

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We are afraid Gen. Lane is too inquisitive to be a modern, "sterling Democrat". The old man wants to know what "Honest John" Whiteaker did with the ten shares he accepted as a bribe for voting for the Lock swindle, while a member of the Legislature. Now stand up Mr. Whiteaker and tell Gen. Lane as he has a right to know.

Our Democratic friends are busily engaged in a fruitless search for a "strong" man for Presidential candidature. If they can find a political Sampson whose spinal column will sustain treason, treachery, repudiation, subversion of popular will, "Governism" and "Garcelonism," admiration of Greeley and worship of Ben Butler, and opposition to the homestead act and other follies and crimes; they will find one stronger than he who pulled down the gates of Ghaza.

The "Plaindealer" speaks in the highest terms of the whole Republican ticket in Douglas county and three of the nominees, Colvig, Wright and Kimball are personally known to this deponent as gentlemen whose character and fitness for the positions they seek, cannot be questioned. Mr. Colvig has made a sensible and honest legislator and Mr. Wright, having served one term as Sheriff made himself deservedly popular. Mr. Kimball was long an efficient Clerk in the Land Office and is running against a man who will poll more than his party strength, having the advantage of incumbency.

Gen. Ewing has profited somewhat from the defeat he experienced in Ohio, but he has not turned from the error of his beliefs. He has merely been convicted that the only way for the Democracy to get into power is to assume a decency which it does not possess. So he says: "Let us make the best terms we can, and when we get the power wipe these laws—which have just been declared constitutional—from the statute book." That is the accepted Democratic doctrine on laws, claims and jobs of all kinds. "Lie low until the people are foolish enough to trust us," then we will clean out everything and have a high old time." Perhaps the country is simple to snuff at this, but it doesn't look so.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

The Republican State Convention that met in Portland on Wednesday last was unusually well attended, 166 delegates being present. The following ticket is presented for the suffrages of the people of Oregon in June. Congress, M. C. George. Supreme Judges, W. P. Lord of Marion, J. B. Waldo Multnomah, E. B. Watson of Jackson. Following are the district nominations: First District—Judge, C. W. Kaller. Prosecuting Attorney, A. P. Hammond. Second District—Judge, J. F. Watson. Prosecuting Attorney, J. A. Yantis. Third District—Judge, R. P. Boise. Prosecuting Attorney, W. G. Piper. Fourth District—Judge, R. Stott. Prosecuting Attorney, J. F. Caples. Fifth District—Judge, M. S. Olmstead. Prosecuting Attorney, F. P. Eakin.

For Presidential Electors: E. L. Applegate, Geo. B. Curry and C. B. Watson. Delegates to the National Convention: J. M. McCall, H. W. Scott, D. C. Ireland, S. K. Hanna, O. P. Toupin and Ex-Senator Mitchell. The Convention was in favor of Blaine.

The head of the ticket, Mr. George, is a young man of the finest ability, the most irreproachable character and is, without exception, the most eloquent orator in Oregon. Lord and Waldo have the reputation of being high in their profession and extremely well fitted for judicial positions. Judge Watson, of our own county, is known as a man of sterling character and first class legal ability, and those who surmise that he cannot grapple successfully with any legal question, reckon without their host. The ticket is composed of new men, selected with reference to character and fitness and without detracting from the ability or character of a portion of the opposite Supreme judicial ticket, we believe the above named gentlemen, if elected, which is at least probable, will fill their positions with honor and credit.

The "Tidings" speaking of the horror shown by the "Times" by the bare mention of political independence remarks:

"Now, to the editor of the 'Times' and other political aspirants who hope to obtain offices through their hold upon the strings that work the party 'jumping-jack' the idea of independence on the part of voters is alarming, it is detestable, they can endure it—interfere with their little plans."

'HONEST JOHN.'

The Oregon Democratic press only gives Representative Whiteaker a passing notice, generally saying, curtly that he is too well known to require any mention. The honest truth is that it is not safe to say too much about Mr. Whiteaker, as a very ugly fact has just been divulged regarding his legislative career by Hon. John M. Thompson, a prominent member of his own party. It is alleged that Whiteaker, who was an ardent supporter of the "Lock and Dam" bill, that robbed the School fund of Oregon of $200,000 was in suspicious possession of ten shares in the "Lock" company's stock immediately after the adjournment of the Legislature; that he acknowledged its possession; that these shares were represented for him by proxy at meetings of the company and that subsequently he sold three of them for $3,000 in cash. So strongly was General Lane impressed with the truth of the charge that he refused to vote for Whiteaker in the Democratic Convention, and on being interrogated by the editor of the Roseburg "Independent" he replied "that prominent Democrats and men of responsibility had informed him that it was within their power to prove that John Whiteaker while a member of the Oregon Legislature, had accepted a bribe, amounting in the end to $3,000." Now this charge is either true or false and a speedy and emphatic denial, backed by solid proof that Whiteaker is falsely accused should be forthcoming. We believe there are many Democrats in Oregon like Gen. Lane who do not desire to be represented in Congress by a bribe-taker and who will refuse to vote for Whiteaker unless he clears himself fully of this cloud of suspicion. It is said that he will not take part in the canvass and, if the above charge is true, it is little wonder that he is ashamed to look the people in the face and acknowledge that the falsely worn "soubriquet" of "honest" should be stripped from his name. If he does not face his constituency and by his own mouth disprove that he is guilty he may expect overwhelming defeat.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S VIEW OF IT.

