

A GOOD LAW.

The following is one of the laws enacted by the Legislature at the last session:

That if any person shall sell, give, or cause to be sold or given, any intoxicating liquor to any minor in this State, without first obtaining the consent of one of such minor's parents or guardian, in writing; or if any keeper of any saloon, bar-room or other vendor of spirituous or intoxicating liquors, within this State, shall harbor, permit or suffer any minor to loiter or remain in or about such saloon, bar-room or other place where such spirituous or intoxicating liquors are sold or kept for sale, or to engage in any game of cards, billiards, bagatelle, or other game in such saloon, bar-room or place aforesaid, either for amusement or otherwise, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both, at the discretion of the court, and shall also forfeit any license such person may have to sell spirituous or intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one quart, or to keep such saloon, bar-room or other place for the sale of such liquor. A justice court shall have jurisdiction of the crime herein defined.

EARTH CURRENTS TELEPHONES.—Mr. Preece pronounces the venerable theory that the earth is a great reservoir of electricity, from which either positive or negative electricity could be extracted at will, exploded. Currents are traversing it. The return current of telegraph lines, one wire of which is grounded, can be picked up as it traverses the soil. Telephones placed in the attic of a building and connected on the one hand with gas pipes, and the other with a wire coming up from the ground floor, have been found to steal the messages sent from a telegraph office 250 yards away. Several cases are known where telephones have picked up messages from telegraph lines miles away. It is therefore desirable that the earth should not enter the telephonic circuit. When electric light wires are grounded this is seen to be only desirable but essential, and in case of a thunder storm, the expediency of cutting the earth is shown to be of the highest order. Every flash of lightning, no matter how far off, is indicated when the earth forms part of the telephonic circuit. There are "earth currents" which are sometimes so strong that when taken up by the telephone they make a noise "as if your brains were boiling." These are, however, so weak ordinarily that the telephonist has little to fear from them.

A pleasant little story is afloat in Nashville respecting the rich Mr. W. W. Corcoran and a wealthy widow named Freeman. Corcoran wants to enlarge his fine hotel, the Arlington. Mrs. Freeman owns a very large brown stone front adjoining the Arlington, on H. Street. Mr. Corcoran sent Mrs. Freeman a note, saying he intended to enlarge his hotel, and that he would be pleased to learn the value she placed upon her house, and that he would send her a check for the amount. This was loudly, but not successfully. Mrs. Freeman, whose wealth is reckoned by millions, replied that she had thought of enlarging her flower garden, and that if Mr. Corcoran would kindly place a value on his hotel she would be delighted to send him a check for the amount. There has been no further correspondence.

The "Neue Freie Presse," of Vienna, contained the following matrimonial advertisement: "My name is Frederick. I am as poor as I am old and ugly. If anything surpasses my stupidity it is my malignity. Nevertheless I am looking out for a wife. Answer to be addressed to Who Will Venture." According to the "Neue Freie Presse" the newspaper clerk's astonishment when the advertisement was handed to him for insertion was only exceeded when on the following day hundreds of reptiles flowed into the office. It subsequently transpired that the advertisement enacted from a chevalier d'industrie, who is now in jail for swindling.

The new penal code of New York contains a number of original features. It provides that intoxication cannot be pleaded in defense of crime; that he who bribes State officers must go to the state prison for ten years and pay a fine of $5,000; that jurors taking bribes must go to prison; that bribing witnesses is a felony; that attempts at suicide must be punished by imprisonment for two years and a fine of $1,000; that parents abandoning children under six years of age must be imprisoned for seven years; that a person whose husband or wife has been absent five successive years, and not known to be living, may marry.
