ENCOURAGING REPORT.

Rev. H. K. Hines, having recently returned from a trip to the East, addresses a letter to the "Mountaineer," in which he draws the following hopeful picture: First. As to the general condition of the country: It may be raid truly that this was never more hopeful and prosperous than now. The general feeling among merchants and ruary, 1880, and answer the supplementall classes of business men is that the publication be made in the OREGON SEN country has just entered on a career of the next term of this court, to-wit, unprecedented prosperity. Exchanges are largely in our favor; our currency and you are notified that if you fail to ans is stable, securities are abundant and good, and, as a result, trade of all kinds is booming. For four years consecu- against the defendants A. W. Hawkett, E. tively I have visited New York at the purchase of the mining claims and water ditches and privileges and improvements could draw an intelligent contrast. I thereto belonging, known as the Taylor claims and Josephine mines and lands lysaw more business done in one day this ing on Rogue river, in Josephine county, Oregon, and the following described judgment liens on the same, namely: passed twice a day through Stewart's A note to Kaspar Kubli for. $ 382.68 great house on Broadway, and from A debt originally due Dan Green paid by Wm. Bybee for along the walks and at the counters was jammed with invoices being received and bills delivered. It was a Difference between $1,432 and $1,great army of men in the marches of prosperous trade. This was only one: the whole city was like it.

Second. Oregon is attracting much more attention than ever before. I received hundreds of inquiries about every department of industry, about soil, climate, productions, about railroad and wit, $3,000. navigation facilities, and the unusual Northwest was to be the seat of comfrom Chicago, including Illinois, Iowa, and travel must take the shorter line from the bend of the Columbia at or near Umatilla, nearly over the old emigrant route to its objective points on igrant of the conjugation of the columbia at or belonging or appertaining. And the defendants will be compelled to pay the costs, expenses and disbursements of this uit and equitable relief generally will be conjugated.

At one of the defendants right, title and interest of the defendants of the conjugate of the conjugate of the conjugate of the columbia at or belonging or appertaining. And the defendants of the conjugate of the With its unquestionably easier grades, its almost continuous line of valleys and its vast producing capability, this seems destined, at the end, as at the In the matter of the partnership of W. A. A. first to be the great highway of the trade of nations. To-day, if from Ogden or vicinity to the Columbia river day of December A. D. 1879, appointed the journey could be made by rail, more than half the overland travel nership estate of W. A. A. Hamilton; dewould flow towards Oregon. Such is my opinion after a careful inquiry and observation. And Oregon is losing more to-day from deflections which other interests seem to have ordained from this great direct line than can be easily estimated. Still, time will bring this to pass.

THE NEW NORTHWEST .- Steps are being taken to construct 200 miles of In the County Court of the State of Oregon. narrow-gauge railroad through Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory In the matter of the estate of Jacob Milduring the ensuing year. The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company has the enterprise in hand, and steel rails, locomotives and equipments have been purchased for the purpose. The great grain-producing regions of the New Northwest are to be placed in communication with the commercial world by way of the Northern Pacific Railroad. It is impossible to overestimate the awakening that is in store for that splendid but undeveloped country. Within a few years astonishing changes will occur. The present march of progress renders such a result inevitable .- "San Francisco Chronicle."

POLITICAL DISCOVERY .- Technicalities being the order of the day, many of the members of Congress are in a fair way of having their seats contested on the score of ineligibility. Peter Cooper, the aged humanitarian of the East, has lately re-read the act of the Congress of 1793, and taking said law as a basis, Mr. Cooper says, that no man who owns bank stock or is an officer of a banking institution can be a member of Congress. This law, sanctioned by Washton and Adams, was never repealed and will have the effect of clearing the per thonsand. the halls of Congress of about one fourth of its members.
