Swinging on the gate these moonlight evenings seems to be the favorite amusement of some of our young bloods. A very high standing collar was found on one of the pickets the other night, after one of these interviews, and as the finder is an investigating turn of mind he is actively prosecuting his researches to find out whether this was all that was left of him and if so what became of the balance. The question of who wears the largest collar in town is what agitates the public mind at present.

John Miller this week received a large invoice of new goods, consisting of general shelf hardware, paints and oils, fishing tackle, etc. He also received a number of the latest improved Henry rifles, which he is selling at San Francisco prices. Mining News.

The Coyote creek gravel-claims, located partly in Jackson county, and owned by H. Kelly & Co., have been bargained for by a Portland company at a cost of $30,000.

The Rising Star Company's claims are situated on Wolf creek, about five miles from Brimstone. The water-ditch, which is in course of construction, will be eight or ten miles in length. Their mine is known to be rich.

No definite action has yet been taken by our base ball players in regard to the challenge sent them by the club at Fort Klamath. The chances are that it will not be accepted as some of the players object to travelling that distance for the game.

Preparations are being made at the mines of Bybee, Hawkett & Co. for the commencement of work on their new ditch. U. J. Howard went down last Monday to make the survey, after which the digging of the ditch will begin. It will be about three miles in length and the water will be taken from Limpy creek.

Piping continues at the mines owned by Chisaman Lin, on Applegate, and from present appearances they can work for some time yet, and their supply of water may last until the Winter rains begin. They generally clean up once a month at these mines, and they have realized upwards of $100 per day during the season.

At the Sterling mines piping has been suspended for the season and they are now engaged in making a clean-up. They have washed an immense amount of gravel since commencing work, and their returns, of course, will be correspondingly large. It will take another week for them to finish cleaning up.

The Grave Creek Ditch and Mining Company, whose works are in Josephine county, are prosecuting work on their ditch, twelve hands now being employed. This ditch is to be twenty-one miles in length, and will convey water from Grave creek on the rich gravel beds at Brimstone gulch, about four miles west of the stage road. This is a stupendous enterprise, and when completed will doubtless yield rich returns to the projectors.

Another delay of a few days occurred at Klippel Hanna & Cos. mines last week, caused by the breaking of the ditch flum, but repairs have again been made and piping goes steadily on. They have everything in first class working order now and will continue work as long as the water lasts. A small clean up was made several days ago, which proved more than satisfactory to the owners of the mines, and they now have no doubts as to the paying qualities of the ground worked.

John Cimborosky returned from Beaver creek last Sunday, where he has been engaged for some time past in digging a tunnel for the Elkhorn mining company. The tunnel is now in about a hundred feet, but while at work one day last week, an immense volume of water commenced coming down from overhead at a point between where Mr. Cimborosky was at work and the opening of the tunnel, placing him in rather a perilous position. He succeeded in getting out safely, however, but work will be suspended for a time.

Articles incorporating the Applegate Grand Mining Company, says the Independent, has been filed with the county clerk of Douglas county. The capital stock of the corporation is put at $500,000 all of which has been subscribed. The gravel beds proposed to be mined are located on Big Applegate creek, Jackson county, opposite the Sterling and other mining claims, and prospect richly in gold. There is plenty of water to run three or four miles the year around, and to work the claim a ditch will be brought in from Main Applegate. A surveyor will start next week from that city to mark the line of the ditch, and work will be commenced at an early day. Judge Willis, Mr. Sol Abraham and another gentleman are the directors of the new corporation, and it is our earnest hope they may strike a "big bonanza."

Among the Whitest Things on Earth. Are teeth, beautified and preserved by FOZODONT; and the rose is scarce sweeter than the breath which becomes aromatic through its influence. It is the pearl of dentifrices and the surest preventative of dental decay in existence. It remedies with certainty canker and every species of corrosive blemish upon the teeth, and counteracts the harmful influence upon them of acidity of the stomach. The formula of its preparation includes only botanical ingredients and it contains the purest and most salutary of these.

S Oyster and Richard Cook, of Applegate, had a difficulty one day last week, in which the former was charged with drawing a gun on the latter. Oyster was arrested on this charge and tried in Justice Kautzen's court, and was acquitted, but before that result was reached the muscle of the presiding Justice was called into requisition to preserve order in court.

John Enos was again arrested yesterday on the charge of an assault, for which he had been tried and fined the day before by Recorder Hayden. The case was brought before Judge Huffer, who fined him $5 and costs. We learn that Dr. Roboam, the complainant, now also threatens to have him placed under bonds to keep the peace.
