

THE SACRAMENTO CONVENTION.

The platform adopted by the California Republican convention, is a strong document. It thoroughly covers the whole ground. It is straight forward, bold and aggressive. It makes no attempt to straddle any question. It fairly meets and plainly pronounces upon all the important issues involved in the campaign.

The candidates presented to the people of California, by the Republican convention, are courageous and consistent representatives of the principles embodied in the platform upon which they are nominated.

General Chalmers and Van H. Manning are opposition candidates for Congress in a Tenn. district. They have been holding joint debates, during one of which their mutual abuse aroused such hot blood, that a duel is likely to follow.

During the month of August, 1274 miles of railroad were built in the United States. This is the greatest number of miles ever built in one month.

MITCHELL AND ANTI-MITCHELL.

Just at this time, the politics of the State seems to be divided into Mitchell and anti-Mitchell parties. The anti-Mitchell party is led by three or four loud-mouthed, long-winded demagogues. Their argument is the very sub-soil of personal abuse, and their purpose, of course, their own advancement.

Personal spite, interested abuse, and a despicable desire to say something mean about a Republican,—such is the opposition to Mr. Mitchell. Those who are his friends, are such, because they believe him to be the best man in Oregon for United States Senator.

According to the law, heretofore existing in Massachusetts, both the mortgagor and mortgagee have been obliged to pay tax on the full value of a mortgage. It is now changed,—so that the mortgagor only, is required to pay tax on it.

The law of Massachusetts, as it now stands, is a correct adjustment of the rights of all parties and should be imitated by our law makers. This is not demanded in the interest of the person who receives the mortgage.

Last week the "Democratic Times" plucked up courage to criticize the Portland "Standard," for its defense of ex-Senator Mitchell. Upon this the "Standard" administered a vigorous and well deserved spanking to our neighbor and told it plainly that it had not political sense enough to mind its own business much less any to spare in minding other peoples. The "Standard" is one of the few democratic papers that self respect and common sense impels from motives of fairness to defend Mr. Mitchell.

FOREIGN FIGHTING.

The Egyptian war continues to be little more than marches and counter marches of the contending armies. No encounter that could really be called a battle has yet occurred. Slight skirmishes between the outposts resulting in small losses and little advantage to either side make up the record of actual encounters.

Greece and Turkey have renewed their border quarrels. A pitch battle between their troops guarding disputed territory resulted in a little bloodshed and a great deal of big talk, but it is not likely to gain any further importance.

For some days a bloody riot has been raging in Dublin. As is usual at such times men women and children old and young fell victims to the rabble. The soldiers finally succeeded in restoring order at the point of the bayonet and the trouble seems at an end for the present at least.

The commissioners, appointed under the Edmunds Polygamy Bill to supervise the government of Utah, have begun the work of registering voters. Every person is required to subscribe an oath, which, among other things, declares that they are not violators of the laws of the United States against bigamy or polygamy.

From the meagre news at hand from Wasco county it would seem that Mr. Dufur, the Republican candidate for the Legislature, is elected by a good round majority over the Democratic candidate, Mr. Wigle. We are told that the canvass presented some queer features.

Hon. W. Lair Hill declares that he is not a candidate for the United States Senate. In fact, it appears that, personally, he has made no effort in that direction. His friends have been making some efforts in his interest, but have concluded to respect his wishes, and to cease their endeavors for his advancement.
