HOW A CYCLONE LOOKS.

The recent terrible cyclone in Macoupin county, Illinois, is thus described by Engineer Cutter, of the Chicago and Alton express-train, which was running at full speed, and met the tempest near Carlinville. Mr. Cutter saw out on the prairie what he supposed to be a straw or hay stack on fire. As he approached it, he saw that it moved rapidly toward the track, and realized that it was a cyclone of the most appalling character. It was a dark, funnel shaped cloud, reaching from the ground high in the air, where it disappeared into the clouds. It was black and dangerous looking, and whirled with terrible velocity. Its voice, heard even in the distance above the rumble and roar of the train, was frightful in the extreme. The cyclone seemed to travel at the rate of twenty miles an hour, and was so fast approaching that the moving train must in a moment inevitably strike it. Mr. Cutter shut off his engine and applied his air brake just in time, for, despite the precaution, the train touched the cyclone's outer edge. Mr. Cutter describes the sight as the most horrible he ever saw. The air was lurid and dark, and hot, as if from an oven. Everything in the pathway of the storm was demolished, and crushed, and annihilated. Barns, fences, sheds, telegraph poles, and everything at all fragile was swept away. Mr. Cutter and his fireman crouched down in the tender, and for a moment feared that the whole train would be overturned. The cars were only held on the track by their safety chains. The passengers, who at first wondered at the stop, with blanched cheeks and terrified countenances, viewed the terrible monster of the air in its work.

Never Use It.

My son, never use tobacco. It is a vile weed, and has caused the death of many good men. Only the other day there was a railroad collision in which a smoking-car was smashed to pieces, and the seven occupants killed. If those seven men had never learned to smoke they would be alive to-day, and their widows would not be skimming around to hire some one to keep their husband's graves green while they lay for fresh matrimonial victims. Then look at the American Indian. He has used tobacco, when he could get it, for many years, and he is disappearing rapidly from the face of the earth. Gen. Grant was President of the United States, but he smoked frightfully, and now he is a national pauper and has got to travel with the World's Circus and Conglomerated Aggregation of Mechanical Curiosities for a living. He may even have to go to St. Louis. So, my son, beware of the narcotic weed, for it will destroy your body, weaken your mind, and make your breath small bad. If you have any of the deadly cigars about you don't de lay sending them right along to this office, where they will be burned up.

The Chicago Mining Review prints the following: "If the prospector in the field finds a specimen and wishes to test it for mineral, let him proceed as follows: Pulverize the rock in question; take one part of that and two parts of gunpowder—that from a cartridge will answer. Add sufficient water to make a thick dough, knead and make in pyramid shape; let it dry in the sun or near the fire; when dry set it on a flat stone and apply a live coal to the summit of the cone. When combustion has ceased, if mineral was contained in the ore you will find a button on examining the ash."

A cotemporary says: "A newspaper and a newspaper editor that people don't talk about and sometimes abuse are rather poor concerns. The men and business that an editor sometimes feels it a duty to defend at a risk of making enemies of another class, are often the very first to show ingratitude. The editor who expects to receive much charity or gratitude, will soon find out his mistake; but he should go ahead and do what he conscientiously thinks right, without regard to frowns and smiles."

Kansas having passed a law prohibiting the manufacture of alcoholic liquors in the State, the wine growers, brewers, and distillers propose to test, by law, the question whether a State can adopt laws which ruin their business and reduce the value of their property without awarding compensation.

DESCRIPTION.—Ophir is a beautiful dark chestnut, without mark or spot, fifteen hands three and one fourth inches high, and weighs 1,200 pounds, of a splendid, mild disposition, and will be 12 years old the 19th day of July.

He has a record of 2:35. Pedigree: Ophir was sired by the celebrated trotting stallion Kentucky Hunter, he by Broken Leg Hunter, of New York; grand sire, Sorrel Hunter; great grand sire, Old Kentucky Hunter; great grand sire, Highlander, Sorrel Hunter's dam (from a moonshine mare) was sired by the trotting Stallion Harden Hunter; grand sire, Sorrel Hunter; great grand sire, Old Kentucky Hunter; great grand sire, Highlander. This is a correct pedigree of Kentucky Hunter, and makes him about seven eighths Hunter; or perhaps better known as Messenger blood, and which has been thoroughly proven to be the fastest and best stock ever introduced into the United States. Ophir's dam was sired by Prince Albert, a Messenger owned by William Reynolds, of Colusa county, California. Ophir's dam is now owned in Santa Clara county by Dr. C. L. French; her dam is owned by D. M. Reavis, of Butte county; they are both fine, large and splendid roasters.

Pedigree of Ophir's dam's sire: David Hill was sired by Black Lion; he by David Hill's celebrated trotting stallion, Black Hawk, he by Sherman Urgan; he by Justin Morgan, and he by True Briton, who was imported from England and used by General DeLancey as a charger on Long Island in 1777. David Hill's dam was got by Hambletonian; he by Abdallah; he by Old Hambletonian, and he by imported Messenger. The dam of Hambletonian was Charles Kent's mare by imported Belfounder.
