

OREGON SENTINEL.

JACKSONVILLE. SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1882.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

Supreme Judge, W. P. LORD, of Marion. Representative, M. C. GEORGE, of Multnomah. Governor, Z. F. MOODY, of Wasco. Secretary of State, R. P. EARHART, of Multnomah. State Treasurer, ED. HIRSCH, of Marion. State Printer, W. H. BYARS, of Douglas. Supt. Public Instruction, E. B. McELROY, of Benton. First District, For Prosecuting Attorney, J. W. MERRITT.

JACKSON COUNTY.

For State Senator, J. A. CARDWELL. For Representatives, THEO. CAMERON, H. F. PHILLIPS. For County Commissioners, JOSEPH SATTERFIELD, P. N. FICKE. For County Clerk, G. F. BILLINGS. For Sheriff, R. M. GARRETT. For Treasurer, J. S. HOWARD. For Assessor, B. C. GODDARD. For School Superintendent, W. J. STANLEY. County Surveyor, C. J. HOWARD. For Coroner, DR. J. H. CHITWOOD. Precinct Ticket. For Justice of the Peace, J. H. HUFFER. For Constable, J. G. BIRDSEY.

POLITICAL OFFICES.

The organ of the Democracy in this county "The Democratic Times" says: "The offices of Senator and Representatives are political ones in every sense." The "Times" is a paper noted as never rising above mere assertion—never able to give a reason for anything it says and presuming its readers to be as ignorant as itself. We will now assert and prove that the offices spoken of are not political in every sense. The duty of a Senator or Representative is, clearly, to represent the wants and interests of the counties from which they are sent. The county is the body politic composed of men of all parties and all shades of opinion—not those alone who happen to be in the majority. If it were otherwise, then the minority would have no rights and the claims or interests of citizens who had voted with it would be entirely ignored. A member of the Legislature is supposed to represent the whole people of his district, be he a Democrat or Republican, and not the political party that elected him. It is the foolish and false idea that these offices "are political in every sense" that has sent so many unworthy and imbecile representatives to the Legislature from Jackson county. Just look back for twenty years and call to mind, if you can, a single act of the Legislature procured by our representatives that has been of the slightest benefit to the general public. True; about twenty five thousand dollars was taken from the swamp fund for the Linkville road but it is well known that for every dollar spent on the road, three dollars went into the hands of the politicians who built it. Every interest in this county has been neglected just because representatives have been selected more with reference to their fitness for party tools—like clay in the hands of the potter—than because of their ability to represent their constituency practically and intelligently. We think it is of far greater importance to the people of Jackson county that we should have a thorough change in the school and road laws and assistance from the State to organize a county fair and aid in our agricultural development than that A, B or C should be U. S. Senator. Look back and see if you can perceive a single act done by representatives of this county for the past ten years that has been of the slightest benefit to the public and see if it is not due to the baneful idea that the representative's office is purely political and that duty to party is considered higher than duty to the interests of the people at large.

THE TICKET.

It is hardly necessary to say anything about the candidates on the ticket put out by the Republicans and independents on Thursday. From Senator to Coroner every name on it is known throughout Jackson county. Cardwell is one of the solid men of Jackson county and would make a good representative of our agricultural interests and is pledged to work for an appropriation for the support of a Fair in every county in the state. Cameron and Phillips are known as sound practical men—just the kind that ought to be sent as representatives. The qualifications of Mr. Billings for County Clerk cannot be questioned and he is very popular in every portion of the county. W. J. Stanley the candidate for School Supt. has already served one term in that capacity quite creditably. While we can say nothing derogatory of his competitor we will only remark that it would seem proper that that office should be filled from the ranks of the teachers and that Mr. Stanley has been in the profession for many years. Howard for Treasurer is just the best kind of a nomination. He is too well known as a correct business man to need much notice and the people could do no better than to make him the holder of the public purse and they will never lose a cent by him. Young Mr. Howard is a practical surveyor and we have only to say that the nominations of his competitor (Jeffery) is a burlesque on that office and that Howard should be elected. Mr. Goddard has served too terms as assessor with entire satisfaction. Joseph Satterfield for Commissioner is a resident of Table Rock, an old and respectable citizen, a tax payer himself, one that would be very likely to see that the people's money was not unnecessarily squandered and who is in every way qualified. Mr. P. N. Ficke also running for Commissioner is a square, honest man well-calculated to guard the Treasury and one who will make an excellent Commissioner. Dr. J. H. Chitwood of Ashland brings up the end of the ticket as Coroner and is an excellent selection and will not be a burlesque on a really important office. To sum up—there is not a name on the ticket that is not clean and respectable and it is well worthy of being elected.

Our Next Sheriff.

The Republican convention on Monday did a very sensible thing when it recommended Republican voters to support Mr. Garrett for the Sheriff's office and declined to nominate any one in opposition. It is true Mr. Garrett is not a Republican but he is a man in every respect fitted for and in every way deserving the office. Mr. Garrett had long announced himself as an independent candidate pointing only to his good record as a citizen and asking to be held accountable, in case of election, only to the people and not to a ring of political masters for his conduct. "Bob" Garrett is a strong candidate and we confidently predict his election. His honest and fearless character, joined to a generous disposition, has made him a host of friends such as are willing to pull their coats for a man and, on the night of election his opponent Mr. Jacobs, will be found some votes short. He is a thorough going, vigorous and energetic man, popular with all classes particularly fitted for the sheriff's office and no citizen need be ashamed to vote for him. During the past four years Mr. Garrett has filled a mail contract, through storm and flood, at a heavy loss rather than throw it on his bondsmen, and a man plucky enough to do that won't be found wanting wherever he is put. Consider R. M. Garrett the next Sheriff of Jackson county.

