

NOTICE.

Land Office at Roseburg, Ore., June 26, 1880. Notice is hereby given that I have designated the OREGON SENTINEL as the paper in which I shall hereafter publish all pre-emptions, homestead and applications for mining patents for lands lying near Jacksonville, Jackson county, Oregon.

ATTENTION REPUBLICANS!

HON. GEO. B. CURRY, candidate for Presidential Elector on the Republican ticket, will speak at the Court House, Jacksonville, this Wednesday Night, Oct. 13th.

Meeting to commence at early candle-lighting. All are invited to attend.

PREACHING.—Rev. D. A. Crowell will preach at the M. E. Church, Jacksonville, next Sunday, Oct. 17th at 11 A. M. Rev. M. A. Williams will preach at the P. M. school house, Sam's valley, Sunday, Oct. 17th, at 11 A. M.; and at Rock Point school house at 3 P. M. of the same day.

FOR YREKA.—The following is a list of Jackson county visitors to the Yreka Fair, to commence to-day. George Chase, J. B. Little, A. Barneburg, Steve Booth, D. W. Crosby, Ed. Caton, Lew Ross, Geo. Howard, Frank Savage, Eugene Savage, Henry Menser, Si. McKee, James A. Cardwell, Geo. W. Stephenson.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.—The Oregon State Senate on the 9th instant passed a bill allowing women to vote. The bill will probably pass the House. It has to pass again in two years, and then in two years afterwards, in order to be submitted to the voters of the State. A rather round about way of reaching the end.

A RUNAWAY.—Last Thursday one of Plymale's teams came running up Oregon street at a frightful rate, when near Kubli's store James Wilson headed them successfully and stopped them just as they were on the point of dashing into a lot of children who happened to be in the street near Holt's old hotel. Mr. Wilson deserves much credit in risking his own life in order to save the life of the children. We did not learn the particulars how the horses got started.

THAT BOLTING CHEST.—Since the publication of our item last week in regard to the Jacksonville Steam Flouring Mill, in which particular mention was made of their bolting chest, Mr. J. O. C. Wimer informs us that we gave credit for its invention to the wrong party. Mr. Wimer claims to be the original inventor of this style of bolting chest and says there is none now in use like it anywhere. Mr. Hammond deserves full credit for the construction of the rest of the mill.

THE TAX LEVY.—The County Commissioners, at their regular October term, made the following tax levy for the coming year: For State indebtedness, 3 mills. Current expenses of State, 4 mills. School purposes, 3 mills. County purposes, 10 mills.

It was also further ordered by the Court that a hospital tax of $2 and a county tax of $1 each be levied on each able-bodied man over the age of 21 and under 50.

HYMNAL.—On Sunday the 3d day of October, 1880, the residence of Lindsey Applegate, at Ashland, was the scene of a marital occasion of which Mr. Moses L. Alford and Miss Rachel Applegate were the principals. Prof. L. R. Rogers of the College, conducting the nuptial ceremonies. Mr. and Mrs. Applegate are among the oldest pioneers of this county, having arrived here in 1843, and Rachel was the last of their children to enter the state of matrimony. The newly wedded couple have the good wishes of hosts of friends both here and elsewhere.

CARELESS HANDLING OF FIREARMS.—Last Saturday whilst James Birdseye of Central Point was taking the shells of some exploded cartridges from his six shooter, one of the loaded barrels went off with a crash, the ball striking Elmer Higginbotham, a five year old son of R. Higginbotham, and passing through the left lung above the heart. The ball lodged in the wall of the room where the accident happened. The little boy is suffering great pain but it is thought that he would recover, and he is doing as well as can be expected under the treatment of Dr. Aiken. When will people be careful in handling firearms!

FROM LINKVILLE.—Miss Mary Lang of this city is in receipt of a letter from Linkville, conveying the information that there are 16 cases of typhoid fever in that town. Up to date of writing, Oct. 10th, there had been but one death, a little son of Geo. T. Baldwin, aged 4 years. In the family of Mrs. Scott there are five cases of the fever. The increase of the fever has caused a panic state of feeling, and persons to nurse the sick were difficult to obtain. Dr. M. Vrooman is battling manfully with the disease, and so far he has had very good success in the treatment of his cases, having lost but one case, namely the child above mentioned. The letter also states that Mark Brbee, who resides near Tule Lake, was also very sick of the fever and not expected to live over night when the messenger left.

The Yreka fair, which is now in progress, is absorbing considerable attention. Quite a number of the citizens of Jackson county are now in Yreka.

It is given out that our Democratic brethren will have a grand blow out and torchlight procession next Saturday, provided Indiana shall have gone Democratic. If it should turn out that it has gone Republican there will not be much rejoicing at Democratic headquarters.

Our friend Nunan gives the Crescent Cityites another "piece of his mind" in a letter written and published in the "Del Norte Record." Mr. Nunan has been the leading spirit in the Crescent City Wagon Road project and when he writes a letter on the subject he generally says something.

