OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE:

SATURDAY, JULY 9, 1881.

NOTICE.

Land Office at Roseburg, Ogn. June 30, 1880.

To All Whom it may Concern:

Notice is hereby given that I have designated the OREGON SENTINEL as the paper in which I shall hereafter publish all preemptions, homestead and applications for mining patents for lands lying near Jacksonville, Jackson county, Oregon.

W. F. BENJAMIN, Register.

NOTICE.—All person's having bills against the Fourth of July Committee are requested to bring them in at once for settlement.

AMPUTATION.—Dr. G. H. Aiken, assisted by Dr. Geo. Kahler, amputated the little finger of Wm. Bleckert's left hand last Tuesday. Mr. Blackert has been suffering for a long time past, the injury having originally been caused by a bruise received while working in his claim in February last, but is now in a fair way of recovery.

PILFERED.—On the afternoon of the 4th of July the counter drawer of Mrs. P. P. Prim's millinery establishment was entered by some unknown party and its contents, about $15, stolen. Mrs. Prim had just stepped out to her next door neighbor's and Miss Ella Prim's attention was occupied in the rear room of the establishment when the robbery was committed. It was so nicely done that no clue has yet been found to the perpetrator.

NOTICE.—Wednesday and Thursday night of next week, (July 13th and 14th) Rev. J. R. N. Bell will preach at the M. E. Church, Jacksonville, service to commence at early candlelighting. At 3½ o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 13, the last quarterly conference will be held at the church, Jacksonville. All official members of the church are urgently requested to be present, as business of great importance will come up for action.

FELL OFF THE WAGON.—Old Mrs. Dodds who resides with her son-in-law, Mr. Stark, in the northern part of town, received severe injuries on the 2d inst. by falling out of the wagon. The members of the family had contemplated driving to the country and were getting into the wagon. Mrs. Dodds had already got in and was helping a little girl to do the same, when suddenly the team gave the wagon a pull, and Mrs. D. losing her foot hold fell face foremost out of the wagon. In the fall her face sustained some ugly gashes and one of her wrists was badly sprained, Dr. Kahler was called, and the patient is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

THE R. R. SURVEY.—Howard's surveyors are now operating in the vicinity of Coles, Cal., having passed the state line on the 6th instant, about one mile east of stage road. They expect to reach the Klamath river in about four days, when they will retrace their steps and commence surveying toward the Rogue river. From what we can gather, we think the route now being run will necessitate a tunnel through the Siskiyous ¾ mile in length, piercing the mountain about 400 feet below the lowest place in the pass. Work on the survey had to be suspended temporarily last Wednesday until Mr. Howard could repair the surveyor's instrument which had sustained an injury by being blown over by a gush of wind. Otherwise everything is going on satisfactorily. Work was delayed only one day during which camp was moved.

VERY SAD DEATH.—Died, at the residence of Dennis Murphy, Jacksonville, July 7, 1881, after a very brief illness, Hiacynth Carron, aged about 52 years. Deceased came up from Waldo last week to attend his wife's funeral, whose burial took place in the Catholic cemetery of this city last Sunday. As it rained on this trip up from Waldo he caught a severe cold which settled on his lungs. He kept growing worse from day to day and died at 5 A. M. on Thursday morning. Deceased was a Canadian Frenchman by birth. His wife preceded him to the spirit world only seven days before and it is said he took her very sudden and unexpect-death very much to heart, and when he too was so suddenly taken down he abandoned the idea of recovery. The immediate cause of his death seems to have been a complication of pleuro-pneumonia and rheumatism of the heart. He leaves three fatherless and motherless orphans, in a strange land, to mourn the loss of their natural protectors. The oldest child is about twelve and the youngest about six years.

CHAMPIONS' INSTALLATION. — The newly elected officers of Victory Council, No. 5, Champions of Honor, were installed at their hall, in this city, on Friday, July 1st. The installation ceremonies were very impressive and were conducted by Past Worthy Commander, Jas. A. Cardwell. The names of the seven elected officers installed are as follows: W. C., W. L. Bilger; Lt. C., Fannie Dowell; H., Jas. Cronemiller; S., Anna Bilger; F. S., Wm. Mensor; T., Mrs. S. J. McKnight; W., Della Cardwell. The seven appointed officers are as follows: P., Sallie Cardwell; M., Wm. McKnight; Aids to W. C., Hattie Gilbert and Ada Plymale; Aids to Lt. C., Wm. Moore and Wm. Plymale; Sentinel, August Schmidling. After the installation a number of the invited guests were called on for short addresses. Responses by B. F. Dowell, J. R. Neil, Adam Klippel and G. A. Hubbell. The speaking and exercises were interspersed by singing and music, followed by a bountiful supply of ice cream and cake. An enjoyable time was had, and the evening passed most pleasantly.