Honor for Oregon.

Representative George of Oregon has accepted an invitation to deliver the memorial address on Decoration Day at the national cemetery at Ball's Bluff, Virginia, where Col. Baker was killed. Ball's Bluff is the birthplace and early home of the father of Mr. George.

The position of the Democracy is a little mixed on the Chinese bill. They claim all the credit of having passed it and the moment it becomes a law by the President's signature they declare it in-operative and not worth a snap. It is now plain that they never would have supported the second bill had they expected it would be signed. The house committee on judiciary adopted the report of the sub-committee declaring the lands granted to the Northern Pacific railway non-forfeitable. A minority of four will present a dissenting report. Chairman Reed was authorized to submit the majority report. The Democratic papers are so anxious to prove that Mr. Fenton is not a licensed preacher that they overshoot the mark and make their unfortunate candidate as bad as Bob Ingersoll or Bescher.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

There never was a time in the history of Oregon when there was so little political excitement and when the people so strongly resisted party restraint as now. Indeed there is general disgust at the stereotyped claim that no man can be honest or capable if he is not on a certain ticket and attached to a certain party; or that he is everything that is low and contemptible; because he is not on a certain ticket. People are beginning to feel very palpably that to force them to support any man simply because he has succeeded in getting his name on the ticket, usually made up by two or three men, is to place them in a humiliating position and is really depriving them of free manhood. "Scratching" is not only an American privilege but an American duty and one that ought to be discharged fearlessly. Whenever a voter neglects to do this duty he gives up his citizenship, makes a party slave of himself and stifles his own right of judgment. It is clearly the duty of voters to examine the records of candidates, as far as possible, and to select those who have been fairly tried and who have served the people well. We do not ask any voter to support a single man on the Republican ticket just because his name is there; but to weigh his fitness and service, if an official, and if he be found worthy give him the moral support that approval of a proper course insures. This is the correct principle. Use your own judgment instead of voting blindly. Reject any you think unworthy instead of supporting candidates who, too often, have got on a ticket by disreputable methods and by tricking those who only to the professional politicians. When voters exercise this inherent right, they will be better assured that all public offices will be properly filled and their citizenship no longer made a laughing-stock of, by the men who seek the places. No man has a right to stay away from the polls either. It is the duty of every voter to cast his ballot one way or the other—throwing it where his judgment is and then, no matter what the result, he has done his whole duty.

Tariff.

The "Times" claims to be the advocate of free trade and it also claims to be opposed to the importation of Chinese into the United States. The advocacy of the above propositions, by the Democratic party, shows the glaring inconsistency of that party in relation to free trade. Ques. What is the effect produced by the importation of large numbers of Chinese into the United States? Ans. It reduces the laborers of this Nation to the level of a Chinaman, who can exist for less wages than a free white laborer can live and support a family. Therefore an unlimited importation of Chinese would reduce the price of all articles of manufacture and drive our own laborers to the wall. Ques. What is the effect of free trade? Ans. It reduces the laborers of this Nation to the level of the cheap labor of the old world, the Chinaman included, who can exist for less wages than a free white laborer can live and support a family. Therefore free trade would reduce the price of all articles of manufacture and drive our own laborers to the wall. We are opposed to the importation of Chinese into this country, and we are also opposed to free trade. When a paper like the "Times" advocates free trade, and opposes the importation of Chinese into this country, it only shows what a large amount of inconsistency one small head can contain.

Mr. Herman's Speech.

Hon. Binger Herman, of Douglas, spoke here on Thursday evening to a large audience and was listened to with close attention. His speech was very conservative, he taking the broad ground that the application of the Jeffersonian test, honesty and capability, was better and surer than to accept a man simply because he was on a certain ticket or had adopted a certain party name. He urged the people to stand by the public servants who had served them faithfully, and pointed with pride to the record of Mr. George and that of Messrs. Earhart and Hirsch. He spoke of Mr. Moody as a pioneer who had come here in boyhood, worked his own way to success by honest industry and was in every way a man fitted for the Executive chair which he will surely occupy. Mr. Herman's remarks on the Chinese question were pungent and well received as he showed that if it ever was a party question it was so no longer and was now completely out of politics. The tariff was handled ably by the speaker who made a strong and effective argument in favor of a protective tariff and showed that the periods of temporary low tariff were the blackest and most disastrous in the history of our country. The speech was interspersed with many eloquent passages and fully came up to the standard expected of Mr. Herman, who is not unknown here as a speaker.

George For Congress.

We will call attention, for the last time, to the importance of again electing our brilliant and industrious Representative in Congress. It is not because M. C. George is at the head of the Republican ticket that he should be elected but because he has been a worthy and efficient worker for every section and every interest in Oregon. The fact that he had no competitor in the convention, and was chosen to stand for re-election by the unanimous voice of the convention is evidence that his course in Congress has been most satisfactory. We have only to point to his clean record during his first session, not yet ended, and to his marked success on committees where all the work of Congress is really done to convince voters that his record would be an act of folly. M. C. George is not the representative of a party but of the whole commonwealth and he has fulfilled his trust with honor alike to himself and those who sent him. There is no reason, not the slightest, why he should be recalled but the most cogent reasons why he should be continued where he is. His experience in Congress, not to be gathered in a day, is the property of the state and it would seem senseless to throw it away by sending a new man. The longer he continues there the greater will be his influence and it would be a sorry requital for his splendid service to retire him just as his service had become most valuable. There is no danger of Mr. George's defeat but he should be endorsed and strengthened by an approving majority, so overwhelming that the news will sweep across the continent on next Monday night like a voice from the Western Queen saying to her distinguished young Representative "Well done faithful servant!" That is the way to honor true and honest public men such as Mr. George, and it will be done.
