

OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE: SATURDAY, JANUARY 28, 1882.

PROMPT JUSTICE.

Geo. B. Reynolds, clerk in a store in Seattle, W. T., a most worthy young man, was shot by two foot pads, last Tuesday, the 17th, and died in two hours. A vigilance committee was organized and squads of men were sent in every direction in search of the murderers. Late on Tuesday evening, the 17th, James Sullivan, a one armed man, and William Howard were discovered by a squad of the committee, in the hay on a wharf in Seattle, and were locked up in jail by the Chief of Police and the Sheriff. A report published in the Oregonian says the murderers were tried in Yesler's hall, the next morning, Justice Coombs presiding, Justice Cann having a seat beside him, and Chief Justice Green of the Territorial Supreme Court another. W. H. White, assisted by O. Jacobs, conducted the prosecution, and W. H. Holcomb appeared for the defense. During the examination, which elicited very conclusive evidence as to the guilt of the prisoners, the crowd were busy erecting a rude gallows consisting of a scantling placed between the forks of two trees, on Occidental square, and two ropes attached thereto. When the examination was over and at the moment the prisoners were remanded to the custody of the officers, the latter were seized by strong men and held until the murderers were hurried out and strung up. This was no sooner over than about 400 men went to the jail and demanded Ben Payne, who killed policeman Sires last October. On the refusal of the sheriff to deliver him up the crowd battered down the doors of the jail, seized Payne and strung him up between Sullivan and Howard. In about an hour the three bodies were taken in charge by the coroner and the verdict rendered by the jury of inquest was as follows, in each case: "We the jury summoned in the above case find that they came to their death by hanging but from the evidence furnished, we are unable to find by whose hands and we are satisfied that, in their deaths substantial and speedy justice has been subserved." The press generally commends the action of the people of Seattle as business like and proper. They have done well; savings large amount of money by taking a short cut and have made it apparent; that their little city has a very unhealthy climate for foot-pads and murderers.

The Jury System.

Thoughtful people are beginning to doubt whether the machinery of justice, in this rapid and intelligent age, is benefited by the cumbersome attachment known as "twelve good and lawful men" that has seen no improvement since the middle ages. As it is the jury is; through ignorance, prejudice, cowardice or the maudlin sympathy, of its members the very best protection to criminals and, as legal science progresses, convictions actually decrease and the evils of the system are more apparent. The chief evil of our present system is that it places too much responsibility in the hands of victims and ignorant men. Ask a criminal lawyer if he prefers to defend a man on trial for his life, before a jury of cut-throats or before one of intelligence and moral standing and he invariably answers, the former, and gives as his reason that the former class naturally is in sympathy with criminals. Twelve men, picked up by the sheriff from the body of the citizens and selected by the court, chiefly on account of their total ignorance of the case to be tried, are often placed in a position to override law and distort evidence to agree with their various ideas and peculiarities while the judge, learned in the law and, by habit, better able to sift the evidence or probe the sincerity of witnesses, is a mere cipher. Owing to easy manipulation "jury fixing" has become a trade in some states; in others the material of juries is so plastic that it needs no "fixing" other than the securing of one man to "hang" it and the ways of justice have become so tortuous that it is little wonder that communities lose patience and break down legal barriers. We believe juries should be composed of men selected solely with reference to their intelligence, moral standing and responsibility and that men without all of these qualifications should be excluded and that three-fourths of a jury should be competent to decide. Laws are passed to control the vicious, not the law abiding class and the surest way to enforce them would be to exclude the former class from any share in its administration by establishing a higher and better standard for the material of juries.

The taxable property of Oregon, as per assessment just completed, is $59,256,175; total tax, $325,908. Multnomah county bears one-fourth of the tax.

Railroad News.

From D. S. K. Buick lately arrived from Myrtle Creek we learn the following with regard to the railroad extension, south of Roseburg. Twenty miles of the road, to a point near Myrtle creek, is cross sectioned, that is ready for graders and rock cutters. Fifty miles of the road, to a point near the big bend of Cow creek, is located. Thirty three miles of right of way has been deeded to the company, including depot grounds at Jephtha Green's, Robert's hill, Myrtle creek and Riddleburg, the latter point seven miles west of Canyonville; all timber work on the 33 miles is calculated and specifications made. Work has commenced on the first small bridge south of Roseburg. Ten miles of timber work has been contracted for by J. J. Ccmstock, of Latham, the balance of the timber to Riddleburg will be cut on Myrtle creek. Portland papers state that Manager Koehler has received telegraphic orders from New York to commence and push the extension at once so it hardly looks as if the company was "fooling" as the doubting Thomases seems to think.

ROAD APPROPRIATION.

The following is the text of the bill introduced by Representative George to improve the Military road from Scottsburg to Fort Klamath and provide for an extension thereof: Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of twenty thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby, appropriated for the continuation of the improvements on the military wagon road from Scottsburg to Camp Stewart, Oregon; and, also, that fifteen thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby, appropriated for the construction of a branch or extension thereof, from such point thereon as may be selected by the Chief of Engineers of the United States, to Fort Klamath, Oregon. And in determining the route, or any change of location of the existing road, the said Chief of Engineers shall take into consideration not only the natural location for the road-bed, but also the local and general interests of commerce and the convenience of the settlements in the vicinity of said roads.

Oliver Twist Wants "More."