During the celebration of the 4th D. W. Anderson's horse got unhitched; after several days' search he found it near Mr. Hanley's.

We came near having an item this week about a suicide, but the pistol happened to be pointed the wrong way and we are out an item.

In Justice Huffer's Court yesterday the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $96 in the case of Pat Donegan vs. Veit Schutz.

Some of our citizens, in discussing the rilroad problem, are sanguine that it is to the best interest of the R. R. Co. to run the line in front of the Steam Mill. Good idea.

For the past ten days the crown of Mount Pitt did not look as white as usual. It is evident that the snowy mantle is melting rapidly.

Nick Ficke shipped this week about 6000 pounds of beef hides to San Francisco. Teamster Magoon is conveying them to Redding.

Farmers are requested to come to Nick Ficke's field to-day and see the workings of the Deering Self-Binder, for which Karewski is agent.

The Sterling company is still engaged cleaning up. Nothing definite is known as to the general results, but the returns are quite satisfactory.

The Misses Sallie and Della Cardwell left here on Thursday for Lake county, where they expect to remain several weeks visiting friends.

Harvesting having commenced farmers and miners have but little time to come to town; as a consequence trade is somewhat dull in Jacksonville.

H. v. Helms presented us with some large peaches from his orchard yesterday—the first ripe ones we have seen this season. They were delicious.

J. W. Manning's stallion Ophir will continue the season at the owner's farm until the 15th of this month, but will not be brought to town after this date.

Judge Dey and Commaicsioners Cook and Alford went to Ashland last Wednesday to receive the new bridge. they pronounce it a fine piece of work.

The new bridge put in over Daisy creek where Third street crosses is a very substantial structure. Street Commissioner McDaniel superintended the job.

Rebekah Degree Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold an ice cream festival at their hall next Monday evening, and all the members are expected to be present.

By private advices we learn that the house of Gen. John F. Miller, in Lake county, was destroyed by fire a few days since, with all its contents.—Salem Statesman.

J. W. Manning left here on Thursday for Lake county. We understand that he is making arrangements to locate permanently somewhere east of the mountains.

W. G. Kenney has been on the sick list for several days past. Milo Matthews has been driving for him on the Rock Point and Leven's Station route during his illness.

Oregonian Pocahontas Tribe of Red Men installed officers last Tuesday evening after which they all adjourned to the U. S. Hotel where a sumptuous collation was spread.

Capt. H. Kelly returned from Salem and other portions of the Willamette, after a prolonged absence. Mr. Kelly is still engaged taking depositions in the Kelly-Ruble case.

W. J. Plymale, representative to the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., to be held at Salem, on the 13th, leaves for that place to-day. He will be accompanied by his wife.

In the case of Wm. and Walter Ruble vs. the Coyote Gold and Silver Mining Co., suit for damages in Judge Boise's Court, at Salem, a verdict was rendered for defendant.

John Griffin and family, formerly of this county but more recently of Eastern Washington territory, returned to this county one day this week. There is no place like old Jackson.

Fifty-seven numbers were sold at Madame Holt's ball on the night of the Fourth. A splendid supper was served and all went away highly gratified at the night's entertainment.

L. M. Nickerson, Indian Agent at the Klamath Agency, will receive bids for three hundred head of yearling stock cattle, twelve of them to be bulls, and also eight good draught horses.

The heavy iron rods to be used in the construction of the bridge near Rogue River falls have arrived and are now waiting to be transported to the point where the bridge is building.

John S. Drum, one of the old time Jacksonvillians but now of Oakland, Cal., passed through town on Tuesday, on his way north. He was accompanied by his niece, Miss Hitchcock.

We are pleased to note the fact that Nort Eddings, the sufferer from a stage accident, is able to be about—on crutches. His broken limb is cementing as rapidly as nature will permit.

The wholesome rain that preceded the 4th of July completely allayed the dust and cooled the atmosphere. The weather could not have been more propitious for the celebration than it was.

Letters have been received from Jacob Klippel, Tom. Keaton and Ed. Smith, who are prospecting on Salmon river, Idaho. They are very hopeful of being able to "strike it." We hope they may.

Veit Schutz was taken suddenly ill last Monday evening but the presence of sympathizing friends caused him to recover soon after their arrival. He was reported as convalescent at last accounts.

The races at Cardwell & Flitner's race track on the evening of the Fourth were not as successful as anticipated. There were too many other attractions on that day and horsemen did not generally attend.

A few days ago quite an unpleasantness occurred between two men on Foot's creek, resulting in a severe gash in the forehead of one of the combatants. Bad whiskey was at the bottom of the fracas.

J. H. Thorndyke, of the Galice creek mines, was in town on Saturday and favored us with a call. He is on his way to his old home, Maine, where he goes accompanied by his family [illegible]

We had a pleasant call this week from John L. Burns, traveling agent for the liquor house of Schultz & Von Bargen. This house keeps the celebrated "Davenport" whiskey which is for sale at the Criterion saloon.

