

OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE, OREGON. SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1882. REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Supreme Judge, W. P. LORD, of Marion. Representative, M. C. GEORGE, of Multnomah. Governor, Z. F. MOODY, of Wasco. Secretary of State, R. P. EARHART, of Multnomah. State Treasurer, ED. HIRSCH, of Marion. State Printer, W. H. BYARS, of Douglas. Supt. Public Instruction, E. B. McELROY, of Benton.

WHAT HAS MR. GEORGE DONE?

This inquiry, now that Mr. George is a candidate for re-election, is very pertinent. Our Democratic friends are anxious to know and they should know. If they will open their ears they shall know and if they will read they can inform themselves, whether the information be satisfactory or not. In the first place, the great work of a representative from Oregon is to procure appropriations from Congress for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. We are entitled to but a single voice and we will show directly that Mr. George has made his voice heard and made his influence felt greatly to the advantage of Oregon. Oregon was represented in the 46th Congress by a Democrat, John Whitaker—very much bragged of for ability by his partisan press—Mr. Whitaker's best efforts, in a Congress where his party was in the majority, procured an aggregate appropriation of less than $200,000 after his second session. Mr. George took his seat last December—was immediately placed on one of the most important committees and by faithful and earnest work—at his first session—the showing is: For the Cascade locks $260,000, lower Columbia $75,000, upper Columbia $63,000; Yaquina bay $60,000, Coos bay $30,000; Coquille river $10,000; Yamhill river $5,000; Tillamook station at Astoria $5,000; mouth of Columbia $7,500; Wagon road from Scottsburg to Ft. Klamath $25,000; footing up $42,500 or nearly three times as much as the amount obtained by the Democratic Congressman. This is only a part of Mr. George's work. When ever asked, he has established post roads and attended to the private business of the citizens of Oregon in all the Departments without a cent of remuneration and yet in the face of the above showing little Democratic papers are continually asking "what has Mr. George done? Publishers that ask this question are either stupidly ignorant or willfully dishonest. If they had read the record they would have been informed and if they had been honest they would have published the result of Mr. George's service for five months as news the people were entitled to. We now challenge every Democratic paper in Oregon to have honesty and decency enough to publish Mr. George's work as an item of news and we especially ask our esteemed neighbor in Jackson county to post himself on the actual work of our Congressman and not exhibit himself to his readers every week like a great stupid fool who is ignorant of what is transpiring in Congress. His readers are entitled to this news and, now that the SENTINEL has put him in possession of it, will he publish it and quit asking "What has George done?"

The Bill Signed.

On Monday last President Arthur signed the Chinese restriction bill and the only available weapon the Democracy had it beautifully spiked and quite useless now. Notwithstanding the persistent lying of Democratic editors the bill is practically the vetoed bill, changed only in the limit of restriction, the sections prohibiting naturalization and defining laborers to mean skilled and unskilled both being retained. This action of Mr. Arthur's ought to be severely denounced by the Democracy of Oregon. It has knocked the ruder from Fenton's craft and completely taken the wind from St. Joseph's sails and the poor becalmed fleet is slowly drifting among the breakers—hopelessly drifting without even a Chinese queue for a saving cable. The crew of the doomed craft are to be pitied for listening to the siren that hid under the yeto and lured them to their fate. The "Times" doubts the capability of Mr. Merritt for the office of District Attorney. If he were on the Democratic ticket he would be a statesman, a distinguished lawyer, a man of superior ability and every thing clean and nice; would he not Charles? Fortunately for Mr. Merritt the opinion of the "Times" is not worth a straw.

A Beautiful Picture.

From the summit of the hill overlooking Jacksonville, on the Applegate road, a view of Rogue River Valley can now be obtained that for loveliness is hard to excel. Beginning with the little mountain city—nestled in a notch in the hills, with its bright homes and spires surrounded by peach and apple bloom, the valley stretches northward and eastward, a picture of vernal beauty, dotted with comfortable homes, that show the evidence of thrift and culture. The monotony of the emerald grain fields is broken here and there by the pink and white of blooming orchards and the opening foliage of the native groves of oak. Stretching northward still, the line of Rogue river, as it sweeps from the dark gorges its rapid current has torn through the Cascade range, is marked by a small fringe of pine, farther still the beautiful valley, beyond the Table mountain breaks on the eye—a second but smaller picture set in the blue hills surrounding it. Beyond all the Diamond Peak, one of the highest sentinels of the wild "Cascades," pierces the sky like the pinnacle of an everlasting glacier and speaking of the solitude of the eternal to the busy civilization below. Nowhere have we seen so lovely a picture, in which the effort of the hand and nature is blended with the wild and rugged beauty of nature and it is one which the eye of the tourist or artist may well linger on long and delightedly.

Atrocious Crime in Ireland.

Dispatches of May 6th to the Chronicle give an account of a terrible assassination which is summed up briefly as follows: Lord Frederick Cavendish, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Thomas Henry Burke, Under Secretary, were stabbed to death in Phoenix Park, Dublin, early last evening. There is no clue to the assassins, who are reported to be four in number. Both men were dead when found, and the spot where they were slain was soaked with their blood. None of their valuables were touched, which proves that it was not a mercenary crime. Great excitement was caused by the news of the murders, and very bitter feeling was expressed in London. Irishmen in this country deplore the outrage and can assign no reasons for it. The opinion of the press is that no organization has any connection with the crime, but that it is due to individual fanaticism. There is no language adequate to condemn the devilish spirit that prompts assassination. It is unworthy the proverbial naughtiness of the Irish people and must result in the worst consequences to them. They have dipped the "olive branch," offered them, in blood, and it may take a sea of blood to wash it again.

Next.

In reference to detention of papers mailed for Big Butte one P. M. writes. As it seems to clear his skirts we would like to hear from the other offices on the route for there is detention somewhere. He says: Editor SENTINEL: You stated in your paper of May 6th, that you have reason to believe that the Big Butte Sentinel is detained in this office. On May the 2nd, a roll of papers (supposed to be the Sentinel) came back in the mail bag, which the Big Butte P. M. had inadvertently failed to take out, which we kept here and returned the next mail day. That was the only time a Big Butte paper was ever detained in the office. Very often both the Sentinel and the Times fail to reach here on their regular mail days, for what reason we know not. You will do me the justice to give this publicity. Yours Respectfully, H. R. BROWN, P. M. Brownsboro, May 10, 1882.

In Divor Extremity.

Four years since, the Democracy of Oregon denounced the candidacy of H. K. Hines because he was a "preacher" but more particularly because he was a Republican. Now the Democracy have two "preachers" on their ticket—a Southern Methodist for Governor—a Campbellite for Congress—and those who threw mud at Mr. Hines all join heartily in a prayerful amen. The nominations are most appropriate the Democratic party being "in articulo mortis" it is fitting that it should have the benefit of clergy at the funeral obsequies in June, and this is probably the reason that Smith and Fenton were selected.

Take Warning.

Parties in Southern Oregon who are wantonly cutting timber from land they have no title to, will find themselves in serious trouble if they do not desist. It is no excuse that they have filed homestead or pre-emption claims as the mere fact of filing gives neither title to the land nor privilege to cut the timber on it and there is a determination on the part of the U. S. District Attorney to prosecute all offenders vigorously. We give this warning for the purpose of saving those ignorant of the law from serious trouble and expense and hope it will be heeded.