The Democratic paper at Albany, has commenced abusing Representative George for not demanding more than $60,000 for the improvement of Yakima bay. It says that Mr. George promised to ask for $100,000. Perhaps he did make such a promise but; if he did, it was on the supposition that the Engineer in charge would name that amount in his official estimate. That officer is the best judge of the amount necessary and we credit Mr. George with too much sense to demand more than the official in charge of the work and if he succeed in obtaining what is asked for he will be more fortunate, or more able, than his predecessors. If people think a Representative has the power to empty the United States Treasury into every little bay or harbor, they will learn, through a long period of chronic unhappiness, that they are badly mistaken.

A Disagreement.

Senator Beck says of the Pension act: "I would repeal the Arrears of Pensions act. It was conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity. It is a fraud upon the American people and a standing monument to the ignorance, selfishness and cowardice of the American Congress." As the "American Congress" he refers to was largely Democratic Senator Beck can hardly be called a "sound Democrat". On the other hand; Senator Voorhees claims that the Democratic party originated the act and will stand by it. In comparison with this act; land steals, star route steals, banking frauds, tariff oppression, back pay grabs and kindred iniquities are but as drops in the ocean of public robbery. Voorhees defends it and saves his Democracy.

A Soliloquy.

Is it an office? It is an office. Does the man want the office? The man does want the office. What is a man who wants an office? If he is our man he is a "reformer." If the man is not our man what is he? Then he is a "spoils-hunter." [G. William Curtis.] It is astonishing how tender the civilized world is becoming. Formerly, if a clerk or cashier robbed his employer or bank, it was called "theft." Now, for fear of hurting somebody's feelings it is known as "shortage." Before long, when a murderer hastens the end of his victim it will be politely called "acceleration."

Jay Gould, the railroad king weighs 100 pounds only but brings down the financial scales with nearly a million dollars for every pound of his weight.

WALDO CORRESPONDENCE.

SENTINEL.—I believe you will agree with me when I say that we need and must have a positive game law enacted by the next Oregon Legislature. Nothing short of this will prevent the complete destruction of the deer family in Southern Oregon. It has now become painfully evident that the old game law is not sufficiently strong and that men will kill deer for their hides. The present high price of hides seems to have removed all shame there was in the matter, for we see men killing deer by wholesale for the money there is in the pelt. Men have done this and will continue to do so until a strict law puts an end to the business. In my opinion there should be a law passed prohibiting the killing of deer for any purpose whatever during the months of March, April, May, June, and July of each year upon penalty of fifty dollars and costs for each and every deer so killed. Said law should also prohibit the killing of deer at any time for their hides, hams or horns. It should not allow any one person to kill more than twenty deer during any one year. It should prohibit the leaving of any portion of a deer in the woods. Said law should require every person before selling deer, hides, hams or horns to go before the County Clerk or a Justice of the Peace and make affidavit in strict compliance with the letter, spirit and intention of the law that he had not violated said law or any of its provisions. In this wise the person should be required to obtain a certificate from said officer which should be a permit to sell so many hides, horns or hams. The law should further provide that any person buying said hides, hams or horns without the certificate should be equally liable before the law. The penalty should be at least twenty dollars and costs for the first offence and double that amount for each succeeding offence. The law should be so framed that no person could evade it. This is a mere suggestion and I will be glad to hear from others.

FOX ARABIAS.

Deprivations upon the Government timber lands in the West have increased to such an extent that the Secretary of the Interior urges the Attorney-General to use all the means in his power to arrest and punish offenders. The way deprivations manage, in Southern Oregon, is very simple. A man files a pre-emption application on a tract of land; so as to prevent others from interfering. He then builds a cabin and hires a gang of men to help him cut the wood off the tract and then leaves it stripped. Upon filing a pre-emption application the applicant should be made to give bonds for the security of all timber not required in the actual improvement of the tract applied for.

According to the "Morning Standard" a deadly blight has fallen upon unhappy Oregon; because Huntington, of the Central Pacific, has, after all, not supplanted Mr. Villard as manager of the O. & C. railroad. The "Standard" sadly "deplores" this fact and in so doing touches and lays bare its own hollow insincerity on the monopoly question as Satan was touched by Ithuriel's spear. After hoping that the "Central Pacific," the most exciting and cold blooded corporation in America, might grasp the industry of Oregon with its skinny fingers the "Standard" may as well grease its bow and hang up its "anti-monopoly" fiddle to season.

for the justly Celebrated Fish Bro's

Wagon,

The best Wagon on Wheels

for the following reasons:

1. More care is taken in the selection of stock; only good, solid built timber being used.

2. The Wheels are all soaked in Boiling Lined Oil.

3. Every part is strongly braced; and instead of being bolted, is clipped so that the full strength of the wood is secured.

4. The Tires are securely bolted, after being thoroughly and carefully set.

5. The Skins are heated before driving on, and set in White Lead; consequently, when cooled, contract, making a perfect fit and impossible to work loose.

It is the only Wagon on which "Holmes' Patent Self-Adjusting" are used, the whole right and title having been purchased. The principal points of superiority over all other Skins, are: 1st. Bearings are perfectly straight, which does away with side-drag. 2d. Has a perfect fitting and Band. 3d. Unnecessary to remove the wheel to oil. 4th. Will retain oil longer, having an oil-chamber, and so constructed that oil cannot run out at the point. 5th. Hound Brace is clipped on, bringing the purchase nearer the wheels. And many others, too numerous to mention, but which can be readily seen upon examination; and we cordially invite our many customers and all others who contemplate purchasing a first-class Wagon, to call and get prices before being elsewhere.