Ashland had a grand celebration on the Fourth. More people in attendance than were ever seen there on a similar occasion. Prof. J. W. Merritt of this place delivered the address, and it is spoken of as a very fine effort.

H. H. Thomas, who is said to have left Yreka with a wagon that did not belong to him, was arrested at Roseburg last Thursday on a telegram from Sheriff Bybee, and is now being brought back to California to answer the charge.

Tom. Kenney returned on Wednesday from Portland where he has been laying in a stock of saddlery goods for his shop, which he is going to establish at once in Langell's building. Tom is a good workman and a rustler and we expect to see him do well.

Lieut. Backus, of Fort Klamath, offers a reward of $100 for the arrest and return of two deserters named J. W. F. Cooper and Fred Clark. It is supposed that they are now in the Siskidou mountains prepared for horse stealing and highway robbery.

At a regular meeting of the Eintracht society, held last Sunday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, A. Schmidt; Vice President, Geo. H. Young; Secretary, John Cimborsky; Treasurer, Fred Luy; Doorkeeper, S. Cohn.

The 4th of July was pretty generally celebrated throughout this and adjoining counties. Wm. M. Colvig spoke at Sams valley, and J. R. Neil, did the same thing at Williamsburg. Both celebrations are reported as having been eminently successful.

However gentle cattle may be it won't always do for small children to be around where cows are. A few days ago the youngest daughter of E. H. Autenrieth was hooked by a pet heifer owned by J. Nunan. Happily the little girl was not very seriously injured.

Since the Fourth there has been but little demand for ice cream, the atmosphere having from some cause or another cooled off remarkably, indeed so much as to make heavy clothes, warm stoves and fire places comfortable. There must be a screw loose somewhere in creation.

A change has taken place in the Sheriff's office in this place and hereafter Chas. Prim will act as office Deputy while Capt. Caton will attend to the outside work. This has been done at Capt. Caton's own request, he preferring outside work to the regular office routine.

Geo. A. Steel, Esq., the new Postmaster at Portland, entered upon the duties of his office on the 1st inst., in place of Geo. E. Coles retired. Mr. Steel brings to said large experience in postal matters, having been connected with the department as special agent for many years.

Our reports from the State Fair at Salem are of the most encouraging character. It was an undoubted success both as to the number of entries and number of visitors. It was estimated that between 8,000 and 10,000 people visited the Fair grounds on the fourth of July.

On Tuesday Wm. Chambers Jr. accidentally fell off a load of rails that he was hauling and in coming down he fell with his right arm toward the ground, breaking that member between the wrist and elbow. Dr. Aiken was called and the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Magoon of Redding came in on Wednesday with 14,500 pounds of freight for G. Karewski. Three new Studebaker wagons, well filled with freight, were attached to Mr. M.'s wagon drawn by eight powerful mules, and the whole presenting the appearance of a young railroad train.

The celebration at Eagle Point, we are told, was very well attended. The speaking by Prof. A. L. Johnson, was not near as good as the people had a right to expect, from the reputation of that gentleman as a lecturer on the decay of nations. Otherwise a good time was had, and the people enjoyed the day generally.

Elder R. H. Sherrill and bride passed through Jacksonville on the stage yesterday going north, to spend the honeymoon in the Willamette valley. He was interviewed by a number of our rejoicing business men whom he had favored with his patronage in the past. The stage rolled out of town [illegible] in and confusion of a lusty chivaree.

The street in front of the Esmond House, Portland, was the scene of a fatal shooting affray on the evening of the 4th resulting in the death of Benj. Cornelius and the serious wounding of Jack Powers, both from Washington county. A grudge had existed between the two men. Powers had been divorced from his wife, who was a daughter of Cornelius. They met and quarrelled, and being both in liquor, shot at each other with the result as above stated.

Playing with powder and not getting hurt is a rarity. On the afternoon of the Fourth Charlie Klippel thought he would just pour a few grains of powder into the fire that he had built in the yard to light up the fuses to shoot off his cannon. The tin can containing the powder exploded with a crash, and Charlie's face and hands were badly burnt, and the eyebrows and hair of one side of the head singched. Charlie was in great pain for several days, but is now getting better.

THE FOURTH IN JACKSONVILLE.

Notwithstanding the alarming news about the striking down of President Garfield by the hand of an assassin, and the extreme uncertainty of his condition, Independence Day was pretty generally observed throughout the county. At Jacksonville the day was ushered in a little before sunrise by the ringing of church bells and firing of giant powder. As the multitude gathered in town at half past nine, the band was soon heard marching through the streets, and, a large procession of vehicles, footmen and horsemen followed. The procession was headed by marshal Henry Klippel, assisted by T. T. McKenzie and Capt. Caton.

