

OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE:
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1882.
Republican State Central Committee.

A meeting of the Republican State Central Committee of the state of Oregon will be held at the office of the chairman, in the city of Portland, on Thursday, the 23d day of February 1882, at 11 o'clock A. M. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

JOSEPH SIMON, Chairman.

YAGUINA BAY APPROPRIATION.

Referring to the suggestion of the SENTINEL, that the demand of the people of Albany, for $140,000 more than the engineers estimate for Yaquina Bay, would raise a big guffaw in the War Department, the State Rights Democrat says:

"There will be no guffaw at Washington at all, particularly in the War Department, as it has nothing to do with the matter. The recommendation of the State Legislature, which asked for more than $60,000, is above that of a mere engineer, and there is some doubt that Col. Gillespie ever made such a recommendation."

We will now take the trouble to show the Albany people just where the laugh comes in. In the first place the "Democrat" is badly mistaken; for the War Department has everything to do with the matter. Under the rules of Congress no appropriations for rivers or harbors are ever made until the estimates therefor are submitted by the government engineers and recommended by the Sec'y of War. The estimates are rarely allowed and never exceeded by the Committee of Commerce and Mr. George will be fortunate if he secures the full amount of Col. Gillespie's estimate. As the War Department, therefore, has virtual control over the whole subject; its estimates being the basis of all appropriations, it is safe to say; that there was a broad grin in military circles when the Albany mass meeting was heard from. Farmers and shoemakers and tailors and tinkers—even the Oregon Legislature—resolving that they were better judges of the amount that could be judiciously expended in a harbor, in one season, than a trained government engineer, will be more likely to gain us credit for greed than for discretion and more likely to disgust the committee than excite its liberality. Now, we ask, what was the amount obtained by Congressman Whiteaker, last year, for Yaquina Bay? With all his vaunted ability and industry his party, then dominant allowed only $10,000. True, Senator Slater tried to get an increase to $25,000 but failed, the conference committee reporting adversely. It is very true that the Oregon Legislature resolved that $200,000 was the proper amount, but Oregon Legislatures do many foolish things and, in this instance, the legislature only exhibited its ignorance by indulging in a little cheap "buncombe." If Mr. George's constituency make asses of themselves by demanding appropriations, in excess of the amount recommended by the proper authorities, and which Congress, under its own rules, can not grant, it is not his fault. Instead of being abused; he should be thanked for his efforts to obtain the largest amount the committee has the right to grant, without risking the loss of all by heeding the popular clamor. The Albany paper concludes by saying that "if it is necessary to secure the keys of the Treasury to obtain the $200,000, wanted they will demand even them." The Democracy tried that twenty-one years ago, have tried it, quadrupled, ever since with ill success and seem no nearer the hoped for end than ever.

Dr. Hugh Glenn, of Columbia, the last Democratic candidate for Governor of California, has just seeded sixty thousand acres in wheat and wants more land. The claim that the Democratic party is an anti-monopoly one is a travesty on truth that makes people laugh.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.—This body met in special session last Monday evening, President Reames presiding. All the members were present.

The following bills were reported on favorably and ordered paid: P. P. Prim, drafting ordinance, $20; A. Helms, lamp-lighting, $12.50; K. Kubli, coal oil, etc., $9.50.

Ordinance No. 73, relating to sidewalks, was passed.

On motion of Mr. Foundry, the Recorder was ordered to let the publication of said ordinance to the lowest bidder.

The petition of H. K. Hanna and others, for a fire-bell, was referred to the committee on Public Improvements.

The insurance of the Town Hall was referred to the committee on Public Improvements for action.

An order was made for holding the annual election for town officers on the first Tuesday in next month—March 7th. D. Linn, H. Judge and Newman Fisher were appointed inspectors and J. A. Boyer and I. W. Berry clerks of said election.

The board then adjourned.

THE DEATH SENTENCE.

Cutler to swing on June 30th.

On Feb. 4th, Judge Cox denied motion of Guitau's counsel for new trial and, ordering the prisoner to stand up, proceeded to pass the following sentence:

"You have been convicted of a crime so terrible in its circumstances and so far-reaching in its results that it has drawn upon you the horror of the whole world and the execrations of your countrymen. The excitement produced by such an offense made it no easy task to secure for you a fair and impartial trial, but you have had the power of the United States Treasury and of the Government at your service, to protect your person from violence and to procure evidence from all parts of the country. You have had as fair and impartial a jury as ever assembled in a court of justice. You have been defended by your counsel with a zeal and devotion that merits the highest encomiums. I certainly have done my best to secure a fair presentation of your defense. Notwithstanding all this, you have been found guilty. It would have been a comfort to many people if the verdict of the jury had established the fact that your act was that of an irresponsible man. It would have left the people the satisfying belief that the crime of political assassination was something foreign to the institutions and civilization of our country. But the result has denied them the comfort. The country will accept it as a fact that such a crime can be committed, and the Court will have to deal with it with the highest penalty known to the Criminal Code, to serve as an example to others. Your career has been so extraordinary that the people might well at times have doubted your sanity, but I cannot but believe that when the crime was committed you thoroughly understood the nature of that crime and its consequences."

