TRAINING SCHOOLS OF COOKERY.

The bureau of Education is sending out some very interesting pamphlets dealing with special topics, and among the latest of them is a "circular of information," giving a mass of statistics about training schools for cooking. It is very encouraging to note the progress that has been made in this regard. The importance of good cooking has been receiving a wider recognition than ever before in the history of the world, during the past five years. In that time training schools for cooking have been established in England, Scotland, New York, Illinois, Boston, Tennessee; Kansas, Iowa, North Carolina, Washington, D. C., Indiana, and several other places, and everywhere the best and most practical results have been obtained. Perhaps the most useful of all the instruction given has been that afforded the poorer classes. Thus, in several Eastern cities, Miss Corson has shown the wives and daughters of mechanics how to market how to prepare simple, cheap and appetizing dishes, and how to vary their diet without incurring fresh expense. It is gratifying, too, to find that the women for whose benefit these lessons are given fully appreciate their importance. It is, however the best indication of all that in several States schools of cooking have been added to the courses in the high schoo's and colleges, while in one or two it has been resolved to make such instruction a regular part of common school educacation. This is a sign of progressive ivilization which can hardly be overestimated. It is only the uncivilized who affect to despise the proper preparation of food. Cooking is a question of morals, of domestic happiness, of intellectual growth, in fact, of progress in every form. To recognize it, therefore, for what it is, and to give it its true place in the currriclum, is to the world moves indeed and that in this one respect the latter part of the nineteenth century is bevond all preceeding time. - "Rec. HOW NOT TO DO IT.

The tendency of Kearney's sand-lot speeches is out-lawry and mob violence. This is wrong. There is a strong general desire for an early departure of the Chinese. This desire is not confined to the laboring masses. It is felt by all classes. The sand-lot watch word, "The Chinese Must Go," is echoed by thousands who never trained and never will train under Kearney's banner. The anti-Chinese feeling grows stronger as the evils of coolie labor become more and more apparent. But this feeling may be easily eradicated. If Kearney should attempt what he threatens, he will convert thousands now sympathizing with the "unemployed" into the friends of the Chinese. One unlawful act-a single outrage will do this. This is a country in which the rights of all are maintained, The Chinese are here by virtue of a treaty, and so long as they obey our Municipal, State and Federal laws, those laws must protect them and their property. Nothing would do more to destroy the feeling now so strong against the Chinese than an unlawful attempt to eject them from the city. Kearney does not seem to realize this, but it is to be hoped that those whose influence is great with the masses understand what would follow an act of outlawry. The Chinese must go, but they must be made to go by legal process, not at the bidding of a lawless mob. The friends of white labor could not do the cause they support greater injury than to counsel a resort to violent measures for discouraging Chinese immigration.

A canvass of the Republicans of New York State Legislature in regard to the next Presidency shows the following result: Grant, 46; Grant or Blaine, 5; Blaine, 5; Blaine or Sherman 1. Sherman, 3; Conkling, 4; Garfield, 1; Washburne, 1; non-committal, 28.

SCROFULA.

Wonderful Cure of Blindness.

D. Bansom, Son & Co.: For the benefit of all troubled with Scrofula or Impure Blood in their systems, I hereby recommend King of the Blood. I have been troubled with Scrofula for the past ten years, which so affected my eyes that I was completely blind for six months. I was recommended to try King of the Blood, which has proved a great blessing to me, as it has completely cured me, and I cheerfully recommend it to all troubled as I have been.