Noticing the Republican State nominations, the "Times" placidly passes it by as follows: "We have not space to review the tickets thoroughly this week but will simply mark that it is in our opinion a very young men to be killed."

Very puerile affairs when the space of a little country paper is too valuable to accord it a more extended notice. It is observed, however, that the candidates are held guilty of two crimes: over ambition and youth. In the eyes of mankind, generally, ambition is worthy, admirable and one of the best of human instincts and the desire to reach position of honor prompts mankind to honorable conduct and fair dealing with each other. The sneer at the ambition of these young men is in perfect keeping with a recent mail from the "Times," begging people not to "scramble for office," and it is regarded as a crime for any person to seek a State position except he be in favor with the Bush-Thayer ring; or ask for a county office if he does not bow submissively to the little gang of self-constituted dictators, who assume the right to promise and bestow offices at will. In such case ambition is a grave offence because it interferes with the plans and designs of others who do not think themselves entitled to office for life. The allusion to the youth of the candidates must be taken as a little attempt at witicism, coming as it does from a young person who has not been three years a voter, and who, notoriously expects to bulldoze the Democracy of Jackson county into giving him the nomination of County Clerk. The youngest man on the ticket—Judge Watson—is twelve years his senior, and fully as old as Judge Prim was when he was first called to the Bench. When a man is of the constitutional age to make him eligible to the Presidency, the objections of our neighbor have no serious weight, and he might just as well come square out and give his real reasons why these "over ambitious young men" should be defeated.

"Judge L. L. McArthur acknowledged before the Albany convention, with shame and confusion of face, that he once favored repudiation."—"Bee."

"Oh, yshaw! That's nothing. A man may repudiate even his name, his race and his religion—and yet be a sterling Democrat."—"Catholic Sentinel." Strictly true, namesake; we have seen men in Jackson county, who hate Roman Catholicism as the Devil hates Holy water, sacrifice their religion more than once so that they might be considered "sterling democrats" but then there was money in it.

One of our leading business firms estimates the annual incoming freight of Jackson county at over twenty-five hundred tons annually.

THE DE YOUNG TRAGEDY.

The struggle between a bad man, who under the disguise of minister of Christ, but smirched and befouled with all things evil, has pushed himself into the first civic position in San Francisco, and a journalist who boldly stood between an impostor and the public has at last culminated in a bloody deed. There will be apologists for the slayer, no doubt, as there are always apologists for murder. So far, the reason given for the assassination of Mr. De Young is the alleged publication of a slander on the Kallach family. To plead this in justification, is to deny that the deceased was guilty of any crime or offense against the law for attempting to shoot the elder Kallach for slander so infamous that no journal dare publish his foul language. The murder of De Young was deliberate, and without justification, and if his slayer escape the gallows, there is no need for law, other than that which every individual must establish for himself, founded on the single principle of might. This crime is more than an ordinary one. The murdered man's greatest offense was a fearless discharge of a public duty. He was exposing a man whose life has been one of cruel lechery and rapacious greed, practiced under the sanctity of a holy profession. He may not have been over-scrupulous in showing the true character of Kallach and undoubtedly transcended temperate journalism, but the aggrieved party had his remedy, if the charges were false, and if they were true, he should have been in the State prison, instead of occupying the mayoralty of a great city. If the people of San Francisco desire peace they will rid themselves of the "Kallach" pest—strip from the elder, the honors he has disgraced and give the younger the hemp he deserves.

THE COUNTY POOR.

We have been shown a semi-official account of the manner of keeping indigent persons in Butte county, Cal., which will be placed at the disposal of our County Court and it is to be hoped that the experience of our sister State will be a profitable guide to ourselves. The average number of paupers is thirty. They are kept in a building owned by the county, in charge of a warden, nurses and a cook hired by the county, food, clothing and medicines are purchased by contract with the lowest bidder. A physician is employed separately and the average cost of keeping the poor amounts every item of expense connected with the institution, it only $3.50 per week, per capita. There is no land attached to the almshouse. Information from other counties shows that in nearly every one a building is provided by the county and the cost per head has even been reduced in several to $2.80 per week. For twenty years, the present system in Jackson county has been a subject of unfavorable comment and the public generally demand a radical change—one that will combine decent humanity and reasonable economy. All are in favor of building an almshouse and changing the system, and many of our heaviest tax-payers think it best that there should be a few acres of land attached, so the labor of the poor, able to do a little work, may be utilized, and if they can be decently kept in California for the price named they can certainly be kept here for $5 per week. Here is an opportunity for our County Court to show a disposition to reform an abuse. It is not a party question, the Court is composed of both parties, and if it can do no better than to continue a system universally recognized as a bad one, it will not be because the way has not been pointed out for them.

The financial plank of the Democratic State platform is neither fish, flesh nor fowl, and simply double dealing, and evident insincerity. It recognizes gold and silver as the only real and constitutional money, and then opposes any contraction of paper issues. If metallic money is the only lawful currency, then legal tenders and National bank notes are a fraud, that the Democratic party is not manly enough to condemn as unconstitutional. The "plank" is a fair sample of the stuff imposed on people as statesmanship and its object is easily penetrated.