Guitau—I was acting as God's man. "And that you had moral sense and conscience enough to recognize the moral iniquity of such an act."

Prisoner—That's a matter of opinion.

"Your own testimony shows that you recoiled with horror from the idea. You say that you prayed against it. You say that you thought it might be prevented. This shows that your conscience warned you against it. But by the wretched sophistries of your own mind you worked yourself up against the protest of your own conscience. What motive could have induced you to this act must be forever hidden, and a mere matter of conjecture. Probably men will think that some fanaticism or morbid desire for self-exaltation was the real inspiration for your act. Your own testimony seems to controvert the theories of your counsel. They have maintained, and thought honestly, I believe, that you were driven, against your will, by an insane impulse. The testimony showed that you deliberately resolved to do it, and that a deliberate and misguided will was the sole impulse. This may seem insanity to some persons, but the law looks upon it as willful crime. You will have a due opportunity of having any errors I may have committed in the course of the trial passed upon by the Court in banc. Meanwhile it is necessary for me to pronounce the sentence of the law, that you be taken to the common jail of the District, from whence you came, and there be kept in confinement, and on Friday, the 30th of June, 1882, you be taken to the place prepared for your execution within the walls of said jail, and there, between the hours of 12 and 2 P. M., you be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul."

GUITAU CURSES JUDGE AND JURY.

During the reading Guitau stood apparently unmoved, and with his gaze riveted on the Judge, but when the final words were spoken he struck the table violently and shouted: "And may the Lord have mercy on your soul. I'd rather stand where I do than where that jury does and where your Honor stands. I'm not afraid to die. I stand here as God's man, and God Almighty will curse every man who has had a part in procuring this unrighteous verdict. Nothing but good has come from Garfield's removal, and that will be the verdict of posterity on my inspiration. I don't care a snap for the verdict of this corrupt generation. I would rather a thousand times be in my position than that of those who have hounded me to death. I shall have a glorious fight to glory. But that miserable scoundrel, Corkhill, will have a permanent job down below, where the Devil is preparing for him."

John McKankell, with a force of fifteen or twenty white men, is engaged in cleaning or brushing out the route of the railroad from Roseburg southward.

The State of Washington.

The bill for the admission of Washington Territory, into the National sisterhood, by Delegate Brents, is being bitterly antagonized by Ainslie, of Idaho, and its passage is among the things uncertain. There is no substantial reason why Washington should not be admitted and there are many why she should. Her tide lands, the prerogative of every new state, are being rapidly absorbed and taken away from her. The public lands within her boundaries, from which she is to select the usual gift of a half million acres for school purposes, are being taken by settlers and speculators so that; if her admission be long deferred, that jewel in her crown will hardly be worth the wearing. It is argued with apparent force that she has not the requisite population. Neither had Oregon, when admitted, nor has she it to-day; yet she was admitted as a matter of political policy—to strengthen a Democratic administration, and so recent a precedent can not now be honestly opposed by the Democracy. Precedent, then, makes the act defensible and justice demands it. The people are willing to assume the burdens of self government for the sake of enfranchisement and real representation in Congress and, being willing to stand alone, there is no reason why Washington should be kept longer in swaddling clothes at an expense to the National Treasury. Mr. Ainslie's objection: that the boundaries of the new State take a portion of Idaho is scarcely a valid one. The people of the three northern counties of Idaho voted, almost unanimously, to attach themselves to Washington, being identified with it by geographical, commercial and every conceivable interest, and Congress has the undisputed right to alter the boundaries of any territory. The real ground of opposition is a political one. Washington will send two Republican Senators to Congress, settling the question of party supremacy and, for this reason alone, Mr. Brent's bill should have the affirmative vote of every Republican in Congress. It needs no prophet to divine the future of this splendid Territory; with its unrivaled harbors, its timber, iron and coal, its meadow and pasture and rich prairie. Threaded by the grandest of western rivers, traversed by a transcontinental railway, that must, ultimately, terminate on Puget Sound and become the national highway of Asiatic traffic, who can measure the limit of its possibilities? The investment of her people with the full privilege of citizenship would be a just and gracious act, adding another jewel to our republican crown, and binding them more firmly and steadfastly to the flag that they love so well.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS—Never Despair Something that never fails—Fever and Ague—To the sick it is of little consequence how they are cured, whether from a rational view of the disease or by the rules defined for the guidance of the profession, so long as the cure is certain and expeditious. To a suffering man the question on the relative merits of quinine or calomel is uninteresting. The faculty may wrangle and discuss their various theories, but Dr. Holloway's treatment dispels doubt ere the disciples of Esculapius have finished the first stage. Holloway's Pills are the only remedies which effect a speedy and radical cure without danger of a relapse. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

IMPORTANT CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the signature of J. HAYDOCK, surrounds each box of Pills and Ointment. Boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.