The Democracy are making a vigorous effort to save Jackson county to Hancock. All the big local guns, Judge Prim, A. C. Jones, S. F. Flood and others, are on the stump in this county, or soon will be, trying to persuade the "dear people" to vote Republican. But the poop will not be persuaded.

General Fitzhugh Lee, addressing a Democratic meeting, September 2d, at Portsmouth, Va., pointing to the confederate soldiers' monument, said: "If you desire that those heroes buried under shall not have died in vain, vote the Democratic ticket and vindicate the principles for which they sacrificed their lives."

A new bridge crossing Little Butte at Brown's bridge in this county was completed week before last and thrown open to the public. James Miller was the contractor, and parties who have crossed it, say it is a fine piece of work reflecting honor upon the contractor as well as the county which had the bridge built.

The Earl of Airlie of Scotland, his son and daughter, arrived here from the North on the 6th instant. Howard has been added to John Miller's Hunter's Emporium and Hardware establishment, and the two spaces combined now constitute one of the most roomy stores in the city. Go and take a look at John Miller's rejuvenated establishment with its endless variety of tools, implements, etc.

In the Southern States there will be no elections in fact. Nowhere will Democratic ascendancy be contested, and it is probable that in several of the States no votes will be thrown for Republican electors. The active and vigorous organization which would be necessary for Republican success will not be permitted. In ten States votes are expected to be thrown for the dominant party can neither be freely cast or honestly counted.

The best assortment of bolts, screws, tire and copper rivets, rasps, files, pinchers, nippers, tongs and hammers, at John Miller's.

The hauling from this valley will be done by Thatcher & Worden, who have the freight contract.—[Tidings.]

There are several propositions before the legislature for the division of several of the counties of Eastern Oregon, which ought to be carefully considered by our law makers. It is true that the population in some of these counties is not sufficiently great to justify a division, but then there is a question of territory to be taken into account. The distance is so great that the mileage account more than over balances the revenue.

On the 4th of October Connecticut held an election for municipal officers, and to pass upon an amendment to the constitution of the State. There are 167 towns in the State. Comparing the returns with those of 1876 the Republicans gain 18 towns and the Democrats 6, and the 9 divided towns were Democratic in 1876, and are therefore Republican gains, and are an auspicious indication of how that State will go in November. Connecticut is sure for Garfield.

Robt. Brown of Eagle Point met with an accident a few days ago which came near proving serious. He was hauling a load of fence rails when one of the wheels of the wagon struck against a root in the road jerking the wagon and throwing Mr. Brown from his seat. He fell with his back against the wheel dislocating the collar bone, and bruising his leg badly. The dislocated member was placed in natural position, and the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. James T. Glenn and lady of Oakland, California, are now in our midst visiting old friends, of whom they have a great many in this county. The Major predicts that California will go largely Democratic in November, which reminds us of the Major's prediction on a former occasion when we were favored by a visit from him. The State canvass was then pending in California, and the Major predicted the election by a big majority of Dr. Hugh Glenn, the Democratic candidate for Governor. There is such a thing as being mistaken once in a while.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT.—The following are the proceedings of this court at the regular October term: Henry Pape, a competent mechanic, was appointed as inspector of new bridges to report whether they have been built according to specifications. Ten dollars damages was allowed George Thompson for breaking through a county bridge while crossing with his team.

Articles of Agreement were signed by the County Court and Jesse and H. C. Dollabide for the toll road crossing the Sidkiv mountains. The lease continues for ten years, and the lessees are to put down sixty rods of corduroy, also to lessen the grade on the first hill this side of the State line one-half inch less to the foot than the present grade and keep the road in good repair.

Sheriff Byles made his return of delinquent taxes showing as follows: Delinquent tax of 1878, $768.56; Delinquent tax of 1879, $809.19.

The Census of 1880 is now a thing of the past, but it has punctured many bubbles and left behind it many heart-burnings. The ruthless figures have brought low the pretensions of ambitious towns and cities, but the number of persons who have been cured of backache and kidney diseases by the use of the Oregon Kidney Tea is so much greater than the proprietors hoped for or imagined, that they have doubled their capacity for manufacturing it to keep pace with the demand. Sold every where.

THE BRUMFIELD CASE.

The Kansas City "Journal" of Sept. 30th mentions a suit pending in the Circuit Court of Jackson county, Mo., which, as it is of interest to many readers on this coast, we reproduce as follows:

A petition was filed in the Circuit Clerk's office on the 27th of September by Nancy M. Brumfield against Samuel Lewis Wolf, in which she prays that the title of the Brumfield homestead be divested from said Wolf and vested in her. The plaintiff charges in her petition that the property was the home of herself and former husband long before his desertion and subsequent murder in Oregon. That on or about the first day of August last, when Brumfield was making secret preparations to leave her and decamp with his daughter-in-law, he obtained, by fraud and false pretenses, her signature to a deed conveying this property to the defendant, Samuel Lewis Wolf. But the plaintiff further avers that no consideration was paid or ever has been paid by the defendant for this property. That the deed to him was fraudulent and made with the understanding that he was to reconvey the property to Brumfield in person, and thus defraud her of her rights. That he was only holding the property in trust for Brumfield's sudden death only prevented him from conveying the property back to Brumfield. The homestead is valued at $5,000, and lies east of Kansas City on the Blue river. The suit will come up at the next term of the Circuit Court, Messrs. Peake and Yeager being the Attorneys for the plaintiff.