The multitude gathered in the enclosure of the Court House yard, which was comfortably seated, and the platform tastefully decorated. The martial music by the band, the splendid singing by the glee club, of which Mr. Brooks was the leader, the solo singing by Mrs. Feathers, both in the forenoon and afternoon, were highly gratifying features of the celebration.

Chas. Nickell as president of the day, had charge of the programme, and everything went off with precision and the best of order. In his introductory prayer Chaplain Williams, specially invoked the the Throne of Grace in behalf of our stricken and bleeding President. And the effect was most thrilling upon the large audience. As the minister was so fervently praying for the President's recovery we could depict in the countenances of the people a responsive "amen," and as there is efficacy in prayer we doubt not that the life of our Chief Magistrate will be spared for yet awhile.

The great document, the Declaration of Independence, was beautifully read by Benj. B. Beckman. The orator of the day, Judge E. B. Watson, commenced his address by speaking of the terrible ordeal through which our nation was just now passing. The judge had just been apprised of the latest news from Washington, which reported the President in a most precarious condition. The news had a depressing effect upon both the orator and his audience. Otherwise the subject matter of the address was of the most inspiring nature to every patriotic American heart, and was listened to with profound attention. The poem, "Yet Again," by Sam. Simpson, was very clearly read by Wm. W. Cardwell.

It will be impossible for us to detail every single feature of this celebration. Suffice it to say that all who participated in making it a success, performed their part well. The improvised glee club, consisting of Messrs. Brooks, Boyer, Hyzer, R. H. Klippel, and the Misses Hoffman, Miller, Maggie and Cora Linn. The instrumental accompaniment in the forenoon were played by the Misses Carrie Beckman and Ida Klippel. The former's organ, being an Estey make, was used throughout the occasion.

The dinner was next in order and proved a great attraction to all who had any regard for the wants of the "inner man;" and as far as we could learn, everybody did ample justice to it. The dinner committee covered themselves all over with glory.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—To morrow, (Sabbath) July 10, Elder Peterson will preach at the Baptist church, Wagner creek, at eleven A. M. On Sabbath, July 17th at the Manzanita Baptist church, at 11 A. M.; and a Bible class at the Central Point school house, on afternoon of the same day, at 4 P M. All are cordially invited.....Rev. D. A. Crowell will preach to-morrow at Manzenita church at 11, A. M., and at Lone Oak school house at 4, P.M.; also, at the M. E. church, Jacksonville, Sunday, July 17, at 11 A.M.; and at Rock Point at 4 P. M., same day....Rev. M. A. Williams will preach in Jacksonville, to-morrow at 11 A. M.

FOUR CLAIMANTS.—On the night of the Fourth of July some one dropped a four bit piece through the iron cellar grating in front of Mr. Brooks' jewelry store. The next morning four person's applied claiming its ownership and explaining how they came to drop it. The question arises who among these anxious claimants is the rightful owner? Or if all four are the owners, how did they all come to drop it into the cellar just at the same time, and how will each man's right have to be established without splitting the half dollar piece into four? A nice point at law, this.

OFFICE OF SCHULTZ & VON BARGEN, 129 California street, cor. Front, San Francisco.

JOHN L. BURNS, Agent.

TO THE TRADE:—Practical experience has demonstrated to us that the trade requires a choice old Bourbon for immediate use. For it is well known that straight whisky that is absolutely pure requires age, great care and attention, and our old Davenport whisky possesses all the above qualities. The grain used in the distillation of our J H. Davenport whisky is carefully selected from the finest, richest and very best grown in the state of Kentucky. The water is drawn from one of the finest limestone springs in the state, the peculiar properties of which have gained for Kentucky whiskies such world-wide celebrity. This process makes our J H. Davenport a pure, hand made, sour mash whisky, and we claim that for delicacy of flavor, purity and medicinal qualities, it stands unexcelled.

Yours truly, SCHULTZ & VON BARGEN.

From and after this date J. P. McDaniel & Co. Jacksonvillle, will keep the justly celebrated Davenport, pure straight whisky exclusively.

What we Would Like to See:

The man in the moon.

Every bachelor made happy.

Every rascal brought to justice.

The railroad built through the valley.

Susan B. Anthony kiss Sam. J. Tilden.

B. F. Butler anchor somewhere politically.

More people in attendance at our churches.

The wagon road completed to Crescent City.

Every girl and boy at home at nine o'clock at night.

The law enforced against every gambling den.

Flies lose their predilection for men that are barefooted on the top of their heads.

What we Would Like to Know:

When a hen ceases to be a spring chicken?

How many children the mother of invention has?

When Jacksonville will be lit up with electric light?

Why Mother Shipton should be believed by so many?

Why so many farmer's wives have stopped administering Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup?

Why some inventive genius does not invent water-proof white hats and dirt proof white vests?
