...Democracy ...whipping post fails to ro... American soil; while those who swung the hissing lash and followed the track of the blood hound, bewail their broken idols, Democracy will be kept alive. While there is a necessity for political sewerage; through which must pass the hatred, the prejudice, the ideas that have birth in the passions of the scum and refuse of society, Democracy will be the channel through which it will flow. Good, misguided men will be drawn into its current, giving it an air of respectability but the political stream will still be foul. It will live as long as wretched drunken editors prostitute the press and mistake calumny and vilification for argument and, when the loathsome garbage of its literature ceases to be proper food for the public mind it will live no longer. Mark it! Wherever the Sunday law is a dead letter, Democracy will be a living fact. Wherever saloons harbor and demoralize our youth with a full knowledge of the violation of law, Democracy will have supporters, and while the serpent that first tainted the spring of human happiness, crawls on his belly throughout the world, Democracy will not die.

THE ELLIOTT CASE.

The case of the N. W. M... Insurance Co. vs Jem... al has just been ... the Inv... Circuit Cour... $7931.97 with in... Deady ... costs, and that the property ...tioned in the bill be held by the parties claiming it in trust for the plaintiff, and that the same be sold to satisfy the decree. The facts found in the the trial of the case are that in 1870 Moses Elliott, son of Jeremiah Elliott, procured an insurance of $8,000 on his life in the N. W. Ins. Co. In June 1871 it was alleged that he had been drowned while rafting logs down the Columbia and in 1873 the policy was paid to Jeremiah to whom it had been assigned, and in 1874 the family removed to this county and purchased land and sheep. Soon after their location a young man, calling himself Frank Williams, appeared claiming to be distant relative of the family, but was soon recognized, by a former school mate, as the identical Moses Elliott who was supposed to be at the bottom of the "deep, deep sea." Getting into trouble with neighbors about sheep it is supposed that some of Elliott's enemies informed the Company of the son's existence and last winter they commenced suit to recover. ...ior to the commencement of the ...t, the land, which had been transferred to the elder Elliott's wife, was ...ly mortgaged to innocent parties, ... no knowledge of the fraud, so ...obable th... decree will re... ...atisf... question ...g up on the trial was; that the ...W. Views of a Victim.

The following letter from a gentleman in Ashland, who accepted the invitation to subscribe for the SENTINEL, and pay when Garfield was elected, is so full of good humor, so handsomely submissive, yet tinged with a shade of pardonable sadness, that we cannot refrain from publishing. The "moral" drawn shows adversity to have its uses, and we hope Mr. L.'s experience will have "millions in it" for him and that his money will be returned a hundred fold:

EDITOR SENTINEL: Enclosed find $2.50, to pay for ... and which is being sent to Mr. Scott. This money may in the course of human events fall into my hands again, but that delectable sensation, sometimes amounting to a chuckle, that I felt and cherished, those campaign days, when I thought I had a "good thing" and Hancock would be elected, I can never feel again.

MORAL:

Hereafter I shall place my money where it will do the most good.

P. L.

The British difficulties in South Africa are evidently increasing, the President of the Orange Republic having telegraphed that he can no longer prevent his boers from joining the Transvaal insurrection. This is not a war with savages as some people suppose, but with a civilized people. The word "boer" is Dutch, signifying a farmer and the Transvaal republic, embracing 114,000 square miles, is peopled by the colony of Praetorius, the seat of government, being named for him, and by emigration from the Cape colony. The Orange republic is smaller but united they may carry on a long war.

B. Phelps, the Silverton hop man, raised this year from seven and one-half acres of ground, 14,000 pounds of hops, which are now baled awaiting the highest market price. He hopes to realize 20 cents per pound, giving him the handsome little sum of $2800 for his crop.

The Phoenix correspondent w... claims ... insurance company made "cat's paws" of our people in the Covert trial forgets two things: 1st, that the company paid an attorney to copy the testimony on the first trial. 2d, that the company paid an attorney to assist the prosecution on the second trial—the same attorney that boasted on the streets after the first trial that "he" could convict if he had a chance. The Insurance company pay about one hundred dollars—the people of this county about five thousand and if the accused had been convicted who would have laughed? The company, however, are to be congratulated on having a champion in Phoenix, where so many mysterious fires occur.
