrants, Land Patents and Treasury Certificates, and all other classes of Government Claims.

I will send them all necessary forms and instructions, and keep them advised of laws and decisions relating to claims, and my fees on such claims will be but one-half the fees charged claimants.

PROSPERITIES.

1874 Prospectus—Seventh Year. THE ALDINE.

An illustrated monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the most beautiful and interesting in the world. A representative and Champion of American Taste Not for Sale in Book or News Stores

THE ALDINE, WHILE ISSUED WITH ALL THE regularity, has more of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. The prospectus of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for the same time; and thus there are the circumstances.

Art Department, 1874 The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation. The common prejudice in favor of the "realistic" style is rapidly yielding to a more elevated and discriminating taste, which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood cut of this publication possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original. To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representation of the productions of great painters. The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thomas Moran and J. D. Woodward. The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors. Premiums for 1874 Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of Chromos. The original pictures were painted in color by the publishers of this magazine, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado pictures were purchased by Congress for $10,000. The subjects were in a view in the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives THE CLIFFS OF GREEN RIVER, Wyoming Territory. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is proved by the following testimonial, under the signature of Mr. Moran himself.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 30, 1873. Messrs. James Sutton & Co.—Gentlemen: I am delighted with the results in color of your Chromos. They are wonderfully successful reproductions of my paintings, in cases of the original paintings. Very respectfully, THOMAS MORAN. These Chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers for the first American Art Journal. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, which is so often the criterion of the readers their distribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a fine new subject, the publisher will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the long days of his heart.

TERMS. $5 per annum, in advance, with Chromos free. For 50 CENTS EXTRA, the Chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid, by mail.

THE ALDINE will, however, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the publisher, and presented to subscribers to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the same signature of James Sutton & Company.

CHROMOS WANTED. Any person wishing to act permanently as a local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to JAS. SUTTON & CO., Publishers, 38 Maiden Lane, New York.

WORTH AND BEAUTY! WOOD'S HOUSEHOLD MAGAZINE AND THE "CHROMO" YOSEMITE.

HAVING CONTROL OF THE MAGNIFICENT CHROMO "YOSEMITE," we are able to offer a combination of literary and artistic work of genuine worth, and at prices unprecedented. This fine copy of a picture of Nature's grandest work is not presented in the usual limited style—its dimensions, 14x20, making a picture of a very desirable size, in itself AN ORNAMENT TO THE ROOM. Graced by its presence, but few copies of this beautiful Chromo will be allowed to go to the retail stores, as these will be sold at their Actual Retail Price, $6.

While if ordered in connection with our magazine, both will be furnished for $1.50. As a premium, the picture may be obtained by sending us two subscriptions for the Magazine at $1 each, or by the direct purchase of the Magazine two years in advance, at $1 per annum.
