

Oregon Sentinel

Table with advertising rates for various durations and columns.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

J. W. ROBINSON, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

I. DANFORTH, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

G. H. AIKEN, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

MARTIN VROOMAN, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

CHAS. J. HOWARD, COUNTY AND MINERAL SURVEYOR, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

E. H. AUFENRIETH, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

B. F. DOWELL, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

WILL JACKSON, DENTIST, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

BERTHOLD ROSTEL, Asst. SURGEON of the German Army, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

PROFESSIONAL HAIR-CUTTER, IN ORTH'S BUILDING, JACKSONVILLE, OREGON.

GIBBS & STEARNS, ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELLORS, PORTLAND, OREGON.

BIG BUTTE STEAM SAW-MILL, J. P. PARKER, BIG BUTTE, OGN.

EDGING, MOULDING, RUSTIC, SIDING, FLOORING, SHINGLES, ETC.

FOR THE CHEAP, et Drugs and Patent Medicines

CITY MARKET,

CALIFORNIA ST., WILLIAM BYBEE, Proprietor.

THIS WELL KNOWN MARKET, OPPOSITE KAHLER & BRO'S DRUGSTORE is better prepared than ever to furnish the public with the choicest quality of FRESH BEEF.

PORK, VEAL, MUTTON, HAM, SALT MEATS, BACON, Superior, SAUSAGE, LARD, ETC.

CITY BARBER SHOP AND BATH ROOMS.

CALIFORNIA ST., Jacksonville, Oregon

THE UNDERSIGNED IS FULLY prepared to do all work in his line in the best manner and at reasonable prices.

HOT OR COLD BATHS Can be had at this place at all hours of the day. GEORGE SCHUMPE.

NEW STATE HOTEL.

C. W. SAVAGE, Prop., JACKSONVILLE, OGN.

THE UNDERSIGNED TAKES PLEAS- ure in announcing that he has fitted up and thoroughly renovated the New State building for hotel purposes and that the house is now open for the reception of guests.

THE TABLE will be constantly supplied with the best market affords. Meals can be obtained at all times.

JOS. H. HYZER, HOUSE, SIGN, CARRIAGE AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER,

Jacksonville, Oregon

P. DONEGAN GENERAL BLACKSMITHING

AND HORSE SHOEING, COR. OF SECOND AND CALIFORNIA ST.

ALL KINDS OF MARKETABLE produce taken in exchange for work

P. DONEGAN.

BLACKSMITHING! DAVE CRONEMER.

BACK AT THE OLD STAND.

I AM NOW PREPARED TO DO ALL work in my line cheaper than ever, and in fact will do it cheaper than any other shop in Southern Oregon.

KAHLER BROTHERS. DEALERS IN

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

UNION HOTEL, Kerbyville, Oregon.

M. Ryder, Propr.

FIRST CLASS ACCOMMODATION CAN always be had at this house at the most reasonable rates.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF CUT-MILLERS.

CITY BAKERY AND SALOON.

IN MASONIC BUILDING, OREGON ST., JACKSONVILLE, OGN.

THE UNDERSIGNED HEREBY DE- sires to announce to the public that they are now prepared to furnish for cakes of every description, such as wedding cakes, cakes for parties, wine cakes, also brown and rye bread, ginger snaps and crackers.

A lunch house will also be kept at this place. Where oysters in all styles, Limburger and Schweitz cheese, can be had at all hours of the day or night.

Prices reasonable and satisfaction guaranteed.

GROB & ULRICH.

TABLE ROCK SALOON,

OREGON STREET, WINTJEN and HELMS, PROPRIETORS.

THE PROPRIETORS OF THIS well known and popular resort, would inform their friends and the public generally that a complete and first class stock of the best brands of liquors, wines, cigars, etc., and porter, etc., are constantly kept on hand.

A Cabinet of Curiosities may also be found here. We would be pleased to have persons possessing curiosities and specimens bring them in, and we will place them in the Cabinet for inspection.

WINTJEN & HELMS.

Criterion Billiard Saloon!

CALIFORNIA ST., Noland & McDaniel Props

THIS POPULAR RESORT, UNDER a new management, is furnished with the best brands of liquors, wines, cigars, etc., and porter, etc., and is supplied with Eastern fruit, delicacies and leading papers of the Coast. Give me a call.

S. P. HANNA, WAGON-MAKER,

Jacksonville, Oregon,

IN CRONEMER'S BUILDING IS IN receipt of a full assortment of material and prepared to do all work in his line on short notice and in a workmanlike manner. Vehicles of every description made to order. Terms reasonable and satisfaction guaranteed.

