CORRESPONDENCE. LAKEVIEW, OREGON, March 13.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—The people of Lake county have been shamefully imposed upon by the present contractor on mail route No. 44,152, from here to Ashland, from the 1st of July last to the present time, with full assurance now of an utter failure.

I have just returned from the route and examined the stock and find no feed at any station, and the stock too poor to perform any service—the carriers in many instances inhume by spurring and beating the poor given-out horses in the most cruel manner. Mr. Colwell and his men who treat animals in this way should be and are liable to be indicted under our statutes by the grand jury. From one to two mails make their arrivals here each week, being from eight to twelve days on the trip. Letters that I wrote from Ashland three days before I left reached here in eight days, and only one day before me; others I wrote from Linkview seven days ago have not yet arrived here. I also found mails abandoned on the route—in one place thrown off in the stall of a public stable which was without lock and in charge of no one; at another place a mail sack left at a public hotel in charge of no one, and accessible to the public at any time; and upon inquiry was informed it had been at this place for some two or three weeks, the carriers occasionally taking out a package and taking it along as suited their convenience. These and many other flagrant violations of law have been and are I am perfectly confident being daily repeated by Mr. Colwell and his carriers on this route. The present schedule is six trips per week through each way in sixty hours.

She has been married seven times, but what she has done with her husbands I cannot tell. Her seventh still survives. Married seven times, but think of the many weddings, and still to live. I'll tell you Frank, if this is our lot we had better start in, so please take the lead and I will follow.

During the big run of salmon more than 1,000 fish were taken out of Williams creek, yet notwithstanding all there is not even a small item from that foreign country.

The storm last week capsize Will der's wood house, but the rain did not wet the wood as he had none in it.

They took up a claim for mining, a mile long, but a cultivated farm was in the way, and in order not to break the line of the claim they took roundabouts and connected on the other side. This might be termed a new departure.

BLAINE STOCK RAISING.

There is stronger bond of unity, there is more hopeful prognostic of success in a political party than complete and decided unanimity on great public questions. The Republican party has attained this unanimity and has consolidated its views since the meeting of congress; and it is not surprising that its half despondent mood has been replaced by a tone of confident hope. Our Washington correspondent is probably not in error in supposing that this revival of party confidence weakens the chances of Gen. Grant for the Republican nomination. If the party believes that it can succeed with any good candidate the nomination of Grant will not be accepted as a political necessity. The consequence is that Blaine stock is rising and has become buoyant, as was shown forth in the large batch of Washington interviews which we printed on Monday.

Senator Sargent's term having expired in the U. S. Senate, Senator Jones, of Nevada, will become the champion of the anti-Chinese bill at the assembling of the Forty-sixth Congress. The new bill will probably retain the principal features of the vetoed bill, with the exception of the abrogation of Articles five and six, of the treaty, the particular points of the President's objections. Jones will also offer a resolution requesting the President to open negotiations with the British Government for more restriction in reference to the Hong Kong traffic.

APPLAGATE ITEMS. Rain, yea verily it rained as it did in the days of yore, and still misting. During the storm eleven inches of water fell. Not any damage by the river and but little by the wash. Have not heard a solitary grumble that it does not rain, but I heard many wishing it would stop.

Stock rather thin, generally—do not think they will have to wait long until there is abundance of feed.

Kubli and Hyde have rented the famous Carras' ranch. Mr. P. Carras was here last week setting up some business. He resides in Canyon city.

The toothache set him nearly raging and he was willing to try anything that would afford relief. One suggested burning a nerve in the ear, saying it was a sure cure. Well it was tried in both ears and the ears got so sore that the toothache was not thought of, and now he wonders what would draw his ears down to their wonted size.

A careless nimrod set his gun down among some brush and then when he picked it up he pulled it after him when the hammer caught and bang it went just grazing his ear. Pretty near fixed him for a warning monument in the creek cemetery.

Usually they were a very loving couple, but one morning recently they had a few high words when the wife reached her husband a big slap in the face which he returned with big force, and the result of the fight was a separation; but it was a short time till wifey came home again and now they are eighty-nine times more devoted than ever—Oh the bliss and the blisters of married life!

She has been married seven times, but what she has done with her husbands I cannot tell. Her seventh still survives. Married seven times, but think of the many weddings, and still to live. I'll tell you Frank, if this is our lot we had better start in, so please take the lead and I will follow.

