

NOTICE

Land Office at Roseburg, Ore. June 28, 1880. Notice is hereby given that I have designated the OREGON SENTINEL as the paper in which I shall hereafter publish all pre-emptions, homestead and applications for mining patents for lands lying near Jacksonville, Jackson county, Oregon.

AUCTION SALE.—G. W. Mace will sell his band of goods at public auction on Saturday, August 14th, in lots to suit purchasers. He has over 300 head.

HAZY.—Our view of the distant mountains is obstructed, a heavy, hazy atmosphere completely enveloping them. The Indian summer seems to have set in a month earlier than last year. Nor is this smoky atmosphere caused by mountain fires.

NEW HOUSE.—Mr. E. Dimick, of Grants Pass, has just finished his new house at that place and is now prepared to entertain the traveling public. It is one of the neatest buildings in this end of the State and his table cannot be excelled anywhere. Give him a call when travelling that way.

ARCHBISHOP SIBBERS.—His Grace, Archbishop Chas. J. Siggers, who for the past three weeks has been making an Episcopal visitation at various points in the Lake country, and preached and celebrated mass in Lakeview July 18th, expects to be in Jacksonville the first week in August, on his way to the Willamette.

ICE CREAM.—Ice cream will be served by the ladies of the Presbyterian church at Ryan's Brick, opposite the New State Hotel, on Friday afternoon and evening and all day on Saturday next. It will be delicious, cooling, and the proceeds go to furnish the beautiful church now in course of construction.

STATE ELECTIONS.—The following States hold elections prior to the election for President: Alabama, first Monday of August; Arkansas, first Monday of September; Maine, second Monday of September; Colorado, first Tuesday of October; Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, second Tuesday of October.

CRESCENT CITY WAGON ROAD COMMITTEE.—The Crescent City Wagon Road committee will meet in Waldo today, where a complete report of the survey will be made and steps taken to organize a company under the laws of Oregon and California. This is an important meeting, and we hope to be able to give a report of its proceedings in our next.

BREAKS OF THE WEATHER.—The late rainstorm that visited this valley played some funny pranks. In Jacksonville and the valley below, as well as at the head of Little Applegate the rain came in torrents, whereas along Sterling down to Uniontown and points along Applegate it did not rain enough to interfere with haying which was then progressing in that part of the county.

WHIRLPOOL OF DEATH.—A whirlpool danced through the Northern portion of Jacksonville on Sunday afternoon which licked up all the dust and stable within reach. It was in a canal ship and moved with great rapidity; doors slammed, windows cracked and old bones trembled as if from the effect of an earthquake. The whirlpool cut to the top of the Methodist Church steeple when it burst.

C. OF H.—Zouave Council, No. 14, was legally organized by Dr. Coon July 18th, at Jerome Prairie, and the following officers installed: J. L. Wilder, W. C. Miss, F. Borrough, L. C. C. Wells, W. S. S. A. Borrough, M. C. J. B. Borrough, W. H. A. J. Johnson, F. S. J. Omer, V. Amos, P. W. C. W. T. Clemmons, W. T. Della Wells, W. M. J. Clemmons, W. W. A. V. A. V. Mox, J. J. Prather, L. Wells, and L. Wilder, Aids; C. Borrough, W. U.

A RUNAWAY TEAM.—On Tuesday afternoon while Joseph Rapp's team was standing in front of John Orlin's meat market, the horses from some cause or another took fright and ran down Oregon street at a terrific rate. They came to a halt in front of David Linn's residence, by running into a tree. The singletree of the wagon was broken and the harness badly damaged, but no other damage was done. We understand this is not the first time these horses attempted to run away.

HARVESTING IN APPLAGATE.—Wm. Bassy, one of the well-to-do farmers of Applegate precinct, was in town on Saturday. He says harvest began in that part of the county on the 19th inst. So far as he could see he found grain tolerably well filled, except in a few instances where the kernels of wheat, from some cause or another, appeared to be in a shrunk condition. Barley, he says, will yield more than an average crop. The late copious rains reported elsewhere in the county, failed to reach Missouri Flat.