RE-OPENED! JACOB MEYER.

PIONEER WAGON-MAKER, HAS RESUMED BUSINESS AT the stand of the late J. L. Badger and is prepared to execute all work in his line with promptness and dispatch and at very reasonable rates.

F. RITSCHARD, PRACTICAL WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER, California Street Jacksonville -- Oregon.

MAKES A SPECIALTY OF CLEAN- ing and repairing watches and clocks. Charges reasonable. Give him a call.

DR. SPINNEY & CO., SPECIALISTS, No. 11, Kearney Street

TREAT ALL CHRONIC AND PRIVATE DIS- eases without the aid of surgery. Office hours--9 A. M. to 12 M. and 2 to 6 P. M. Consultations Free. Sundays excepted. Consultations free. Call or ad- dress Dr. A. P. SPINNEY & CO., No. 11, Kearney Street, San Francisco.

WALDO EXPRESS, Carrying U.S. Mails Leaves Jacksonville MONDAYS AND THURSDAY FOR WALDO. LEAVES WALDO, Tuesdays and Fridays.

First-class accommodations for passen- gers. Express business promptly attended to by R. M. GARRETT.

NEW LIVERY STABLE BACK OF COURT HOUSE. MANNING AND WEBB, Proprietor.

HAVING LATELY FITTED UP THE COM- plete new livery on the School House Flat, and in the rear of the Court House. We are now fully prepared to attend to all business in our line with promptness and dispatch and at the most reasonable rates.

Fine Turnouts The stable is furnished with the best animals and most substantial harness; also a first class hack and saddle horses. Horses boarded, and the best care bestowed on them. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. Give us a call and judge for yourselves. J. W. MANNING. Jacksonville, April 10th, 1879.

NEW GUNS MADE TO ORDER and repaired properly done by MILLER.

REAMESBROS.,

CALIFORNIA ST., Jacksonville, Oregon.

AHEAD AS USUAL!! BY ADOPTING

A CASH BASIS!!

THE GREATEST REDUCTION IN PRICES

AND THE LARGEST STOCK

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

GREATEST VARIETY TO SELECT FROM IN

Any One Store in Southern Oregon or Northern California.

ALL FOR CASH!!

OUR STOCK CONSISTS OF

FALL & WINTER DRY-GOODS, FANCY GOODS, LADIES' DRESS GOODS, CASHMERE, AND DIAGONALS, SILKS, AND SATINS, BOOTS & SHOES, CLOTHING, ETC., LADIES' CL. MADE CLOAKS

WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE Ladies to the fact that we have now on hand the largest and best selected assortment of LADIES' DRESS GOODS and FANCY GOODS of every description in Southern Oregon, and we will here-forth make this line of goods our speciality and sell them at Cheaper than the Cheapest.

To the gentlemen we will say, if you want a No. 1 SUIT OF CLOTHES you must go to Reames Bros. to buy them as we claim to have the best STOCK OF CLOTHING in Jackson county and will allow none to undersell us.

These goods were all purchased by a member of our firm from FIRST CLASS HOUSES in San Francisco and New York, and we will sell them every article and sell them as cheap for cash as any house in the country. We also keep on hand a full stock of GROCERIES, HARDWARE, CUTLERY, GLASSWARE, CROCKERY.

A FULL LIFE OF ASHLAND GOODS

FAHM AND FREIGHT WAGONS Plows, Gang Plows & Sulky Plows

In fact everything from the finest needle to a threshing-machine. Give us a call and judge for yourselves as to our capacity of furnishing goods as above. The way to make money is to save it. To save it buy cheap. To buy cheap pay CASH for your goods and buy of REAMES BROS.

NEW LIVERY STABLE BACK OF COURT HOUSE. MANNING AND WEBB, Proprietor.

HAVING LATELY FITTED UP THE COM- plete new livery on the School House Flat, and in the rear of the Court House. We are now fully prepared to attend to all business in our line with promptness and dispatch and at the most reasonable rates.

Fine Turnouts The stable is furnished with the best animals and most substantial harness; also a first class hack and saddle horses. Horses boarded, and the best care bestowed on them. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. Give us a call and judge for yourselves. J. W. MANNING. Jacksonville, April 10th, 1879.

NEW GUNS MADE TO ORDER and repaired properly done by MILLER.

