Law of Newspapers.

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

1. If any subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

2. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the offices to which they are directed, the law holds them responsible until they have settled the bills, and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publisher, and the newspapers are sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from this office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. The postmaster who neglects to give legal notice of the neglect of a person to take from the office a newspaper addressed to him, is liable to the publisher for the subscription price.

THE SKAGIT.

A Port Townsend dispatch of June 28th conveys the following about the Skagit country:

A gentleman of experience and reliability to-day returned from visiting the Skagit mines and reports the river booming. On Friday last the steamer Nellie could only make forty-seven miles above the mouth of the river, and passengers had to disembark at the delta and get to their destination as best they could. The river was rising at the rate of six to eight feet daily, and in many places was overflowing its banks. Indications show that some years ago the Skagit overflowed to an enormous extent, and there is every indication this year of an unusual freshet. He also reports an immense quantity of snow in the passes leading to the Skagit, all of which cannot be melted before October. Captain Oliver has arrived here with the schooner Eudora. He reports the sealing season as closed.

OREGON KIDNEY TEA.

Read the following testimonials, not from persons 3,000 miles away, whom nobody knows, but from well known and trustworthy citizens of Oregon, whose names, written with their own hands, can be seen at our office:

PENDLETON, Ogn., Jan. 12, 1880.

Having suffered with my kidneys, I was induced to try the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, which relieved me in a short time. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public as a safe remedy for kidney difficulties.

GEO. W. BAILEY,
County Judge of Umatilla.

SALEM, Ogn, January 20, 1880.

Some time ago, I bought a package of OREGON KIDNEY TEA, and after using it felt better than I had for years, and bought two boxes more, being unwilling to be without so valuable a medicine. My wife pronounces it the best kidney preparation in use. Alfred Stanton.

TRUE AS GOSPEL.—The newspaper advertisement, an exchange truthfully says, is a never-tiring worker in the interest of its employer. When the bill distributer has disappeared from the streets and his bills trampelled into pulp, the advertisement is performing its silent mission in the family circle. It appears to a constituency three or four times larger than the actual sale of the paper, for there are few newspapers which do not pass from hand to hand through three or four persons with every issue.—Elko "Post."

A speaker at a recent meeting of a Massachusetts Teachers' association said very aptly that too many teachers and pupils seem to entirely lose sight of the true end and aim of all study, and instead of teaching and studying to know, devote their energies to preparing for recitations and examinations, with little thought of anything beyond.

Speaking of William H. English, the Indianapolis "Journal" says: "If anybody thinks that he can carry Indiana they are woefully mistaken. The strongest man in his party could not carry the State this year, and he is far from the strongest man in his party."

The Fort Wayne "Gazette" says: "Garfield unites all shades of Republicans in Indiana. There will be no stay-at-home Republicans in that State this year. The general satisfaction of the ticket will bring out a full vote."