A LEACHING CHURCH.—The late storm has left the M. E. Church at Phoenix in a pitiable plight. The high, thin wooden blocks, which were to serve as a foundation, have given way on one side so that the structure now stands completely lopsided. If it were not for the props supporting the leaning side of the building it would come down in a hurry. The house is the property of the M. E. Church, South. It has been built only recently but had not been completed. We understand the society is unable to rebuild.

About the only noticeable feature of the campaign in the East at present is the cooling of the Democratic enthusiasm for Hancock. It is easy to see that the ticket has been stronger than it ever will be again.

Charlotte and Charles Schieffelin left for their new home in Los Angeles on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Schieffelin will follow in about three weeks and Jacksonville will lose one of its old and most respected citizens.

Mr. English told the Democratic Committee that he fully realized the importance of the situation in Indiana. In his means, of course, that he will contribute more to the campaign fund than he did to the Chicago fire fund.

Hancock doesn't need it write a letter which shall be pleasing to the Democrats. What he is expected to do is to write one which will make the Democratic party look respectable before the country; one which, like a banner in a country band, will be loud enough to cover a multitude of sins.

Low Ross and James Shuber, who left here some time last December for the Chehalis country, returned to this valley last Friday looking none the worse for the wear and tear. They speak in high terms of praise of the land and its future prospects, but think the mosquitoes a real nuisance.

The party of tourists, consisting of J. P. McDaniel, D. W. Crosby, Jas. C. McCully, Henry Kull and John Owan returned from the Cinnabar mountain on the 25th, after an absence of eleven days. They had an extra good time fishing, hunting and drinking mineral water. Deer and bear were very plenty.

"It is a curious thing," writes the Washington correspondent of the Boston "Herald" (Deni.), "that, although Hancock is generally liked throughout the army, yet the feeling of the army, as a whole, is not in favor of his election.

The greatest claim set up by the Democracy for Hancock is that he is a gallant soldier. This is the very reason why he should remain in the army, as that is the place where gallant soldiers are needed, not in the presidential chair.

James C. McCully, one of the returned circular parties, says the trail across the divide of the mountains is entirely free from snow. Yet near by on the shady side of the mountain, banks of snow could be seen 30 or 40 feet high. He also says, they met a party of three prospectors from Humboldt county, Cal., named Dale & Co., who had extended their operations to Ashland's snowy hills.

Miss Nettie Howard writing from Linkville under date of July 20th, says that the news from Crater Lake again is discouraging for tourists. The snow in the vicinity of the Lake is reported to be six feet deep, and no getting to the rim of the lake except on snow shoes. There must be some mistake about this information as we hear a different story from the Florence Rock.

Our Democratic friends are trying very hard to get up an enthusiasm for Hancock, but judging from the slight attendance at the clubbing at Holt's Hall last Saturday night, the "hoop" was not very heavy, being confined to a few of the very faithful. The weather is still too warm to get hot over politics. And there ain't any use how, hollering one's self hoarse over the Cincinnati nominations, as they will not be elected.

The old frame building standing between the Post-office and the New State Saloon on California street now occupied by the Union Bakery will soon be taken down in order to make room for a new brick store to be erected for Jas. S. Howard. John Wolter will temporarily discontinue the baking business until he can secure another location. He will perhaps re-establish himself in Ashland.

The show which visited Jacksonville last Friday and Saturday was a poor excuse for a circus. It was a very small remnant of a "hustled" circus company making its way to some point in California. The "bill of fare" consisted of some slight hand performances, pranks of a burned pig, a bear constructor and a few monkeys. It was gratifying to note that but few of our citizens suffered themselves to be humbugged.

The Oregon Railway and Navigation Company has allowed Mrs. Connor, widow of the late Commodore Connor a monthly pension of one hundred dollars during her widowhood. This is done as a recognition of the long and meritorious service of the gallant commander, who was for so many years in command of several steamships of the company. It cannot be truly said that the above-named corporation has no "soul."—Salmon Statesman.

