CUITEAU IN PRISON.

WASHINGTON, August 4 .- A gentleman who conversed with one of the wardens of the district jail last evening elicited the following information in regard to Guiteau: When first arrested the prisoner appeared to be laboring to gain the good will of those around him. He was easily satisfied, and found no occasion for grumbling. Latterly he says he has changed, and exham to slay Isaac, as one event, saying ing black. that in that case God furnished a substitute for the victim. He expects to make a profound impression as a lawyer on that occasion.

"I confess, your Honor," continued Tom, "that what I said was a little hard on Pontius Pilate; but it is the first time in the history of Kentucky jurisprudence that it is held that to speak disrespectfully of Pontius Pilate is contempt of court."

"Mr. Clerk, make the fine $20 for continuous contempt of court," said the judge solemnly.

"Well, judge," Tom added, "as you won all my money last night at poker, lend me the twenty."

"Mr. Clerk," cried the judge hastily, "remit the fine. The State can afford to lose it better than I can." "I congratulate the court upon its return to a sane condition," said Tom, resuming his seat amid roars of laugh-

The noble St. Bernard dog is doomed to extinction, at least as the friend and of the poer foot traveler ever the St. Gothard. In a few months the beneficent and time honored hospice will be closed. The railway under the gigantic Alps will draw all wanderers away from the mountain road, for the poorest peddler pursuing his little commerce between Italy and Switzerland, and the most destitute searcher after employment far from home, will rather pay his small railway fare than risk the avalanche and weary walk. So ends a great Catholic charity, one of most beautiful, brave, and self-sacrificing which the world has ever seen.

A curious coincidence is found in the fact that the nurse who attended the President at the time of his birth died at about the hour the assassin attempted his life. Her name was Mrs. Stewart C. Gardner, and she died at the residence of her son, A. J. Gardner in Mason township, near Dowaiac, Mich., at the age of 87 years.

THE BUDDHIST BIBLE.

After years of persistent effort, the Rev. J. N. Cushing, Baptist missionary at Rangoon, has finally succeeded in procuring a complete copy of the canon-

This rare work, which comprises the Buddhist Scriptures, is in fifteen volumes, and it is probably the only copy in this country, Mr. Cushing having presented it to the library of of Brown University, at Providence, R. I., from which institution the donor graduated about twenty years ago. It is said that there is no one in this country who can read this Bible, but it is nevertheless interesting as well as valuable, being the holy Scriptures of a religion which is five hundred years older than Christianity, and which has far more adherents than any other religion, the Buddhists being reckoned as numbering more than four hundred hibits great irritability, manifesting a millions, or one-third of the entire wish to wreak speedy vengeance on human race.
