

FOOT-WASHING AT VIENNA.

Twelve of the oldest men and twelve of the oldest women in Vienna, bearing good characters and usually belonging to officers' families, are selected to have their feet washed by the Emperor and Empress, after the command of the Scriptures—John xiii., 14, 15. One of the old ladies had reached the age of ninety-two years. The old ladies wore black dresses, a plain white muslin collar, falling nearly to the waist in front; white caps tied with lavender ribbon, and over this a sort of sailor hat, placed far enough back to show the cap border. The old men wore knee breeches, black stockings, and shoes tied with black ribbon; also muslin collars like the old ladies. After the old people were seated at the tables, their friends came forward and loosened their shoes and stockings preparatory to their removal by the court ladies and dukes, their friends again taking their places behind them. After a long waiting, the Emperor, Empress, Dukes and court ladies who were to assist in the ceremony, appeared amid the general uprising of the people. The Emperor took his place at the head of the old gentlemen's table, the Empress at the head of the old ladies' table. Four courses of food were brought and placed before these old people, four plates to each course for each person. The food was brought by chamberlains on wooden trays, served on common yellow plates. The Emperor took the food from the tray and placed it before the old men, the Empress doing the same for the old ladies. Then twenty-four soldiers, who were stationed twelve behind each table, and wearing full uniform, bearing white wood trays, came forward at a signal, from the Master of Ceremonies, and carried the untouched food away. The four courses were served in the same great pomp. The Emperor was very clever in all his movements, passing the food as though he had always served. The Empress was very amiable, but was less dextrous, receiving much assistance from her "ladies." After the food, dishes, tables and other things were removed, a long white cloth was placed over the laps of the men, another over the laps of the women, which reached to the floor, then the shoes and stockings were removed, by the Dukes and court ladies. Now the Emperor and Empress proceeded to wash the feet, which was accompanied by responses from the priests. The chamberlains carried golden bowls, and two carried pitchers of water. The Emperor and Empress, with white napkins, washed the feet. The amount of water used on this occasion cannot be rightly calculated, as the serviette was as dry and fluffy at the end as when the washing began. An Austrian lady had said to me, "You must try and get a ticket to the 'Foot-washing.'" I laughed as I pictured to myself the humility of these mighty people and the fifty people I had seen here in Vienna, when she turned to me and said, "Why do you laugh? I assure you they are washed and scoured with sand before they come!"

The Ohio State Journal says that on Sunday, May 20, Mrs. Marcela Boyce, who resides in Belmont county, gave birth to four babies, two boys and two girls. One of the boys died, but the remaining three are large and healthy. Her husband got drunk for the first time in his life. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce were married about three years ago. Two years ago the lady presented her husband with twins, and last season with triplets.

"AN ACT to extend the time of filing claims for horses and equipments lost by officers and enlisted men in the service of the United States, and for other purposes:
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the time for filing claims for horses and equipments lost by officers and enlisted men in the military service of the United States, which expired by limitation on the thirty-first day of December, eighteen hundred and seventy-five, be, and the same is hereby, extended to one year from and after the passage of this act; and that all such claims filed in the proper department before the passage of this act shall be deemed to have been filed in due time and shall be considered and decided without refileing.
Sec. 2. That all claims arising under the act approved March third, eighteen hundred and forty-nine, entitled 'An act to provide for the payment of horses and other property lost or destroyed in the military service of the United States, and all acts amendatory thereof, which shall not be filed in the proper department within one year from and after the passage of this act, shall be forever barred, and shall not be received, considered or audited by any department of the government."
Approved, January 9th 1883.
It is known that many persons resident in this state, who served in the various Indian wars, as well as in the war of 1861 '65, lost their private horses and equipments in such service. The act above quoted gives all such persons one year within which to file their claims for such losses. Attention is called to the following provisions of this law.
1st. Losses in the military service of the United States in this or any other states or territories will be paid, as well as losses in the war of 1861 to 1865.
2d. Losses by officers, enlisted men, scouts guides all other persons actually engaged in the military service are within the provisions of this law.
3d. This law extends to all losses in any manner, not the result of the soldier's own fault or negligence, and includes losses in battle, by capture, for want of forage, by over heating, hard usage, accidents of all sorts, disease, theft by deserters, from forced marches, or from any other cause arising in the line of military duty.
4th. The time for filing these claims expires on January 8th, 1884, and all such claims not presented to the proper departments of the United States by that date, will be barred; but if the application is filed prior to January 8, 1884, the proof necessary to complete the claim may be filed at any date thereafter.
I have received from Washington a supply of the necessary blanks to be used in making applications, which will be furnished without charge to anyone desiring them.