The following ladies and gentlemen came down from Ashland last Friday and assisted in organizing the Eastern Star chapter: Wm. H. Arkinson and lady, J. M. McCall and lady, H. C. Hill and lady, M. Baum and lady, A. P. Hammond and lady, H. P. Phillips and lady, E. H. Roman, Leatner, Fossil, Erb, E. F. Dauger, Lu-y Fox, Lena and Laura Arkinson, Augusta Stison and Mary Neil.

Gov. Kutnow, agent of one of the large wholesale business houses in San Francisco visited Jacksonville a few days last week. He says the merchants of Bay City were waking up to the importance of constructing the Crescent City wagon road from Crescent City to Waldo, and would certainly furnish a considerable portion of the capital, rather than see Portland snatch away the trade of the R-gus river country. This is gratifying, but what is the company doing in pushing the work to completion?

A SALE AND TRADE.—James Elliott sold his 100 acre farm adjoining town, including the hay and grain on hand, the growing crops, agricultural implements, horses, cows, etc., to Nick Fick, the butcher, for an even $3,000. Elliott taking Fick's town property at $1,000. The parties have taken possession of the respective premises.

ELLENBURG MUDDLE.—Our coast-bound neighbors at the mouth of Rogue river, have a Court House muddle on their hands, which has been the fruit of a source of quite an unpleasantness, and out of which has grown a lawsuit now pending in the Circuit Court of Curry County. A correspondent to the Crescent City "Courier," writing from Ellensburg, under date of July 12th states the nature of the case as follows: "Last Summer the County Judge sold his old store to the county for a Court House, for $750, and traded the old Court House for the lot on which his store house stood. The officers took possession of the building bought of the Judge and repaired it, at an expense of $75. Three taxpayers brought a suit in our Circuit Court to have the proceedings and orders of the County Court in the premises cancelled and declared void. The suit was brought against the judge and two commissioners, and J. H. Gauntlett who demurred; objecting to the taxpayers maintaining the suit, declaring that the county ought to be made plaintiff, etc. Judge Watson overruled the demurrer and gave a decree for plaintiffs, annulling every order made by the County Court, and ordering a reference to ascertain the probable expense of repairing the old Court House. The defendants will appeal the case to the Supreme Court. The only question that arose in the case was, could the County Judge while presiding over the County Court, use his vote and influence to sell his own property to the county? Judge Finley Watson very properly held that he could not.

Govan High to James Helms, 90 acres in Elen precinct. Consideration, $800.

HYMNS STILL AT WORK.—The wedding ceremony at the Catholic Church in Thursday night of last week was a very pleasant affair, and was witnessed by a large number of spectators. A half past eight the bride and groom, Mr. Frank Kasher and Miss Mary Eliza Britton, attended by George S. Howard and Miss Susie Britton, were ushered into the church and immediately took position in front of the altar, where after an impressive ceremony by Father Blanchet the two were made one. The happy couple received many congratulations that night at the residence of the bride's mother and step-ather, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert. The SENTINEL acknowledges the receipt of a lot of wedding dainties.

H. M. Thatcher of the well known firm of Thatcher & Worden of Linkville, was married at Fort Klamath on Saturday, July 17th to Widow Tines, nee of Walla Walla, and sister of Dr. Boyd of Linkville.

EASTERN STAR.—A chapter of the order of Eastern Star, for Masons, their wives, daughters, mothers and widows, was organized in Jacksonville on the 24th instant by D. G. P., Wm. H. Arkinson, assisted by the officers and members of Alpha chapter of Ashland. The following is a list of officers elected and installed: Matron, Mrs. P. A. Miller; Patron, David Linn; Associate Matron, Hattie Jackson; Treasurer, Jennie E. Roman; Secretary, Max Muller; Conduress, Annie Miller; Association Conductress, Alice Berry; Adah, Sarah Berry; Ruth, Rachel Fisher; Esther, Julia E. Beckman; Martha, Lucinda Reames; Electa, Mary Miller; Chaplain, C. C. Beckman; Organist, Floss, G. Reames; Warden, Will Jackson; Sentinel, R. S. Dunlap.