A FULL LIFE OF ASHLAND GOODS

EUREKA MILLS, SITUATED ON BEAR CREEK SEVEN miles north-east of Jacksonville, are prepared to a general

Merchant and Exchange Business. The undersigned will give 36 pounds of flour, 7 pounds shorts and 8 pounds bran for every bushel of wheat. Will also sack our customers furnishing sacks. Satisfaction Guaranteed. T. T. MCKENZIE

Slate Creek House, SLATE CREEK, OGN., J. I. KNIGHT, - - - PROP'R.

THE UNDERSIGNED HEREBY gives notice to the traveling public that first-class accommodations can always be had at this house, and no pains spared to make a visit agreeable. The bar will always be supplied with the best of liquors and cigars. J. I. KNIGHT.

IF YOU WANT A LARGE STOCK OF PERFUM- ery and fancy soaps to select from go to Kahler & Bro's and if they don't have what you want they will make it, or anything else generally got up at drug stores. KAHLER BROS.

AN ELEGANT ASSORTMENT OF POCKET AND Table Cutlery for sale by JOHN MILLER.

WOOL, WOOL !!

TO THE WOOL GROWERS

OF Northern California and Southern Oregon.

A NEW ERA HAS DAWNED UPON you. An enterprise has been started in your midst which insures to you full value for your product. You can sell your product at

THE WOOL LOUSE

OF CONE & WELTON, IN RED BLUFF

For more than you can realize by shipping to San Francisco. We have bought Three Hundred Thousand bales this far this season and want Three Hundred Thousand more if we can get them. Don't fail to see us before you sell, and we will either buy your wool or see that you get more for it than it is worth in San Francisco.

OUR WOOL PRESSES Are turning out 100 compressed bales daily, and it takes wool to keep them going, so bring along your clips and get a good price for them, and help yourselves, and by so doing help us to keep the ball rolling and presses going. Enterprise should be encouraged and encouraged, especially where it benefits the country. Bring on your wool, and get the highest market value. We want it all. CONE & WELTON. Red Bluff, May 16th, 1879.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS IS THE REWARD OF ALL WHO visit these famous

Mineral Springs. Twelve miles East of Ashland. The wa-

MEDICAL PROPERTIES GREAT CURATIVE POWERS. BUT is also delicious as a beverage. The hot-lot at the Springs is kept by Mr. & Mrs. D. C. Courtney, and affords all the conveniences and comforts required by the most fastidious.

Good Pasturage. For horses, and all charges reasonable. Good hunting and Trout Fishing. Facilities near by, and everything to make a visit to the Soda Springs pleasant to either the athlete or invalid. MR. & MRS. D. C. COURTNEY.

THE ASHLAND Woolen Manufacturing Co. Take pleasure in announcing that they now have on hand, a full and select stock of

BLANKETS, FLANNELS, CASSIMERES, DOCKINGS AND HOSIERY, Made of the very best NATIVE WOOL

And of which they will dispose at very reasonable rates. Orders from a distance will receive prompt attention. Send them in and give our goods a trial. ASHLAND WOOLEN MFG CO.

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY FOR JULY.

The opening number of the eighth volume of this deservedly popular magazine is one of the most brilliant yet issued. The articles are by some of our ablest writers, are of great interest and replete with information and instruction. Principally, Royal and Imperial, by W. S. Chase, has twelve admirable illustrations; and the following are articles of peculiar excellence: "The progress of New York," by Hon. Erastus Brooks; "Religious Processions," "Three Continents in Three Weeks," "Great Guns," "Labor past and present," by Frank H. Norton; etc. The departments of fiction presents unwonted attractions. The admirable serial, "A gilded Pill," is concluded; and there are a number of short stories by Annie Thomas, Jane G. Austin C. D. Beebe, and other favorite writers well written and deeply interesting. The poems are not numerous, but they have the ring of true poetry, and are beautifully illustrated. There are innumerable paragraphs and brief articles on various subjects of interest; in fact, the miscellany is so comprehensive, and of such a varied character, that no one can fail to find something to entertain or instruct. Each number of this publication contains 128 quarto pages, and the present one is embellished with over 100 illustrations and a beautiful chromo frontispiece. "The Dedouin and his Dying Steed," the annual subscription is only $3 and a single copy is only 10 cents.

paid. A specimen copy will be sent on receipt of that sum. Address, Frank Leslie's publishing House 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York.