REMARKABLE ACCIDENT. One of the most remarkable accidents we have ever heard of, says the "Plainedealer," happened to Mr. G. W. Smith, of Douglas county, on Wednesday last. During a temporary lull in the rain storm, when the sun shone warmly, Mr. Smith took his gun and strolled off over the hills, hunting for some game, and seeing none, he turned his steps homeward. While walking along a shady hill side where a little snow yet lay, he discovered the fresh imprints of a bear's feet. They led him over hill and valley for about two miles and disappeared in a dense jungle. When half way across he heard a slight noise behind him. He turned quickly and saw the object he was in search of, walking leisurely toward him, and not more than thirty feet distant. To say that Mr. Smith was slightly agitated would perhaps be superfluous; but he raised his gun and fired. In his excitement his aim was not unerring—the ball but grazed the cinnamon's flank. This wound, though slight, aroused the animal's ire and in a moment, before the rifle could be aimed, he sprang at the hunter. With one sweep of his powerful paw he sent the weapon flying through space. Just as brain was about to commence the savage-grinding operation the clear report of a rifle was heard. The bear gave a convulsive shudder, staggered toward the hunter and dropped dead. Smith was of course overjoyed that assistance had reached him, and went to the spot where he supposed his rescuer was concealed; but no person met his sight. There lay his rifle, but no human was visible. He picked it up, and walked to where the bear lay. The animal was stone dead. Shot through the heart, he had not a single bullet.

found but eight bullets. He was confident that he had placed ten bullets in the magazine before starting from home, and that he had shot but once. It was plain then that a bullet from his own gun, which had exploded when it struck the ground, had saved his life. Mr. Smith has the bear's hide, which he intends keeping as a memento of the fight. The rifle he will never part with.

CAN A MAN HARRY HIMSELF?

On the 29th of November, 1831, the Rev. Samuel Beamish, of Cork, being then in holy orders, went to the house of a milliner named Ann Lyons, in the city of Cork, and there, in a place where he believed there was no witness, performed a ceremony of marriage between himself and a young woman named Isabella Frazer. The ceremony was witnessed by a female named Catherine Coffey, without the knowledge of the contracting parties, and solely from curiosity, saw it going on through a window from an adjoining back yard, though she did not hear what was said by either party.

Isabella Frazer gave birth to a son in 1841, and in 1844 the Rev. Mr. Beamish died intestate. It was then contended by a brother of the reverend gentleman that the marriage was invalid, and that the boy was, therefore, illegitimate; and could not succeed to his father's property. This question occupied the attention of the Irish law courts for two years, but it was at length and finally decided that the marriage was valid in Ireland.

Burdette, the Burlington "Hawkeye" man, whose witty paragraphs are published far and wide, says that all funny men are sad. He, himself, is one of the most melancholly of men, and when he feels the "bluest" the brightest and funniest of his paragraphs are written. Of other writers it is said they pen their most cutting criticisms when in the best of humor. With a smile on their faces they will write articles which cut to the quick.

OREGON MILITARY ROAD COMPANY. We had a call on Monday, from Mr. Strong, agent of the San Francisco capitalists who purchased the land belonging to the old Pengra wagon road company leading through the Klamath Lake country from Eugene City to the East side of the line. He claims that the San Francisco capitalists bought the land, and that if any fraud has been committed, that the purchasers of the land grant are not the guilty perpetrators, and that the road had been accepted as completed by the Governors of Oregon several years ago, in accordance with the act granting the franchise. From other parties, however, we learn that the road has not been built as required by the Act, and that in place of claiming the land for the portion built near Eugene City, the company file on the land nearly 300 miles from where the work has been done. If the California capitalists headed by John Boggs buy an Oregon fraud for which the land is granted, they ought to be obliged to take their chances for lieu lands until they prove up a completion of the road of about 400 miles in length. —Yreka "Journal."

BLACK HILLS DRAMATIC CRITICISM. We would say, and it is the least and most that we can say, that Miss Fannie Pierce's rendition of "Camille" Saturday night, was indifferent. Her positions are not good in her passion scenes; when she should swell out like she sinks in like a gulch. It is right in this country. We know the audience here. We know the fine-spun crowd that she would ter back East, and when she shed her feelings up to a front when her lovers back was turned. This won't do for a frontier audience; and Miss Pierce will probably thank us for this suggestion. We make it for her benefit. The character of "Camille" is way up when the right conception of it is presented by the actress. Clara Morris would make a mule kick its driver—if the said animal would allow her to look upon her—but Fannie Pierce excites none of the human passions by her representation.

FEATURE OF SUPERIORITY. The superiority of WHITE'S PINKETTS PLEASANT FOR DIETETIC OF THE STOMACH, LIVER and BLOOD consists in its uniting harmoniously with the gastric juice, strengthening and enabling it at once to dissolve the food. Should have pretty teeth in them, but it is not unusual to see between rosy lips, teeth discolored and decaying through neglect. This disfiguring defect should be repaired without delay, by using fragrant SOZODONT, which removes every particle of tartar from the teeth and renders them snowy white. This admirable aid to beauty is perfectly harmless and exhales a most delightful aroma, and is in every respect preferable to the ordinary tooth pastes and powders. Try it and see for yourself!