Wool.—On the 21st the "Atlanta" sailed from San Francisco for New York with 614,000 pounds of wool on board. The "Chronicle" says: The sale of Unquaga valley wool which took place at Roseburg a few days ago was very successful, the lot selling at 34 1/2c per pound owing to heavy competition. These wools are considered very choice; hence their advanced value over other Oregon clips. The price of wool in San Francisco the past week has ranged for Northern 25 to 31c; Oregon, 25 to 27c; Humbolt, 30 to 32c per pound, with some choice lots at 33c.

OFF FOR THE CASCADES.—Fred Cronmiller, late employe of the "Times" office, and Charles Prim, one of the newly appointed teachers of the Jacksonville public school, left here Monday for Lake county. They go horse-back and expect to work their way to Crater Lake via the Fort and Annie's Canon. They think by the time they get around, the snows will have melted from the rim of the sunken lake, and they be afforded a good view of that wonderfully grand work of nature.

A SURVIVING PARTY.—The editor of this paper having been advised by eminent medical counsel to take several months out-door exercise for the benefit of his health, has accepted a contract for surviving several townships in Lake county. He has selected his corps of assistants and the preparations for the trip are now being perfected. He will be assisted by Messrs. Charles Howard, Charles Schultz, Jephthah Hampton, Stephen M. Hubbard, J. Mills and Jack McClain.

PUBLIC MEETING

The committee having in charge the Crescent City Wagon Road project, herewith notify the citizens of Jackson county, that there will be a meeting at the Court House at 2 P. M. Saturday, July 31st, 1880.

The report of the Surveyor, as also a report of the action of the committee at their meeting at Waldo will be made. Mr. J. K. Johnson, of Crescent City, will be present and give his views. Come one, come all!

COMMITTEE

A NEW REGION.—Joseph E. Beggs, the "boss" freighter of Southern Oregon, will soon be on his way to British Columbia, where he has accepted a position as superintendent of the building of a section of the road of the Canadian Pacific Railway, now in course of construction Eastwardly from New Castle on the Georgian Gul'. The Canadian Pacific is being vigorously pushed from the East to the West, and the managers intend without delay to do the same from West to East. The company is composed mainly of a syndicate of London banks and unlimited means. Their object is to push this line into the mild and fertile valley of the Satchka chowan, which has a capacity of sustaining fifteen millions of people, and into which region the company is confident of its ability to construct and complete the Canadian Pacific, and thus enter into competition with the Northern Pacific of our own country, and affording another through route from Europe to Asia across the American continent. The harbors of the Georgia Gulf, as regards safety and depth of water, are among the best on the Pacific coast, are unsurpassed by the harbors situated along the neighboring waters of the Puget Sound. It is the intention of the English capitalists to establish somewhere in those waters a grand shipping emporium under the aegis of the British flag, which shall grow into an importance in point of commerce and population, second to none among the seaport cities on the Pacific coast.

THAT CONTESTED ELECTION.—Our neighbor is troubled at J. B. Sifers, Senator elect from Josephine county lose his seat, as it is currently reported that it will be contested on the ground that Sifers is a resident of Curry county. The "Times" says that Sifers claims his residence in Kerbyville. If this be true, he should not have voted at Silver Creek, as the record shows he did, and if fit to represent the people of Josephine county he ought to know what county he lives in. We hear that a line is to be run to determine which county his residence is in, and as he is a single man and has not resided in Kerbyville for more than a year his legal residence goes with him. It is very probable that if it is found to be in Curry he will not get his seat.

Three undershirts for $1, at the New York store. Twelve yds. print 13 1/2 yds. chevion 1, at the New York Store. Ladies half cloth kid foxed gaiters 1.75 at the New York Store.
