What is the use to be a member of Congress or anything else in this world? All is vanity here below, and flesh is grass or something of that nature. Now here is John Hailey, who represented the Democrats of Idaho in Congress a few years ago. He went to Portland a few days ago, or somebody went there who was mistaken for him, and the "Standard," the organ of the Democracy of this State, announced that "John D. Hailey, the well known stage coach king of the upper country, is in the city, a guest at the Esmond," and the other papers spell it with a "D." John is from the "upper country," but what excuse is that for ornamenting his name with a "D," after forty-seven years of an active and well spent life, so he will not know himself when he looks for his name in the records of Congress? It would not be surprising if the "well known stage coach king" should throw two D's at the individual who takes such liberty with a by the cultivation of trees, shrubs and well established name, and then politeflowers, would be marvelous indeed ly invite him to go to the "lower coun-Often-very often-a farm house is re-