HARBOR OF REFUGE.—The San Francisco "News Letter" winds up an article on the Harbor of Refuge located at Crescent City, as follows: Crescent City harbor is about midway between San Francisco and the Columbia river and if a suitable break-water were established there, disabled vessels could be readily repaired at a comparatively trifling expense, the long line of beach offering peculiar facilities not yet enjoyed by any of the other ports named. Again, all the sailors agree that the entrance to a harbor of refuge on this coast should be from the southward, and this desideratum is completely attained at Crescent City. This being, therefore perfectly practicable from a nautical point of view, the gentlemen of the appointed Commission have to consider the commercial advantages of the competing localities and with all confidence they may assume that Crescent City "has more of these than all other locations combined."

FAVORABLE.—By the opinion of commanders of vessels called before the Board of Engineers, for the purpose of ascertaining the best location for the proposed Harbor of Refuge, it seems that Crescent City has a preference over all others, as there are but few out of the many reports made which do not include this place as a good, or the best place for the breakwater, and if the local benefits are considered, which certainly must be a fair decision is rendered, this place is certain to win the prize.—"Crescent City Courier."

Once upon a time the mule, without having received an invitation, attended a Convention of animals, that was called for the purpose of discussing the best methods of family government. "What do you know about all this?" asked the President, tauntingly; "have you ever raised any children?" The mule said, "Ah no," she said, "I have never raised any thing except full-grown men. But, hand of the Pilgrims, you should have seen how I raised them; you should have seen me raise a man that weighed as much as David Davis.

Upon a rising vote the mule was immediately elected Financial Secretary, with the power to send for persons and papers,

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY FOR JULY.

The opening number of the eighth volume of this deservedly popular magazine is one of the most brilliant yet issued. The articles are by some of our ablest writers, are of great interest and replete with information and instruction. Principally, Royal and Imperial, by W. S. Chase, has twelve admirable illustrations; and the following are articles of peculiar excellence: "The progress of New York," by Hon. Erastus Brooks; "Religious Processions," "Three Continents in Three Weeks," "Great Guns," "Labor past and present," by Frank H. Norton; etc. The departments of fiction presents unwonted attractions. The admirable serial, "A gilded Pill," is concluded; and there are a number of short stories by Annie Thomas, Jane G. Austin C. D. Beebe, and other favorite writers well written and deeply interesting. The poems are not numerous, but they have the ring of true poetry, and are beautifully illustrated. There are innumerable paragraphs and brief articles on various subjects of interest; in fact, the miscellany is so comprehensive, and of such a varied character, that no one can fail to find something to entertain or instruct. Each number of this publication contains 128 quarto pages, and the present one is embellished with over 100 illustrations and a beautiful chromo frontispiece. "The Dedouin and his Dying Steed," the annual subscription is only $3 and a single copy is only 10 cents.

paid. A specimen copy will be sent on receipt of that sum. Address, Frank Leslie's publishing House 53, 55, and 57 Park Place, New York.

HARBOR OF REFUGE.—The San Francisco "News Letter" winds up an article on the Harbor of Refuge located at Crescent City, as follows: Crescent City harbor is about midway between San Francisco and the Columbia river and if a suitable break-water were established there, disabled vessels could be readily repaired at a comparatively trifling expense, the long line of beach offering peculiar facilities not yet enjoyed by any of the other ports named. Again, all the sailors agree that the entrance to a harbor of refuge on this coast should be from the southward, and this desideratum is completely attained at Crescent City. This being, therefore perfectly practicable from a nautical point of view, the gentlemen of the appointed Commission have to consider the commercial advantages of the competing localities and with all confidence they may assume that Crescent City "has more of these than all other locations combined."

FAVORABLE.—By the opinion of commanders of vessels called before the Board of Engineers, for the purpose of ascertaining the best location for the proposed Harbor of Refuge, it seems that Crescent City has a preference over all others, as there are but few out of the many reports made which do not include this place as a good, or the best place for the breakwater, and if the local benefits are considered, which certainly must be a fair decision is rendered, this place is certain to win the prize.—"Crescent City Courier."

Once upon a time the mule, without having received an invitation, attended a Convention of animals, that was called for the purpose of discussing the best methods of family government. "What do you know about all this?" asked the President, tauntingly; "have you ever raised any children?" The mule said, "Ah no," she said, "I have never raised any thing except full-grown men. But, hand of the Pilgrims, you should have seen how I raised them; you should have seen me raise a man that weighed as much as David Davis.

