glorify all the tears of grief." In the person of Sir Robert Peel the children of England had a true friend. His was the work of a true Odd Fellow, though not one in name, he was one in fact and in action. All honor is due that noble hearted man for taking cognisance of the pallid cheeks and wan features of these helpless waifs of humanity. The system of factories superinduced by the invention and application of machinery, necessarily congregated artisans and operatives in cities, or certain centers of business. The monotonous humdrum life of these laborers and operatives created a thirst for some kind of enjoyment. This is one of the causes which gave rise to the lodge of Odd Fellows at Manchester. These lodges first took the name of Ancient and Honorable Loyal Odd Fellows. Their organization, at first, was solely for recreation and convivial purposes. A little later the convivial element gave place to the benevolent, —a recognition of those high duties which man owes to man. Lodges engaged in this advance and reform took the name of "Independent Order of Odd Fellows." Thomas Wildy planted the fruitful seeds of this Order in the virgin soil of America by instituting Washington Lodge No. 1. at Baltimore Maryland April 26th, 1819. This is, therefore, its 63d anniversary. As we have briefly seen it was a creature of emergencies undergoing continual metamorphosis gathering material at every step for future use.

ITS WORK.

Beginning with one Lodge and a mere handful of members, it has grown into the Sovereign Grand Lodge, composed of 7,371 Subordinate Lodges, with a membership of 466,857. In the year ending Dec. 31, 1880, it paid 251,185 weeks of benefits, relieved 41,879 brothers, 5597 widow families, spent for the relief of brothers 1,041,831 and for the relief of widowed families $145,621. During the same year it expended $13,387 for the education of orphans, $267,554 for the burial of deceased members and $52,352 for special relief. Its total expenditures for relief during the same year were $1,520,647, and its gross receipts $4,178,506.

O' what a grand work!
Beautiful and sublimely grand,
These faithful brothers work,
In virtues royal robes embalmed!

While the members have given these magnificent beneficencs they have born the burdens of government equally with other citizens. No man service, or visions of vain glory ever move her members in this direction. But it is simply the perception and performance of a sacred duty; the fulfillment of a pledge, which Odd Fellows know how to take and keep. Founded upon the principles of eternal justice, its work is purely reciprocal. A brother belonging to a lodge in Arizona, residing near Jacksonville, became serious ill; his card showed that he was entitled to $7 as weekly benefits. Jacksonville Lodge paid the three weeks benefits, asked for, and informed the brothers home lodge, in Arizona. Scarcely had this business been finished before Jacksonville Lodge, No. 10. was notified of the death of one her members, by this same Lodge in Arizona, who took charge of the deceased brothers remains, paid all funeral expenses and reported the facts to Jacksonville Lodge. This my brothers, and sisters, and friends is living, and performing the precepts of the golden rule. "Whatsoever you would have others do unto you, do you even so unto them." What other society, organization, or association performs these sacred obligations so well? The above is only one out of hundreds of similar incidents; but is sufficient to show the reciprocal spirit of our fraternity, and its sterling integrity of principle. In this connection I cannot refrain from a brief reference to a divine work performed, and still practiced weekly by our sister Lodge at Jacksonville. About six years ago a brother was stricken with paralysis. Unfortunate circumstances, brought him in arears for dues, which annulled his rights to weekly benefits. To him the day must have been indeed dark and dreary. But the covenanted brothers, —all honor to them for it—saw the ordeal, responded to the call of mercy, removed the disability, by contributing gratuitously sufficient funds to restore the brother to a proper standing in the lodge, and place his feet on the rock of fraternal love. From that time on this afflicted brother has received his weekly benefits. Nay more than this, this noble lodge has done all that medical skill, and the judicial expenditure of means for medical aparatus could possibly do to restore the brother to health and happiness. The aggregate expenses to the lodge have been $3,158.

O' rosy liped daughter of love,
In thy robes of Pink, Blue and Scarlet
From thy rich fountains of love,
Bathe, and purify all our hearts.

Like good samaritans these brothers have been bountiful in their works of mercy. In the inauguration of your lodge in this place six years ago, you planted a branch of the same noble work, that has grown into a majestic tree casting its genial shades over thirty souls, and yielding its benevolent fruits. Beginning with a few members under adverse circumstances, guided by the beacon star of justice and humanity, you have stemmed the tide of all opposing elements; added another link to the golden chain, and woven another garland of love. You have gilded the pains of sorrow, with deeds of benevolence, you have buried the tears of anguish in flowers of love. You have added another star to the great constellation, revolving around the orion of fraternal love.

Our sister the Rebekahs of the order. Our discourse would be incomplete were we to fail a just rememberance of our sisters work. It may truly be said that woman is first in peace, and first in the hearts of men. Our brothers can most all testify to the truth of the latter, Odd Fellows in name, they make it even by doubling. The condition of woman in society has always been an index to the character and honor of the nation. Our civilization with its culture, refinement, and men of letters owes its existence to the modifying, refining, and elevating influences of woman upon society. Of late years a larger knowledge and a better will, is begining to clothe the winds of reason, which will eventualy accord to our sisters, our mothers and our wives, their natural and malienable rights. The relics of an ignorant barbarism, blind traditional belief, and stupid dogmas, that consigning woman to the position of a menial, are rapidly disappearing before the moral force of reason and justice. The iconoclastic force of a riper manhood, and a better intellectuality is breaking the fossilized idols of superatition removing the flaming sword from the tree of knowledge, and restoring to the women of the land, a portion, at least, of that justice of which they were robbed by bigotry and superstition. I hail the day when that ostracism which has tabooed woman from certain spheres of action, shall have been consigned to the tomb of oblivian. Odd Fellows long since grasped this progressive idea. The Rebekah members of the fraternity constitute one of its most efficient factors of divine work. Their keen instructive perception, moral sense of justice and sympathetic nature gives them a pre-eminent position in the field of benevolence. They are eminently fitted to deal with the divine and emotional nature of men; gather up, and unite the broken cords of love, and stimulate all to higher deeds of excellence. Thus my brothers, and sisters, and friends, we have aimed to unite all the good elements into our organization. We have aimed to foster truth, justice, and humanity; cultivate frindship, love and truth, and practice the divine precepts of the golden rule. In the sixty three years of our life we have steadily advanced. Onward and upward is our motto. The spirit of our fraternity has infused itself into the life blood of Europe, warmed the planes of Switzerland and the Netherlands, ramified Australia and the islands of the sea. Its lover is working in the hearts of men, elevating and fitting their minds for the perception of higher duties, and the enjoyment of a riper manhood and a better civilization. It is beating the sword into plow shares, and turning spears into pruning hooks. It is pouring the oil of peace on troubled waters of life. It is cooling the fevered brow with the rippling fountains of fraternal love,

All hail thou ensign of peace!
In thy royal robes enshrined
Join our hearts in the everlasting peace,
In thy links of gold entwined!
All hail thou rosy liped daughter of love
In thy Robes of Pink, Blue and Scarlet,
In thy rich fountains of purity,
Embalm and seal all our hearts!
March on O' ye brothers march on!
Sing O' ye daughters of liberty sing!
March on, brave sons of freedom march on
For the bridal belle of liberty reigns.