The remarkable story of the infatuation which Samuel Brumfield, a rich farmer, conceived for the bride which his son brought home one day; the manner in which he had false warrants sworn out and ostracised his son from fear of the law; then quietly disposed of his property and eloped with his daughter-in-law, is familiar to all the readers of the "Journal." He was joined by his friends, Bud Thomas and his wife, and subsequently the bodies of Brumfield and his mistress were found in Oregon, and Bud Thomas and his wife came back here, and were soon after arrested for the murder. The story is one of the most remarkable in the annals of crime.

THE FIVE LECTURES.—Elder Sherrill of the Church of God lectured five nights in succession in the M. E. Church, Jacksonville, on subjects lately debated between himself and Elder Peterson at Eagle Point. The doctrine that at the death of the body the human soul enters upon a comatose state and will sleep until the resurrection at the 2d coming of Christ, was eloquently advocated. The spirits of the departed from the days of Adam to the present time, which Mr. Sherrill divides into two classes, the righteous and the unrighteous, are now dead— asleep. But at the second advent of Christ the righteous will be awakened from their long slumber and will reign with Christ on the earth for one thousand years. Jerusalem in Palestine will be the seat of Government of the new Kingdom. At the close of the 1,000 years' reign the unrighteous will be awakened from their sleep, and an opportunity will be afforded them to know Christ and be saved. The interregnum between death and the resurrection, although it may continue thousands of years, will not be burdensome to the sleepers, as they are unconscious and the same as if they were not. How we, the righteous, who live at such great distances from ancient Judea, are to get to Jerusalem, or what the condition of the then living human family will be, remains a problem unsolved by the learned lecturer.

On Sunday night Mr. Sherrill lectured on the restoration of the Jews to the land of Palestine, which was well attended. Throughout the five discourses the lecturer showed himself quite conversant with the Bible, but the preponderance of his proofs he adduced mostly from the Old Testament scriptures. His theories are surrounded by many difficulties and to bring them in harmony with the New Testament scriptures and reason will be the next task of the lecturer.

A FINANCIAL GRAVEYARD.—We met a man a few days ago who in bygone years was one of the sufferers from the avarice of the Indiana shyllock and millionaire, Wm. H. English, the Democratic candidate for Vice President. The man referred to was formerly a resident of Central Indiana. In endeavoring to build up a little home for himself and family he was compelled to go in debt for several hundred dollars, executing his note and mortgaging his property as security. By some process unbeknown to our friend his note and mortgage fell into the hands of English, the Indianapolis usurer. Times becoming stringent the man alluded to, was unable to meet his obligation and asked for an extension of time, which English refused to grant. The result was, the poor man's home was sold at Sheriff's sale and the family was turned out of house and home, sustaining a loss of nearly $1,500. The man who makes this statement is now a citizen of Jackson county, Oregon, and his name shall be forthcoming if any one doubts or denies the statement. The poor laboring men of the country will never vote for a ticket that is disgraced by the name of English, the scion of the financial graveyard of hundreds of small farmers and business men.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.—The following are the deeds recorded since the last issue of the SENTINEL: A. R. Vest to S. J. Day and Geo. W. Isaacs, 160 acres in Manzanita precinct. Consideration, $2,000.

Mens boots worth $5, for $3.50, at the New York Store.

LOST HIS MONEY.—N. L. Grimes of Salinas City, Monterey county, Cal., who passed through Jacksonville with his family on the 30th day of September last, from some point North, had the misfortune to lose his money. Among the household goods on the wagon was an old cooking stove, into which the head of the family had placed for safe keeping $500 in gold coin, all the money he had and with which he intended to buy a little home in California. When near Ashland a man approached the wagon with a twenty dollar gold piece in his hand which he said, he had just picked up in their wagon track. The owner of the wagon examined the stove, and to his dismay found that the roll of twenties had become undone, and the contents scattering in the stove, had, one by one, dropped out and through a hole that was in the stove and into the wagon bed, and from the wagon bed into the road! There were just two twenties left in the stove which were also ready to drop into the crack when the discovery was made. A search for the scattered treasure proved unavailing as it could not be known when the twenties commenced to drop out, and as the dust all along the road they had traveled was very deep. The unfortunate emigrant stopped the stage and told the driver (Nort Eddings) of his misfortune. He requests the benevolent people who may find portions of the money to return the same to Mr. Eddings who will see to it that the unfortunate family receives it. The entire sum lost is $480.