Upon a rising vote the mule was immediately elected Financial Secretary, with the power to send for persons and papers,

Strange mischances with fatal results are daily happening here and there. A Boston butcher ran against a knife that lay on a block severed an artery, and bled to death. A Denver woman caught her foot in a railroad frog, and could not get loose before a train ran over her. A Vermont farmer sneezed with a straw in his mouth, drew it into his lungs, and died. A horse kicked a Michigan boy into a well, where he was drowned. The shoe flew off the foot of a kicking mule, in Nashville and fractured the skull of a baby. An Ohio girl swallowed her engagement ring and lived only a week afterward. While standing on his head on the top of a high fence post an Iowa boy lost his balance, fell into a tub of hot water, and was fatally scalded. A stone, thrown by a playfellow, broke a glass from which a St. Louis boy was drinking, driving some of the pieces down his throat, and he died a few days afterwards in great agony. Looking up to watch the flight of an arrow, a Nashville woman did not see it descending directly over her head, and the sharp metal point penetrating her brain through one of her eyes, killing her instantly.

The following paragraph from Bret Harte's new story, "An episode of Fiddle town," in Scribner for September, 1873, might be called a prose version of The Heathen Chinese:

On the road to Sacramento he was twice playfully thrown off the top of the stagecoach by an intelligent but deeply intoxicated Caucasian, whose moral nature was shocked at riding with one addicted to opium smoking. At Hangtown he was beaten by passing strangers—purely an act of Christian supererogation. At Dutch Flat he was robbed by well known hands from unknown hands from unknown motives. At Sacramento he was arrested on suspicion of being something or other and discharged with a severe reprimand—possibly for not being it and so delaying the course of justice. At San Francisco he was freely stoned by children from the public schools but by carefully avoiding the monuments of enlightened progress he at last reached in comparative safety the Chinese quarters, where, his abuse was confined to the police and limited by the strong arm of the law.

FAVORABLE.—By the opinion of commanders of vessels called before the Board of Engineers, for the purpose of ascertaining the best location for the proposed Harbor of Refuge, it seems that Crescent City has a preference over all others, as there are but few out of the many reports made which do not include this place as a good, or the best place for the breakwater, and if the local benefits are considered, which certainly must be a fair decision is rendered, this place is certain to win the prize.—"Crescent City Courier."

Once upon a time the mule, without having received an invitation, attended a Convention of animals, that was called for the purpose of discussing the best methods of family government. "What do you know about all this?" asked the President, tauntingly; "have you ever raised any children?" The mule said, "Ah no," she said, "I have never raised any thing except full-grown men. But, hand of the Pilgrims, you should have seen how I raised them; you should have seen me raise a man that weighed as much as David Davis.

Upon a rising vote the mule was immediately elected Financial Secretary, with the power to send for persons and papers,

Strange mischances with fatal results are daily happening here and there. A Boston butcher ran against a knife that lay on a block severed an artery, and bled to death. A Denver woman caught her foot in a railroad frog, and could not get loose before a train ran over her. A Vermont farmer sneezed with a straw in his mouth, drew it into his lungs, and died. A horse kicked a Michigan boy into a well, where he was drowned. The shoe flew off the foot of a kicking mule, in Nashville and fractured the skull of a baby. An Ohio girl swallowed her engagement ring and lived only a week afterward. While standing on his head on the top of a high fence post an Iowa boy lost his balance, fell into a tub of hot water, and was fatally scalded. A stone, thrown by a playfellow, broke a glass from which a St. Louis boy was drinking, driving some of the pieces down his throat, and he died a few days afterwards in great agony. Looking up to watch the flight of an arrow, a Nashville woman did not see it descending directly over her head, and the sharp metal point penetrating her brain through one of her eyes, killing her instantly.

The following paragraph from Bret Harte's new story, "An episode of Fiddle town," in Scribner for September, 1873, might be called a prose version of The Heathen Chinese:

On the road to Sacramento he was twice playfully thrown off the top of the stagecoach by an intelligent but deeply intoxicated Caucasian, whose moral nature was shocked at riding with one addicted to opium smoking. At Hangtown he was beaten by passing strangers—purely an act of Christian supererogation. At Dutch Flat he was robbed by well known hands from unknown hands from unknown motives. At Sacramento he was arrested on suspicion of being something or other and discharged with a severe reprimand—possibly for not being it and so delaying the course of justice. At San Francisco he was freely stoned by children from the public schools but by carefully avoiding the monuments of enlightened progress he at last reached in comparative safety the Chinese quarters, where, his abuse was confined to the police and limited by the strong arm of the law.

