JACKSONVILLE: WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1880

EDITORIAL MISCELLANY.

Showman P. T. Barnum is dangerous...

John Collins, Republican candidate for Congress in Georgia...

Congressman Springer discovered that a Democrat has been elected in Iowa...

The total vote of California in the late election was 190,725...

The total votes polled in Walla Walla county, W. T., at the last election...

Congressman Hawk, of Tennessee, says Maynard will be the only senatorial candidate...

As near as can be gathered from the returns in all the States show a popular majority for Garfield over Hancock...

The latest from Wade Hampton is that he thinks the Democratic party should maintain its organization...

The Democratic national committee is in debt $25,000, and assessments to meet it are not responded to with any alacrity...

The Chicago "Times" Indianapolis special of Nov. 23rd says: The fact develops that through a blunder in making up the Republican ticket...

The infamy of the Chinese letter forgery is attracting the indignation of all good men, and bids fair to bury the Democratic national committee forever...

The New York "World" is publishing letters from disgruntled Democrats, who are hurt over the result of the election...

"The sooner we have an empire or a Russian despotism, or any kind of Government which will insure permanency, the better for business men. This country seems to be entirely at the mercy of the politicians of both parties...

It is curious how these Democrats from Ben Hill down—or up—run to monarchy and despotism after they are defeated at the polls...

The New York "Tribune" says: Wade Hampton is very anxious to shoot somebody, and the rest of the Democratic party is very anxious for some body to shoot him...

A MALICIOUS POOL TO THE FRONT

The youthful editor of the Roseburg "Star" in last week's issue, gives the protom. editor of the SENTINEL another free advertisement...

A NUT TO CRACK.—Stand up Mr. "Sentinel." We have a few words to say to you. We notice that you charge the "Star" with being a false prophet...

The State banks hold eight millions. The so-called Trust companies eight million millions.

The Life Insurance companies forty-two millions. The Fire Insurance companies hold over one hundred millions.

And the Savings Banks one hundred fifty-seven millions. In answer to the questions how the money is applied, we find that the National banks have loaned to the business community of the country one thousand millions of dollars.

The State banks have loaned over two hundred millions. The Savings banks, four hundred and twenty millions.

The so-called Trust companies over six hundred millions. Thus fully two thousand millions of dollars are loaned by these corporations to the business world, to railroad companies and to state, city and town governments.

The chief security that these corporations have is in the bonds of the U. S. Government. A sinking of the National credit would be followed by calling in of this money, and as a consequence stagnation of business and financial embarrassment would ensue.

The fear of a disruption of our national finances under Democratic rule was one of the main factors in the election of Garfield and Arthur. The people who own and control the money and the bonds had no wish to change the policy of the administration as a time when they felt secure in the possession of their property.

Blue Jeans Williams, Governor of Indiana, died at Indianapolis, Nov. 19, 1880, of a disease of fifteen years standing—inflammation of the bladder. His death calls Lieutenant Governor Gray to the executive chair of Indiana.

The State Senate is a tie. While Gray was Lieutenant Governor he had the casting vote as he had two years ago; but the death of Williams leaves the tie to be broken by defection from one side or the other.

The Democrats have determined, as heretofore, to organize the Senate, and will cling to their determination. If each side stands firm the Senate cannot organize, and without it neither Governor nor Lieutenant Governor can take a seat and at the same time the constitution terminates the office of acting Governor on the second Monday of January.

If the two sides of the Senate lock horns and remain in that attitude the State can be kept indefinitely without a Governor. A United States Senator is to be elected to succeed Senator McDonald. It is claimed a U. S. Senator must be elected at a stated time, and if the time goes by the Democrats say no legal election can be made by the present Legislature and the next one they hope to make Democratic.

On the contrary to the above, Judge Lawrence says there is nothing in the alleged possible deadlock in Indiana. Porter becomes Governor by going to the place designated by law and taking the oath.

The Treaty with China. A dispatch dated at Washington, Nov. 22d, says this about the new Chinese treaty: Col. John Hay, assistant Secretary of State, now acting Secretary during Evarts' absence, authorizes a positive and sweeping contradiction of all dispatches purporting to give in general the terms of the new Chinese treaty upon the authority of information alleged to have been received by the State department.

He says the State department has not placed any information as to the purport of the treaty which is said to have been signed and that although of course it may be safely assumed to be in accordance with commissioners' instructions, any other statement purporting to be telegraphed from Washington is merely imaginary.

Your correspondent is also enabled to say that it is in the highest degree improbable that any such detailed stipulations as those imagined by San Francisco could form a part of the treaty, for the commissioners' instructions contemplated only clearing the way for Legislative action by Congress.

WHO'S GOT THE MONEY?

The "Oregon Staatszeitung," a German weekly, published at Portland, has an editorial on the above heading, from which we make the following free translation:

There are about four million persons in the United States who hold the bonds of the national Government. That these persons are deeply interested in seeing the public credit maintained need surprise no one.

Holders of these bonds are found among all classes of our people, rich as well as poor. Of corporations the National Banking Companies hold over four hundred millions of them.

The State banks hold eight millions. The so-called Trust companies eight million millions. The Life Insurance companies forty-two millions.

The Fire Insurance companies hold over one hundred millions. And the Savings Banks one hundred fifty-seven millions.

In answer to the questions how the money is applied, we find that the National banks have loaned to the business community of the country one thousand millions of dollars.