FAVORABLE.—By the opinion of commanders of vessels called before the Board of Engineers, for the purpose of ascertaining the best location for the proposed Harbor of Refuge, it seems that Crescent City has a preference over all others, as there are but few out of the many reports made which do not include this place as a good, or the best place for the breakwater, and if the local benefits are considered, which certainly must be a fair decision is rendered, this place is certain to win the prize.—"Crescent City Courier."

Once upon a time the mule, without having received an invitation, attended a Convention of animals, that was called for the purpose of discussing the best methods of family government. "What do you know about all this?" asked the President, tauntingly; "have you ever raised any children?" The mule said, "Ah no," she said, "I have never raised any thing except full-grown men. But, hand of the Pilgrims, you should have seen how I raised them; you should have seen me raise a man that weighed as much as David Davis.

Upon a rising vote the mule was immediately elected Financial Secretary, with the power to send for persons and papers,

Strange mischances with fatal results are daily happening here and there. A Boston butcher ran against a knife that lay on a block severed an artery, and bled to death. A Denver woman caught her foot in a railroad frog, and could not get loose before a train ran over her. A Vermont farmer sneezed with a straw in his mouth, drew it into his lungs, and died. A horse kicked a Michigan boy into a well, where he was drowned. The shoe flew off the foot of a kicking mule, in Nashville and fractured the skull of a baby. An Ohio girl swallowed her engagement ring and lived only a week afterward. While standing on his head on the top of a high fence post an Iowa boy lost his balance, fell into a tub of hot water, and was fatally scalded. A stone, thrown by a playfellow, broke a glass from which a St. Louis boy was drinking, driving some of the pieces down his throat, and he died a few days afterwards in great agony. Looking up to watch the flight of an arrow, a Nashville woman did not see it descending directly over her head, and the sharp metal point penetrating her brain through one of her eyes, killing her instantly.

The following paragraph from Bret Harte's new story, "An episode of Fiddle town," in Scribner for September, 1873, might be called a prose version of The Heathen Chinese:

On the road to Sacramento he was twice playfully thrown off the top of the stagecoach by an intelligent but deeply intoxicated Caucasian, whose moral nature was shocked at riding with one addicted to opium smoking. At Hangtown he was beaten by passing strangers—purely an act of Christian supererogation. At Dutch Flat he was robbed by well known hands from unknown hands from unknown motives. At Sacramento he was arrested on suspicion of being something or other and discharged with a severe reprimand—possibly for not being it and so delaying the course of justice. At San Francisco he was freely stoned by children from the public schools but by carefully avoiding the monuments of enlightened progress he at last reached in comparative safety the Chinese quarters, where, his abuse was confined to the police and limited by the strong arm of the law.

FAVORABLE.—By the opinion of commanders of vessels called before the Board of Engineers, for the purpose of ascertaining the best location for the proposed Harbor of Refuge, it seems that Crescent City has a preference over all others, as there are but few out of the many reports made which do not include this place as a good, or the best place for the breakwater, and if the local benefits are considered, which certainly must be a fair decision is rendered, this place is certain to win the prize.—"Crescent City Courier."

Once upon a time the mule, without having received an invitation, attended a Convention of animals, that was called for the purpose of discussing the best methods of family government. "What do you know about all this?" asked the President, tauntingly; "have you ever raised any children?" The mule said, "Ah no," she said, "I have never raised any thing except full-grown men. But, hand of the Pilgrims, you should have seen how I raised them; you should have seen me raise a man that weighed as much as David Davis.

Upon a rising vote the mule was immediately elected Financial Secretary, with the power to send for persons and papers,

Strange mischances with fatal results are daily happening here and there. A Boston butcher ran against a knife that lay on a block severed an artery, and bled to death. A Denver woman caught her foot in a railroad frog, and could not get loose before a train ran over her. A Vermont farmer sneezed with a straw in his mouth, drew it into his lungs, and died. A horse kicked a Michigan boy into a well, where he was drowned. The shoe flew off the foot of a kicking mule, in Nashville and fractured the skull of a baby. An Ohio girl swallowed her engagement ring and lived only a week afterward. While standing on his head on the top of a high fence post an Iowa boy lost his balance, fell into a tub of hot water, and was fatally scalded. A stone, thrown by a playfellow, broke a glass from which a St. Louis boy was drinking, driving some of the pieces down his throat, and he died a few days afterwards in great agony. Looking up to watch the flight of an arrow, a Nashville woman did not